THE WELSH COLONY.

Patagonia, August 28: 1872. The American brig Rush, Captain Evans, has just arrived here from the Welsh Colony, bringing four colonists and two Indians on business...

It appears that the colony is plodding on as usual without the remotest idea of the removal mooted for them by your colleague in Buenos Ayres...

Such news has been received from Magellan's Straits, of the loss of the American ship Golden Hind(?) on the coast of Tierra del Fuego, 12 of the crew dying of hunger.

The mails from the West Coast by Caldera were delivered in this city yesterday morning, they comprising twenty-two days' intelligence...

Yesterday the section of the Uruguay Central Railway from Canelones to Santa Lucia was opened to public traffic. The directors issued 1,000 tickets of invitation for the inauguration...

The Government, in the unavoidable absence of the President of the Republic, was represented by el ministro del gobierno, Sr. Herrera y Obes...

Triumphal arches were erected, displaying great taste, across the line at the entrance to the station ground. The weather was superb, and the day passed off in a manner to be remembered with satisfaction by the public and guests...

The Caracoles Emperario Co. statutes were approved yesterday, for working mines, with a capital of £120,000 in shares of £200 each.
