THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Every revolution in this country since the fall of Rosas had its origin in the newspapers; every commotion which has desolated the republic is attributed to the indiscreet writings of native editors. Such being the experience of us all, it seems natural enough to inquire President of the Republic will permit the present 'crudo' and 'cocido' fight to go on. In the provinces it is believed that the time is not far distant when Argentines will be summoned to march on Buenos Ayres to sufficate rebellion. In the Banda Oriental a revolution against President Mitre is the conversation of every circle; if there is any truth therefore, in the old saying, what every one eays must be true, we naturally conclude that, unless vivorous measures be resorted to at once, we shall have barricades ere long in all the principal streets in town.

Delicate as is this subject for feel it our bounden duty to acquaint our readers of what is going on, and to apprize his Excellency the President that, according to the rumours which circulate autside of Buenes Avres he sleeps on a mine which at any moment may explode. That mine is the Guardia Nacional. Crude to a man, ready to a boy, this body, it is said without the slightest reserve, awaits but the signal to eject the whole National Government "box and dice" out of this city We cannot and will not bring ourselve to believe that a Guard created for the as believe that a Guard research to the propose of preserving peace and order should be the first to violate both that we not of the Ideal families of the ten or the Ideal families of the saffered as much through samely rate of the Ideal families of the saffered as much through samely rate of the Ideal families of Idea et that it they stronged such as they would have to combat with own parents, wirek and children was parents, wirek and children to have been been cheered the matter as freely compared to the present of the corps to the corps to

Latest from the Gran Chace

Our special correspondent from this mknown land, states that things are very quiet in that quarter. A terrific forest fire has recently taken place. It began in one of the islands, where some sailors were cutting firewood, and spread almost instantaneously. When it reached the Clinco, the heat was so terrific in the Parana, that the passengers on board the steamers were almost smathered. It is aid to be still raging.

Up in Corrientes, it is said that the Parteins have offered to still the Gran Chaco to an English company for the purpose of redeeming the paper money. The French Government, it ap nears, made an effer to President Mitri the place; but either through icolores of Econes, of a helief that it the country was put up to auction it would fetch more, the whole business fell through A nice calculation of the value of the lumber has been made by an intelligent American, who has been through the greater part of the Chaco. He says, that taking it for granted that every five hundred trees would fetch a nearly the timber in the Chaco is worth over one hundred millions pounds worth over one haudred multion pounds seefings. Under the deromatomer, we see fine the control of the country o the 'Tribuna' ought to be transplanted to this inexhaustibly rich country, and
