"Nil falsi audeam, nil veri non audeam dicere."—Cicero.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1863.

Dr. ALSINA'S CODE

We are all on the tip-toe of expectation to see what reform, our rural legislator is about to work, in the region of fertility and semi-civilization known as the campo of Buenos Ayres. This a sweeping reformation is required, no one will have the courage to deny, and we are inclined to admit that Buenos Ayres could not have selected a more experienced, upright, lawyer than our late Governor.

Mr. Lettsom's phrase is, however, very applicable to the present case, and we repeat that "not a statesman, but a detective police-officer is wanted here." Lycurgus might compile a code for the Spartans, but he would have despaired of managing our gauchos; and we very much fear that, after our great anticipations, the man can will bring forth a mouse. In his suburban retreat, Dr. Alsina may fancy himself another Numa Pompilius, but alas! there is no goddess Egeria to inspire his resolutions. Portenos are not willing to admit their incompetence to preserve law and order within a few miles of this great capital: they say "wait a little longer, for the good time is coming," and meantime the camp is going headlong to perdition.

It is found convenient to call out the military, for prevention at the masked-balls in Colon, within 100 yards of the Police Department. How much more so, would it be, to place a detachment in each partido, offering a reward for the apprehension of each murderer? In this manner King Arthur cleared England of wolves, and we might also succeed in cleansing the country-parts of the bandits who now roam at large.

How long we are to wait for a radical change, God only knows. Let us be patient, and give the Rural Code a fair trial, without forming any splendid expectation of its result, or yet condemning it before hand.

It is a wise idea of Dr. Alsina to solicit the suggestions of sheep-farmers, and we are glad to find many have declared their wants. A Scotch estanciero of the South has recently stated to us a grievance, which, among many others, calls for remedy. This gentleman went to great expense in killing Bucenchos, by steam, succeeding in extirpating these destructive animals from his whole estancia. But his neighbours being lazily indifferent to vermin, failed to co-operate, and our friend's grounds were soon inundated with the original cause of his annoyance.

Unless some regulations be made, obliging all to expel these animals, our industrious countrymen will be deterred from bestowing each outlay. We therefore advise Dr. Alsina to take hold of it.

MR. RIESTRA'S PROJECT.

The all-absorbing question of the day is the Bank and its currency. People have taken up the matter so seriously, that the Government finds itself obliged to do something. What that something is nobody yet knows. There are parties who assert that an application has been made in England for a loan, while others deny this, and affirm that a certain distinguished individual has been engaged by the Government to write the History of the Casa de Moneda.

Sr Riestra's letter is before us, and although we cannot agree with him on all points, still we regret that some of his views are not carried out. We cannot, we confess, understand Mr. Riestra, when he states that a country like this, devoid of specie, has sufficient internal resources to redeem its currency, and that a foreign loan is objectionable for such a purpose.

If Sr Riestra's project is based upon a plan of paper redeeming paper, we at unheritatingly oppose it. If, on the other hand, Sr Riestra is waiting for Major Rickard's return with the machinery to extract the San Juan silver, and bring it down to Buenos Aires, to buy up the paper dollars, it is equally illusory, as we possess nothing but paper dollars to pay the San Juan miners—a currency which they will not accept.

We take issue, therefore, with Sr Riestra, as to the internal resources of the country being sufficient to meet the emergency. In some of the provinces, we doubt not, there may be gold; but it is in the bowels of the earth, and not in the merchant's safe; which is something similar to the case of the Dutchman and his anchor. If we have to wait for San Luis gold and San Juan silver, to redeem the paper currency, no man can say how long before the day of judgment this general redemption will take place. Far better for us to trust to Cordovan copper, which, if the owners were patriotic enough to send it to the Casa de Moneda for so meritorious an object, might, in the year "when tobacco smoke tobacco," amount to enough to rescue us from the difficulties which surround us.

Neither the pompous declaration of our friend, Mr Lamas, nor the cool assertion of Sr Riestra, will alter our conviction on this subject; and we repeat that, if the currency is to be redeemed, it can only be done by means of a foreign loan.

The resources of the Argentine Republic are great, and hardly susceptible of exaggeration; but they require time, labour, capital, and peace, to be developed. To insist on them now for instantaneous relief, is a flight of poetic patriotism which, we must say, we were altogether unprepared for, particularly coming from the quarter it did.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The fire in the Custom-house, the other morning, few people have heard about; but our man about town pokes his nose everywhere, and few things occur which we do not know about. A speculative Frenchman and patron of the fine arts, anxious that Portenos should not be behind Paris, London, or New York, imported, at considerable expense, a number of pictures which our worthy collector rightly considered unfit for our society, and calculated to debase the morals of our youth. He therefore ordered a large fire to be made in the yard, and had these outrageously indecent and immodest pictures offered upon a holocaust to the offended dignity of Buenos Aires. There was quizzing and laughing and joking at the sacrifice, and if the unhappy Frenchman who imported these costly pictures, had his will, he would perhaps, have pitched our Collector into the flames also. But happily nothing of the kind occurred, and the cheers of the gaping custom-house clerks, as the flames shot up to heaven, must have been a convincing proof of the high tone of morality of the Custom-house officials.

If the people of England are beginning to take an interest in the affairs of the River Plate, so also are some of our friends here keenly alive to all that concerns the old country. As an instance of this, we may mention that, by last packet, we have been informed that a gentleman who is an Argentine citizen, a Porteño by birth, has been made an honorary member, with the rank of officer, of the London Irish Rifle Volunteers. The Marquess of Donegal is the colonel, and more than 70 Irish noblemen are enrolled as honorary members in this regiment, also several English noblemen holding official situations connected with Ireland, including the Lord Lieutenant. It is the first volunteer corps new enrolled, as to rank and respectability.

Great complaints come to us about the carnival, and our habitat fuerte friends are increasing rapidly. In calle Buen Orden more than 10,000 dollars worth of window-glass has been destroyed. In calle Victoria, notwithstanding the high tone of morality in our custom-house, the most scandalous conduct was carried on. Several ladies were attacked, insulted, and drenched, and many had their clothes lifted up by the boys, and water thrown up under their petticoats.

The Corrientes leaves for Bahia Blanca to-day; we suppose that the Government will send some troops down.

The holders of Western Railway shares, through the medium of our columns, wish to publicly thank the Government for shaving them out of one and a half months' interest.

Dragged before the public, the holders of the shares of the Dredge Company demand their rights, and insist upon the payment of the par value of their shares and interest.

Our Treasury-note friends are getting quite unruly, and request a simple answer to a plain question. Will the Government pay or not?

NEWS FROM CORDOBA.

The files of the "Eco" are up to the 12th inst. The Municipality published an excellent code of prison regulations, which is an improvement on our system in Buenos Aires. The rules for Carnival are the same as ours, but we believe the barbarous habit of water-throwing is unknown there. A correspondence from Rioja gives a lamentable statement of atrocities committed by one Varela, who is said to have beaten one man and fired at another, for wearing a blue ribbon. He also ordered a large number of handcuffs for unknown purposes. Peñaloza was suspected of intending to name D. Carlos Angel military commandant, which caused great discontent among the inhabitants. The election of Governor was shortly to come off, and Rioja was in a feverish state of suspense.

The lighting by Kerosene is becoming more general in Cordoba, and a young friend of ours, D. Leopoldo Tabonda, is teaching English to the rising generation: thus material and intellectual enlightenment keep pace.

The rural districts are in a lamentable condition, but the recent rains were expected to produce a favorable change. The public authorities are charged with being habitual gamblers, mixing in the very worst society, at billiard tables. A street row took place on the 7th, in which an officer was mixed up, as too often happens in these countries. Col. Maldonado has resigned command of the 3d battalion N. Gs. Advices from Mendoza relate to that the Government had gained the elections from the Provincial Legislature.

ROSARIO.

Masked-balls are in vogue. The Verneglo expedition caused quite a stir in the town. Messrs. Rams & Hutchinson were still going northward. The news of signing the contract for the Cordoba Railway was declared premature, which disappointed many persons. A press controversy is still going on; it appears the types of both Diario and Patria are the gift of the celebrated chief of Police, Sr. Oroño, who has distributed his salary among the poor, to compensate for his sins against Free Press. The Diario represents Gov. Correa of Catamarca as the alter ego of him of Mendoza, and expects the arrest of Deputy Ocampo is but a prelude to those outrageous acts politely called "summary measures."

NEW GUANO FIELDS.

There was a time when gold was regarded as the chief source of wealth. The American war has, however, proved that Cotton is far more valuable, for the mines of Australia have been unable to supply the deficit in Lancashire. Another great item in national wealth is that foul accumulation of the Chincha Islands, the smell of which is so abominable, while its worth is priceless. Peru has derived from it a magnificent revenue, and now we read in the Mercurio of Valparaiso that the Chilian expedition has discovered an immense field of the same quality as the Chincha, in a locality named Mejillones. Three men were able, in one day, to extract 15 tons, and the quality near the surface is estimated at 40, 000 tons; the owners purpose making a railway to the coast for its transportation.

Apropos, of this important staple, we give the following account furnished us by a gentleman of our acquaintance, whose travelling diary contains much of interest.

We saw from the deck of H M's Ship, the "Blond" a group of Islands, six miles distant from the port of Pisco, the largest of which is S nguion.—These Islands, now called by the name of Chincha, have become justly celebrated from the quantity of Guano that is exported from them. Guano or Huano is found on these Islands, in enormous layers, from 25 to 40 feet thick and becomes gradually darker in proportion to the depth: the lower strata is of a rusty red, and appears as if tinged with Oxide of Iron:—it becomes more solid from its surface downwards, arising from the gradual deposit of the strata, and evaporation of the fluid particles. It is formed of the excrement of different birds and large quantities of osseous substance. Immense flocks of birds, such as Mews, Divers, Sheerbeaks, &c., are seen flying along the coast, presenting the appearance of a dark cloud. They never settle on the flat beach, nor at any place distant from it inland, but nestle on the uninhabited rocks, which they abandon when the exporters commence to work the beds.—These beds of Guano are of an extraordinary magnitude, being the result of an uninterrupted accumulation for thousands of years, but we cease to be surprised at their vast formation, when we consider the vora city of these birds, their immense numbers, and the facility with which they procure their food.—It has been observed that, during the first years deposit, the strata is poor, which is counteracted by the Peruvian cultivators, as the best kind of Guano, from the quantity of ammonia it contains. Much has been written on its employment and utility, but the manner in which it was used by the Indian cultivators, a century ago, is still but little known. Thousands of tons have been exported to Europe and North America since 1843, where it has been found of the greatest importance in the cultivation of land; and produced the Peruvian Government, during the short space of ten years, the enormous sum of one hundred millions of dollars.

The Peruvian Government appointed a scientific commission in 1853 composed of foreigners and natives, for the purpose of ascertaining the quantity of Guano which still exists in the Chincha Islands, and the number of years that would be required for its removal, calculating on the quantity that is annually exported.—After a careful examination they came to the conclusion that, there was sufficient Guano for thirty years.

It has been justly remarked that the celebrated mines of Potosi, the richest as yet discovered after those of Mexico, never produced, in their most flourishing period, so large a sum annually to the King of Spain, as the Chincha Islands now produce to the Peruvian Government. It has been proved by their treasuring books that they receive 12 millions annually from the sale of Guano. They have lately obtained a loan in England of two millions and a half sterling on this important article of commerce.

COTTON SEED.

We have dispatched 500lbs. of the new supply to D. A. Lara of Corrientes: that province will certainly surpass the rest in cotton-growing. Sr Cavenago has shown us the blossom of some seed we gave him last November: it came over ground in 8 days, and each plant has about a dozen flowers.

The Nat. Government at length begins to appreciate our ideas of industrial regeneration, and has asked for the greater part of our second importation, so we will be seen by the following note.

Ministry of Interior.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 13th, 1863.

Messrs. M. G. & E. T. Mulhall.

In answer to your note mentioning your importation of cotton-seed, the following has been decreed.

Let it be replied that the Nat. Government will take 4 quintals of cotton-seed, to be distributed throughout the Provinces, the importers presenting their accounts for the same, to be paid by order of this Ministry.

Which I inform you, for your guidance.

May God preserve you many years.

G. RAWSON.

IMMIGRATION TO THE RIVER PLATE.

The undersigned have in contemplation the despatch of suitable first class ships of large tonnage, commanded by captains of experience, to the R.Plate, for the purpose of conveying immigrants of good character, consisting of agricultural labourers, mechanics of industrious habits, &c, at moderate rates of passage with a plentiful scale of provisions of a superior quality, which will, of course, have to be put on board under the supervision of the officers of H. M. Government.

The scale of passage upon which we purpose basing our operations won't be from £12, upwards per statute adult, according to accommodation provided for each, and to their ability to pay for same. The passengers might be classed as follows:—1st. Those who are able to pay their own passage in full.—2nd. Those who, while paying a small sum, are unable to arrange for it at full fare.—3rd. Those who purpose paying part here, and the remainder shewn, at stated intervals, to be agreed upon, according to the ability.—4th. Those who cannot pay any on this side, but who are willing to sign bonds for the same payment on the other side upon obtaining employment.

Of the first class it is unnecessary to treat further than they would doubtless form a goodly number. To meet class 2.—The proposed bonus of £1, per head is stipulated for by us to the immigration Commissioners at Montevideo, would be required; by which number would be insured to proceed thither, who, while neglecting Australia, owing to the length of voyage, are now prevented going to the United States, owing to the present disturbed state of that country. To meet classes 3 and 4 is much more difficult. In order to effect their object, as they would form by far the greater number, legislation would be required.

The scheme we would propose for each of the number referred to is—That the bonds given by passengers for the part or whole passage, when they are addressed to the Consular or Vice Consular seal, be considered legal documents, and as such may be produced in a court of law as evidence of the debt. That upon the arrival of the ship or ships conveying same, the Executive are to pay to our representatives, in gold either, the amount of said bonds at the current exchange, upon which the bonds would be handed over to them for due payment, and thus prevent their protest by the immigrants.

To effect these objects, no real outlay or loss to the country would be incurred; on the contrary, a positive gain would be immediately perceived by the increased activity in imports and exports, in customs duties, and in the value of land and stock, and the requisite funds, with the prospect of early reimbursement, would be readily advanced by the house of Mauá and Co., or either of the Banks established in the River Plate.

In view of the important matter involved in the foregoing hastily prepared, and crudely digested, scheme, we trust it will meet with earnest consideration on the part of the Government, and all others having interest in assisting the efficient working of any plan conducive to the material prosperity of the country.

GENERAL BURNSIDE.

An American paper gives the following sketch of General Burnside's career:—"Major-General Ambrose Everett Burnside is a native of Indiana, from which State he was appointed a cadet to the West Point Military Academy in 1843. He graduated on the 30th of June, 1847, standing No. 18 in a class of 38 members, among whom we find the names of Generals Willcox, Viele, and others in the Union service, besides several who have chosen the path of the rebels. On the 1st of July, 1847, he was appointed a brevet second lieutenant of the 2nd Artillery, and on the 8th of September, 1847, was commissioned a full second lieutenant of the 3d Artillery. In December of 1851 he was promoted to a first lieutenancy, and resigned his commission with the regular service on the 31 October, 1853. He then retired to civil life, and was engaged as treasurer of the Illinois Central Railroad; the same line of travel of which General M'Clellan was president and engineer-in-chief. This position he held at the breaking out of the rebellion. The 'clarion call' of the President for troops to defend the capital, soon brought Burnside from his private position, and at the head of the 1st Regiment of Rhode Island, or Governor Sprague's Volunteers, he made his way to the capital, where he arrived on the 27th of April, 1861, within 12 days of the issuing of the proclamation, and at the head of 1,200 men. When the army of North Eastern Virginia was organised under General M'Dowell, Colonel Burnside was appointed commander of the 2d brigade of the 2d Division under Colonel (now General) Hunter. The regiment (three months' volunteers) returned home, and on the 6th of August, 1861, Colonel Burnside was commissioned as brigadier-general of volunteers, his appointment being placed to the credit of the State of Rhode Island. He next was appointed to the command of, and organised, the famous Burnside expedition. The dangerous passage of the troops and their successes on the coast of North Carolina are still fresh in the memory of all our readers. For his glorious victory at Roanoke Island he was made a major general of volunteers, and in testimony of his services on that occasion, the State of Rhode Island presented him with a very handsome and valuable sword. The capture of Fort Macon and other points along the coast of North Carolina are also accredited to the skill of General Burnside in carrying out General M'Clellan's plans. Having to a great extent restored that part of the United States to peace, General Burnside was transferred to the army of the Potomac as commander of the 9th Army Corps. With General M'Clellan's troops he was further transferred to aid the force in front of the capital, and was engaged during part of the various contests in that region. He next served in Maryland, and distinguished himself at Antietam. When General M'Clellan again advanced into Virginia, via Berlin, General Burnside had charge of half his army. On the 5th of November he was appointed to succeed Gen eral M'Clellan in command of the army of the Potomac, and made a rapid and brilliant march upon Fredericksburg, where he is now operating with those troops." IRELAND.

Dublin, Jan. 3.

High functionaries, with splendid emoluments, are incessantly being lived in Ireland. The Chief Justice of the Queen's Bench is said to be in his 87th year. It was thought, in expectant legal circles, that according to the course of nature he ought to have retired long ago and, like Judge Crampton, to have devoted his mind to preparation for a better world. It was hoped when the Conservatives were in office that he would have graciously made way for Mr. Whiteside, as he would thus guard against the probability of having a third Roman Peel's Act of Parliament. But, in such calculations they reckoned without their host.

The funeral of Judge Crampton took place to-day, when his remains were deposited in the family vault at Mount Jerome, near Dublin. The funeral was numerously attended by the gentry of the neighbourhood.

The Lancashire relief Committee met at the Guild Gallery—yesterday, when additional subscriptions, amounting to 360£, were announced. Mr. Hilury, traffic manager of the Great Southern and Western Railway Company, sent 96£ from the officers and servants engaged in the company's traffic department and at the Dublin terminus.

On Wednesday night, the Stamp-Office at Kilkenny was broken into, the safe opened, and the sum of 70£ abstracted. Half notes for 50£, and all the stamps were left behind. The robber no doubt expected a much larger sum, but Mr. Greene, the stamp distributor, had taken the precaution of lodging the money in the Bank. The local journal states that the circumstances of the robbery are involved in mystery.

POISONOUS SWEETS.

Feb. 10th 1863.

To the Editor.—Allow me to call your attention to the following fact.—In the month of January 1861 I was in the camp with my eldest daughter and having occasion to go to a store not 100 leagues from Chascomus, I then bought some what are termed, "confites de almendras" I was rather astonished to find my little girl would not eat them, and it was well she did not, for, upon examining them I found them not be coated with almonds but poison kernels.—This ought not to be allowed as I am given to understand they contain a great quantity of poison and, if taken in large quantities, it would produce fatal results.—Perhaps you will take the trouble to call the attention of the proper authorities to this shameful practice.—I remain your obedient servant.

PATERFAMILIAS.

LOCAL EVENTS.

CORDOBA RAILWAY.Dr. Rawson and Mr. Wheelright leave to-day for Rosario. Hurrah! for the Cordoba railway.

TAXES.—It appears that many of the provinces are levying transit taxes, which are expressly prohibited by the Constitution.

The Minister of Finance should put a stop to this nonsense, before it becomes so deeply rooted.

NEW COLONY.| News, from the south, states that Colonel Machado who has great prestige intends to establish a colony in the desert, of one thousand families.

We believe that the effort will be successful from the great influence of this officer.

ACCIDENT. Near San Telmo a boy fell from the stretes during carnival and fractured his arm.

The story of the Italian who killed another in calle Chacabuco is contradicted by the Siglo.

FISH. The Banks of the Hoca river are full of vast quantities of fish in a short space, either thrown by the river or by the fishermen.

The inhabitants of this locality are in great fear of an epidemic from the bad atmosphere and will accordingly for the police to take steps in the matter.

This is not so likely, as there is no fine to discover.

MASQUES. One of the peculiar masques noted in Colon theatre was a tall lady, standing in the principal saloon.

Nothing could make her change her position or loose her taciturnity, which she maintained during the night.

OUTRAGE. A community of police during carnival had the brutality to strike a young Italian woman, in the face, for pleading in favor of her husband.

One of the native papers justly remarks that the commissary, in Europe, would be turned out of his employment for this act, similar to that of general Hayman in England, so deservedly punished, by the brewers' drayman.

ACCIDENT. A blacksmith in one of the central situations in Montevideo had the bad idea of converting his roof into an iron depot, loading it with a weight of 400 quintals which caused it to give way and kill some of the persons underneath. A woman and two children were happily saved as well as a man who had gone with a sum of one thousand patacones to make payments most of the money was recovered, owing to the activity of the police.

On Change.

February 19th.

Ounces opened at 427 and closed at 427 1/2 ; 2751 being sold for cash.

1140 for Friday at 427 to 27 1/2.

3300 for Saturday at 426 1/2 to 27 1/2

4650 for 28th February 424 to 25 1/2

Total sales 11841 ounces.

In the plazas there was very little animation, sales being as follows.

Wool—2,000 arobes mezizo at 86 to 90; 400 do at 83; 1,200 do at 89; 1200 do at 80; 600 do mixed at 66; 1400 do at 65 to 67; 500 do low at 62; 1100 do at 65.

Salted Hides. 4000 novillos, fallow, 8co, from a Salsadero in Gualeguaychu private terms.

Hides. 300 camp matadero at 122 ; 200 do at 120 ; 100 do mixed at 110.

In the Bolsa there is great tranquillitation; the only sales we know of are.

Tallow. 100 pipes at 14 rls.

Freights. at Buenos Ayres to load anchored ships at Montevideo for orders for the U. Kingdom at 60 shillings 5 per cent.

The meeting of the committee appointed at Colon took place to-day at the Bolsa, in the absence of the President Sr. Cobo. Mr. Billinghurst the Secretary was in the chair. Messrs Retza, Peña, Pereira, Thompson, and Lezica, were also absent. The committee was regularly installed and these gentlemen appointed to increase the committee have accepted their nomination.

A committee composed of Messrs Vigual, Santa Maria and Casares was appointed to see some of the gentlemen who have not answered the invitation.

The day for the next meeting has not been fixed, and it appears that the original plan will be modified.

As usual, the casa de Moneda has made another frightful blunder, and, instead of bringing ounces down, it has driven them up, and reduced the value of its own paper. The shop-keepers in our principal streets are beginning to feel the embarrassing pinching; paper money is getting excessively scarce, and ounces are steadily going up. It was openly asserted on the Bolsa, to-day, that if the Bank continued to contract the currency, it would itself be the first to perish in the crisis.—We cannot, of course, advise the lending of money to any one speculator, but Merchants and Traders should be protected.

We have been informed, on good authority, that in the Bank parlor, not a place in calle San Martin, high words between the President and dealer's, and that which has upheld this institution so long—sympathy and public confidence is fast oozing out.—The grocers &c. hold a meeting this afternoon at the Bolsa.

COLEGIO ANGLO-PORTEGNO
[205—CALLE MAYPU—205]

This school has been established for several years, and is well known in this city.

No pains are spared to make the place of instruction attractive to the pupils, and the instruction itself profitable.

Patrons are respectfully invited to visit the school, and to note carefully the monthly reports of progress and deportment.

The English, Spanish, and French languages are carefully taught by skillful instructors, and every branch of useful or ornamental education may be prosecuted in either of these languages.

French and drawing are taught after school hours. Also an afternoon class for fancy work four times a week.

Day pupils can be received at any time, and a fee could be accommodated as boarders or half-boarders.
