> The chief utility, to our mind, in defining these territories is, to set them apart for colonization and offer a million land grants of 100 acres each, for all new-comers. The Pilcomayo and Bermeio are valueless, except for woodcutting purposes, and as the Republic has so much idle land we may make a present of territories 1 and 2, for all the practicable value they can be to dians who would quickly disappear before ten or twenty thousand such set tlers as the Duke of Manchester is now at intervals despatching to Canada and New Zealand: this territory must prove of immense value as soon as direct communication is opened up through it, from the Paraná riverboard to the upper Argentine provinces. Lot the 4th, Misiones, posses > such a favored soil and climate that it would prove a fine field for colonizaside wash this territory, affording highways for traffic. The 5th territory, comprising all the central Pampas, will be valuable in the next century when traversed by railways and brought within reach of civilized life: it is nearly twice the area of England. Lot 6 is invaluable, being a fine tract of country, larger than Holland and Belgium, and washed by two navigable rivers for its entire length from the Andes to the ocean: if the soil be good as we may suppose, this territory will be the best situated of all for colonies, owing to its superior geographic position. Lot 7, of the Chubut, is possibly too cold and barren, it we are to judge by the Welsh colony, whose wheat took 3 years to come up. Lot 8 comprising Patagonia 'pur et simple' is of geographic importance, but Capt. Musters, in his book of travels describes it for the most part as a howling wilderness.

Lot 9 is still more important as commanding the straits of Magellan, which, however, the Chilians have been the first to get a footbold, and as lawyers say "possession is 9-tenths." Its value is enhanced by the discovery rage to stand the snows and the cannibals: its only merit seems to consist in its owning Cape Horn, but we can do without it. The 10th and 11th lots might be made into one, comprising all those lands on the slopes of the Andes and equal in extent to the The Italian brig Sette Fratelli, from Kingdom of Portugal: the Jesuits had

The delay about the mails caused much censure on Messrs. Humphreys and Clarke, Packet agents of Montevideo, who might have sent the letters of Montevideo, who might have sent the letters up with the papers per Uruguay. The papers were delivered this morning early, the letters this night late.

The payments on 'Change to-day were trifling, hardly one million currency: this shows the very trifling produce business doing. The collections through town are represented as good; all the shopkeepers have money.

Two American merchants have late telegrams Ship from New York, one to the 18th and the other to from New York, one to the 18th and the other to the 19th. It was rather generally said on 'Change that hides are still further down, and gold up.

To-day was a busy day in commercial circles Being Saturday, all the week's purchases had to be arranged on the Bolsa; moreover the houses were busy writing for the Olbers, whilst in the evening the letters per Neva were delivered. Furthermore we had the Montevidean mais, which, owing to the long interruption by the port closing, are for the moment heavy. The Neva has brought advices of great importance in every ship which, owing to the long interruption by the port closing, are for the moment heavy. The Neva has brought advices of great importance in every sense. The papers from Rio speak of nothing but war; but the tone of the English and American papers on the subject of the Alabama claims is temperate, and even aithough the Geneva conference should break up things will remain just as they were before. In the States the feeling looks warlike enough, but only in certain classes. The good sense of both nations will be too powerful to allow a band of interested parties to hurry the U. States to war. The rise in the gold market of N. York is attributed to heavy specie shipments to Europe. Dry hides are flat in the States; but the Lurope in wool markets show firmer.

A deputation from the Bolsa, at Rio, has waitted upon the agent of the Royal Mail to request the commanders coming from Europe to call at Cape Frio in order that the news may come up to Rio by wire. Rio by wire. We believe that the matter has been satisfactorily settled; it is only important to us here in the Plate, inasmuch as soon telegraphic communication between Montevideo and Rio Grande will be complete.

Yesterday a new bill was brought in before the Provincial Legislature to extend the action of the present public land law, and allow to farmers and others further periods to purchase land. The bill is most important, and it is to be hoped it will be passed, as but for ex-Governor Castro's extensions the magority of the sheep farmers would have been shut out from purchasing their land.

In Congress to-day the subject was the Correntino intervention. There is a great push by the opposition tocorner the cabinet on the question.

Next week a very important meeting will be held at the Government House to consider the ironclad question. President Sarmiento and Minister Gainza will confer with Mr. Wheelwright as to five best class of ironclad to buy, and the best place to buy it. The President has adopted a very excellent step. Mr. Wheelwright's opinion on the matter is worth having, and if the Government follows Mr. W.'s advice in the matter they cannot go wrong. We hear that two Argentine navy officers, Obligado and Hastings, have been invited to attend. It was said to-day that Colonel Campos will be the officer sent to Europe to purchase what are technically termed 'shooting irons.'

The bond market continues down. Prices gave way to-day owing to a broker throwing on the market one lot of 100,000 bonds for the end of the month. The King took them up. Still things ruled extremely flit, and the feeling is that all the bonds due for the end of the month have the bonds due for the end of the month have now been secured, and unless some favorable news from Brazil comes to hand there can be no let up much in prices. There is nothing now spoken of on 'Change save the Brazilian question, and although almost everyone says that the Mitre mission will settle the difficulty, still there are many merchants taking precautions for any emergence. many merchants taking precautions for any emergency. On Saturday we announced the purchase of 12 cargoes of Pernambuco sugar in Montevideo, to-day five cargoes more were bought by the same purchaser, Sr. Fynn, of Montevideo, and it was even stated that at Pernambuco all the sugar there has been bought up. Now it is said there is a speculation in coal, and on a large scale. All these immense purchases inspire distrust in the political situation. The sale3 in bonds to-day were as follows—
