THE WEEKLY STANDARD.

The Argentine War

To-day is regarded by Portenos a an eventful turning-point in their lo cal history. Nine years have clapsed, ince the famous revolution of the de Setiembre" drove Urquiza's power from this city, and changed the prestige of a Liberator into the odium of an oppressor. As we had not the plea-sure of knowing this country in that epoch, nor once entertained the curio-sity to examine the circumstances and men who figured in the political drama, it will suffice to say that the anniversary is productive of more enthusiasm in the breasts of natives than perhaps, it merits, and certainly much more than is felt by our foreign population. Many, therefore, pretend to see the probability of an engagement on to-day,-but the recollection must have a two-fold effect; for, while Mitre will recal to his soldiers the happy omen of a successul revolt, Urquiza, with as much reason, will seek to deprive his enemies of their favorite anniversary by turning it to his own account as one of his lucky days in the kalendar. Cromwell, a man of the strongest intellect, believed in the 3rd of September : on that day he was born, on that day he gained "the crowning mercy" of the victory at Worcester, and on that day he died-It is not therefore unnatural to think that this anniversary 1s fraught with interest, or pregnant with misfortune for either of the contending parties. The circumstance of High Mass on yesterday for the protection of Divine Providence, coupled with the latest reports of the approach of the two armies has given rise to a presentiment in town, that the question will be definitively settled to.day.

During the past week, every day vas expected to bring the news of a battle, but with the exception of some guerilla encounters and slow marches the courier gave absolutely no food for newspapers. Iu the absence of information, some surmised that the war movements were kept secret, and therefore applied themselves to coin important items, which found a brief circulation. Fabius Cunctator was a very able general who obtained renown from his slow movements, but as it is not yet clear who is the Argentine Hannibal both Mitre and Urquiza seem to imitate the Roman tactician Great anxiety and some doubt of the reality of a war have been created by these delays, which seem to have n definite limit.

Strange to say, Mitre has displayed more activity than the Captain Gene-ral who has been already long enough on horse back to have reached th This is accounted for by the report that Urquiza means to collect all his available forces for the occasion, which he promises to be his last visit to Buenos Aires. Probably our forces would first cross the frontier, since Urquiza had only advanced from Salvatierra to the Orqueta river, while the Portenos, striking their camp at Rojas, marched to the Arroyo Dulce and halted at Pergamin. Thus only a few leagues at present interpose between the opposite forces, and it is difficult to imagine how 40 or 50,000 men can find forage for themselves and horses in so circumscribed an area.

If it be true that Urquiza is entren ching his position on the Arroyo Pait looks like a determination to await Mitre, and give him battle or a vantage ground. Nevertheless the inevitable custom of skirmishing may provoke a pitched battle almost unex pectedly. Although Sas promises victory with so much confidence, Ur-Although Sas promises quiza evidently considers this cam aign the most serious he has yet undertaken, and wisely enough calculates the chances of a reverse. Hence it is that instad of dashing into this province, he has allowed his adversaprovince, he has allowed his adversa-ry to take the initiative, leaving him-self the alternative of falling back on Rosario or trying to outflank Mitre, as circumstances may requir The proverb goes that "every cock fihas best on his own danghill," but this idea may be counteracted by the enthusiasm that the other general cannot fail to inspire into his soldiers in the pithy harangue, "let us seek out the enemy, if they do not seek us. From past experience, we can safely conclude that the Federals rely or the impetuosity of their onset. If Mitre's troops, instead of taking panic, shew good fight one half-hour, the of Urquiza's tactics is evapo rated, and superior discipline would seem to decide in Mitre's favor; still, the Spartan determination to leave the field with his shield or on it, which has been expressed by each of the Argentine generals will involve a prolonged combat in which chance may decide what valor has been unable to effect.

Notwithstanding the very different accounts given on both sides, it may be supposed that there is little numesuperiority' and that each is equally aware of the real uncertainty of the issue. As for the hostile fleets we cannot think that their movements will materially influence the campaign. Rumor says that this squadron has gone up to attack Rosario; but even if they annihilated Urquiza's naval force, they cannot cut him off since the inner provinces are open to him in case of defeat. Again altho' Buenos Aires should lose her ships, which would seem to cut off an easy retreat, this circumstance must put their ene mies in the dangerous position of fighting desperate men who had little engagement must decide the quarrel: victory on the water is of secondary importance.

The city outworks are now formid able, and with one half of Mitre's army added to the garrison, no South American army could attempt to farry them by assault. On Monday last the own was declared in state of assemblea: this has the effect of closing the civil tribunals calling the natives, en e' to the different lines of defence closing the shops until 9 A. M. and after 4 P. M. and is consequently something less severe than what we term martial law. Colonel Gelly-Obes, who is at least noted for indefatigable diligence, has been named defender of the city, with L. Colonel Gregorio Dillon and D. Juan Senorans for aides-decamp. By same decree D. Hector Varela, editor of the "Tribuna" has been created Major, Secretary and aide-de-camp to the Minister of War. This has surprised many persons who believed him unwell, and some affect to wonder that the arch enemy of Urquiza has not taken the field with the same alacrity with which he served under Garibaldi in Naples. It must be borne in mind, that the gallant-officer also wields the pen, and as the nciting the cirizens to fight, his sword might be less useful than his goosequill in support of the cause he has spoused. In combining the exercise of both, he has left no room for his partisans to complain, but we should advise him a little moderation at least as far as his pen is concerned with foreigners and their properties. Some excitement has been caused by letters said to have been written by Urquiza and Pedernera, inciting the Cacique Calfucurá to make incursions on this territory; the local press demands that the first named delinquent be put on his trial, when captured (!) . but, as they have already promised him a ticket to Southampton, we think it an useless formality.

News from the interior provinces is scant: we have the President's acaddresed to the sovereign Congress and dated August 26th. The resistance of Taboada is confirmed, but our Cordoban allies seem to give little satisfaction. Notwithstanding the retirement of Derqui and his troops Allende the intruded governor reigns undisturbed, and the city which was represented to be so hostile to Paraná looked quietly on at the deportation of their deputies as prisoners. Many of these latter have since been placed at liberty, some of them coming to this city, others proceeding to Montevideo, as if the National autho rities considered their opposition harmless. Meantime it is stated in our Cordoba reckoning on Urquiza's superiority, "has gone to his encamp-"ment to besech his own re-instal-"ment when the Captain-General shall have triumphed." Thus of the terrible re-action in the provinces, Buenos Ayres has gained nothing more than a few volunteers from Cordoba, and the feeble co-operation of Santiago, verifying Scott's adage "who would be free, themselves must stri-ke the blow."

From Mendoza we learn that fresh shocks of earthquake had been perceptible; this may be a timely war ning to the feelish inhabitants are re-building their city on the treacherous site of their recent destruc Tucuman has likewise suffered a repetition of the fatal prairie fires that lately burned down houses, men and cattle

In this city, the state of siege and great uncertainty of the turn events may take, has for a time suspended commerce, and excused us from giv ing market returns. In dry goods, positively nothing is doing, one sole article, grey duck, for military trousers is in demand by government, who re-quire some 20,000 yards of this fabric. The money market is of course very tight, and gold ounces at an unusual price. At the same time some foreigners feel uneasy about the chances of a siege, and two English, one Spanish and one French war-steamer have en chance of flight. The issue of a land tered this port. The English Admiral is already here and the foreign ministers are expected from Parana. Last. week the government seized the horses of some English residents, but at an intimation of our Consul-General. we are happy to state, they were returned to the owners. In another column we refer to the ridiculous pretension of obliging foreigners to serve in the Natonal Guard, and were rather surprised that our colleague "the Commercial Times" did not express his sentiments even should they be at variance with the government or party he advocates so eloquently.

It is with sincere regret we notice some of the Trishmen lately arrived taken the bounty, and this is a sufficient proof of how ill-timed was the said expedition which was sent out here without the knowledge or advice of any well-informed countrynen in these parts.

The French packet which leaves or Saturday may be the bearer of important intelligence, for which purpose in case of hostile movements or a solution of the tedious Argentine difficulty, we will favor our readers with a special sheet by Saturday next.

Tribuna versus neutrality.

Since Cadmus first invented letters or Guttemberg printing, human reason has never received such an insult as is contained in the Colaboracion of the "Tribuna" and entitled the foreign population.

It was necessary for us to read the ridiculous production twice through, ere we really believed that any journalist could have the audacity to publish such a rhodomon ade of hyper-bolean trash. We might indeed have anticipated that in the ravings of par-ty-strife, the neutrality of foreigners should be doubted or impugned in individual cases, but certainly none among us was prepared for the declaration that Buenos Ayres has a right to force us from our neutral ground and enlist us in the motley files of the National Guard.

Of late, insinuations have been rife in the local press that the foreign residents were partisans of Mitre; but now this has been found incorrect, and we must be forced to take part in a givil war that we view with ence. If Urquiza demanded our assistance we should resolutely re and, as indifferent spectators, it is impossible to see what stronger claim on us has Mitre, or how we could expect the protection of foreigners if we turn renegades and fight for a cause that has not our sympathy. It is alleged, for a simile, that we are bound to help in extinguishing a fire, or resisting the Indians: but are we justified by this local press that Pona ex-governor of argument to light the conflagration of a civil war or cut the throats of Argengentine citizens. It is true the "Tri-buna" views Urquiza as worse than an Indian, but probably he returns the compliment, and for aught we know Senor Varela's scalp is quite safe, for the present.

The plain fact is, impunity has produced impudence; and, much a admire the liberty of the press, we should earnestly wish to see some check given to a popular organ that cries down the most useful part of our society, (namely, foreign residents,) and may to morrow demand our heads as it does to-day our arms with equal show of justice.

If the object of the "Tribuna" has een to gain the prestige of foreign favor, they have gone very badly to work, and produced a number of enemies. Many of us are inclined to believe that the lines referred to are rather the nightmare incoherencies of some jnvenile poetaster than the insinuntions of a party whose mouth-piece is Varela's press. Yet, whether we laugh in scorn at the impotent venon of the a tack, or soberly demand remedy for the insult, it is clear that Buenos Ayres has neither the right to require, nor power to enforce ankenrolment of foreigners. If Portegos are not content with our neutrality let them not count us for allies : we not impressed with a confiding love for the institutions of this Republic, nor do we covet a Creole papeleta in preference to the rights and honors of an European citizen.

Press Piracy. We all abhor plagiarists who, like the bird in the fable, plume themsel-

piracy, a crime for which the offender deserves to be stuck in the pillory and tormented by printer's devils. X could find no clue to the secret, X Of late, every paper in town ha alike disposed to plunder their neighbors. There does not, however, seem any ground for these numerous accusations. Our colleagues forget that an Editor's coat-of-arms is pen and seissors transverse. With the former he gives leaders, which are private properity and sometimes moby himself than by the public. The seissors meantime, is his great engine in the mechanism of his columns. The chief merit of a paper is not its rhetorical diction, or learned quotations, but the varied interest of its news, with a mixture of veracity and novelty. Hence it is clear, that every fact, published in whatever form, is the common property of news-retailers; and when such items are copied verbatim, the etiquete of the press demands that the na me of the paper be subjoined. There s one exception, as regards statistics; which necessarily involve fixed facts that depend on no one authority, and are as free to all as the air we breather

Now it has pleased the Revista Comercial to charge the Weekly Standard, with borrowing mercantile items from its columns. In the three columns of commercial information appearing in our last number, only one sixth of that quantity was compiled from the local press. A part was the result of our personal calculations, some more was favored us by commercial houses, and lastly the sales was a summary of the daily reports publis-hed. It is due to our offended colleague to state that we,in common with our foreign brethern, esteem the "Revista" as the best authority on such matters, and consult its columns for such items'; but, for the sake of truth we could not affix its name to a general summary classified by us and which has not been totted up in any single number of that paper.

Again we say, figures are facts, and whether it be the census of Jamaica or market returns, their publication makes them common property, and no paper can claim their paternity, unless they be a mere inventior. We therefore plead not guilty, and if a jury of sensible editors condenn us, we are ready to swallow our penwiper and digest the aspersion.

SOUTH AMERICA. New Granada.

Civil war is raging on the plain round Bogota. Between June 1st and 13th three battles had taken place; the federal troops were on every occasion worsted by the rebels. The last engagement came off at noon, when ment camp, driving out its defenders and gaining a splendid victory. The political situation may be thus defined : at Cauca the war will probably soon terminate, for Arboleda united his forces with those of Cordoba and Tarama, and marched, on June 17th. to åttack t' e federal army under Sanchez and Perea, who ocupied Jun nambu in numbers three times superior to the insurgents. At Santander also several conflicts had occurred in resisting the Confederate government.

Chile.

The election of Perez would seem to augur a most auspicious future for this republic. In several departments the voting was unanimous wh ich indicates, the complete public confidence enjoyed by the new President, whose inauguration was to take place on Sept. 9th. At Valparaiso the house of Sanchez & son has failed for 600,000 hard dollars; but it is asserted t at they have given security to pay 75 p. 3 in 6,12 & 18 months.

WOMAN'S SCEPTRE-There is some thing extremely pleasant and even touching-at least, of a very sweet, soft, and winning effect-in this pecuiar of needlework, distinguishing liar of needlowork, distinguishing wa-men from men. Men are incapable of any such by-play aside from the main business of life; but women, be of what earthily rank they may, howe-ver gifted with intellect or genuis, or endowed with much beautyways some little handiwork ready to fill the tiny gap of every vacant mo-ment. A needle is familiar to the fingers of them all. A queen, no doubt, plies it on occasions; the woman poet can use it as adroitly as her pen; the woman's eye, that has discovered a new star, turns from its glory to send the polished little instrument gleaming along the hem of her kerchief, darn a casual fray in her dress. orto And they have greatly the advantage of men in this respect. The slender thread of silk or cotton keeps them united with the small, famili gentle interests of life, the continually operating influences of which, do so much for the health of the character, and carry off what would otherwise be a dangerous accumulation of morbid sensibility. A vast deal of human sympathy runs along this electric line. stretching from the throne to the wicker chair of the scamstress, and keeping high and low in a species of communion with their kindred beings.

MICROMETERS have been constructed by the aid of Photography by Mr. Cla-rence Mosit, of New York. He has thus succeeded in reducing a scale of ten inches, divided into tenth parts of an inch, to the length of half an inch, divided into two hundredth parts of an inch. This method of reduction promises to be the most simple and conomical hitherto devised.

THE SOLTAN MAHMOUD,-There is a story about the death of Abdul Medjid's father, the formidable Mahmoud, which will bear telling-the more so as we heard it from the lips of a young Tork just arrived in England. When Mahmoud lay on his divan of death, the garrison of Constantinople was to take place under his palace windows in three days' time. He desired that, at whatever moment he might expire, his death should be kept secret from the troops until the review was overnight; but three days afterwards his dead body, covered with his well-known cloak, and capped with his well-known fez, bearing a diamond ai. grette, was propped up, an opera-glass in one of his cold hands, at an open window, beneath which the troops defiled, shouting "Long live the Sultan P

THE WRITING OF THE DEAD .- A thought in warm sunny life, and then suddenly rising up to us, when the cherished it are dust, is, verily, as a ghost. It is a likeness struck off the fond human being and surviving it-Far more truthful than bust or portrait, it bids the tears flow and the pulse beat. What ghost can the chur yard yield to us like the writing of the Bulwer Lytton,

Answer GIVEN TO ANY QUESTION AT THE SHORTEST NOTICE. - Mr. Dornal Osbone was anxious to know what the duties were under the office recently appointed of "Instructor of Military Cookery." #### GENERAL ITEMS

According to the Scotsman the offi ce of Secretary for Ireland is likely to occome vacant soon. Lord Herbert of Lee has positively resigned the War Office. His health was unequal to the conrand tear of the operous duties of that important department. Our contemporary states that Edimburgh the present Home Secretary, Sir Geor Lewis, will succed the oble Lord as Secretary, of State for War, and that Mr. Cardwell, the Se-cretary of State for Ireland, will, be transferred to the home department Thus we have a probability, perhaps something more, of a vacancy occurring in our secretaryship. For that office, the same journal states there are three names put forward-The Right Hon. H. A. Herbert, of Muckross, who at one time occupied the important position; Mr. Chichester Fortescue, and

Mr. Ralph Bernal Osborne.

The accounts we received from different parts of the country in reference to the prospects of the harvest are of the most encouraging character, and the anticipations of an early and abundant harvest are almost universal. In the potato crop we hear no symp-tom of the diseasethas as yet exhibited itself, and it is to be hoped that it has now finally censed to afflict as. The crop, from present appearances, proes to be a most extensive one, and of its soundness no doubts appear to be entertained. Some apprehensions were experienced for the wheat crop during the recent heavy rains, and it was forred it would be laid when ripening had commenced. In some districts the crop appears light, but it is calculated that an average yield may be looked for; oats, it is thought, will be an improved crop, and will give a large return of straw, while the hay crop is perhaps the only one in which anything approaching a deficiency is reckoned on. The prospects of the agriculturists are, on the whole, good, and leave no ground for those croakings and prophecies of evil which are to be generally heard about this period of the year.

Almost all the French journals state that Prince Napoleon and the Princes Clothilde are to leave about the 15th July for America. This news will give rise to many conjectures; for it was reported some time ago, and the jour nals recontly arrived from New York contain the statement in large type that the Emperor had ordered his consin not to go to the United States.

From Paris we are informed that Victor Emmanuel contemplates a visit shortly to Naples, where it is stated he will reside some time, his mission, no doubt, being to endeavour to sestore that much distracted kingdom to tranquillity, and by dispensing ro yal favourato reconcile the Neapolitans to the degradation to which his will and ambitious policy has reduced them.

Accounts have been received from Tabiti to the 10th March. A postoffice service had been organised in the French establishments in Oceanica. The chief of the third section of the Indian services, 'who had been sent on a mission to Moores, had returned. The councils of the districts, and the Indians whom he had been able to see manifested the strongest desire to have the sholition of the right of pasturage on wasto land definitively declared by the government, as they thought it would improve the condition of the people by making them labour. In many of the districts the inhabitanta have commenced forming enclosures to prevent the cattle from straying, thus following the example given by a French resident, Captain Valles, on the retired list, who had just obtained abundant crop of good hay on a piece of ground formerly full of weeds, M. n, a French surgeon, was occupled in vaccinating the children of

The formation of a fleet of gunboats following pass ge from one of his fa for the North Sea is at present the object of negotiations between Prussia on the one hand and Oldemburg and the town of Bremen on the other. Hanover has declined all participation in this ure, because it is proposed to the fleet under the orders of Prossis. It is part of this plan that the expense of the first establishment of the fleet should be borne half by Pruesis and half by the two small states above named. There is a bitch in the negociations arising from a demand on the part of the small states for com pensation in the f rm of a diminution of their contingent. Now this cannot be granted except by the Diet, well known deliberateness of whose proceedings renders any immediate xecution of this plan very improbamanufactory of arms throughout Prussia, especially at Suhl. This is owing, in some measure, to large orders from the United States management. the United States government.

LITERATURE.

"The Life, Times and Corresponden ce of the Rigt Rev. Dr. Doyle, Bis-hop of Kildare and Leighlin, by Wim John Fitzpatrick, J. P. (Dublin) James Duffy."

James Warrn Doyle, the future Bis hop of Kildare. was born in the su-tum of 1786, in the town of New Ross, county of Wexford. He was a pos-thumous child, his father, who had been a respectable farmer, residing a few miles from New Ross, having died some week previously to his birth. Old James Doylo had been twice married. By his first wife he had five children, and by his second four, including the subject of this ke-tch. The mother of Dr. Doyle was a woman of vigorous intellect and great strength of mind, and her illustrious son inherited from her the qualities which subsequently rendered him so famous

James received as good a preliminry education as the country could then efford, and at nineteen years of age, his vocation for the church having become decided, he entered his noviciate at the Augustinian Convent at Grantstown. In the following year, January, 1806, he made his vows member of the Order of St Augustine, and shortly afterwards proceeded to Portugal, in order to prosecute his stu dies at the College of Coimbra, an ancient and celebrated seat of learning. His progress was exceedingly rapid, soon acquired those varied stores of knowledge which he afterwards sed with such effect. In after life he always arowed himself f:vourable to nental education. In his parlia mentary examinations he expressed the opinion that it was very advantageous to young ecclesiastics to travel broad and to spend some time at universities-that it enlarged their minds and improved their feelings, and that there was no class of men who could be possibly employed at home in the Catholic church who would be so much attached to this country and its institutions as those who had lived abroad. "I myself [ho said] never would have loved the British constitution so much as I do had I not been acquainted with the forins of government which prevail in the countries where I have resided. It is by comparison with other institutions; that the excellence of our own is best known" Whilst Dr. Doyle was s student at Coimbra, Portugal was invaded by Napoleon, and the geelesias-tics of the university and the students were all enrolled as volunteers to rewere an enrolled as volunteers to re-sist the progress of the French. Dr. Doyle was one of those who exchan-ged his cap and gown for the helmet and the sport. After the defeat of the French at Vimiera he accompanied Colonel Murray with the articles of convention to Lisbon, and rendered valuablesorvices as an interpre-ter, as well as by his advice, for he had great local knowledge and acquaintance with Portuguese politics. talents and devotion to the House of Braganza were well known to the Ro-yal Janta, and during his sojourn in Lishon he had confidential interview withthatimportant body. M. Fitzpatrick states that proposals, which in any ot-her case would have dazzled and seducid, were more than once tendered to the young and gifted studentallusion to which will be found in the mous pastorals:-We have at an early period of our life rejected the favours of the great, and fied even from the smiles of a court, that we might in our native land, from which we had become an exile to procure an education, labour in the most humble department of the most sacred ministry.

In December, 1808, Dr Doyle returned to Ireland, and in October of the following year was ordained in Enniscerthy by Dr Ryan the Coadjutor Bishop of Ferns. After remaining some time in Rosa amongst his relatives and friends, from whom he had been so long separated, he proceeded to Carlow College in the year 1813, to Carlow College in the year 1813, with a character for learning and abi-lity rarely attained by a nan of his age, who up to that time had not ta-ken any part in public affairs. At Carlow College be successively filled the professorships of rhetoric, classics, moral and natural philosophy, and theology and sacred Scripture.

His famo as a learned theologian as well as his reputation for general ability, soon extended for and wide, and when the Soo of Kildare and Leighlin became vacant in 1819 by the death of Dr. Corcoran, the clergy of the diocese unanimously named Dr. Doyle as his successor—he being then scar-cely thirty-three years of ago and younger than any other member of the piepocal body in Ireland. The selection was confirmed by the Pope, and Dr. Doyle was solemnly consecrated bishop on Sunday, the 14th November, 1819, in the parish chapel of Car-The new bishop showed his fitness for the arduous duties imposed on him by the energy, firmness and judgment which he immediately displayed in the ecclesiastical government of his diocese. The death of such ; prelate and Irishman filled the country with mourning. His noble and melaucholy features are beautifully proserved in the grand work-the chef d'auvre of Hogan-which is placed over his grave in the cathedral of Car-
