Affairs in the Banda Oriental are very quiet; the bathing season has begun, and the wealth and fashion of this country are spending their yearly leisure at the sea-side. General Santos is devoting all his time to the building of his residence and to the improvement of the stock on his splendid farm. The budget of the Banda Oriental has been sanctioned, an equilibrium has been made, and both revenue and expenses have been fixed at $f.10,000,000 The slaughter of the saladeros progresses slowly both in Montevideo and on this side of the river, owing to the unsettled condition of the jerked beef market. Liebig's saladero in Fray Bentos continues the slaughter uninterrupted, but the other slaughter stablishments keep aloof for the moment. The facua in Montevideo amounts to 80,000 head and to about half that figure in Buenos Aires.

Both the notes of the National Bank and the new Argentine coin have begun to circulate freely since the beginning of the year. The standard adopted for silver and gold coin is that of France, Pielgium and Italy; this system involves much confusion, as the public were accustomed to the paper money of the Provincial Bank, basing the value of same on that of the gold dollar. The new National dollar, or five franc piece, is at a discount of 3 per cent as compared with the gold dollar or patacon. This confusion has occasioned some opposition in the public, but as time wears on the coin is becoming familiar. The notes of the National Bank are also circulating the prospects of the Bank are most satisfactory and the subscription to the new shares to increase the capital of the Bank has already been covered in this city alone. The interior of the country has also come forward, and it is ex- of pected that the subscription will be tie

The representatives of the German Colonizing Company of Leipzig left to-day for Misiones, where they will inspect 200 leagues of land, offered for sale by a leading Baenos Airean capitalist in Buenos Aires. On their return from the North these gentlemen will probably visit the South. They arrived in the R. Plate three weeks ago. The sales at the ring were as follows:—
