CONGRESS.

It is now becoming pretty evident to all, that the ordinary period allowed by law for the session of Congress is every way insufficient for the business of the House. Congress is nearly two months sitting, but owing to the priority which political questions enjoy, all the great industrial schemes, projects, and measures laid before the House are put aside. The San Juan question, which is destitute of the slightest interest for the general public, is still wending its way from Senate to Deputies, and Deputies to Senate. The court-martial question of Loncaque and San Luis, which, rightly speaking, should not occupy the time of the House over half an hour, we suppose will with difficulty be decided before August. The result is, that when the time by law allowed for the session expires, a short legislative bill of fare will have to be made up by the Executive, as has been the custom in previous years, embracing all the really important questions of the day, and for the discussion of which at most, probably a month will be allowed.

It is really a source of regret to all who have the welfare of this country at heart, that senators should exhaust their talents in the discussion of trivial political questions, and forget in toto the material interests of the country. Last week learned Senators spoke for hours and hours on the San Juan question, and this week we account we shall have a repetition of this parliamentary eloquence; meanwhile, the Bishop of Honolulu is hopelessly stuck in the mud in the Capitan, and the port of the Tigre may be regarded as closed, for the want of a dredge to clean the canal in the river.

There are public meetings at Rosario and Buenos Ayres about the monstrous export duties, wails of distress by every post from the camp and provinces calling upon the Government to help the expiring industries of the nation, flour-mills at our country towns knocked down for a mere song—grasiers shut up, almaceneros and tenderos in the little towns with the seals put on their doors, and, in one word, the country going down—down whilst our talented legislators are discussing what to do with the ex-Governor of San Juan!!!

We published recently the full particulars of the shooting of a noted assassin by the police of Lujan and the public exhibition of the corpse in the juzgado of the little town. We confess to a surprise that this act of summary justice has not been made the subject of discussion in the Senate. There certainly was more room for debate in this matter than in the shooting of a noted bandit in San Luis, who carried fire and sword into the little villages of that province, and who, previous to his execution by decree of court martial, confessed to no less than six murders. We, for our part, feel much pleasure in complimenting the present Government on the very firm stand it has taken in the interior when dealing with these montoneros. These gaucha chiefs have kept the provinces in a continued state of ferment during the recent administration, and now when the National Government of the Republic puts its shoulder to the wheel to restore order and afford protection for life and property, we find to our astonishment that the chief sympathisers for these montoneros are the very legislators of the country. It is really humiliating to think that the freedom of republican institutions should lead to such consequences. Every man in Buenos Ayres admits that we require a firm hand at the helm to put down these bannerless rebels, who for so many years have provoked the terror of the country; and yet when the lieutenant of the Government, at immense cost to the treasury, succeeds in capturing a montonero chief, tries him by court-martial and shoots him on the spot, the Government is to be blamed and the time of Congress spent in trying to pass a vote of censure on the Administration for not doing as in former days, namely, sending such characters to Buenos Ayres to be tried and convicted here by the courts six months after they have escaped through a hole in the wall in one of our city prisons.

We well recollect that some few years ago Felipe Varela, or his brother, was taken prisoner, sent to Buenos Ayres—actually seen in the Government House, in the office of the Minister; six months after, he was galloping sword in hand over Rioja, carrying death and desolation in his track, and all in the name of liberty, and by virtue of misplaced clemency.

We all take an interest in the debating of political principles, but we have other fish to fry at present, and we pray of the House to postpone the further discussion of all such subjects, until the real 'bona fide' questions of the day, the export tax, the port scheme, mint, and such like are first disposed of.

MONTEVIDEO. CONFESSION OF GOYO SUAREZ. MOCK SIEGE OF PAYSANDU. WRECK OF THE VALPARAISO. Wednesday.

Goyo Suarez has published a manifesto about his late escapade, in which the following passages occur:—

Everybody knows that I took the field with the best intentions for a peaceable result, although the fact of the President putting me under arrest obliges me to come forward and defend my character.

I resigned the post of War Minister on the plea of ill health, but in reality because of the expulsion of the Deputies. I was then free to act, and first wrote to Caraballo, advising him against his intended revolution. When the rupture occurred, I took the field with the view of mending matters. In Minas and Maldonado I spoke to the Gefes about peace and concord, promising to influence myself with Caraballo for an arrangement. I wrote in this sense to the President, who refused, however, to accept my mediation; but before his Excellency's reply reached me, I heard of his defeat by Caraballo's forces.

Being anxious to save him at all hazards, I pushed forward to his camp, not being yet aware that Maximiliano Perez had joined him. In a long interview with his Excellency, I spoke of the lamentable consequences of the war and the expediency of coming to an arrangement, but the President still refused my good offices, although I offered to go into voluntary banishment: he simply ordered me to be sent to Montevideo under arrest; and now I must leave my fellow-citizens to judge of the rectitude of my intentions in the matter.

Colonel Torres sends an amusing account of the mock siege of Paysandú by Gen. Borjes:—

At 5 p.m. on Saturday, 19th inst., General Borjes came up before the town, and demanded an interview. I sent him a reply by Colonel Mundell that I meant to fight, whereupon he sent me word that he repented the step he had taken, and disbanded his men, escaping with his family into Entre Rios. Next day Major Basualdo, 6 captains, 1 lieutenant, and 150 fighting men came in to submit to the Government and enrol themselves under my command.

Within the last three days, writes Colonel Rodriguez, more than 300 rebels, stragglers from Coladeras and Rio Negro, have come into Paysandú and submitted.

Colonel Castro writes from Salto, on 19th inst., that he has 400 cavalry, and expects to have a force of 1,000 in a few days; that he does not think it necessary to go in quest of the rebels, as there are none north of the Rio Negro, but that he is on his guard against an invasion from rebel refugees in Entre Rios.

The steamer Salto succeeded in rescuing the passengers of the Italian emigrant ship Valparaiso, 400 in number, without the loss of a single life. The vessel is declared a total wreck, near Isla Paloma, off Maldonado, but it is thought some of the cargo may be saved. Among the passengers are a band of musicians, under contract for the Chilian Government, who offer their services gratis to the public of Montevideo during their stay, on the understanding that the Government will give them soldiers' rations. It is quite distressing to think what a terrible loss of life might have occurred by the wreck of this vessel if the weather were rougher. When will the Government restore the Maldonado light to its proper place?

The Italian circus rider Chiarini has succeeded the bull fighters at the Union, and amuses the public with the Greek and Roman races, &c. The Senators have ratified the disgrace of General Caraballo: they have also written a letter of condolence to the family of the late Señor Rodriguez, Senator for Colonia. It is remarkable that in a few months three successive Senators for Colonia have died.

The Deputies have postponed the consideration of Mr John McColl's project of a Dry Dock, by which the Executive would cede him an area of 150 acres at present under water. The latest news from the President is to last Sunday (20th inst.), when the Government army was a league beyond Durazno.

General Caraballo, with 400 men, had crossed the river Yi, and joined his brother, who had also a few hundred followers.

The whole rebel army cannot muster more than half that of the President, and we may expect to hear soon of Maximo Perez renewing active operations in pursuit of Caraballo.

Mme. Carozzi took her benefit last night, and had an enthusiastic ovation. Several handsome presents were given to her, and on her return from the Solis Theatre she was accompanied to her house by a crowd with a torchlight procession.

Gold still ranges about 12 per cent. premium.

THE SEAT OF WAR. Asuncion, June 19, 1869. The correspondent of a leading contemporary at the seat of war says that the late slight reverse to the allied armies is owing to the plan of campaign having been drawn out and studied with defective maps.

Lopez is still at Ascurra, the key of his position, defended by the defiles and passes, through which alone the front of his lines can be approached. To attack his flanks or rear, a circuit of 21 leagues will have to be made by the invading force. A squadron can at the same time be sent up the river

Manduvira, and a corps d'armee be thrown on the enemy's rear. A coup de main, though it might cost a number of lives, is the best way of bringing this weary war to a close; for although Lopez has fully 8,000 infantry better armed than is generally supposed, passive obedience alone urges them on, and they are not equal in physique to the men who composed the Paraguayan ranks two years ago. Many prisoners and deserters state that Lopez's soldiers are very badly off for provisions.

The number of women and children rescued by General Baroto was said originally to be nearly 12,000 souls, but he lost through the enemy's attack on his rear during his retreat, no less than eighty carts filled with women, and three squadrons of light cavalry which were cut off while endeavouring to cover the retreat. The number brought back to camp of the rescued families only amounts to 3,000, and, as usual, there are reports that Lopez has put to death many of the wretched creatures he recaptured. The veteran Osorio is said all through to have been strongly opposed to the Mena Baroto expedition.

The official declaration of a Corrente soldier, for some time a prisoner in the hands of the Paraguayans, throws some light on the treatment Marshal Lopez awards his prisoners of war. The man in question was obliged to work from dawn till dark, and only received one ration every twenty-four hours, this consisting of 12 lbs. of meat for every twenty-five men, without salt or any condiment whatever, and occasionally a few spoonfuls of porridge, if it happened that it was made, which was not often. They slept bound together, and if any one was sick, he was forced to rise by blows of a stick, and to work until he died.

As regards the enemy's resources, he would not speak as to the total number of men, but at Cua Cupi there are about twenty pieces of lying artillery of the calibre of four, six, and eight. The ammunition is taken great care of; nevertheless, as it is always exposed, there being no caissons, whenever it rains much of it is lost. There are scarcely any horses, and only a few of the superior officers are mounted. The ranks are filled with old men and boys, and many of the camp followers die daily from starvation. There is but little meat and that is dolted out to the soldiers; maize has not been added to the rations for a long time.

On the 17th a meeting of Paraguayans was held for the purpose of selecting three names for the triumvirate in the Provisional Government. The result of the meeting was the selection of Messrs. Juan Francisco Decoud, Carlos Loizaga, Cerilo Rivarola. All these gentlemen are considered to be men of advanced liberal ideas, and all espoused the allied cause from the beginning.

The reconnaissance on the 18th was effected by two Argentine divisions: those of Colonels Olmedo and Morales. The Prince selected Argentine troops to accompany him on his service. The enemy's outlying guards attempted to fall back on the main position at our approach; they were charged and overtaken by our cavalry, leaving twenty-two men dead on the field. They were pursued to within gun shot of an earthwork defended by three field pieces. Our loss was one man wounded and one horse killed. The dust which has for some time prevailed in the camp prevented any good results accruing from the reconnaissance, but judging from the enemy's movements during the slight skirmish referred to, his forces cannot be numerous at this point (Guazu Vira).

A late telegram states that many of the men missing from Baroto's command have reached the camp. They suffered much from hunger, and lost altogether thirty men, four of them having died from eating wild mandioca. The health, spirits, and morale of the army is all that can be desired, and to the royal commander-in-chief is mainly if not entirely due the credit for this state of things.

THE TRANSANDINE MAILS. ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE. EXHIBITION MEDALS.

Valparaiso, May 28. Yellow fever has almost totally disappeared on the West Coast.

His Majesty's ship Topaze is under sailing orders for England, and is expected to leave on Saturday next. We heartily wish her commodore, officers and crew a safe and prosperous voyage to the shores of Old England.

Yesterday being the Queen's birthday, there was a considerable display of blighting in the bay, and at noon a salute was fired. At night several festive gatherings took place, at which the usual loyal toasts were drunk and responded to.

The trial of corn shellers took place in the Exhibition Building on the 20th inst. There were seven competitors; the result obtained from each machine being as follows:— One by Ransome, Sims, and Head (steam), shelled 9 sacks of corn in 7 1/2 minutes; one by Robey and Company (steam) performed the same work in 11 minutes; one by the Ames Company (hand) shelled two sacks in 8 1/2 minutes; one by Ransome, Sims, and Head (hand) performed the same work in 10 1/2 minutes; one by Hamell (hand) shelled one sack in 27 minutes.

A trial of Goley's patent machine for cutting mill stones took place. The operation of the machine was attentively watched by a number of persons, who expressed their satisfaction at the admirable results obtained. The trial of ploughs took place on the 21st and 22nd inst., before a large concourse of spectators. A very simple but strong two-wheeled plough, by Hornby and Son; a two-wheeled plough, by Ransome, Sims, and Head; and a small plough, by Howard and Co., were those which acquitted themselves best, the work of the first-named firm being very generally admired.

The Government has ordered gold medals to be struck for presentation to the President of the Agricultural Commission, to the Presidents of each section, and to the Secretary-general; and silver medals for presentation to each of the members of the Commission.

At a meeting of the Exhibition Commissioners held on the 18th inst., a note was read from the Consul of the Republic at Sydney, N.S.W., enclosing a list and bill of lading of several articles he has procured for the Exhibition. The particulars of an action commenced by Don Gabriel Cueto against the Commission for the recovery of $5,365.50, the sum in which the plaintiff estimates the damages he has sustained in consequence of the Commissioners having granted to the printer of the official catalogue the right to insert advertisements, was read. Sr. Covarrubias was authorized to defend the action. A note from Don Victor Carvalho, tendering his resignation as member of the Committee, in consequence of his deeming the office incompatible with his character of representative of various English manufacturers was then read. The Committee duly estimating the motives of delicacy by which Sr. Carvalho was actuated, agreed to accept his resignation, giving him at the same time a vote of thanks for his intelligent and active co-operation. Several other minor matters having been disposed of, the Committee adjourned.

A short, but smart, shock of earthquake was felt about five p.m. on the 20th inst., and another about 8.45 a.m. on the following morning.

The Intendente has ordered the demolition of the Church of San Lazaro, which is in a ruinous condition, and also of a part of the Portal de Sierra Bella, which is in a similar state.

IMPORTANT FROM PERU. NEW DOCKS AT CALLAO. Lima, May 11, 1869.

The excitement of the moment is a recent decree of the Minister of Finance calling for tenders for the construction of mole, dock, and break-water at Callao, based upon the proposal presented last year by Templeman, Bergman, & Co.

This step of the Government is most severely animadverted upon, and not without reason, for it would be impossible to conceive anything more onerous for the trade of that port than the proposal of the before mentioned firm, and it is not advancing too much to say that, of all the countries in the world, this is the only one where any such proposition would have been entertained for a single moment. If the idea be carried out, the cost of embarkation and disembarkation of merchandise will be doubled, and what is still worse the commercial community will be bound hand and foot to the tariff for the next sixty years, that being the period asked for by the before mentioned firm, and which, as I have already stated, is accepted by the Government as the basis, or at least a part of it, upon which tenders are to be made.

The commission which left in the Meteor for the purpose of examining the guano deposits on the Chichas returned yesterday, with the very flattering news that there still exists an immense amount of the valuable fertilizer upon the islands, sufficient, at all events, as was remarked by a friend to-day, to defray the expenses of at least half a dozen more revolutions in the cause of freedom and liberty.

The publication of the reports of the commission is looked forward to with considerable interest. Affairs are reported to be in a rather unsettled state at the Guanique islands, and disturbances are continually taking place there, owing to the want of an adequate force to preserve order.

The Government has decreed the dissolution of the scientific commission that had been appointed to study the effects of the great earthquake, which, we have no doubt everybody will agree, is about the best thing that could have been done, considering that the earthquake took place nearly a year ago, and that the commission has never shown the slightest signs of life since it was appointed.

A commissioner from the Cuban patriots has arrived, for the purpose of obtaining from the Government their recognition as belligerents. I have no doubt the request will be granted. A rumor is also afloat to the effect that the Cuban commissioner comes prepared to treat for the purchase of the monitors at present in the West Indies, but we do not attach any importance to the report.

The Government has ordered the payment of arrears of interest on the 1865 and 1867 bonds, inclusive of the last half year of 1868.

Don Pedro M. Cabello has been charged by the Government with the preparation of plans &c. for the establishment of an astronomical observatory.

Señor Don E. Lopez Diaz, successor of Poisson & Co., expired a victim to the yellow fever on the 3rd inst. at Callao.

You will probably recollect that nearly all the principals and clerks of that firm succumbed last year to the fatal scourge. We are informed that Sr. Lopez Diaz is the twelfth person connected with that house that has become a victim to the fever.

The mortality of the city of Callao during April last amounted to 159 persons, of whom 69 died from yellow fever.

—West Coast Mail.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The news from the Oriental Republic is of the usual conflicting nature. The National forces in the department of Tacuarembó are now ready to take the field; in Salto they are equally prepared. A small corps of observation has been sent to the opposite bank of the Damian, and it is clear that the rebellion will yet cause bloodshed. In our usual column will be found latest particulars.

The Arno sails to-day. The letter-box closes at the British Consulate at 12 o'clock.

There was a considerable crowd on the Mole on Thursday to see the passengers per the Hipparchus off. Many well-known members of our English community left in this vessel for Europe: amongst them, Mr. Tomkinson family, and suite, Mr. Forrest, of Gualeguaychu, Mr. Gordon, and others, for Europe: Mr. G. P. Crawford, for Montevideo, &c.

There was a very large attendance at the Recoleta on Thursday at the funeral obsequies of the late Don Juan A. Peña. Every class of society found its representative at the graveside of this venerable instructor of so many of our youth. President Sarmiento was also present. The number of young men present was remarkable. The ceremonies incidental to the translation of the remains were brought to a conclusion early in the afternoon.

The Rev. Mr. Davis proceeds, we understand next week to Montevideo to assume charge of the English Catholic congregation there.

We had a visit on yesterday from a landed proprietor in Entre Rios, who is about starting flax-culture on a large scale. He is anxious to procure the best, and called on us, with a view of requesting anyone who may have good flax-seed to forward samples to our office for his inspection.

The Hon. Robert C. Kirk, who is to replace the Hon. Mr. Worthington as United States Minister to this Republic, is expected to arrive here in the French packet on to-morrow or Monday. Very bad weather is now prevailing along the Brazilian coast, so it is possible that the Anis may be a day behind his usual time.

An accident, which might have been attended with the worst results, and could have been prevented if policemen were not, as usual, invisible, happened on Thursday at the corner of Calles Santa Fé and Callao. A cart with two horses driven furiously along, freighted with fully half a dozen drunken men, came suddenly in contact with the kerbstone, and all the occupants were flung in a heap with great violence against the wall of a house. The horse in the shafts was seriously injured, but, strange to say, not one of the party was hurt. It may be considered equally fortunate that the passers-by escaped.

The dust in the streets of the city on Thursday was as dense and disagreeable as it was possible for it to be. What is the use of Waterworks if we are to be smothered as we were before they were thought of? There is, now, we believe, a plug at the corner of all those streets through which the pipes run. If the Municipality are too lazy to have a hose applied and the streets watered, let the neighbors take the matter in hands themselves. This dust nuisance is both annoying and unhealthy.

A valuable discovery has just been made in Brazil, in that part of the empire lying between Bahia and Pernambuco, where an immense bed or layer of a kind of shale has been met with. The peculiar advantage of this substance is that it contains a very large proportion of light hydro-carbon oils, which are found to produce illuminating gas of great power. So convinced are the Directors of the Gas Company in Rio of the merits of this discovery, that we hear they have ordered from the proprietors 35,000 tons of the stuff wherewith to make experiments in the lighting of the city. The price of the shale is very moderate.

Our friend Major Rickard has kindly promised us, for the second volume of the Handbook, copies of the map of the Argentine Confederation, which he has lately drawn up. The existing maps of the Republic are so defective that this one which has all been laid down under the Major's personal directions, must prove of incalculable public utility.

To-night at the Opera House Parisi- tani will be given for the first time this season, Mlle. Siebs taking the part of 'Elvira.' It is an opera well suited to bring out the prima donna's powers to the utmost.

The Galgo leaves early to-morrow for Paraguay with His Excellency Sr. Paranhos and the Paraguayan commissioners.

We call attention to the advertisement elsewhere in our columns of the approaching sale of Mackern's extra stock of books. This collection contains an immense number of valuable standard works, biographies, histories, novels, &c. The sale will take place at Mr. Billingham's auction mart, and promises to be a most attractive one.

For three days lately no steamers were able to enter or leave the Tigre, owing to the immense accumulation of mud at all the entrances. There was a rumor yesterday that the Capitan had stuck hard and fast in an attempt to get out. Our friend Mr. Hopkins' steam dredge should be at work here.

The first general meeting of the San Fernando Wharf Company takes place on Monday. While the dredge was at work the other day an old gun was brought to the light of day once more, having lain in the river since the year 1838. It belonged to a French brig that blew up while engaged in some of the operations on the river at that time.

The net amount to the credit of the Executive on the 31st of May in the Provisional Bank amounted to the sum of $1,773,152 m/c; this amount includes the interest &c.

One thousand hard dollars have been placed at the disposal of the Immigration Committee in Rosario, for the furtherance of the objects of said body, an account of the expenditure of the money to be afterwards lodged with the Government.

The Parana and Salado are still so high that the preliminary surveys of the ground for the new Coranda Colony in Santa Fé have not yet been made. Don T. Aguirre, who is charged with this service, has so reported to the Government.

Sr. Don José Roque Perez has been named as representative of the Argentine Government at the approaching installation of the Provisional Government in Paraguay. We congratulate both the Government and our friend Sr. Roque Perez on this appointment; it would have been impossible to make a better selection. Sr. Perez goes to Paraguay with the special Brazilian envoy, His Excellency Sr. Paranhos, on Sunday.

There was an amusing row in the Rosario theatre on Sunday night last. It appears that the unpretending temple of the Muses in Rosario is not a whit freer from 'querrelles de coulis-es' than its more pretentious rivals elsewhere. On Sunday, when the play had commenced, it was found that the text had been altered in almost every instance, to suit the particular frame of mind in which the actor delivering it happened to find himself on the occasion. This not being of the most plausible kind in any single instance, the result was the production of all the choicest terms that could be culled from the Binnings dictionary, the indignant audience laughing, shouting, hissing, and after a vain attempt on the part of the outraged manager to restore order, finally finding their way home, half angry and half pleased with their night's entertainment.

Mr. Solveyra has established a sheep graseria at Moron, and by a new system can extract the grease in less time, with less expense, and with less waste than any other kindred establishment in the country. He wishes that the Irish sheepfarmers should pay his graseria a visit and judge for themselves. He buys troops of sheep at Moron, at the highest price, and also kills on commission.

On Wednesday evening there was a grand ball at Mr. Methven's quinta at Flores: a special train left the Parque station at 8 p.m., and returned with the guests at 4 a.m. The company comprised about 60 ladies and gentlemen, and the hospitalities were of a princely kind.

The present rise of house property in town is almost fabulous. We learn that the residence of the late Dr. Brown, which realised on Wednesday the sum of $1,341,000, was bought by deceased in 1857 for $300,000, or less than one-fourth. Its value, no doubt, consists in its street frontage of fifty varas, and the house will probably be converted into shops and offices.

Our estimable friend Sr. Sorela Maury, for some years Spanish Minister in this capital, leaves by next French mail for Europe.

EXTENSION OF WESTERN RAILWAY.

Buenos Ayres, June 21, 1869. The Vice-President of the Senate to the Executive.

I have the honor to transcribe for Y. E. the law definitely sanctioned by this Chamber, in session of 10th inst. THE SENATE AND CHAMBER OF DELEGATES PRESENTATIVES.

COLD WEATHER

PHILODERME. The use of PHILODERME, is a sure safeguard against CHAPPED HANDS, ROUGHNESS OR REDNESS OF THE SKIN, and the many similar inconveniences resulting from the prevalent piercing winds.

L. L. JONES & CO., Operative Chemists, 58 and 60 CALLE FLORIDA.

Art. 1. The Executive is hereby authorized to expend as much as eleven million paper dollars in the construction of a branch from Plaza Once de Setiembre to the port of Callaínas, and on the erection of piers and wharfs for loading and discharging there.

Art. 2. The Executive is authorized to invest the sum of one million paper dollars in forming a junction in the Plaza Constitución of the line running down to Barracas with the Great Southern Railway.

Art. 3. Likewise authorized to expend nine million paper dollars on the works and plans necessary for closing the period of constructing said line.

Art. 4. The sums voted in the foregoing articles shall be taken from the produce of the public lands destined as capital for the bank, by law of 3rd November, 1864, this establishment acquitting the Executive according as may be necessary with the value of the pagarés on the lands remaining in the office, until the sum voted by the previous articles be completed.

Art. 5. The bank shall open a special account for the Western Railway which will comprehend— 1—The quantity due by virtue of the laws of 25th October, 1862, and 23rd November, 1864.

2—The interest accruing on said amounts up to the date of promulgation of this law. 3—The sums voted by articles 2nd and 3rd of same.

Art. 6. Upon the amount due by the Western Railway the Executive shall pay six per cent interest, and one per cent amortization.

Art. 7. The net profit of working of the line shall be destined to meet the expenses thus incurred.

Art. 8. Destined to the amortization of the extraordinary debt. 1—The product of the line after the ordinary requirements of the debt are paid off.

2—The product of the sale of lands in Chilivayo as decreed by law 25th November, 1864. 3—The products of the loading and discharging piers.

4—The product realized by the sale of lands on the north of Paseo Julio, as provided by special law.

Art. 9. Authorizes the bank directors to emit, if deemed opportune, obligations on the Railway (Western) to the amount of the total debt, with the establishment, which will enjoy the amount and amortization named in Art. 6.

Art. 10. These obligations can be received at par by the Provincial Bank.

Art. 11. The streets through which the line passes, from the Plaza Once to the Recoleta, must have a width of twenty-five metres.

Art. 12. In case of the sale of the Western line the works mentioned in the present law should be included at a fair price.

Art. 13. Let it be communicated to the Executive. God preserve Y.E. DANIEL M. CASON RAMON UCACTA Secretary.

June 21, 1868. Let it be fulfilled, acknowledge the receipt, communicate it, publish it, and insert it in the Official Register. CASTRO. P. AGOTE.

THE WEAK ALWAYS IN JEOPARDY. Mark this! When epidemics prevail the feeble fall first. It requires stamina to resist the malaria that causes sickness. Bear in mind, that it is just as easy to strengthen the body as to improve the condition of the mind. It would be as rational to say that the mental constitution cannot be invigorated by instruction, as that the physical constitution cannot be fortified and sustained by artificial means. Thereupon has been provided by science. In HOPKINETT'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS we have a Tonic perfectly harmless and possessing qualities which render it the most potent preventive of epidemic complaints that has ever been administered to man. In all atmospheres the present man. In all atmospheres the present man. In all atmospheres the present man.
