

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The atrocious cold yesterday morning was the theme of conversation in every circle. Brokers and 'bulls,' 'bears' and 'barraqueros,' auctioneers, editors, 'abogados,' and even that hot lot, the politicians, were shivering and shaking like aspens, such was the fall in the temperature from the previous day. It froze hard during the night, and we heard some old residents remark that for years they do not remember such a sudden change in the weather. Personally we enjoy the cold hugely, but cannot avoid sympathizing with the chattering teeth of so many subscribers. Frost just now in the camp will not help the grass, just beginning to struggle up after the recent drought.

A poor cart man was thrown from his vehicle yesterday in Calle Defensa, a wheel passing over his thighs and crushing them. The cart was shamefully overloaded with fire-bordalesas, and the poor fellow was nearly drowned in the river, trying to save his horse sinking under the load on the way in from the lighter. On reaching the beach he was heard to say to a friend that he was afraid something worse would happen to him before he delivered the 'bordalesas'; as they were too heavy for one load; his words were too prophetic.

ON 'CHANGE. July 6, 1874. Oncoos 400 Suro 1224 Pat. 26 Pat. Bonda 73 Cedula 80 1/2 There was a slight reaction in the Cedula market, and prices improved about 1 per cent. This rise is attributed to the new bank rate only giving 2 per cent on property, which, it is thought, will restrict the emission fully 60 per cent.

decline to have anything to do with them. Thus the affair stands, a bank without a farthing of capital, and with notes in circulation amounting to 600,000 pts. The Junta de Credito was sold by false balances. The Consejo de Administracion was sold by never showing the real business and the public was sold by accepting the shillings as good bank notes. The business is about the worst that has ever been attempted in the River Plate.
