QUICKEST RUN ON RECORD

SEVENTEEN DAYS.

LISBON TO . MONTEVIDEO IN

We have been favored with the fol lowing extract from the Aconcagua's log, showing her run out day by day. Such a wonderful run out calls for special notice. Captain Conlan has won for his Company the greatest steam sailing victory in the annals of shipping. Not Canard's renowned line, nor the famous White Star line, can point to such a rapid voyage. The Aconcagna brought out but few first class passengers, about 150 second and third class, and a full cargo for the West

The Aconcagua, of the Pacific line, arrived at Montevideo or Saturday, two days before her time, having made the run from Lisbon in 19 days -the quickest time on record without the 'mas minimo' exception. This passage is really most remarkable, and shows how close we are drawing to Europe. The news is rather better than worse, and the prospect of a rise in the Bank of England rate is less. The Tichbourne trial again absorbs the attention of the highly intelligent British public. The evidence of Père Lefévre, the French priest who educated the lost Sir Roger, is dead against the Claimant. The rev. gentleman swears emphatically that the pet of Mr. Whalley and Mr. Onslow, M.P.'s. is not the man; that the late Lady Tichborne was mad, and that she offered him a reward to recognise her son. The Vienna Exhibition has been opened very mildly. The Emperor William was at St. Petersburg; the political and social horizon is calm everywhere, and in general the news by the Aconcagna is of a passive rather than active character. It will all be found in another column. Through the kindness of a British merchant we are enabled to extract from the Times of the 1st inst. .

For days the fleet lay there and established a regular flag of truce, arranging also a 'post office' ashore, where communications both ways were left. Finally it was determined to make a survey of the river, a stream utterly unexplored. Four steam-launches accordingly started up, but were fired on by the first fort (named: Citadel McKee, after Lieutenant Hugh J. McKee, who afterwards met his death occasions; no one goes for the music, in an assault upon it). The fire was promptly returned, but the force was too small, and the launches went back to the fleet. All negotiations were at once broken off, and an expedition organized for a boat and land assault upon the forts. New Patent R.R. Grease

YELLOW GREASE Manufactured and Patented by

RICHARD GAMBLE. Suitable only for this Olimate

Not for Europa. Not for Europa.

It is manufactured to suit Summer, Winter and Spring, and is cally used for Railways, Transways and Carts, Islinek Wazgons, &c.

It consists of Nine different fluid oils and solidified by a chemical process. It will resist the holtest sun, and will not get into a liquid or fluid state. It is only when the action of the axles commences it becomes a rich creamy fluid, and when the action stops its again colisides.

It is of a suitable consistency, of good lasting power, attended with but little increase of temperature even at the highest speeds, and leaves but the smallest residue in the axle loxes. A crease which is too firm will remain comparatively solid in the box, and allow the axle to become hot, whilst on the other hand one that is too thin becomes exhausted by a few miles running.

This Grease is of more importance than at firm sight a pears; for while the grease account a sight a pears; for while the grease account a railway companies forms no inconsiderable; itely and the power and ranway companies forms no inconsaccione rect of expenditure, the waste of motive power and wear and tear of plant entailed by the use of unsuitable groeso is enormous.

The merits of the Greate, in its general utility LUBRICANT,

LUBRICANT, and also for its

CHEAPNESS,

are shewn, when compared with other kinds hitherto used, that are entirely useless for any pur pose but that of lubricatio.

It is therefore much less liable to be pilfered and missapplied than tallow, land, neatsfoot oil, porto cil, rape oil or gallipole oil.
