Troy was lost because Cassan dra's prophecies were disregard and it is a flattering reflecti on that and the a naturing renected that the "Standard" was the only phy-sician who some months back prescribed a suitable renedy for the stagnation of the life-blood of commerco-our currency. Like the Trojan oracle, we had the fate to be laughed at for mosting the subject "San Juan silvermines', and the parallel is co.nplete when we view the paper money in its present relations w a crippled trade. "The pulladiom of Buenos Ayres is the Bank", say legislators; so was the wooden horse represented, when the fool ish Trojans dragged it in triumple their walls. 'Tis true have found an Argentine Hector who strikes his spear into the ribs of the suspicious image, and tries to avert the latent danger by die-closing the pregnant cyil. Casting away metaphor as we would a dirty paper dollar, we have the pleasure to announce that the San Jaan silver-mines are now proved genuine; and the great benefits of a specie-supply, hich were forgotten by B Ayres have excited the most protranslate the following from the " Mercurio" of Valparaiso, March

"We have lost Mendoza and its valuable trade, but we can at least count upon San Juan with its mineral wealth. In San Juan. great discoveries have been made of gold and silver. This is no puff or mining dadge, the character or mining dodge, like the reports from Atacama. Let us then exert ourselves to turn some portion of these treasures to our advantage. Chilo is a mining country, well experiensed in this branch of industry. If we con-tribute our capital to the development of the San Juan mines, we are sure to reap a golden return. Neither may we fear rivals. The Buenes Ayreaus, who hold the present reins of power, will not meddle with the business, because they don't understand it, nor think of such enterprises. have their belly full of paper and horned-cattle, which, in their idea, is the best of all mines. But, we Chilians require gold and silver for the payment European manufactures. Let us, therefore, attract to this country, and foment, the mining projects of the Argentine Repubour property. Neglecting such an epportunity may cost us very If our Government under dear. If our Government under-stands the true interests of Chile. it will suffer no time to be lost. San Juan will rise up, no doubt, under the genius improved prestige and command ing position. Mendoza, too, will resuscitate from its ruins, und soon become, as of old, our chosen sister. The National Governmest and commerce of Vulpament and commerce of Valpa-raiso should keep a steadfast eye on the trans-Andine provinces."

Here we have the judgment of our wide-awake neighbours, and foolish must we be, if we do not profit of the wise hints given gratis by our obliging colleague, Why not anticipate the Chibans in working up these mines. Bet-ter late than never: it is yet time for Buenos Ayres to recover from the paper-palsy by a pilgrimage paper-palsy by a p.... no shrine of "manumon," in toon. Our he sierras of San Juan. Constitution is improved, we will confices, but we are still enveloped in for our large cent, and a change of air for our large mass, in a few cent, and a change of air for our large mass, in a few cent, and a change of air for our large mass of the content of the particular content of the cont cial. If a standard currency be l adopted, these gentlemen's occu pation is gene, and they would render much service to themselves and to the States, by turninggold-diggers. Cynics may smile, beckers from, statesmen rub their bands, and wiscneres burn the paper that is gailty of such wild-goese speculations; but, the patent truth is, that what we mentioned three months ago, a crude possibility, has now rip into a splendia fact, from which Argentines or Chillans may derive the manstay of a declining commerce. If we throw away the coroncopia that Fortune offers to us, our brethren of the other side will be ready to snatch it up. It is enough to remind legislators of the motto on the 11 de Setiembre omnibus : Omnia Ishae sincit immahas

The Covernor's Message.

The traditional work of our eather deal jis slowly, though stendily, progreesing, and will soon constitute one of the principal ornancests of our city.

Actains Wall The Government is highly eatlefied to he able to inform you that one of the greatest upphlems for the welfare of these countries, and above all for some come of the interior provinces, the artesian waters apportent last resolved Owing to the jadef dicable perseverance of Messra Surdesux and Legout, the water has been flowing at Barraeas, in a small quantity at the beginning, but which increases every day These gentlemen are expecting from Europe the mensils which are to feellitate their difficult works, and they confide that such an important acqui sition will very soon be a reality. The country will owe them, for it, a great debt of gratitude.

The seca which has been felt in our country district for several years past, as well as the agitations through which the province has passed, have not permitted the development of those improvements and reforms which might have been expected. How ver. the great zeal with which our farmers devote themselves to the improvement of sheep breeds, is very commendable, as this branch tends to be our principal source of wealth. The importation of rams of the best European races is very considerable, and it is to be expected, from the great interest which this industry now calls both, that its valuable product will, in a few years, rival that of the meet esteemed foreign markets. It is also worthy of mention that, in spite of the prolonged seen, of the convulsions we have experienced, and even of the depreciation of our products, the value of the real property has not diminiched. On the contrary, transactions are being made every day at constantly increasing prices. No hing can more efficaciously prove the liberality of our institutions, the guarantees enjoyed by foreigners, and the powerful resources of our industry.

Camp Districts.

Our country municipalities in general produce the beneficial tesuits, which were expected by their it stituselves to the purpose have already be-part typedage independent sevenars, and knot be an approximation and the sevenar approximation and knot be approximately a sevenar and the sevenar and in the direct will be in the form to to disc tweet into with "

requirements of their population and even of public service. The want of police regulation in the camp is most sensibly foil that it may check the chases experienced at present in the cattlade and our trade and serve at the same time to unforce the respective duties of our landholders between themselves. The Government is on gaged in this object with the interest that the subject demands.

Camp Justice.

In terminating this sketch of the works of this Department, the Govern ment cannot help making to YY HH a special recommunication of the conduct observed by the justices of the seace and other inf.rior authorities in our camp districts during the laterisis which the country has suffered. With admirable a tivity and self denial they have watched over public tranquillity men red in several places in consequence of the dispersion of the cavalry force in the battle of Paven, undereding with the aid of the neighbours and with the arms they could provide themselves with, rapid marches on whatever part it was found necesasy to make the authority of the Government felt. They are therefore worthy the esteem and con ideration of YY. IIII. and of the people for their patriotism and decision.

Our celebrated colleague, the Tribuna." has got the start of us, as to the latest intelligence from Fray Bentos. We su-pret fair play, and that our letters the far-famed Fray Bentos must have found their way to the Tribuna" office, for, let it be remembered, we have a sleepless correspondent, who seldom lets things escape him.

The Bentonian news we ex-tract from the "Tribuna;" but let it be known we do it in a gen themanly way, not like our erring colleague, who fills his newspaper with important news from the States, taken verbatim from the "Standard," without ever acknowledging the source from which it is derived,

Fray Bentos is going a-head A new line of steam boats is about being established, to ran between here and Gualeguaychu (which, according to our friend the "Re

ing of the new church are on the ground. The gold mines of Fray Bentos, it appears, offer every prospect of splendid returns. A slight difference of opinion, however seems to exist us to whether the virgin ore is gold or lead; but this is of the least importance, and a square leakue of land, conveying v ith it the royalties, has been sold, at A 1 prices, to some speculating individuals, who repudiate the idea that "All is not gold that glitters"—at least in

The advertiser represented himself to he a Prussian by bitth, carrying on business as a commission sgent, &c., in Manchester, The Hall yourg lady was represented as being a Miss Wullie, having £1,000 in cash, two houses yielding an annual rout d of £18 each and with great expectations from a re, lation some $4 years of age, upon whoso death she would receive an additional 2700. A most tender and lively correspondence took place, and the wife speking Prassian was in randures with the lady's position. Ultimately an interview was arranged to come off at Hull, The gentleman wished at first that the lady should meet him at Goole, but this she declined to do, and therefore, he consented to go to Iluli. The Hull wags accordingly engaged the services of a young lady to meet him. The confiding follow serived from Manchester by the 7 o'clock train on Thursday evening. He was most resselves to the purpose have already by poared to be that of a person moving in a good splice of society. The young laiv was diseased in deep mourning, having a veil which concealed her descures, as take corried in her hand a smail white instalkereined by which she was to be recognised. He soon esveraction with him, and they walked the platform together for some minutes, during which they were objects of considerable interest to a band of young fellows who were congregated bout, The stranger, however, seemed to pay no attention to the antics of these wags, being, too much occupied with the young lady, upon whom he appeared to bestow a touching amount of attention Presently a cal was builed, and the counte seated themselves in it, and were driven to a house, whore they both alighted. He was here met by about 20"cousins" or "near relations" of the lady, and as is generally the case in matters of this kind, he was unmercifully assailed with jeers and indifferent jok s. After a time it was suggested that the matter might be "made up" if he would stand a ditner and some wine for his termenters. This he refused most resolutely to do, and said it was all a mistake; he had never advertised for a wife. This statement availed him little, and his ruthless persecutors determined that an "unpleasant example should be made of him." He was seized, his hat was smashed in, his stick was taken from him, and he was then thrust ignominiously into the street. Here he was received by a crew of about two hundred men and boys who had assumbled, and were in possession of the secret He was knocked shout "like a dog in a fair," the people keeping up a continual cherns of "llow's your wife?"
