Fortis do Areco, Gites, and Sun Arton!

The particle of Carmen or Fortin de Areco, is one of the e favoured by Government valuators, list year, the property tax baving been just doubled: 1862, $1,170 dols.; 1863, 66.661 dols. The extent is set down, in page 4, at 58 square leagues (including 6 of public lands) but the Commissioner says the partido is really 8 leagues less. The valuation is . 50,000 dols. per league. There are 27 estancias, of which 8 belong to foreigners: they are mostly large, averaging nearly 2 square leagues the principal being Piran 6, Dowling 14. Hale, Doffy, and Melo, each t. The rggregate of foreign holdings is 18½* square leagues, valued at six and a half millions dols mic. The total of lands that if we can include Mr. Patrick Lynch (of Irish descent), the foreigners Lynch (of trish descent), the foreigners hold exactly half. This, perhaps, does not occur in any other district, and here our countrymen are proverhially wealthy. The Hiberna-foreign population may be estimated at 1300, worth about £300,000, or £400 sterling per head, and paying a Contribucion of 22,000 dols. The finest houses in the village of Carmen are those of D. Antonio Gonsalez, Argaparas, Manila, Ayerdi, sud Vasquez, valued over 100,000 dols. each. Mr. Terence Moore's store is also well known. The San Andres de Giles annears as 40 square leagues in size. The tax was raised,in 1863, 50 per cent., amounting to $5,161 dols. The valuation is half a million dollars per league. There are 75 estancias (averaging one-fourth of a square league), including four of Martin Sarcia is at present under going such extraordinary changes, that although it is but a year since we were there, we hardly recognised it last Saturday when passing under its guns.

What with the ballastmen on one side, and Gelly Obes on the other, the little island is becoming so transmorrified. that if the place only got some new name, say Fort Sumpterians, none would ever suppose that it was once little Martin Garcia, where, if we recollect aright, a horrible earthquake shock was felt some two years ago. earthquake shock, for one side of the island is gone completely, never to return, whilst the other is so fixed up and whitewashed, that the whole island seems turned upside down.

Their are now five fort esses on the island, built something like the may-tello towers on the coast of Ireland, only one of which is mounted. The the big sand bank on one side, the bran new martello, towers on the other, and the war steamers Pumpero, Guardia Nacional, and Hercules in front, the place looks truly awfut, and inspires a sort of involuntary dread or awe of Argentine preatness.

Englishmen, who are accustomed to talk of Cubrattar, brenchmen who who ridicule overything American, save the soro, stare with mute astonishment at the works going on at Martin Garcia. There is a tower frowning over the Banda Oriental; there is another looking in the direction of siontevideo; a third, which is by far the strongest, defends the canal leading to the Guazu: a tourth, which comands the mouth of the Parana; a tifth, built on the crest of the hill, in the middle of the island, and eminently advited for some of those new American gune, which we commended to the attention of Mr. Gelly Ones some three or four months ago.

Of course, not being in the Govern ment House, we cannot say how many more martello towers are to be built; but, we most unhesitatingly assert, that Martin Garcia, when finished, will be one of the strongest places in the River Ber. Mr Leahy is Irish curate in this

At present, the place is crowded with lighters taking it bollast for the vessels in the outer roads. There are a few 'pulperias' doing a thriving business. The whole island is dotted over with soldier's tents, &c; and to diversify the scene, numerous females can be seen washing at all points on the beach.
