This instablishment offers errey, advantage in payrate designess of giving the choldens were error error of the choldens was error denoting. The Rector Art. Nictionson, has a crowned aspect onto in the systelium for first responsible to the choldens of t omen when the roople of Buenos Ayres ing to the importance of a develop-ment of agricultural resources, and a sale of government lands, the first idea that naturally suggests itself is how to protect our frontier, and even how far to extend it. No doubt geographical limits give us as far as the Cordillers, but the Indians dispute the title and we are de facto in possession of only a res tricted area. It has been fashionable to compare this republic with the United States, and to follow in the steps of the Model Republic. Without wishing to imitate her divisions we should not to initate ner cursions "a "model not do amise in "taking a "urinkle" from the Yankees, is to colonisation and go absolute.

Where lies the secret of that immense increase of industry, population, territory and riches that us made (in a few years) New York t'e third city and sea-port of the globe, and t e colony of New England one of the greatest nations? Turn to the statistics of Emigration, and you will find hat ten millions of Europeans; during the present generation, have gone to the prairies of America. These men brought with them little more than brawney limbs and a wish to work. The majority was composed of Germans and Irishmen who left their homes not from a spirit of adventure, but from want and land lord tyranny. They cleared primeval forests, built colossal railways, and grew plentiful crops on the huntinggrounds of Paynets and Choctans, the settler; and the hum of labor, the puff of the steam-engine, the stroke of laud anvil had more terrors for the savage than a roll of musketry or em battled fortresses. The Indian canno breatha in the atmosphere of industry, he requires a boundless waste, uninfected by civilization, where no unsightly landmarks hurt his vision, nor nev sounds break upon his ear! By giving therefore an impetus to immigration, mment could easily introduce hay sell 000 colonists from Europe and these pioneers of industry would no doubt prove as useful here as they have been in the United States, or as beneficial so the frish and Scotch shepof deterring such nien from coming by selving their sons, give the coming by selving their sons, give the coming by inducement to populate and chilch our idle pampas. The error of General Mansilla's plan was to identify addlers and colonists, for though the present Romans carried this idea into admirable practise on the banks of the Danube in their military colonies, it is not suited to our day. Non omnia omnibus. Men change with the times, and as ne cannot command half a dozen of Trajan's legions, "e must be content with Trish! peasants, and these we can have by paying their passage money:

Our Camp Correspondent.

As we have secured the services of highly intelligent Irish sheep-farmer, brought forth a mouse. Last week we in this column of local news, we trust its treatment interesting.

{ Partido de San Antonio de Arsco, May 27 1861. To the Editor of the Weekly Standard Dear Sir:

Supposing that camp news will be a acceptable to your city readers, as city news is to us ca p folks, I beg to occupy a small place in your valuable paper with some rural remarks.

The winter has set in with heavy that our camps are beginning to get very bare, there is however plenty as yet for sheep, but the cattle have arcely anything to eat, and are beginning to leave their "querencias" in quest of grass. The lambing season s nearly over for the present although there are still some good flocks only now in the height of lambing; still as a general thing all have senaled and although it cannot be called a disastrous. still it has proved anything but a pros perous season, at least in this Partido at an average I may say the lambing has been about 18 per cent al corte, sheep are however in good condition, and capons fat, all those who had an early lambing have lost heavily owing to the great drought in February and Marci it is a general remark that the aheep have much more wool at present than they had a month later last year and except we account for it by the improved condition of the flocks, it eems strange. This is the period when most sheep farmers take the rams out of the flock and keep them apart until about the end of September, a system which few of the natives adopt, but which experience has proved most essentially ne cessary. Good rams are exceedingly scarce and flocks are miserably supplied, great numbers are trying mestiza Rambouillet and in some cases these have proved first-rate, but as yet it is hard to say it they will surpass the merino or even mestiza merino.

There can be no doubt that where quantity not quality is the object, of the farmer the Rambouillet is prefer-

There have been no sales of sheep about here for these last few months. but good sound mestiza sheep can't be got much less than 48 or 508 al corte

The native estancieros are beginning to awake to the fact that sheep are more profitable than cattle and with less risk, most of them about here are trying to dispose of their rodeos but camp prices for cows are at a very low figure

Yours, &c. TOTEM.

Paraguay.

Latest advices from Asuncion speak of the rail av inauguration as /far m Limpio. In our days steam is emblematic of progress, and we must therefore take it for granted that President Lopez is a pushing man . ho will shortly bring Paraguay and its forests into communication with the world. Tonjours scant. Perhaps mate shall one day be as fashionable on the Boulevard tea-house might be opened on C. cap-placed on the hard road of commerce, to find a ready sortest, and the second state of the people are in this instance well mediate by H. E. Carlos A. Lopez.

Argentine Republic. The mountain was in labor and were told of a terrible invasion of the San Luis Cossacks in the province of Cordoya, but later. letters say that instead of a warlike explosion, it has ended in a bottle of amoke. We are sincerely happy to find that Saa ha not burned Cordova, that the Puntanon have not cut throats nor sacked pulperias, and that our local press was a least premature. Still it looks bad that the National Government should have declared the provinces of Cordova and San Luis in a state of siege, and mo-bilised the national guard of three or four districts. Certainly the May fea-tivals this year were ushered in under very different auspices from those of 1860, and it is a melancholy fact that all confidence in republican tranquillity and Argentine love of treaties is rude ly broken. After the solemuities o last year this new impending rupture will give us a sorry appearance in the eyes of Europe, and Argentine will become a pass-word to match with Mexican, or perhaps worse. Some of our stateamen are able politicians, and if they can but merge minor questions in the welfare of the Republic, all may vet be well, but nobody seems inclined to yield to anybody, and hence a lamentable ruin. Why not call another conference and again shake-hands. It would seem the last one closed with the witches' prophecy in Macbeth:

"When shall we three meet again? When the hurly-burly 's done When the battle's lost or won Then shall we three meet again!

Foreigners love t is country too well to admire a pigmey warfare, or applaud the gladiators in this suicidal game God knows where the fault lies, but we confess our sympathies with this our adopted city, which should be the Queen of the South; and we hope she may not be the victim of a puerile insane ambition.

General Urquiza seems to reanimate the semi-defunct tails ay from Rosario to Cordova, To him also is ascribed the idea of making Paraus the fixed capital of the Republic, but it is eviless he construct also a Victoria bridge to the opposite coast. From Rosaric we still hear of differential duties, robberies and disorders. It would seem that Ali Baba and his forty thiever have made that city their head-quarters. The money sent to Mendoza was not so useful as the clothes; for there being no shops, it was difficult to buy. Mr. Forbes went in searc of a crater but has not found it yet. He advises the natives to rebuild Mendoza on a rock, even if they go up the Cordidiffera a little, for otherwise he says ihey may again fall through. Last news from California by Europe gives us an account of an earthquake at San Francisco on February 11th, but the distance of time forestalls the idea of any complicity with the Mendoza ca

The guardi ce fund has now reached the highest requirement of the committee; and very sanguine anticipations are indulged in of this exceeding all previous efforts in the vastness of success. One fact officially illustrates one of the probabilities of its good fortune. In 1851 the railways to Lon-don were only equal to bringing and taking away 42,000 persons daily: now 140,000 travellers could be brought to the me ropolls by rail, and the same number taken back each day.

An order from the Horse Guards raising the standard in the infantry to five feet eight inches, virtually prohibits vice. In fact, unless our envoys and agents get us into some other war in the far East, nearly 17,000 supernumeenrice from China and India will be discharged in the next lew months.

It is said that Mr. Russell is abou proceed to America, as "special" for the Times, to watch the progress of events in that quarter of the world.

An article on the "Irish Convict System," in the Cornhill Magazine for this month, has excited very great interest, and has been written and spoken of with deserved praise. Some people here wonder how it is you contrive to do anything better in Ireland than it can be managed here; and say there is something radically wrong in the English system. There is, no doubt; but I question exceedingly if the Iris system applied here would be attended with the same results as with you. The entire secret lies in the morale of the too countries. There is a substratum of religion in the most abandoned Irish heart, which even if permitted to lie fallow, is naturally sown with early hood religion reached the mind by either precept or example; but here with the richest church in the world, he vast bulk of the poorer classes ne ver come into contact with religion end scarcely ever mention the name o one of its ministers without a curse of a sneer. But this is not the place to pursue the disquisition further. Dublin Telegraph.

The Bishop of Orleans.

The Times Paris correspondent aking of the sermon proached by the Bishop of Orleans (Monsignor Dupanloup), in the church of St. Roche, on Monday last, says :- "So far as I could judge, there were not less than 4,000 persons present, comprising a good proportion of British, but chiefly French. of course. The preacher is I repeat at all times, and on all subjects; an attraction, and I will not consequently the attribute this immense assemblage to specific occasion. Had the charity sermon beenfor sufferers in Kamschatka the attendance upon him probably would not have been less. It is difficult to give a sum mary were sentiment enters so largely into the composition, but I may state that allusions to the Partry case, to the English government, and the Protes-tant, church in Ireland, were studiously avoided. It was, in fact, a ketzer on Ireland as a nation, being profusely overcharged with quotations illustrat ing its superiority in religious tenscity, in p triotism, in martial courage, in do-mestic life, and especially its powers of endurance in suffering, personal and political. It took two hours in delivery, and was listened to throughout with breathless attention. The preather announced at the outset his pose to commit his statements at once to print, and warmly repudiated the

He then proceeded in the highest terms of French eloquen ce. to hold up the national points character, introducing some telling al-lusions to O'Connell, M'Mahon, and the assimilations of the Celtic to the Gallie type of character. In this matter, he quoted a saying of Louis XIV, that Trishmen needed no bill of naturalization in France."

The ladies who took part in the lection were the Duchess of Hamilton, the Duchess of Fitz-James, the Duchess d'Estisssac, the Marchionness de la Ferte, Madame M'Mahon, the Countess de La Redorte, the Princess Wittgens tein, and Mademoiselle M'Loyd. The Empress is known to have sent her contribution; and some time back Mada me M Mahon, wife of the Marshal for warded to Ireland the sum of 100%. received for this occasion. Altogethe no doubt seems entertained that a very large sum must have been collected.

popular political decisions. Every

Description of the second fact here associated with all kinds of policy is presented to the public every day, through the press in a highsounding exaggerated description : and again, the amount of written or printed tales devoted to this exaggeration is more oluminous than the daily history of the transactions of all Europe! told in every city; and although the a small fort, with about five or six companies of soldiers within its walls, be menaced by the South, this feared attack is described in language something on the style of the Malakoff fortress before the final assault of the French! If the capital city of Washington be said to be in danger from a secret combination to seize its arrebal and strongholds, military movements are reported to be condemplated by the Commanderin-Chief of such a gigantic strategy, that no higher phrases could be employed describing he taking of Constablinople by the Turks, or the sack of Rome by the Northern Barbarians! If a war steamer be put in commission and despatched with a detachment of soldiers to relieve a threatened point, it is described like the whole English flee. weighing anchor for Gibraltar! This wordy description being often repeated : and yet no fighting, no bombardment having taken place, the stranger begins to read American description of all kinds of politics, as multitudinous talk : and never ending, or likely to end in practical hostile results. It is all 'a parade exhibition; it is all blank caftridge: tor et preterea nihil. This idea, therefore, gives to a stranger a hope that when the due amount of talk shall have been expended (usual on such occasions), the quarrel wilk subside by inertion : the steam will have all escaped; the boiler will grow cold : and the engine will stop of itself. Of course I don't mean to say anything at all offensive to America; I am expressing my Spinlous as a Haveller and the ideas just written have lorged themselves on my mind before I had resided one month in't e country. God grant my historical sentiments may be verified and realfized; and that the contemplated terrors of guns, trumpels, drums hna blunderbusses may all end in a grand national Americal scene of Republican talk. No , this American grandiloquy is, af er all, the preservation of the States from all the horrors of war., As all men bere are equal, no army will move unless in a cause endorsed by all; and hence, while this national unanimity is being collected, men have time to reflect, and perhaps talk away; the uplyosching var. CHAPTER 1st.

The grand tour in good old times as an essential part of fashionable education. Our English nobility and Irish gentry judged it indispensable, to give the finish to their hopeful sciops, ho after having pored over dusty volumes and become practised fox-hunters usually required the relaxation of going on the continent. The pleasures of travelling were varied by incidents more or less diverting: a boxing-match with the French police, a diligence breaking down, a reacontre with Italian banditti, a masquemde love-affair followed by a duel; these were at once the excitements of the hour, the theme for future, fireside anecdote, and the necessary, ordeal whereby local prejudices were obliterated, refined mantiers acquired, and an indefinite something engendered that at once turned our here into one of the haut ton a full fledged man of the world.

At once I was made prisoner by three parties, one of whom carried off my runk, another my writing desk and the third pushed a card into my hand, mentioning some hotel and table d'hote at all hours. As I could not follow my three guides different ways I, ran the risk of losing either my luggage or myself, perhaps both, hen providentially I met a gentleman, he rescued me from these sharks. Doctor Moriar ty is the government physician of Dieppe, and when he learned I was a countryman, with true Irish hospitality, he brought me to his house, and in the society of his amiable wife and children you have only one idea to attend to in I passed a pleasant evening, and found my first impressions of the Continent much improved. Next morning e tool a ramble through the town which is of very old build, with narrow streets, high conical houses and a multiplicity of sliops wherein ivory and hone work is exhibited. A lit le statuette of Napoleon cost me five francs, and medallions and rosaries nicely wrought were even cheaper. A large proportion of fishermen crowd the streets, and some model crafts hung before the alters in the cathedral, are indicative of their gratitude for delivery from the dangers of their calling. There are no works of art and few his oric associa tions except the barrack once occupied by an army of Elizabeth sent to succour Henri Quatre. O returning home I met the Abbé Moriarty, who told his brother that to-morrow. I should be his. prisoner, and as my ticket to Paris gave me four days, I was not sorry for the stay. In a little dog-cart the venerable Abbe took me to his village of Arques, and the journey being about two leagues, e e passed t e time talking of Ireland and home-scenes. On the road I observed some huge crosses, and at one a neasant was saying his prayers, but not being penitentially inclined my notice was more particularly called to Cesur's encampment.
