REVIEW FOR EUROPE.

The most important news by this mail is that President Sarmiento has vetoed the bill just passed by Congress for the removal of the capital from Buenos Ayres to Villa Maria. Local interests have had so much to do with this question, that Argentine public opinion has been divided on the subject, but all impartial observers view with much satisfaction the conduct of the President, and foreigners in these countries, to a man, endorse his sentiments. In another column will be found President Sarmiento's message to Congress returning the bill for reconsideration; the document embodies all the views published in this journal on this all important topic, and which, happily for the best interests of the nation, President Sarmiento has thought proper Congress has passed the law authorizing the construction of the Tucuman Railway (337 miles) on the narrow gauge system, at a cost of 84 millions hard dollars, instead of 14 millions as contemplated when making the recent loan in London. It is generally said that the government holds proposals from an English house of high position for the construction of this railway, which it is thought will be accepted.

The Provincial Legislature of Buenos Ayres has just passed a very important law, creating a government mortgage bank, full particulars of which are given elsewhere.

THE PRESIDENT'S VETO.

But while admitting their wonderful curative powers in difficult cases, we wish to call attention to their great valus in the every-day diseases of life, such as Costiveness, for which they are a perfect specific; Headache relieved and cured by one dose; Indirection always removed by them, and the Indigestion always removed by them, and the stomach so toned and strengthened as to prevent a return. BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED PILLS.

Porcely Vegtable.

For Loss of Appetite they are the only sure remedy, as they never fail in carrying off the depraved bilious secretions that float in the stomach and dectroy the healthy, natural craving for food. Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Flatulency, and all Derangements of the Digestive and excretory Organs, are promptly relieved and cured by them. The public should always bear in mind that Bristol's are the only Pills made of Podophyllin and Leptandrin, The only vegetable substances yet discovered Antibilious,

To the presence of which infaluable resinolds the extraordinary success of Bristol's Pills may in a great measure be accribed. It is necessary, however, that the sick should always remember that in all diseases that have their origin in the blood. BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA,

That best of blood purifiers, should be used with the Pills, the two Medicines being prepared ex-pressly to act in harmony together. When this is done faithfully, we have no hesitation in say-ing that great relief, and, in most cases, a cure, can be guaranteed when the patient is not already beyond human help.

For general directions and table of doses, see the wrapper around each phial of Pills; but as different constitutions require different doses to produce the same effect, it is better that each person ascertain, by trial, the dose that suits their systom, and itsee that dose, instead of following general rule.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent and Remittent Fovers, &c.

This class of diseases, so common in all part of the world, and specially prevalent in malarious districts and vicinings of water courses, are almost invariably accompanied by more or less derangement of the liver, and frequently by a defective action of the digestive organs.

The more breaking of the Chill is but a stop towards completing a radical cure. The various organs of the body, especially the stomach and liver, must be brought to a healthy and vigorous condition before a permanent cure can be ustablished, and this fact has been specially kept in view by Dr. Jayne in his treatment of these complaints. The use of Jayne's Ague Mixture in conjunction with the Sanative Fills, as proscribed in the directions which accompany each bottle, will not only

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1871 DECISION OF CHARACTER.

The rarest quality of our public men is decision of character. The spirit of Republican institutions is in a measure opposed to any great display of individual character. Authority is so much divided in Democratic Governments that individual responsibility is almost unknown: the whole

It reveals a decision of character which we all admire, and without which even the most distinguished man is but a pigmy. He might have lost the odium of narrow-minded protake place during his term of office, the proverbial feeling of his ilk, which after all is no mean test to put to his public virtue, or, if you will have it, to his patriotism. President Sarmiento has never written or signed a state paper of more importance; his practical common sense has saved the country, and shown Honourable members of Congress and their supporters (if they have any) out of doors that legislation based on plagiarist theory and the obstacles hard fact places in the way of its realization are two very different things. There is admirable irony in the pitiless way in which H. E. enumerates the enormous cost that would attend the removal of the National authorities, the Foreign Ministers, employés, &c. to the middle of an unnealthy swamp. The hint that the Indians, or the hordes of some daring 'caudillo,' might easily cut off the whole National stock in political trade, President, Ministers, Congress, Bank, Post-office and all, and the certainty that 'wigwams' would be their local habitation while the South American Washington was building, are backed up by the irresistible statement that there is not a dollar available to carry out the wild scheme sanctioned by tion most important which can and Congress-ergo the bill must be vetoed. President Sarmiento is to be warmly congratulated on the firmness he has displayed in this very important question; his message has demolished the "capital en Espague," on the creation of which the National Legislators spent so much of their eloquence, and an extravagant amount of valuable public time.

The immerse advantages of Accounts Current we now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

These advantages have not hitherto been en-joyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in put-ting their savings out, at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, siceness, or old age, instead of spending them in he immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.
