Flores, in the direction of Azul. The stream in question is about 45 leagues from B. Ayres, and forms the boundary line between the departments of Azul, Las Flores and Ranch. Paso Medina is the only bridge over the Guahicho, which is fordable upwards to Azul, and downwards in the direction of Pila spreads out into cañadones.

The Government forces were under the command of Col. Luis Campos, who sent despatches also to Chascomus with the following intelligence, which Col. Julio Campos telegraphed on Sunday morning to B. Ayres as follows:—

"The army of Rivas is fleeing in 3 groups; the Indians towards the desert, the main body under Rivas, and the rest with Machado towards Tandil."

The Nacional says that Captain Figueroa escaped from Rivas and reports that his Commissariat is under Messrs. Fernandez and Saavedra, who give 'vales' for everything they take; that he has a staff of 20 officers, including Elizalde, Landivar etc., (this man wearing a cockade of blue and white ribbon; and that they expect General Mitre to land with arms and supplies at the month of the Salado.

When Colonel Julio Campos at Altamirano heard of the success of Colonel Luis Campos he caused the bands to play 'dianas' in honor of the news. He also telegraphed to the Government that Colonel Machado was in possession of the Lavigné station on the Dolores Railway, with a force which, the Tribuna says, was stated to be 1500 strong, adding that Colonel Julio Campos had pushed forward his vanguard beyond the Salado to engage the force in question. The Nacional, however, contradicts all this and says that Machado joined Rivas on Thursday, and that the group at the Lavigné station must be that commanded by Vidal.

The Tribuna thinks that the Southern division under Colonel Julio Campos is about to commence active operations, as the Minister of War reviewed the force at Altamirano on Saturday (24th), and it will be remembered he reviewed the Western division under Colonel Luis Campos at Mercedes the day before it set out on its march for Navarro.

Minister Alsina returned from Altamirano at 5 p.m. on Saturday, and reports as follows:—

"The force I have reviewed counts 1200 infantry armed with Remingtons, 1200 cavalry, and six Krupp guns. They went through their drill admirably, and handled the Remingtons and Krupp with great rapidity. Colonel Lagos routed the army of Rivas and occupied Las Flores without opposition."

The Nacional says that Major Levalle's orderly escaped from Rivas on the 21st, when he was making preparations on the advance of Colonel Luis Campos's vanguard; this whole force not exceeding 1900 men and some field-pieces.

The Patria of Montevideo says General Mitre left that port on the night of the 22nd (Thursday) with the lighters Dayman and Toro in quest of the Parana and Montevideo, somewhere off the port. Also that the surgeon of the Parana landed at Montevideo, not wishing to remain on board.

The bulletins of Sunday announce that on Saturday night Messrs. Juan Molina and Exequiel Zapiola arrived as prisoners from the Justice of Peace at Pergamino, but were set at liberty on bail by Dr. Salas that they would not leave their houses in this city. Captain Vasquez and Don Carlos Cardoso were lodged in the Policía. Major Espina writes from Bragado that he has captured some followers of Garpio Caro and put them in irons, adding that there are two bands of Mitristas in the neighborhood, one of 80 men under Carlos Parody, the other of 150 under Colonel Gonzalez.

Major Bunge met with a slight accident at the Altamirano review on Saturday. While flourishing his sword the horse reared, and the sword-point entered his right foot. He has been brought to town for treatment.

Mr. Negro, the veteran school-master of Caballito, publishes the following letter in the Tribuna:—

"Manifesto of the Confidential Commissioner of the Ex-president Sarmiento:—

"With a heart oppressed by grief at the warlike operations all over the city I made my way through the guards to see my old friend Mr. Sarmiento and recommend a peaceable settlement.

"There is more magnanimity; I said to him, in making concessions to your opponents of to-day and friends of yesterday, than in plunging the country in civil war and ruin."

"I was anxious, he replied, to take a step in the direction you propose, but could not find a suitable man. You are just the proper kind of person."

"Will you allow me, said I, to confer with the wife of Gen. Mitre on the matter?"

"With all my heart, said he. I would have desired to see her personally about it, but my official position prevented me."

"Accordingly I waited on Madame Mitre and found her in great anxiety about her son Emilio, whom she had in a place of concealment. She paid no heed to my intended journey, but only thought of her son, saying she had asked permission from Mr. Sarmiento for him to leave B. Ayres. I offered to try if I could not succeed in obtaining her request, for which she expressed her thanks."

"Pres. Sarmiento said he could not give his signature, but as a friend would save Mrs. Mitre's son. 'Take him on board,' he said, on my responsibility and tell him that I answer for his safety."

"At 5 p.m. we got the boy on board, along with his brother Bartolito. Thus as a friend the President aided us, without giving his signature, and the mother's anxiety was removed."

"When I addressed myself to General Mitre he said the moment was not opportune (for he had just published his manifesto), and that he could not entertain any proposals.

"Perhaps, said he, we shall meet in the road before the day is over." He added that he would take as an affront any offer of personal benefit to himself, and that as soon as the struggle was over he was resolved to retire into private life.

"As my mission was for the sake of peace, and not of any personal interest I have simply stated the facts, assuming to myself any blame there may be in the whole affair. My reason was, that I thought the leaders on both sides had enough patriotism to make mutual concessions for the general welfare. Feeling convinced that if brute force and rifle cannons were to decide the issue, we might at once prepare for a general bankruptcy among natives and foreigners in this once flourishing city which promised to become the centre of a second United States in the southern-hemisphere."

Dr. Vasquez, Minister of Government in Cordoba, publishes a manifesto completely contradicting the statements of Dr. Carlos Paz with reference to the surrender of that city to General Arredondo. He says Major Paz in presence of the Governor took off his uniform, put on a jacket, and resigning his sword went and hid himself in a convent, declaring the city must capitulate.

Col. Lorenzo Winter writes a contradiction of the rumours in some M.V. papers, and says he has nothing to say to the revolution, but obeys the Nat. Government.

The blessing of the flags of three Nat. Guard battalions took place on Sunday in Plaza Victoria. The rockets were at first supposed to have reference to the ceremony.

Last night Pres. Avellaneda held a diplomatic soiree at his residence in Calle Moreno, the Foreign Ministers being present.

Somo M. Videau papers mention that great alarm prevails in Rio Grande owing to the rumor of a coalition between Gen. Mitre and the republican party to separate Rio Grande from the Brazilian empire. It seems Dr. Cunha, the republican leader, has just published a manifesto, and that it is rumored Gen. Mitre has promised to help him to form a Republic. Also that Col. Lucas Bergara said some time ago that it was intended to unite Rio Grande to the Argentine Republic, and that Dr. Cunha would give the signal, adding that Cunha and Lopez Jordan were great friends, and that all the military men in Rio Grande were with them. The Rio Grande papers further state that numerous secret societies of republicans were known to exist.

The Telegrapho says that Col. Segovia left M. Videau to join the revolution.

The Legislature of Cordoba sent a protest on the 18th inst. to the Governor, on the arrest of President Malbran by Major Ipola on charge of treason, which they consider an open violation of Arts. 79 and 80 of the Constitution. Dr. Malbran wrote from his prison on the 17th to the Legislature complaining of his sudden and arbitrary arrest, while holding the offices of Vice-president of the Senate, Consul for Uruguay, and Vice-Consul for G. Britain and Ireland.

The Governor of San Juan wrote to Governor Civit of Mendoza, Sept. 28th, to ask if it was true he was mobilising the Nat. Guards and why? Governor Civit replied, that he was gathering Nat. Guards, that a revolution had been attempted unsuccessfully at B. Ayres, that Arredondo had made prisoners of Ivanowski and Pancelo, put himself at the head of the Rio Quinto forces, that Col. Rocca had telegraphed to him (Civit) from Rio Cuarto, that Col. Loyola had left San Luis with 150 rebels to invade La Paz, that the Nat. Government was all right at B. Ayres and Governor Gomez of San Juan was to believe no rumors but keep a strict watch. Accordingly on Sept. 30th, Governor Gomez called out 500 Nat. Guards of San Juan, to support the Nat. Government. The telegraph wires between San Juan and Mendoza had been destroyed for some distance, which explains the ignorance prevalent in San Juan about current events.

Governor Quiroga of San Luis issued a manifesto on Sept. 27th in favor of Gen. Arredondo and the revolution, calling on the Puntanos "to imitate the ancient Romans by leaving aside the labors of peace at the call of their country, and remember the names of Pringles and Laffur in the gigantic combat on which they were now to enter."

Pres. Avellaneda and the War Minister visited the Capitania and the war-vessels on Sunday, and expressed themselves much satisfied with everything.

The Nacional says the Government has advices from Entre Rios and Santiago that all is quiet.

Telegrams yesterday from Colonel Julio Campos say that Col. Luis Campos continues in pursuit of Rivas, whose vanguard was within 10 leagues of Azul.

The Nacional says that the Boletin of the Revolution states that Stegman's estancia at Pila was sacked, the furniture burnt, and the fine flock of sheep had their throats cut. Also that the Pila division, for the revolution, comprised 200 men, under the following officers:—Llosa, Ohas, Elizalde, Lilledad, Landivar, Saenz Valiente, Cantilo, Velar, Rodriguez, Lanusse, Marmol, Panero and Ratto: they had marched 40 leagues in two days. Also that a force near Azul had taken 500 horses from the Government troops, that General Rivas had received letters from Colonels Borjes and Gonzalez, that Major Casares had routed some Government troops under Colonel Villanueva near Las Flores, on October 2nd. The same paper gives a manifesto by Colonel Vidal to the inhabitants of Barracas, Quilmes, San Vicente and Caiuelas, dated October 7th, announcing that General Mitre would soon take the field, and that the Government troops had suffered a reverse at Cañada Doña Serafina.

WRECK OF THE GENEROSA. SUFFERINGS OF THE CREW. The captain of the ill-fated Italian brig Generosa has made his report to Mr. Consul Negri, from which the Operario extracts the following particulars:—

"We left Swansea on August 2nd with a cargo of coal for the River Plate, the crew comprising 16 men, and the mate's wife being a passenger. We had a prosperous voyage till October 10th, when we arrived off the mouth of the River, in 23 fathoms of water, steering W. 4 S. W., with light breeze from E. S. E., cloudy sky, the glass marking fair weather."

"About 3 p. m. on said October 10th the breeze freshened, the sky becoming overcast and the horizon wearing a threatening aspect, whereupon we took in all sail except the two lower sheets, bearing towards Maldonado with the intent of passing it about eight miles distant."

"At 3 in the morning it was blowing hard, with a little rain and a dense fog. We caught a glimpse of the Maldonado light on our quarter, but could not calculate the distance. Still steering W. 4 S. W., the soundings gave from 12 to 6 fathoms, with a soft muddy bottom, showing we were in mid-channel."

"At 9.30 a. m., the fog clearing for a moment, we saw what appeared the mast of a wreck, about five miles on our left; then we changed course and steered N. W. In a few minutes the men who were in the rigging on the look-out hurried down in a fright, saying that where we had seen the mast was the coast of the Banda Oriental, now clearly visible, and that it did not alter our course we should strike in a few minutes. The sea being rough, our lives were in great danger, and in order to save the ship and cargo I changed the course to S. S. E. and loosed several sails, the sooner to get away from so dangerous a coast."

"The mate ran up the main-mast with a telescope and soon made out that it was not terra-firma, but the mast in question was of some vessel lost on the English Bank. Studying the charts and course made we became convinced of this, and reasoned with the men, then altered our course again to N. W.; but at that moment a heavy sea struck the vessel, and another quickly broke over the deck, driving the vessel back. Seeing, therefore, that we could not get the vessel's head round I resolved to take in all sail but the lower aft sail and the bowsprit, so as to tack by the stern; which the sailors would have promptly done but for the dreadful wind and sea, accompanied by thunder, lightning and torrents of rain, which utterly paralysed them with terror. The vessel had just begun to obey the helm, very gradually on account of the strong current running against us, when she struck twice on a hard bottom, causing much of the rigging to fall. Our only hope seemed to be to get the vessel round with her head to the N. W., and when we had got her so far as W. she was swept impetuously by the heavy current and breakers till she repeatedly struck the bank, sometimes forward, sometimes aft, sometimes midships, causing the spars to fall over the side and the water to rush into the vessel."

"In this dreadful position the men left the helm and rigging, and crowding round me on the quarter-deck urged me to order the boats to be lowered; there was no time to be lost as the leaks were gaining ground fast. The large boat was then got out, the sailors barely having time to take with them some flannel and clothing: after they had got in, the mate and his wife followed, myself as captain being the last to leave the ship, and as the cabin was already full of water we had not time to save the letters and £100 in gold, nor even to procure a compass and some sails or provisions, for if we waited a moment longer our boat would be smashed against the ship's side."

"It was about 10.30 a.m. (October 11th) when we pushed away from the ship, and after great trouble got the wind astern, then suffered ourselves to go before the wind and sea; luckily we had a helm in the boat and four oars, as also three buckets to bale out the water, increased by the heavy rain."

"After pulling some 14 hours we sighted about midnight the Point Indio light, but the men were so fatigued that we could not reach it and had to allow the boat to run before the wind and sea, until about daybreak of Oct. 12th we sighted the B. Ayrean coast at a place known as Santa Rita."

"As soon as we reached land we met with the most kindly assistance from the sailors of two lighters, that were lying high and dry, the names of which and of their owners I shall be glad to learn so as to express my gratitude; they gave us food, restoratives and dry clothing."

"Subsequently we got to the estancia of Don Carlos Casares, of Buenos Ayres, whose employees, Gustavo Bellemare and Antonio Freyre, not only treated us most generously in every respect, but actually gave us the necessary money to proceed to B. Ayres, some by water, some overland. The kindness we have met with can never be forgotten."

MONTEVIDEO (Per American Agency). October 24

The Tiber from Southampton, and Sakkarah from Valparaiso, entered today.

Deuda Interna 2nd Series 59, end of month, 61, optional with buyer, end of year.

Exchange, no change; produce, nothing doing.

EDITOR'S TABLE. Bulletins of the Tribuna and Nacional announced on Sunday an "esplendido triunfo" by the Government troops under Colonel Campos at Las Flores. Full particulars will be found in another column. Along the Flores Road and at the village on Sunday there was a great pow-wow in consequence of the news, rockets, orderlies galloping up and down, flags fluttering, &c. &c.

The steamer Tiber, of the Royal Mail Company, entered Montevideo on Saturday, and her mails were delivered here on Sunday and yesterday. We have to thank the Captain and Purser for our late files outside the mail.

The thunder, lightning and rain on Sunday night resulted in a very warm and oppressive day yesterday. The thermometer in the Court marked 75 Fahr., or Summer Heat. If another Comet does not turn up, we may probably count on fine weather henceforward, though yesterday afternoon was extremely pluvius.

The Tiber brings news that all the fuss about the Prince of Wales's debts, Parliament being asked to pay them, and the Queen having paid them, is rank 'hosh.' The Daily Telegraph publishes the following contradiction, which has an 'inspired' twang about it:— "Various reports have lately appeared in print to the effect that debts have been contracted by the Prince of Wales. It has been stated that Mr. Gladstone was requested to bring the matter before Parliament, but declined; that Mr. Disraeli was to be asked to do so; and finally that Her Majesty had paid off these debts. Mr. P. A. Taylor, the member for Leicester, has even addressed his constituents on the subject. We are enabled to assert that there is not a single word of truth in any of the above statements."

Some discussion has arisen among our sporting friends here about the most celebrated American trotters. Dexter was the king of the trotting turf, in 2.17. We believe the following table shows the fastest time made during this season, and where the exhibitions occurred:— Goldsmith Maid, Rochester 2.14, Luna, Rochester 2.16, Clover, Rochester 2.17, Red Cloud, Buffalo 2.18, Gamora, Buffalo 2.19, Mambrino Gift, Buffalo 2.20, Belle Brasfield, Rochester 2.20, Fleety Goldust, Buffalo 2.20, Smuggler, Buffalo 2.24, Castle Boy, Utica 2.21

It is thus seen that Dexter's time, hitherto the best in the world, has been beaten by the three first on the list, and that no less than seven horses can trot the mile in 2.20 or less. The honors which Dexter took away from the harness in the person of Flora Temple, have also returned to it in the persons of the old lady Goldsmith Maid; age 17, and the Nymph Lula. Mr. McClaymount has some of this trotting blood on his estancia near Donselaar. It is time we heard from some of his half-bred youngsters.

President Avellaneda gave a grand Diplomatic 'conversazon' last night at his private residence, to which all the Foreign representatives in Buenos Ayres were invited.

A subscriber at Fray Bentos has written to us respecting the "bulletin" pun perpetrated in our office some days ago. He acknowledges that our friend may have been quite honest in believing that it was his own, but that he can never have read the immortal Don Juan, or he would have seen that Shakespeare thought of it first, and Byron referred to it in the following lines:—

"I wonder (although Mars no doubt's a God I pray'd) if a man's name in a 'bulletin' may make up for a bullet in his body? I hope this little question is not a trifle, though I am but a simple noddy, I think one Shakespeare puts the same thought in—

"The mouth of some one in his physis so doing, Which many people pass for wit by quoting. The Pueblo of Mercedes of Sunday publishes a notice from Comandante Cardoso to the effect that any Argentine, sons of foreigners, who do not present themselves within 48 hours for enrolment in the National Guards will be sent to serve in a Regiment of the Line. The Municipality of Mercedes give a ration of meat every day to the families of all the National Guards from that town now on active service.

We regret to announce the death, on Sunday of Don Saturnino Cordova, 'editor responsible' of the Tribuna, and connected with the paper for 22 years. The funeral took place yesterday morning at the Recoleta cemetery, and was most numerously attended; the remains were placed in the vault of the Varela family. Mr. Posse one of the editors of the Tribuna, delivered a most eloquent oration and read a letter from Dr. Marjano Varela, expressing his great regret that he was unavoidably prevented from attending the funeral, and the high respect he entertained for the deceased Mr. Cordova was among the few surviving founders of the Typographical Society, many members of which attended to pay the last tribute to his memory.

The latest European telegrams report the Carlists as inclined to throw up the sponge, but the fact that they have received fresh supplies of arms, and that the Government Generals are still thinking about the promised 'great battle' does not look like it. Espartero is dying. The Danish Parliament has refused to entertain any project whatever for Denmark's joining the German Empire, and says that the Schleswig question must be discussed on its own merits. The Czar has sent M. Thiers the order of the White Eagle, and the Duke of Edinburgh has been congratulated by all the big wigs at home and abroad on his accession to the dignity of paterfamilias.

A Young bachelor, who had been appointed sheriff, was called upon to serve an attachment against a young widow. He called upon her, and said, 'Madam, I have an attachment for you.' The widow blushed, and said that his attachment was reciprocated. 'You don't understand me; you must proceed to court.' 'I know it is leap year, sir, but I prefer you to do the courting.' 'Mrs. P—, this is no time for trifling; the justice is waiting.' 'The justice! why, I prefer a parson.'

Two children in a village in Tucuman were allowed to play with two cauls of kerosene and a box of matches. It is almost needless to add that they were interested next day. Caution to parents and guardians.

The great fire at Valquet's almacén in Calle Piedras was the sensation of yesterday morning. The fire raged from a very early hour; indeed, a Lomas subscriber who rises at four o'clock every morning saw the flames distinctly at that hour from his bedroom window. The whole place and a valuable stock were burned to cinders. The insurance offices are hit for 130,000 pabs, one of them for 75,000. The blaze was the biggest thing of the kind we have had in Buenos Ayres for many a day. Dense crowds thronged the scene of the disaster from an early hour. An eye-witness informs us that the blaze began between three and four o'clock in the morning. The wind was blowing from the north, and in an incredibly short time the flames were fanned into terrific volume and spread down Calle Piedras towards the Scotch church, which was for a short time seriously menaced. The Rev. James Smith, who was roused shortly after the fire began, at once took every precaution by shutting the windows and other measures. The smoke and falling cinders were so dense and dangerous that they baffled his first attempt to get on the roof to make a reconnaissance, but in the end he succeeded. Messrs. Traer and Aitken were also on the spot, and offered their services in case of necessity, but happily none arose, the church escaping the thick showers of falling sparks unscathed. Not so the Union Argentina office, which was much damaged, pens, paper, ink, type etc. being hurriedly removed to the street. The Police, Bomberos and Nat. Guards behaved splendidly. Mr. Moreno, the Chief of Police, being present. They took possession of the whole square, driving the crowds back, thus giving free scope to the Bomberos, who worked in a way worthy of all praise, the supply of water being ample; grappling irons were skillfully used to pull down the walls of the burning building, which helped greatly to smother the flames, aided by the concentrated stream of water poured on them. For hours the fire raged, but began to yield about seven o'clock. With the Rev. James Smith's permission, the Chief of Police ordered whatever was saved from the flames to be placed inside the railings of the Scotch church, and there is now as much cheese, maiting, tinned meat, preserves, preserved beet and milk, hams, gin, ginger and ginger-bread piled up there as would feed Colonel Campos's army for a month.

'Tramway' is the heading now given by the Prensa de Belgrano to its local news. The same paper tells a story of a Berlin dentist whose advertisement ran as follows: "Extraction of teeth without pain, 5 francs; with pain, 2 francs; in pieces, 50 cents each, or a dozen for 3 francs." We commend this scale to the attention of Messrs. Wineberg, Coquet, Newberry, Small and all others of our friends in the tooth line.

Theodore de Banville is credited with a very happy retort by Charivari—"Can you tell me sir," said a person, "how verses are made? For I confess I have never been able to understand." "It is very easy, sir." "Really." "You take lines of unequal length; you put rhymes at the end and talent inside of them." "Ah!"

"For twenty long years," says a New Jersey paper, "the wolf has stood at this poor widow's door." To keep a wolf standing that long is nothing less than cruelty to animals, and the attention of the police is called to the circumstance.

A new tunnel under the Alps is projected by Mr. Stam, an Alsatian engineer. It will start from Chamounix at a height of 3445 feet over sea level, enters Mont Blanc, and terminates Entrèves, 4216 feet above sea level. The tunnel will be of equal length to that under Mont Cenis, and will be neither more difficult nor more expensive.

The official report of the city health for the fortnight is good. 'Poor man's gout,' rheumatism, is the disease most prevalent.

Captain Przewodowski, the Brazilian commander who bombarded Alvear, writes that while on his way from Uruguay to Salto he was followed by two Italians, lowed night and day by two others who were joined on the last day of their eight days' journey by two others. They evidently wanted to take the Captain unawares, but he kept his revolver ready, and as he had four men with him the Ligurians attempted nothing.

President Avellaneda paid a visit of inspection to the Capitana on Saturday, and on Sunday he and the Minister of War visited the National Squadron now preparing for sea.

Great anxiety is expressed for news from Chile, to see if the predicted terrific earthquake has come off there. We feel a dismal presentiment that it has. A prophet is always pretty safe in forecasting a shake-up in that part of the Continent.

Marker, score a cool thousand for Mr. Nolte, the well known German librarian in Calle Piedad, who has kicked all his literary brethren into a Field Marshal's cocked hat, being the first to bring out a War Map, as suggested last week by the STANDARD. The map is excellently got up, and for the wretched sum of ten paper dollars the public can now follow the operations of all the Richmonds in the field. Bravo, Nolte!

Smith, the American poet-laureate, has written a denance of his trade. He says, "The present age, so noted for matter of fat, and so eager in knowledge is still gazing in lyric poets gifted indeed almost wholly in the direction of the liar."

The Terre Haute hotel girl who lately inherited 40,000 dollars, hasn't slept a wink since on account of amorous serenaders, who warble nonsensical rhymes to her chamber window.

A man describing a Western hotel says:—"You can sit there and think that you wouldn't be surprised to behold Cleopatra in her barge, with a bonnet off her jib, come sailing through the room on the placid bosom of an ocean of oxtail soup, and eating a pear as big as a water-melon."

Two young Irishmen, wishing to live cheaply and to divide their expenses, agreed the one to board and the other to lodge.

 Cedula..... 78½

The Cedula market asked much better to-day and prices showed a decided improvement; what ever there was a demand at the market to-day it certainly made things look better as regards Cedula, although the money market looks very black, and as the time wears on collections become worse, protests more numerous and business at a stand still.

No Cedula were offered cash to-day, and buyers for the end of the month were freely offering.

The stock sales were—

Cedula:

For cash nothing.

Saturday 10,000 78½
 Sunday 20,000 78
 Nov. 30 110,000 78½
 Dec. 31 40,000 78½

In the liquidation the market ruled still better.

End of month 45,000 78½
 do 20,000 78
 Buyers do 78½
 do end of year 79½

In exchange nothing done to-day, mail closed.

Mr. Cahen, was elected money broker on the Bolsa; as Mr. C. has a good connection and is well up in the market we doubt not he will be well supported; Mr. Rojas was also elected broker.

The Hamburg steamer Argentina entered port to-day, she sails on 29th inst. The Tiber sails on 30th inst.

This was the first day we could report much about new wool at the Plaza Once, some ten lots were sold:

300 ar. feno, bellies apart, at 90.
 200 ar. regular at 75.
 Messrs. Kenny & Co. report the following sales this morning:

450 ar. good wool, good condition, at 86.
 350 ar. do, heavy, 77.
 200 ar. do, do, 71.
 There was also a sale of 1,000 ar. old wool at 78.

Mr. Michel Tyrrell's wool from Freyre so well known as one of the best North wools will be to-morrow, and on sale in the Plaza on Wednesday morning.

We note the arrival of no less than four coal cargoes to Messrs. J. P. Boyd & Co.; some sales at the following rates have been made, nut coal 18, Cardiff 16 and 16½ pats.

In the South market 2,000 ar. old wool sold this morning at reserved price, Mr. Boehman buyer. One lot of new wool came in to-day to Mr. Freyre broker, not yet sold.

The news from the West was the news of the day. In our situation chapter will be found the fullest particulars, we suppose we may look to-morrow for the "particulars". On the Flores road on Sunday afternoon the Flores cavalry made a great demonstration with flying colours, rockets &c., causing much anxiety to the peaceable inhabitants along that charming road.

Letters from Montevideo speak of the probable improved relations between the Argentine and Oriental Governments; the new President Concha written down stating that President Avellaneda is particularly friendly, and it is thought that relations will be resumed. Dr. Rawson, of Buenos Ayres, is now in Montevideo, anxious to be a physician. The Rio Grande papers thus seem to be nothing further known about the missing "Comisario" of last week; the specie he took it seems amounted to 35,000 pats.

The Tiber entered on Sunday and her mails were delivered in a few hours, her dates, however, are not fresh.

The Tiber's mails closed to-day; this favourable and very fast sailing steamer cleared to-day taking a heavy mail and full passenger list. It is said that in Montevideo there is talk of starting a National Bank, the financial state of that market is hardly such as to justify such a step, the Government is without a farthing and the operation of a National Bank under present circumstances would only increase the difficulties of the position.

We have been corrected by several brokers in our statement in last issue respecting the sale of the Argentine Bank building, and that it sold for its highest value; it seems that last year the price was valued at 6 millions and 200,000 pats offered for it. The sale, situated as the market is at present, is a good one for the purchaser, as the place is valued at 6 millions currency.

On Sunday both on the Western and Southern Railways goods trains came in, and very large goods trains; we hope this week to see the regular goods trains run on all the railways. To-day there was a meeting of all the railway men to take into consideration their position with the Government, and the damages incurred by the revolution; it is said on "Change" that the Southern Railway Co. is losing 23,000 per week and this notwithstanding that the Government of course pays for troops &c. rent out: b-h for railways and tramways the revolution has proved most disastrous.

The particulars of the loss of the fine Havre steamer Moreno, show what splendid cargoes these steamers take: 35,000 hides, 750 bales wool, 600 boxes feathers, 730 bales horsehair, all from the Plata, and 12000 sacks coffee from Brazil, besides a full list of passengers.

The bids for the army pro-cia in the provinces called for Saturday were not opened owing to the absence of the Minister of War.

The latest letters from Rio announce that the Maua Bank of B. Ayres has been named the financial agent of the Platino Brazileira Telegraph Co. in the River Plate.

We regret to have to commence the week by chronicling a misfortune, and that of a very serious nature: about 3.30 am. yesterday a fire broke out on the premises, corner of Las Pintas and Rivadavia, occupied by Drs. Boggio Hnos., and wholesale almacenes. The first alarm was given by a Mr. Dafour who lives close by and to whose house Sr. Boggio and wife escaped in their night dress. Speedily the entire building was one mass of flames owing to the very inflammable nature of the goods. The fire was quickly on the scene of action and worked well: due to their efforts the whole block was destroyed. Mr. Collet of the firm of Latam & Saunders & Co. (the well known and active Insurance Agents) who was present to protect the interests of the two powerful companies they represent, informs us that the premises were insured with them to the extent of 75,000 pats, viz:—

London and Lunashire $f. 37,500
 Commercial Union $f. 37,500

Mr. Dawney of the Water Works was amongst the first on the ground and most ceaseless in his efforts, the water supply was splendid and a large quantity of goods was got into the Scotch Church which is for the moment a deposit, besides the above named policies there were also the following:

Prohaila..... 15,000 pats.
 Allianz..... 10,000
 Estrella..... 15,000
 Argentine..... 15,000

55,000 pats.

making in all $f. 130,000 pats. It was said that the fire was caused by lightning.

Mr. Armstrong, Resident Director of the Central Argentine Railway Co. notifies shareholders that he has received powers from England to pay to the shareholders here the last dividend declared; being up to and ending 17 May 1873; shareholders to apply for same at the Central Station.

We heard the other day of a large lot of army cloth that had been lying in deposit for many years having been reshipped to Europe, being unsaleable here; had the bales remained but another week here the cloth might have been sold at a splendid price. Such is trade.

Persons desirous of becoming members are requested to apply to the President, Secretary or any member of the Committee.

The gross traffic receipts on the Central Argentine Railway for the four weeks ending the 22nd of July last on the 246 miles, from the Port of Rosario to Cordoba, amounted to £17,785, and for the corresponding four weeks of 1873 to £13,163, showing an increase of £4,622. The revenue of the current financial year to the same date was £36,907, as against £27,051 in the preceding year, showing an increase of £9,856.

In the Times of 25th Sept. we find the following:

"A fall of 2½ in Buenos Ayres Great Southern Railway (7 per cent. Debentures)."
 "Alleged murder at sea. A rumour was prevalent in Cardiff yesterday to the effect that the captain of an American ship, named the James Hervey, had murdered one of the crew as the vessel was leaving Penarth Docks. It appears that two of the men swam ashore and gave information that a murder had been committed. On inquiry it has been ascertained that a 'melec' occurred on board as the ship was leaving, but the pilot who towed it down Channel states that no murder was committed. The ship has gone to Montevideo with coal.

"The Municipal Council of Antwerp yesterday ratified the contract entered into with Messrs. Erera, Oppenheim, Cusel and Baschwitz for a loan to the city of Antwerp of 1,600,000,000, redeemable by 66 annual drawings. The loan will be issued in liberty bonds bearing interest at the rate of 3 per cent."

The following news from Rio may interest our commercial community here—
 "On appeal, the Recurso of Rio has decided that the Pacific Steam Navigation is liable for the value of the slave Renato, who stowed himself away in the packet Caldera and hid until outside the port of Rio, and who was landed at Lisbon. The court held that it is a captain's duty to see that no runaway slaves are on board and that he should find out if he should not perform it. This ruling seems hard on the commanders of packets."

"Messrs. Gambie, Murray, Graham and Co., assistants of Sir John Hawkshaw, are expected soon at Pernambuco, to undertake detailed studies of that port."

"In Parana the Polish colonists, over 100 each to the Irish and Polish colonies, over 10 years ago, settled in the neighbourhood of Curitiba. The colonists in the neighborhood of Curitiba, who have 90 years gratuitous leases of their holdings, but we understand that the Municipal Chamber intends to ask the Government to promote a bill to authorize making the leases perpetual. The colonists are reported to be satisfied with their position and getting on well."

"It is announced that a mine of good coal has been discovered in the parish of Cupim, 130 miles from Curitiba."
