ALSO FOR ALL

Consumers of Ink.

The undersigned begs to inform the highly respected community of this city and the country, that he has established an

INK MANUFACTORY.

No. 50, Calle 25 de Mayo.

And is prepared to sell as good Ink as any made in any part of the globe, and warranted to retain its beautiful jet black color which it has at the moment when used, at 50 p. ⅌ less than the same can be bought at any other houses.

People under the impression, that they pay their $20 more for a quart bottle of English ink, can have the same proved, that most of the Ink sold for English, is made in this country, and imposed upon the public as such. But I'm not ashamed to put my own Name on the label, being fully convinced that my Ink is as much superior quality, and it costs more virtues than most of the Inks.

I—It is of a very rich black at the moment when used.

II.—Retains its color.

III—Runs freely off the pen.

IV—A preserver of the eyes to those who have much to write at night because they need not go from their eyesight, to see what they have written.

For the reasons explained, I hope that my prejudice generally entertained against Home Manufacture will be laid aside, and will ask, as to try the same which will be to benefit the taxer, and the country, in assisting Home Industry.

N. B. Orders left at the office will be punctually attended to and delivered free of any charge.

SUNDAY, APRIL 5, 1862.

HOLY WEEK.

It is a common remark of foreigners visiting Buenos Ayres that the "better" classes and especially young people are infidels, and indeed the assertion does not seem exaggerated if we take into account the levity and disrespect so frequent in churches, and the general contempt of religion, and its ministers or vocation, among fashionable circles. During Holy Week, however, a new yellow change occurs, and the city suddenly converted into a hot-bed of ultra Catholic zeal. The churches are crowded with devotees, the business of life is suspended, the very quadrupeds are placed in quarantine, the street-organs are used as public alms, the troops and policemen become tempora ry beadles in a word, Buenos Ayres gives itself up to a religious carnival.

Although Holy Week begins with Palm Sunday, the first day of joyous mourning may be said to be Spy Wednesday; and it was on that day that the anniversary of Christ's entry into Jerusalem, since on that day our churches were decorated by the chief, and the palm-branches and song of Hosanna were strangely mixed up with drunken riot and fierce contention. The Tenebrae of Wednesday evening were well attended, as numbers of people left town to spend the ensuing days in the country, and shop-keepers had not yet closed their premises. Nevertheless the ceremony at the Cathedral was imposing and brilliant.

On Holy Thursday, after the washing of the feet, by the Bishop, a grand High mass was sung, and the Sacrament deposited in the tabernacle. About 1 p. m. the President of the Republic, accompanied by the Governor of the rural districts, the National and Provincial ministers, the civil and military officials &c. &c. to the number of 80, went round, on the pilgrimage of 7 churches. The Colegio was very full, and the high altar well lit up: two planes were used instead of pyramids, the singing patrook of a mournful chant. There were separate entrances for men and women, and good management, not observed in other churches. The Cathedral contained a large number of natives and foreigners, and the Editor of the Standard was surrounded by numerous worshippers. Close to the Police office was erected a figure of Christ bearing the Cross, passing which everyone was obliged to take off his hat.

The English minister was attacked for refusing to do so, but the ground had the good sense to release him. Indeed it is absurd to force dissenters to an unwilling act of homage, and there are many Catholics who object conscientiously to pay that reverence to a statue which should be confined to the real presence in the sacrament, and altars should be abolished, or else the same liberty should prevail as in Rome, where every one is left at perfect liberty to salute, or not, the street-images. The Monjas chapel was draped with glorious taste and crowds knelt before the illuminated Holy Sepulchre within. The "Merced" was difficult of ingress or egress, such was the concourse of pilgrims, and the police prudently prohibited persons from standing near the entrance: the shrine was splendidly adorned, and numbers pressed to kiss the girdle of the Redeemer's statue. San Roque, the Irish church, was also full, but the arrangements were not so showy. At San Francisco an immense display of wax tapers covered the altar, and the pious worshippers deposited alms at the prie dieu where the Sacrament was placed. The Jesuits Church was not so crowded as the rest, in consequence of the Santo Domingo was evidently a favorite shrine, and numbers of class filled the holy precincts: here as in all the other churches we observed a serious demeanour, which we should wish to see preserved throughout the rest of the year.

In the evening the streets were again thronged, and the crowds in all the churches attracted large congregations. At night a reader was employed under the Cabildo to recite the history of the Passion, and his business was a mixture of ridicule to some thoughtless youths who formed the bulk of his auditory. Beside the college church, in calle Potosi, another sang out in dramatic tone the same divine narrative, to a few humble listeners. The sermon went their night-rounds in silence. During these two days no horses, carriages, trains, diligences or steamers were allowed to leave or enter the city, and this gave the city a mournful tone well becoming the holy season.

On Good Friday all the citizens repaired, in deep mourning, to the various churches, where the adoration of the cross took place. The ceremony resembled that of Holy Thursday, when the Sacrament was gone through with occasion of solemnity, and the sermon of the Passion excited feelings of unfeigned piety in the congregation. The Tenebrae at the Cathedral was attended by thousands, and the psalms, and lamentations of Jeremiah, sung with tasteful pathos, were the more so, as very different from the world—renowned chant of the Sixtine chapel at Rome, which may be termed the grandest effort of musical talent.

Holy Saturday was ushered in with the Mass of the vigil of the Resurrection, and at 11 a. m. when Glory in excelsis was entoned in the Cathedral the bells rung out a joyful peal, the cannon fired, and the season of fasting and penance was at an end. Joyousness was resumed, while the vulgar were entertained with the burning of Judas Iscariot in the Plaza Victoria, amid the shouts and exultation of little boys who carried off pieces of the burning traitor, as trophies.

The Holy Week in Buenos Ayres offers the grandest series of religious spectacle on the face of the Earth, to which 100,000 foreigners throng from all countries, and even the immense concourse that filled the vaults of the Cathedral at the Vatican and Lateran churches, by anyone who has not witnessed their celebration. Yet in Buenos Ayres the religious feeling has not been unworthy of a Catholic public, and the general good-conduct manifested in all ceremonies, deserves unlimited praise. We have not heard of a single disorder, theft, or insult, and the truth be told, we could scarcely wish people to fightfy for any other city in Christendom.

To day, about the same hour, when Pius IX invokes the benediction of the Loggia of St Peter's on 120,000 spectators and on the whole body of Christians of every denomination throughout the world, the Bishop of the Diocese repeats the Papal blessing at the Cathedral. May we hope that it will sink into the minds of our fellow-citizens indueing them to laying aside insane quarrels, and remember the precept of brotherly loveswhich they have learned by the Passion just celebrated.

To our nationalists and foreign brethren we happily believe each injunction of the Pontiff, and we offer them the compliments of the season of Easter.

THE NATIONAL COLLEGE.

The National Executive, by decree March 19th 1862, has called into being this important institute. It is to be hoped that the Nacional and Provincial Governments are not so often open to censure for want of useful establishments, and good management of arrangement, or imperfect working, of the same. Hence we should not be overjealous in our congratulations on the commencement of a new establishment, or imperfect working, of the same. The Cathedral contained a large number of natives and foreigners, and the Editor of the Standard was surrounded by numerous worshippers. Close to the Police office was erected a figure of Christ bearing the Cross, passing which everyone was obliged to take off his hat.

The English minister was attacked for refusing to do so, but the ground had the good sense to release him. Indeed it is absurd to force dissenters to an unwilling act of homage, and there are many Catholics who object conscientiously to pay that reverence to a statue which should be confined to the real presence in the sacrament, and altars should be abolished, or else the same liberty should prevail as in Rome, where every one is left at perfect liberty to salute, or not, the street-images. The Monjas chapel was draped with glorious taste and crowds knelt before the illuminated Holy Sepulchre within. The "Merced" was difficult of ingress or egress, such was the concourse of pilgrims, and the police prudently prohibited persons from standing near the entrance: the shrine was splendidly adorned, and numbers pressed to kiss the girdle of the Redeemer's statue. San Roque, the Irish church, was also full, but the arrangements were not so showy. At San Francisco an immense display of wax a nity. In fact, of the six cathedras composing the institute, the occupant of three are Europeans, one is a German, and the sixth, an Argentine. Again it is admitted that Earl's must pages to be required, yet it is taught by a foreigner, while we have several Englishmen in B. Ayres who might be invited to come. The absence of religious or biblical teaching is an insurmountable difficulty, and we rather hope the Nacional will cease to state that this department would be in care of a learned divine.

The programme is as follows:

1. Philosophy, Physics, and Mathematics M. Jacques, rector.

2. Latin, French, and Spanish Literature: M. Luis Verdollin, B. A. of Paris.

3. Geometry, Trigonometry and Drawing: M. E. Manguin, B. A. Bachelor of Parisian Sciences.

4. History, Geography and French M. A. Cosson, B. A. of Paris and professor of Rhetoric.

5. English, German and Latin: M. Anthony Hillers, under-graduate of Goettingen and Heidelberg.

6. Latin elements, Spanish Grammer, and Discipline: Zenon Castro, professor from Tucuman.

The law of benefits to accrue, from this National Lyceum will be affording the means of an ample and profound education to 40 poor youths of promising talent and good conduct, who will be selected from the 14 provinces in the prescribed ratio: Buenos Ayres 6, Sta Fé 3, Entre Rios 1, Corrientes 3, Cordoba 3, San Luis 2 San Juan 3, Mendoza 3, Santiago 3, Salta 3, Catamarca 3, Rioja 3, Jujuy 3, Tucuman 3.

We are not told when or where the National college will be opened, but we would suggest the 25th May as a suitable date, when all our legislative members will be assembled; and, or rather, we think no better could be found than the palatial retreat of Palermo. Let the statues of the cradle of philosophy be installed in those saloons where the ferocious cooing of the human tiger roars in another Nero, and Caligula. Let the green alleys resound with verses of Virgil's Bucolics or Moliere's plays where once echoed the groans of Rosas's victims, and the wail of orgies.

Coming so soon after the Cordoba inauguration, we shall prove to the world that while giving our undivided energies to the material advancement we are no less zealous to instruct the rising generation, in order that posterity may have worthy citizens and statesmen, to perpetuate and develop the great end of every nation, the work of progressive civilization.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The news from the interior, brought by the Rosario steamer, and the Governor Posse has sent of his men in search of Ontiveros, and Paunero, with his troops, are in hot pursuit of Taiti. The meeting in Rosario is that there has been more fuss and noise about the matter than necessary.

On Thursday the Post-office was besieged by hundreds of people, with the news, but, owing to the Paraná being very low, the Paven could not get down. All sorts of surmises were rife, though two letters stating that Gelly had detained the steamer 24 hours.

The only news of any importance is that Urquiza has turned all the B. Ayrean paper dollars out of Entre Rios, and will no longer permit their circulation. The immediate cause of this order was the frequency of disputes as to their value. Cuts, bruises, and broken noses were repeatedly given in with the change of a 25c bill. The fear of the consequences, he knew how to read, that they could not distinguish between a ten and a twenty dollar note. The consequence was, that his employees refused to take the public right and left, to avoid which General Urquiza has prohibited his paper currency altogether. There is also a rumor that the new military bank found great difficulty in getting subscribers to the stock, so long as the Buenos Ayres paper money infested the province.

Napoleon has at last congratulated Gen Mitre on his election as President, and we think he has done so in good time. From the wording of the letter, it would not seem that the Emperor was so ignorant of the Argentine Republic as Lamartine pretended to be.

Gen. Emilio Mitre's circular to the subscribers of army, respecting the Cordova Railway, is rather an interesting document. All, from a corporal to a captain-general, are invited to subscribe for one or more shares, the price of the stock to be cancelled by instalments from their pay. Gen. Mitre deserves every praise for his patriotic zeal in such a great enterprize, and we hope that his call will be responded to by all.

The city shopkeepers and others seem to think that as the importers are all selling by auction, cotton and silk goods of every description are about to suffer a serious fall, not only here but in Europe. To prove how mistaken these parties are in their calculations, we may state that orders have been received from England, by one of the principal importing houses in Buenos Ayres, to the effect that English cotton goods, which have been lying here for over twelve months, that a large quantity of these goods had been sent home in the steamer, which, notwithstanding the heavy charges incurred here and the high freight in the steamer, will be sold at a profit in England. This fact is contradicted in our assertion that English goodsare selling cheaper here than at home; but we hope that it is above fact with the parties concerned in the matter. Last year this place was so stocked with American tobacco, that it was cheaper here than at home in the United States. A certain party, acquainted with this fact, bought up every pound in the market, and sent it to New York at immense profit. There are cotton goods this moment waiting for a vessel, to be sent back to England. It were advisable that some of our city shopkeepers were acquainted with these facts, before arriving at conclusions so injurious to their trade.

The Rosario from the country districts, particularly from the South, is not the best. The cangues are excessively dry, the cattle are now more than four months watering their stock, the green grass has vanished: sheep farmers are praying for rains. In the north, however, the sheep are lambing so fast that rain at this moment would entail great loss. North of the Villa Luxan, there is an abundance of grass and young thistles The flocks are in superior condition, capanes are selling at 45 mps and sheep by the cut from 40 to 45. There is a great scarcity of cattle in the north and south, which has not been brought to town, owing to the extremely low price of wool. It will probably continue so, as we will not buy wool, nor, as there is little prospect of the market improving and the roads will be infested with gauchos, that bullock carts cannot attempt to stir.

The River Plate Handbook is selling well in Montevideo. Our agent has sent us another order. Our friends in Montevideo are supporting us well.

A Scotch gentleman, who has recently arrived, offers a complete Phonetic system of spelling, and of language, which we consider cheap and recommend to our amateur friends.

LATEST FROM CORDOBA.

THE REVOLUTION A SHAM.

On Friday morning, the anxiously expected Pavon arrived, bringing dates from Cordoba to the 27th ult, and from Rosario to the 1st inst. General Gelly, Minister of War, and Colonel Paunero had arrived safely. Gelly had made Rosario his head-quarters, and despatched Paunero for Cordoba.

CONDITION OF CORDOBA.

On the 25th ult, Gov. Posse got together all his available force and marched them off to the scene of action: all the respectable young people of Cordoba organized the corps to Guard the suburbs of the city; the Governor, Minister, clerks, shopkeepers, and several young men in business, marched away with the troops. The Cordoba force amounts to 6 companies, all well clothed and armed. The majority of these soldiers are young men engaged in business in Cordoba. Gov. Posse in bidding them farewell, made a most splendid speech, which we regret our inability to translate at present. The Commander-in-chief is Commander Molfino. The following is a list of the regiments with the rank of the officers:

First Company of grenadiers—Captain D. Aureliano Cuenca, and first Teniente Joaquin Ramos.

First Company of fusiliers—Captain D. Tristan Ortiz, first Teniente D. Raymundo Sanudio, and ex-Teniente D. Desiderio Argüello.

Second Company of grenadiers—Captain D. Abelardo Cordeiro, first Teniente D. Vicente Castro, and ex-Teniente D. Isidoro Ortiz.

Third Company of grenadiers—Captain D. Aureliano Maldonado, first Teniente D. Eduardo Cordeiro, and ex-Teniente Romero, and ex-Teniente D. Modesto Mardana.

Company of Cazadores—1st Teniente D. Federico Moyano, ex-Teniente D. Anfiloquio Argüello.

It appears that although Commander Moreno was surprised by the revolution, he fought with such desperation that his poncho & chiripa were cut in ribbons, and he barely escaped with his life. The rebels were composed of a band of troops and marched on the invaders.

Colonel Alvarez, the moment he received the Governor's message, hurried to offer his services to his country: he has marched at the head of his men to conquer or die.

The town of Cordoba, is under the protection of the Guardia Nacional, passive, who keep up patrols both night and day.

All the people in Cordoba are required to deliver up any Government arms which they may have under a heavy penalty.

The "Diario" in Rosario laughs at the whole affair, and assures the public that it is nothing more than a "Malon de gauchos," but denies that the Chacho (Peñaloza) has anything to do with it.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

THE POLISH REBELLION

It is believed that there is a secret understanding between the Polish and Russian parties, but we have no proof: but such is the case, it is my opinion, the Russians will succeed in quelling the insurrection, but certainly not unscathed by portions of Poland have been the wounded Poles, the majority of whom have been carried off to the Austrian side, must be in a most deplorable state, as they have no medical assistance nor medicine. The political ferment in Roumania, Servia, and Montenegro shows that Turkey is undoubtedly in expect that Prince Gortschakoff is trying to bring about a general rising in Europe against Turkey, in order that the attention of England and France may be diverted from Poland.

By private letters from Germany residing in different parts of Poland we learn that the reports relative to the barbarous cruelty of the Russian troops are not exaggerated. As they put all armed men, women, and children to the sword, the high military authorities are enabled to inform the foreign press that "tranquillity is completely have bet the dust". Among the persons put to death in cold blood at Thouna on the 17th ult. Dombrowsky, the celebrated military surgeon named Dombrowsky a Russian officer of the same name, who was ill in bed; M. Mucherna, capitain of the Lancers, Kowalski, Wladislas Zelkowski, who was tossed alive into a fire; M. Chmielowsky, who was bayonetted while at prayer; M. Lewkowicz and his son aged 17 years; M. Kozlowski Czartoryski, Ruszewski, Brzesky (a man of 70 years of age), and Jaruchowsky: these unfortunate were extinguished in the fire which was consuming their houses, and four Jews. Almost all the towns and villages in the south west corner of Poland are in a state of the insurrection, at under Kurowski. In the east of the department of Radoma is M. Langiewicz, who appears to be one of the most skilful leaders of the insurgents.

The Russians are now in force at Miechow, Kielce, Kouskie, Szydlowiec, and Opatowiec, places which are marked on all the better maps of Poland. Kurowski, who is at the head of about 6,000 men, had his head-quarters, at a place called Ilmbrzeszow, which is not far from Olkusz, near Cracow. A few days ago a corps of insurgents marched to a place called Hrubieszow, in the district of Chelm, which is on the high road from Lublin to Vlademir. From Augustuowo which is in the south part of the kingdom of Poland, we learn that a Russian detachment has been "annihilated". The insurgent corps which is posted at Biala, under the command of Colonel Litewski. M. Langiewicz has again posted his corps near Wonsilock, which is a place called Ilmbrzeszow. Drum head law has been proclaimed in the provinces of Volhynia and Podolia: and in Wilna, the capita of one of the provinces of the same name, Count Nazimoff has made the proprietors of the houses responsible for the conduct of their tenants. The Russians do not allow the Poles to carry their sabre, as the Grand Duke Constantine has declared that they shall be food for ravens. The troops which the Russian Government now has in Lithuania, Volhynia, Podolia, and the Ukraine amount, on paper to about 140,000 men, the following regiments are in the military district of Kiew, 12 regiments of the line are in the military district of Wilna, with Grodno and Minsk, and 20 regiments of the line are in the parts of the above-mentioned provinces, where there are also from 2 to 24 cavalry regiments.—Times

AMERICAN WAR.

PROSPECT OF PEACE.

Some of the Southern papers are speculating on the probabilities of peace being soon restored. The Jackson Mississippian says: "We are of opinion that an early peace will dawn upon our blood-stained country is well founded. It seems almost certain that the independence of the Confederate States will be acknowledged at an early day; or the North will go off into anarchy and total revolution. We believe the latter much longer waged upon the programme of Abraham Lincoln without involving consequences to the Northern people. It is far greater than the consequences to the South. Our opinion is that the Northern Government has well nigh exhausted its resources in men and money, and, if peace is to have been called upon to prove its worth, prevent the fall of the Union. We hope the Congress to spend the holidays at Richmond. They will arrive here to-morrow morning south-west." thus it would appear that rumours of peace are as prevalent among the Federals as among the confederates.

REPORTED CONFEDERATE ATROCITIES.

The New York Ledger of the 30th Jan, gives the following account.

The most atrocious and cold-blooded affair of the present war is the shooting of some eighteen of the negro cabin boys and cooks on the steamer lately captured by the rebels in Hampton Roads. The men and boys were tied and taken to an open field near the Shoals, and delibrately shot down in cold blood. Two of the negro servants on the Side go in between the wheel and stern of the boat, and hid themselves down into the machinery, holding on to the rudder. They were discovered by the Confederates, and several soldiers were ordered into a skiff, and rowing down up to the unfortunate negroes, discharged the contents of their muskets at them, literally blowing their heads into atoms. The author of the chuckleheadedness of this Tribune was found by Mr. Hurley, the clerk, claiming her as his slave, whom he was conveying to Kentucky. And even with this pretext he had the greatest difficulty in saving her from death at the hands of the bloody-minded commander of the Confederate, Colonel Wade. We hope this scoundrel may be captured, and if he is, quartering would be a slight penalty for his ruffianous murder of these unoffending negroes." We should bear in mind however, that the above account is from a Federal source, and we cannot doubt that the Federals would be very glad to welcome any specimens of Confederate brutality as pendant to the cruelties of the Indians, which the Union delighteth to honour"—General Butler.

MISCELLANEA.

The news of the Confederate naval victory at Charlestown has made a great sensation at Paris, and it is generally believed that the French Government will decide that the blockade is at an end.

The Emperor of Russia, Expected in Paris. The Emperor of Russia is believed by many to be coming to Paris in the spring; such at least is his present intention, as well as that of his Imperial friend. The object of the project visit is said to be to come to an understanding as to a common action in Belgium and Poland, and the anticipated demise of King Leopold.

Marriage of the Daughter of the British Ambassador. The most interesting news from Paris is the marriage of Earl Cowley's daughter, Lady Sophia Wellesley, to Lord Clopton. The ceremony took place on Monday last at the British Embassy. The Emperor and Empress honoured the interesting occasion by their presence, and after the marriage service was concluded signed the register. Among the numerous company were the Prince Napoleon and the Princess Clotilde, many of the members of the French Cabinet, and most of the corps diplomatique. The whole ceremony was very brilliant and imposing.

LOCAL EVENTS.

IMPERIAL COMPLIMENTS—

The autograph letter of Napoleon III to our illustrious President, congratulating him on his unanimous election is a very grateful epistle.

AUCTION. Mr. Plowes "gives a grand exhibition of thorough bred horses today at his stable at Balgrane. There is also a sale of houses and lands at San Fernando. Carriages from Plaza Victoria between 5 and 8 a. m. grating and Barcelo on the ground."

CABILDO CLOCK. The municipality call for tenders to keep this clock in order during the ensuing year. This is ingratitude towards MM. Jaeger and Dauvet to whom we are indebted for so valuable a public monitor. Perhaps some new curator would substitute a timepiece for the present one, or change the dials, or play some other trick before high heaven, out of jealousy to those two names which genuinely stand the highest in our city.

A LESSON TO SCHOOL MASTERS—Our readers will see in an advertising column the grand, imposing and intellectual display of Mr. Negroni's pupils. We have frequently commenced to eulogize, and condemn such a rhugaroke of names, in which we find no mention of History, or Christian Doctrine, and the consequence of Mr. Negroni's pupils in the subtraction is—no class. If Mr. N. had not made such a boast, he should have escaped our censure, but having fallen into Mr. Jordana's error of sobbing undue notoriety, we beg him to supply the classes wanting, before next year's Concours.

COLONIA EXCURSION. About 20 persons, including the English Consul, Mr Thompson, go some other country-ness, went by the Cangurus to spend the holidays at Colonia. They will arrive here to-

LES MISERABLES.—An edition of this work complete, by Dumas, not Paz, is on sale at Berisheim and Bo-ino's, price $250.

SULLIVAN.—This is the name of the Spanish drama to-night at the Victoria Theatre. Like the Italian Scilly, it is a mistake, for Sullivan must have been a county Cork gentleman.

MEXICAN FLAG—The friends of Liberty are getting up a subscription to send a flag to Mexico: we have no sympathy for a people who have become so great an international nuisance as the Algerines were before French conquest. It would be better to send a testimony of Argentine admiration to Lamprajrice and the other valiant Poles who are battling for liberty, against the hordes of the Don.

FICTITIOUS AUCTION.—Mr. Drabble's sale of English engravings was not very satisfactory. One public is limited, and little given to the fine arts.

IRISH IMMIGRNTS.—About 35 respectable Irish passengers came into port last week on board the Hero, after a pleasant, though long voyage of 77 days. They were all well-treated by the captain.

NORTHERN RAILWAY.—We call attention to the time-table for the Belgrano races, which shows a double number of trains, for the accommodation of pleasure-seekers, who purpose attending the race-course to-day or next Sunday.

CAPT. PROUT.—As the archangel and Satan quarrelled over the dead body of David, so the late captain of the Albion's Reading for a time of contention at present. Capt. Richardson asserted his colleague was brought alive on shore, and died from maltreatment, which indeed he, Mr. Pinel, took an active part in, but he forgot to issue a writ "one exeat" the salt water practitioner loosed his cable and put out to sea. The gold-worker said to have been stolen from the drowning victim, was we believe, never received.

ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH. Mr. Wheelwright is about to connect Cordoba with the capital, by wire along the railway route. He has contracted for 10,000 yards, with the firmof Ritto Costa and Co.

On Change

April 4th 1863.

The operations on the Bolsa were extremely limited. Up to half past 12 o'clock, not even a broker was to be seen. A little before one o'clock, however, the hall began to fill. Consols opened at 428, but immediately rose to 429, there being few sellers the number sold for cash were 270, at that firm at 431. The transactions on time were insignificant, 608 were sold for next Saturday at 428 to 430, and a few for the end of the month at 428 to 427.

There has been nothing whatsoever done in the pisos, owing to the holiday, the sellers being nearly all out of town. 800 Cordoba dry hides were sold at 28 rls. Some Cordoba wool was sold at fair prices, 70 bales at 32½ and 65 bales at 30. A cargo of salted beef for Brazil, was disposed of at private terms; but few of this article had great difficulty in obtaining, some finally operating are compelled to ship on their own account. The stock of beef on hand is very slight, but the demand is still very limited. A troop of novillos was expected in, this morning for saladero, but as yet has not arrived. We understand they cost $180 unp, but even at this low figure, we are informed it is hardly remunerative.

Money is getting very easy, and the Bank will be compelled to reduce the rate. Neither ounces nor foreign gold can be said to be scarce, but the difficulties have shewn their effect on the exchange. The Cordoba invasion was freely discussed on the Bolsa, money parties no doubt trying to make the most out of it. The general feeling however, amongst the merchants is that the matter is greatly exagerated, and that a small band of gauchos has been the cause of all the commotion.

In freights there is nothing doing as many of our ship brokers are sojourning in the suburbs.

The brokers had it all there own way on the Bolsa to-day. The ounce market was completely at the mercy of the bulls, but strange to say, there never was less speculation in ounces than at present. Sales on time are so difficult, to effect that they are becoming almost obsolete. Neither is the demand for ounces so great as it was; this we attribute solely to the introduction of foreign coins, which the, sooner they are, made a legal tender, the better for us all.

Owing to the absence of our commercial editor. Mr. Kemsley, we, lay our report on change will be less comprehensive than usual.
