THE RETURN OF THE PRESIDENT

When the return of his Excellency was first decided on, we devoted our columns to the subject (February 2d.) We then said pretty much all we had to say on the matter. It may, however, be expected that as he is now amongst us we should again salute him, and, indeed, the great crowds that thronged the Mole, on Tuesday, to welcome his return suggest many new The Argentine people, as a nation,

We have on many occasions witnessed futile efforts to get up a cheer of hearty applause. and are convinced that this popular method of approbation is not indigenous, and but faintly understood in this country. Still, on the occasion in question there was no mistaking the popular mind, there was a 'cead milha failtha' denicted in every countenance. People were glad to see Mitre back, proud to shake hands with the old President; a few political malcontents may have hung back in the street doors and crossings, but the public of Buenos Ayres gave unmistakable proofs of satisfaction at the return of his Excellency to Buenos Ayres.

Had President Titre returned flushed with victory, and made his triumphal entry into the city mounted on a white charger, caparisoned with gold lace and trappings, he would have the price to 85, at which figure the most irrefragable proof of an extraordinary and unbending perseverance, In all the varied topics of the day, in all the many questions of the hour, we could not have selected one more delicate to treat of than the return of President Mitre; for whilst we wish to keep aloof from the to be slow and often impossible, It is said that all Calfucura's tribes ing he may succeed in pleasing all in crowd of flatterers and avoid adulation, our ambition is to welcome his Excellency on behalf of the foreign residents in a most cordial manner.

We believe we interpret the wishes not only of the foreigners, but the great bulk of Argentines, when we say they all sigh for peace. The country is rid of the Paraguayan invaders, and if terms honorable for this Republic, and guarantees for their performance, can be obtained, the River Plate public will bless the day when President Mitre landed here, to put an end to this disastrous war.

So far our own case is a repetition of the above. We have clamored for Water-supply and held up the Municipality to the gaze of an indignant public: we have sustained an action at law and come off victorious, and with God's blessing and the irresistible impulse of public opinion we shall sweep down every remaining obstacle and be instrumental in endowing Buenos Ayres with a proper Water-Supply.
