Capture of Rosario.

The Late bloodless victory woulerfully clated our friends of this city, which caused some foreigners observe, that they were making too much of a clean walk-over. But it is not fair to estimate the impo tance of Mitre's advance by the opposition encountered: it will be ren mbered that one short month ago Urquiza was sweeping his squallrons toward this city, with the boastful threat that it should be his last visit to Buenos Aires and an exemplary one. In some manner his words have been verified, for we believe he will never again declare war against this city, so signal and unexpected has been his overthrow. The tables are turned: we were preparing to defend our ramparts from an enemy that had the reputation of being irresistible in paña, and now this very encmy disappears as by enchantment after abandoning the metropolis of their territory. Tis probable Der qui would not have refused the proposals at Las Piedras could he have anticipated the loss of Rosario.

Some may yet pretend that this is all a ruse de guerre, and no more legitimate cause for exultation than a feint or ambuscade. No one, however, can be so blind as not to perceive that if Derqui had really gained a Pavon, as was alleged in spite of our prisoners and trophies he should ha vé been more inclined to besiege San Nicolas than to fly precipitately from the centre of his operations, placing the river between his rictorious legions and the reaten foe. Sceptic's may yet doubt whether Urquiza really fought, or Mitre gained the battle; but it is plain to any thinking person that the Captain General was thrashed against bis will, and that Dergui shall soon find his power on this side of the Paraná, as nominal as that of hisdeputies at Moreno and Giles.

It seemed highly ridiculous on our part to have fire-works for Cepeda and maintain to the world that a great moral benefit resulted to Buenos Aires, when Urquiza was before our walls: it is now even more preposterous of the President to congratulate himself and fellows on being sent about their business, looking for shelter in the political hurracane of their own brewing, and naturally nervous that the edifice called "Constitution" may tumble about their ears.

The most extravagant contradic tion in our strange politics, is observable in the columns of the "Cronica" of Corrientes. In one pargraph it rejoices over the annihilation of the Unitarios, and in another gives Urquiza's confession, in extenso, of his defeat. On one side it prognosticates the happy results of Pavon and, or the opposite, charges Mitre with shooting in cold blood whole regiments of prisoners.

This last tactic of calumniating ne-another is a very ignoble feature in the annals of S. American warters

The agreeable task of throwing dire mutually at their neighbors reputa tion is confined to the rival press and both parties forget that is sooty occupation, they begrime them-selves before the world.

If Mitre had shot his prisoners, i would have saved him, the trouble of guarding transporting and feeding them: but, the large numbers lodged in this city prove alike the humanity and good fortune of our General.

If the President would now conser to knuckle-down, and that Mitre con tents himself with the laurels gained on this side of the water, the capture of Rosano will be the last military exploit of this campaign. The rold proverb" you may go farther, and speed worse" may or may not be verified, if Mitre, as they say he will try it on in Parana or Corrientes.

Dovle's murder.

Since the late unhappy occurrence of Doyle's murder, we have been as sailed in flank and front, for not having poured forth the full tide of our Celtic indignation, against the Go- to carry a revolve. Strange it is, great afflictions. Hereby you will vernment, the English Minister, the that, for some days before, he never merit the blessings of your grateful

the Confederation,"cum quibusdam aliis; in fine, against everyone who had nothing to do with this acrocious

It is well known that THE STAN-DARD is neither a state tool, nor pensioned by Government, and hence even our opponents give us credit for honesty. The friends of our lamen ted countryman will therefore bear in mind that if we have failed to get "a sensation" about his murder, it is because we find some difficulty in fastening our claws upon any, one, ressible party. hall we attack Mitre?, for suffering his men to run away and kill two Irishmen. It is plainly ridiculous to fancy that the Commander-in-chief could have prevented their flight, or been a party to the assassination. Has he not shown his zeal for order. Thy shooting, already, four men for pillage? Or is it thought an easy matter to discover the criminals, even supposing they are now in his rank Where are the witnesses, to identify them: or is it safe to put to death three men on the testimony of one? We do not ascribe to Mitre an indifference for the lives of foreigners (who have never done him harm), since he is careful of even his enemies, property

The Government, no doubt, is guarantee for the protection of the inhabitants and punishment of criminals but, in time of civil war, it is difficult to arrest disorders, and, if we have of ten had reason to complain, heretofore, of a laxity in rural authorities the present crisis should rather pre pare us for a state of less security. Our former charge, of mismanage ment would now lose force, the govern ment having displayed some activity in guarding the principal villages. it is alleged that Gen. Gelly could and should have, at once, seized the three murderous Gauches, we frankly admit our ignorance alike of the facility of such a step as of the measures 'taken by bim in the particular. Hence we cannot constitute ourselves a tribuna to arraign either the minister or his agents for neglect of duty.

Mr. Thornton &the Admiral may be put on their defence together. The former did not declare war, the latte did not send his Marines in quest of the criminals: much as we esteemed our deceased friend, it would appear frivolous to expect an ultimatum and bombardment, because an Irishman has been murdered (though by state troops). Tis true we do not live in those times when killing a mere Irisliman was no murder; but, surely, no European nation declares war against another for the manslaughter of a subect. Not even the Emperer Napo leon dared make a casus belli of the bombs manufactured in England to kill him. The affair of the Lebanon floats vaguely in our countrymen's imagination: but, there the case is not parallel. Whole cities sacked and butchered by the public authorities and Turkish army, called for the Inowed no allegiance. Here is a soliary crime committed neither by or der, nor with the connivance of Gover-nment. Our diplomatic and, naval guardians may make a passing remark, demand an investigation and soforth, but that's all! Poor Doyle, and his man O'Hara are dead; we can only lament them: those who look for rengeance or satisfaction will be dis appointed.

app Many confided in the Consul's proection, a piece of paper, which, were it the Pope's bull, would not frighten a gaucho, or arrest his knife. Mr. Archy Craig's protection is worth Mi-nister's, Admiral's, and Consul's (tous ensemble). Not that Mr. Parish asleep, since he could not prevent Doyle's death; and as Nature never intended him for a guerrilla, he fulfilled his official function, by looking after the property of deceased. Those; then, who feel so deeply fo Doyle's murder should turn their indignation against his gaucho assassins and if any one else was to blame, it is the unhappy victim who, contrary to our repeated exhoration, neglected done so on the day of his death; h should, certainly have escaped.

The controversy has been raised to who were the murderers, when it is notorious to every Irishman in the North that they were of Mitre's deserters. We will here, drop this melancholy subject, assuring our countrymen that we neither fear nor forget to do our duty.

Mitre's Address

To the inhabitants of Santa Fé Although this document comes la , we transcribe it, rather for its felicity of expression than any novelty

it contains. The Governor of Buenos Ayres

Commander in chief. Santafecinos. On again setting foot in your territory at the head of the powerful army of Buenos Ayres, I must address you as citizens of a sister-province, in whose welfare so much interest is felt by the people that has confided their destinies to my keeping.

Citizens of Santa Fc. You have been dragged into an unjust war against Buenos Ayres, and your territory, at present the scene of contest, has been sacrificed to the ambition and evil passions of those who have wasted your blood and treasure, devastated your lands more terribly than could your direst enemies.

Santafecinos. I come at the hear of the Buenos Ayrean forces, 12,000 strong, to re-establish order in your province, to protect your lives and properties, to consolidate the reformation brought about by the victory of Pavon, and to cement peace on the basis of the common weal, by virtue of the National Constitution to which we have all sworn obedience. but, which has been flagrantly outraged by the very functionaries entrus-ted with its fulfilment.

National Guards of Santa Fé, You may now rest quie ly in your homes to repair the damages incidental to the wanton struggle in which you have been forcibly involved. The arms of Buenos Ayres come not among you for lust of conquest, but to perpetuate a needful peace, leaving this province in full enjoyment of her rights and liberties. Our swords are lifted only against those who make war upon the army of Buenos Aires.

Patriots of Santa Fé. This day brings us the happy occasion of en-suring the welfare of this province, by curing it from future wars, and rescuing your persons and fortunes from the capricious control of tyrants who first plunder, and then, abandon you to your fate. You are, therefore, onyour families and co-operate in the maintenance of order within your frontiers.

Santafecinos. I solemnly pledge to you, in the name of that city which bails you as brethern, that no hostile acts shall take place, that you lives and properties shall be respected and that I will rigorously punish accor ding to military discipline, those who may forget these sacred obligations.

People of Santa Fe. This war which Buenos Aires has been compelled to carry into your country, in self defence, is not waged against you, but in hostility to the Federal Army that chose this province for the scene of operations; and our present advance is simply meant to crown the recent victory, and save our frontiers from the devastation threatened by the ast relics of the enemy's legions. Not against you, I repeat, but against a fee, who, no longer able to meet us in fair fight, has turned brigand and assassin to the disgrace of the Argentine banner under which they shield themselves.

Santafecinos. I offer you, as men and brothers, and in the name of Buenos Aires, peace and security, for yourselves and your properties I hope, moreover, that you will listen to the voice of patriotism, and con sult the interest of your province, by avoiding an useless effusion of blood & sparing your country many

Admiral, the Consul, the Portenos, went out unarmed and if he had not fellow-citizens, and the kiss of peace offered you by your kinsmen

Santafeeinos. At the same time that I again tread your province, and that Buenos Aires greets you in these terms, I salute you all, with the best wishes for your happiness. Your friend and fellow-countrymar MITRE. Head quarters on march. Oct. 5. 1861.

Ourarmy in the field.

On the 3rd inst Mitre gave the word to advance, and after a halt of fifteen days, the army, numbering 12000 rank and file of all arms, with 42 pieces o cannon began a victorious march or Rosarie, 13 leagues distant. Crossing the Arroyo del Medio with no enemy in sight, the columns deployed on the Santa Fé Territory in direction of Pa-An order of the day, forbidding von. plunder, and a proclamation to the inhabitants (see next column) were at by the Commander-inonce issued chief. During the bivouse on the field of battle, the remains of Count Pilloni were discovered and buried. In the progress of the army, four men were shot for entering the houses of the inhabitants, coutra ry to the recent order. So far from being harassed by flying parties of the enemy, Mitre had the satisfaction of receiving the submission of several officers at the head of small bands of stragglers.

On the 7, Colonel Silva, appointed y Derqui to command in Chivileoy, Urquiza's chaplain Sr. Balmaceda, the Justice of the peace for Las Piedras and various small fry, presented themselves at the invader's camp. On the 9th the head-quarters were fixed at Arroyo Seco, and as the army approached Rosario, everything betokened an unresisting surrender. Two days before, the President and other authorities embarked for Parana: and a Deputation, including some foreign consuls was sent out to apprise Mitre that the city received him with oper arms.

Accordingly on the 11th, he entered with the 7th brigade of infantry, and the fair daughters of our rival port showered flowers upon his head. The English, French, Spanish and American war-vessels had already landed forces for the maintenance of tranquillity. Our fleet was anchored in the roads; and Mitre named D. Luis Lamas, prefect of the city.

Wive la France.

In the late fire which broke out on oard the American ship "Mary Goodel ", the first and most active assistance was rendered by the French warsteamer "Beaumanoir."

Too much praise cannot be given to the zealous efforts of the commander and crew of this vessel.

The English man-of war's boat, as also the "Montevideo" despatched by the Captain of the port arrived rather late. Several merchant ships, both English and American, under the command of the first officers vied with each other on the occasion, to lend a hand The master of the "Mary Goodel interchanged very courteous compli-ments with the French commander, whowith the proverbial gallantry of his nation, denied that he had done any more than his duty, in helping a dis tressed ship, adding that "all scame are brothers."

General Movements.

The Federal party has sustained another reverse in Santiago, where the Taboadas opposed the entrance of the titular governor Alcorta onliging himto retire precipitately without taking into consideration his mis sion on the part of Derqui. It is casy to perceive that the "Liberal" pro vinces only awaited the issue of Mitre's, campaign to see on which side rictory declared; and though the policy is rather Machiavelian, it results favorably for Buenos Ayres. Laprida submitted with 300 men, who were disarmed by Mitre's order. The Cordobau prisoners in this city have been set at liberty, and will probably return home to preach the new crusade. The assassins of Vila have been taken and executed, as they deserved Our city fortifications are now disarmed, the troops being sent home, and the artillery removed to the Par que. Thus the much-dreaded siege has evaporated, and the victory Pavon, claimed by Dergui and won by Mitre, has saved us serious anxiety There are reasonable grounds to e pect a cessation of hestilities, lose on being little more to gain or either side. The railway to Chasco mus is on the topis. So is a project charge postage for newspapers with the view of turning the recent campaign into a war against the press.

Modern Rome.

If a traveller of the present day should have the courage to assert that the city of the Popes is even more interesting than the ancient mistress of the World, he would be called a priest-ridden fanatic. Yet, medern Rome can well afford to cast aside the charm of historic recollections, and point with pride to the wonders of latter days as unrivalled and eternal, The Colossseum, fit emblem of the empire, was creeted by Titus for pub-

ON SEA AND LAND

By the arrival of the Nova Scotian at Londonderry, from Quebec, we have intelligence from New York to the 23d olt.

There has been another panic, real or pretended, among the military authorities at Washington, caused by a rumoured intended crossing of the Potomac by the enemy below Wash ington, and an advance upon the ca-pital. It was said that there was a fleet of launches and flat boats near Acquia Creek, which were to be used in transporting Confederate troops ncross the river. The Governors of ten States were telegraphed to send on immediately whatever troops they had, whether equipped, armed, or uniformed, or not, in squads or companies, as the case might be. These messages caused great alarm in the North, and possibly stimulated the recruiting business. The apprehended at ack was, however, never made and the transport fleet vanished into thin air.

ADDRESS OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE MACMANUS TESTIMONIAL TO THE PEO-

Fellow Countrymen.

When Terence Bellew Macmanus lay down to die in exile, the realization might have been beyond his hone, but the desire never was beyond his heart, to claim a grave from Ireland. He had loved his country with the passionate love of a patriot-soul, he had lifted his sword for her sake, he had borne defeat in her cause-he had braved banishment-he had endured poverty-and never flinched through such trial. Surely he deserved an Irish tomb!

To us belongs the sacred duty of receiving the dead rebel-to us be longs the holy task of offering to his remains the honours they deserve from every Irishman who loves his coun-We are not recreant to the pro trv. claim which asserted Irish independence as Irish right; nor can we be for ge ful of the man who dared all, and lost all, in the braye endeavour to maintain his words. · Patriotism has its maters everyw here, and patriotism has honoured the martyr. Amidst Alpine glaciers, the children of the mountains bless the memory of Tell, in love of the land hat bore him! Far in the heart of the Tyrol, the peasant kneels by the great soldier of his nation, and the name of Andreas Hofer stirs his soul like a trumpet sound. On the ' plan of Ostrolenka a people weeps the chivalry of their land laid low, and Po land bows in reverence beside the lonely mounds where her miriad heroes sleep. For our nation and for our people the graves of their best and bravest are far away. Hugh O'Neill lies in the shadow of the Capitoline Hill; O'Donnell rests calmly, many a league from wild Tir-Owen, under the cloistered arches of Valladolid; four hundred thousand of our name and race have found their rest in the battle-fields of France. To-day the ashes of one of Ireland's patriots are about to be borne back amongst her people. Let her people honour them! Let her people honour them! for they have been vivified by the impulses of that passion for liberty, to which triumph brings no increase of glory, nor defeat any access of shape Let her people honour them; for they are the last mortal testimony of a faithful witness to the truth of that creed of Irish freedom, which has rising above the shadows of the dungeon and the bloody mists of the scaffold, lights up the future with the radiance of hope for our fallen land.

Let her people honour them, if they love the name which has consecrated them by its latest memories, and borrowed the touch of misfortune and the sorrow of death to render them only more hallowed.

People of Ireland! we invite you to this duty in the memory of the dead, in the trust of the living! We claim your assistance in the name of country and of liberty. Across ages of persecutions, of spoliations, of defeat, the invincible fidelity of our race to their native land has shone unclouded to illumine with its glory the darkest places of our history.

We have never yet failed in love to the cause which has kept alive such sublime recollections. Let us not fail in reverence to one of its noblest, bravest, truest examples in all the story of our native manhood.

The London Insurance Companies have issued a fresh scale of charges, as the result of their deliberation consequence of the opposition to the scale put forth on the 6th July. The new rates involve an average reduction of about 30 per cent, from the high tariff proposed at that date. DEATH OF FATHER VENTURA

Father Ventura died at Versailles on Saturday la-t, in the sixty-ninth year of his age, having been born at Palermo in Sicily, in 1795. When only fifteen years old he entered, at the request of his mother, the Jesuit College of his native city, and before long was appointed its Professor of Rhetoric When the house was shut up the young Ventura was admitted as a navice by the Theatins, or regulars of the congregation of Lateran. This order was founded in the beginning of the 16th century by St Ga tanus, and Caraffs, then Bishop of Chieti the Teate of antiquity whence the name "Theating." He was, at the proper age, admitted to holy orders and devoted himself to preaching, particularly funeral erations, in which he soon acquired reputation. His panegyric on Pius VII. passed through twenty editions, and procured for the prescher the title of "the Italian B ssuet," while his work entitled "Influence of the 16th Century," was considered to be a fifti g companion to the Variations of the great French writer. In 1824 he was elected General of his order. He was appointed member of a commission of censorship, with Oriol and Michara, who afterw rds became cardinals; and also with Father Ca-pellari, better known as Geogory XVI. He obtained at the same time the Chair of E clesi stied Low, together with the effice of Alm ner to the University of Rome. He was emplo-yed by Leo XII; who had a high opinion of his capacity, negotiating the concordat withe the Dake of Modena He brought about a reconciliation bet ween the Pope and Chateaubriand, then French ambassador to the Holy See; and finally obtained from the Court of Rome the recognition of Louis Philippe, as King de facto, thought not de jure. His work "De Methodo Philosophandi," published in 1828, in defence of the Churistian or scholastic philosophy, brought upon him emart attacks from his old friend the Abbe Lamennais, Ventura soon after quitted the Pontifical court, and during ten years lived apart f.om public affairs, devoting himse f to the study of the scriptures and the fathers of the church. In 1839 he published his work. "The Beauty of the Faith It was during this period, too, that his fineat sermons were preached in the Church of St. Andrew della Valla and St. Peter's. His published homi les fi l five octavo volumes. The studious tranquilty of his life was soon to be interrupted, for the revolutionary period was at hand. He presched the funeral sermon of O'Connell in 1847

His liberal opinions gave him great influence with the multitude, which was further increased by his sermen in honour of those who fill during the seige of Vienna. In 1848 he was named by the popular government of Sicily, Minister Plenipotentiary and Commissioner Extraordinary to the nission with the full assent of the H dy Fath r. The notion federation of the Italian States, with the Pope for President, was be Emperor Napoleon III. from Father Ventura, but it encountere great opposition from Charles Albert at Rome after the flight of the Pope. He was effered the Presidency of the Constituent Assembly, but declined the parilous distinction. He never be the perilous distinction. He never be lieved in the durability of the Roman Republic, but he was strongly opposed to the attack on Rome by General Oudinot. He left the city on the 4th of May, and retired to Civita Vecchia Despairing of enlightening the public mind on the real state of Italy, and unable to render any futher service to the Pope or to the nation, he quitted Italy for France, and took up his residence at Montjellier. Here he Larm with pain that his sermon "On the Victims of Vienna' was condemned by the Congregation of the Index; but he submitted nevertheless, and formally retracted the opinions he had advanced in that discourse. During his stay at Mentpellier he pub ished "Lette to a Protestent Mini-ter," with the view of refuting the arguments of clergyman of G neva, who contended that St. Peter had never b en in Rome. He remained two years at Montpellier, and practised preaching in the French language, and then come to Paris Here, where his name was already known, he acquired celebrity by his conferences with the savants of the Observatory and the Institute, but, above all, by his sermons and publiestions. For years he drew crowds to the churches of the Madeleim and St Louis d'Antin. The original character of his style, the copionsness and energy of his language, and his bursts of lofty e.oquence, not to spenk of his vast store of theological science, made even his most fastidions hearers forget his pecular pronunciation of the French tengue. He also preached the Lent remons in the Imperial Chapel of the Tuileries. He resided some time at Versailles, and then felt his health rapidly declining. When all hopes were over he carnestly besought the Bishop of Versailles to demand for him the benediction of the Pope The Holy Father at once acceded; the Pontifical blessing reached him only two or three days before he drew his last breath. - Times Paris Co respon-

MISCELLANEOUS.

SOCIAL SCIENCE IN DUBLIN. -Lord Brougham, the President of the Association, then came forward to deliver the inaugural address. His lordship was greeted with loud and prolonged applause. He said-In opening the fifth congress of the National Association. I need bardly observe that it would ill deserve its name it it did not embrace the important part o the empire in which we have now the happiness to assemble. We are in the great capital of Ireland, renowned for having given to the world men illustrious in all the departments of science and of art, as well as of arms. But it is to me, individually, a painful reflection that the most eminent of these and whose friendship was my comfort andmy honour. I cannotymeet in this my first visit to the country adorned by their transcendant genius-Grattan Plunket, Wellington, Wellesly-the great patriot, the consummate orator, the first of warriors, foremost, too among statesmen, and the illustrious head of his house, the greatest of all who ever ruled over Ireland; all of these I have been doomed to outlive. and to the dispensation of Providence it is fit we should be resigned. But, the loss of such men to their country is grievous.

It now becomes my duty to note the progress which social science has made during the last year, and its pre sept state and prospects. We are met again by the complaint that few of the plans proposed by us have been accomplished, and that, of the measures originating in our labours, many have failed to pass through the legislature But the progress of all the sciences and arts is slow, because their improvement is necessarily gradual.

-The criminal and reformatory department presents very satisfactory results; and it may be fit at this meeting that we dwell more especially on the Irish branch of the subject. The number of reformatory schools is but small, and it is devontly to be wished that they were multiplied. But the diminution of crime in this island, of late years, is most satisfactory; and allowing that the great emigration, since the famine years, has had much influence, enoog of the improvemen remains to reflect the greatest credit upon the instructors of youth and the ministers of religion. The decrease in the number of the people makes any comparison of the commitments for offences inconclusive, unless we reeard the proportion of these to population. There were, in 1850, as one to 923 of the people; in 1859, as one to 1,117; and in 1860, as one to 1,217. The number of juvenile offenders decreased in a still greater proportion. Pre eminence among the subjects engaging our attention must, in some degree, be determined by local circumstances and we this year assemble in a capital that affords the opportunity and imposes the duty of inspecting the ope stion of the Irish convict system, wh ich has received the attentive consideration, not of Great Britain only, but of Europe, and of the United States of America. In truth, it well deserves all the praise it receives where ver the public mind is awakened to sount duty of making such exertions as may render the punish-ment of the criminal the instrument of his reformation. Here the pro blem has been solved how to with convicts and send; them forth cured, instead of subject to relapse, infecting others-criminals and

-Besides these exertions, Miss Parkes has originated a scheme for encouraging the emigration of educated women who cannot flud employment country. But for the inferior cast of females, the exertions now ma king to reclaim the fallen and prevent the fall of others are "above nil praise. The loss of Lord Herbert's strenuone assistance is in this, as in all other parts of his most useful services, deeply to be deplored. Who can move along the less frequented streets n, and not have his heart we ung by such accents too often' coming emale lips, "I have not had morsel of food this day?" At our last congress the important step was taker of adding a sixth department, mainly for international subjects. This was the suggestion of the distinguished foreigners who attended at Glasgow, the chief of whom were M. Garnier Pages, of the Provisional Government 1848; and M Desmarest, of the French bar.

The condition of Italy has in one practical respect been greatly improved by the general acknowledgement new kingdom; but the interna state of the southern portion is stil most unsatisfactory, a ffording daily proofs of what all experience has prored in other countries, that there is no possibility, unless by main force, of establishing a government for which the people are not 'prepared... The Poriginal action of Piedmont and her ally to obtain her extension can never be too severely reprobated. although we are entitled to rejoice in the result. The "fieri non 'debuit. factum valet, may here be applied; and assuredly, if the French and Sardinian arms only interposed in helping the Italians, both in the north and sewhere, to strike off a foreign yoke and unite themselves with Piedmont, the interference is of a far less objectionablekind than a mere ordinary aggression and conquest. But certainly the government of a country, however bad, gives its neighbours not the very least right of interference; and to attack and seize the territory, under the pretext that it is ill governed, is to repeat the most atrocious crime ever committed in modern times and by civilized states-the partition of Poland. Take, even the condition of Rome, under an eccle siastic, chosen by other ecclesiastics. This affords not the chadow of an excuse for any foreign state to scize upon the Roman territory, any in re than the Polish government, the very worst in Europe, an elective monarforded for its partition.

The friends of Social Science, indissolubly bound up as it is in peace, nust exult in contemplating the position of the country, a d reflecting that the security of society cannot be shaken by any politician's schome, or any general's ambition, or any monarcaprice-by the speculations of avarice, whether in traders or in soldiers, the military genius of one, or the restless intrigue of another. Against all we are, heaven be thank d, prepared, for the people of our empire have shown that they must be not merely subdued, but extirpated, before an invasion of them can succeed. Would that we had a like consolation in casting our eye scross the Atlantic, and regarding the conflict which now shakes the great union of our kins-

We have been surveying the progress of the past year, and have only had time to touch the higher points in the outline, ileaving, of necessity, much that is of importance untouched. The past lends encouragement to the future. Let us then persevere to the Undaunted by resistance-undistur bed by faction—undismayed by real coldness or affected contempt, we per severe in our course of social labour but we lift our views higher, to scenes far above the darkness of ignorance that shrouds one region, the mists of doubt that obscure, the storms of passions that vex another, and behold the lofty summit shining in the faith and adoration of God, glowing with universal benevolence to man. some tall cliff," (I gladly pronounce these noble lines, in the land which gave them birth)-

As some tall cliff that lifts its awful form, Swells from the vale, and midway leaves the storm; Though round its breast, the rolling clouds are spread. Eternal sunshine settles on its

LITERATURE OF JAPAN.-There are large public libraries in Japan, and literature is as common, and books are as widely circulated, and much chea per than even in Geramany. Thousands of illustrated novels are printed every year, and to judge from the pictures with which they are profusely illustrated they contain much the same ingredients as our own-love, murder, suicide, intrigue, heroism, and folly. Their books are printed from woode blocks on fine silky paper, doubled, so that the exterior sides only are printed upon. The Japanese are much farter advanced in painting and drawing than the Chinese; they understand perspective, and many of their wood illustrations are both true to nature, and well designed, in their peculis style - Tilley's Japan, do. SINGULAR BED PILLOW.—The mos carious article of bed furniture is the pillow. In the Malay Archipelage, a hollow bamboo-plaited pillow is used in China a roll of stuff encased in a lacquered cloth, and painted with di-fferent devices, is the mode; but in Japan the pillow is a pretty little lac-quered box, with drawers, in which the ladies keep their paper, heir-arrews, &c. The top of this box is concave, and a little cushion, in shap and size like a sausage, is wrapped in clean paper, and placed in the hollow for the back of the head to rest upon The Japanese always sleep on their backs; and as only a small portion of their head touches the pillow, their laborate coiffure does not become disordered during the night's slumb rs. Their sleep, however, is only for short periods, as it is the custom to est in the night from a tray placed by the bedside, or to take a few whift

from the pipe: the tobacco-box containing live embers, and other conveniences for smeking, being always within hand's reach .- Ibid PENALTY OF KISSING IN IOLAND. Women are here protected by the most stringent and anti-kissing, laws Any one kissing any body, with or without the lady's consent, save his own law ful wife, is liable to a fine of 144 cl:s of Wadmal per kiss-enough, as M. Mallet quaintly remarks, to furnish a ship's company with monkey jackets. The love diffies of amorous or broken-hearted swains might likewise be prosecuted, and the perpurators severely fined for the benefit of the hard-hearted young lady-Forbes's leeland.
