M We are happy to acquaint our friends home that the revolution which for the last eight months has desolated this country is now happily on the wanc. Deserted by his men, scouted oven by his own partizans, hated by overy Oriental, Flores is this day a sort of used up Walker. He flies from one side of the Republic to the other, but beyond the acquisition of a few cows, Owing to disunion amongst his troops, he finds himself alike powerless to attack the Government army, or to recruit his forces. We are also happy to notice a strong reactionary feeling which has recently set in amongst our own politi-cians; now at the eleventh hour they perceive the injurious moral effect which the success of this filibuster, would cause in the River Plate, and though urged on to declare was ugainst Montevideo by a set of insane and irresponsible politicians, President Mitre has judiciously avoided Such a catas trophe, and exercised all his influence to preserve peace and

THE FOREIGN CLUB-HOUSE

The Sala de los Estrangeros Resi-dentes, or Poreign Club, which was started in this city some 23 years ago, has ceased to be a struggling society, it is now, we are happy to say, an Institution. The Foreign Club is now installed in its new quarters, which, through the kindness of the urbane and popular secretary, we inspected on Wednesday evening.

The building, although destitute of either a Doric or Ionian style, possesses a rather imposing front. It is of two stories, in the leading thoroughfare, and one of the most fashionable streets in town. The hall, or entrance, is rather narrow, but this defect is redeemed by the taste and elegance with which it is decorated, and the choice and refreshing plants which meet the eye, at the termination of the passage. To the left of the enermination of the passage. To the left of the endining-rooms, airy, well lit, and meet-ing the wishes of the most fastidious forcioner.

Fronting the dining saloons are the rending-rooms, fitted up in a style most hostile to genuine republicanism. On the tables, besides the city papers, are files of the leading European and American journals, also the monthly periodicals of the day. The rooms are stylish in the exterine, and the committee has furnished them, utterly regardless of expenses.

Leading from the patio, or yard, which is encumbered with the choicest plants, are the stairs, which although of the purest marble, strange to say, are carpeted. On ascending, the stranger finds himself on a lobby facing the billiard-rooms, which, it affords us no small satisfaction to say, are furnished with three of the best

THE MAUA BANK

The principal bank at present in the River Plate is the Mana Bank. The head establishments in Montovideo and uenes Avres, owing to indicious and liberal management, monopolise all the first class business in both Republics. The leading merchants in Montevideo and Ruenns Ayres are its customers the farmers in the Banda Oriental and Buenos Ayres are amongst its heaviest depositors.

In sucnos Ayres, owing to the polished urbanity of the popular manager, Mr. William Leslie, it has become the first banking establishment in the city. We judge its business, not by rumours or surmises, but by its The monthly returns, not only of the Provincial and Goverment Bank, but also of the Maun Bank, for the last cleven months, he to the control of the before us, and, we unbesitatingly say, this?
