Such very serious rumours were the subject of general comment; but parties who had gathered information at the head-quarters of the railway stated that the ccident was one of little consequence and hat no details had been received with regard to the catastrophe. It was also stated to-day that the Rio Sa-ado had risen very considerably, so much so that the passage of the river had become danrerous and trains could not pass the bridge. This is probably an exaggeration. A special train left the tenrinus last night for the

The liquidation parlor was the scene of the greatest excitement during afterhours; a corner in the share speculation gave an incredible spurt to affairs, and the stock wentup corner in the share speculation gave an incredible spurt to affairs, and the stock went up like a rocket. From 139½ the impressible share jumped to 143, and indeed the quotation would have been still higher—and nobody knew where it would stop—if a leading operator had not sold out 3,000 Shares, thus easing the market. At five p.m. there was a buzz as the liquidator called an auction; Mr C Lumb got on the top of the desk and was cheered as he offered to buy 700 shares for the liquidator: he bought as follows:—

We take the following from Herepath's Railway Journal, under date London 5th inst.:

"From the report of the Central Uruguay Railway for the past half year it would appear that this line is making solid progress. The gross receipts have amounted to £84,022 against £69,891, being an increase of £14,130, or 20 o/o. The working expenses have increased by £7,217, an increase likewise of 20 o/o, owing no doubt to the severe curves and gradients precular to the line, and the increase in the traffic which had to be coped with. It is contemplated to gradually relay with steel rails, the cost to be borne out of revenue; and no doubt when this has been done, it will be possible to effect considerable saving in working expenses. during afterhours, and the sudden turn in the aspect of the market was a surprise to many who calculated that the liquidation would close at 139. Cedulas were sold freely and quotations were well kept up; the market closed at 89.

Three hundred Certificates of the National Bank were sold at 56 during afterhours. Several buyers entered the parlor offering 55½ for Saturday. Everything on the Bolsa is going up, and brokers and all appear bent on the rise.

sible to effect considerable saving in working expenses. As it is, it is not every line that can show an increase of 20 o/o in net profit in six months' working.

"The number of passengers carried shows an increase of over 5,000, which is a healthy indication of increased prosperity among the general populace. The richer classes in B. Ayres now annually visit Montevideo as a healthy resort, and this furnishes an increasing source of revenue. The wool clip being unusually prolific, the traffic under this head has been nearly doubled; and in general goods. Such was the interest taken in the auction of shares this evening that even shipbrokers appear to have entered into the spirit of the speculation. Several were watching the auctioneer very intently, but would not sell under 145.

Some exchange reported passed to-day at 47½-9/16, small amounts only.

Such was the interest taken in the auction of shares this even nearly doubled; and in general goods, too, there is a substantial increase. In every respect there seems to be a steady increase of business; whilst the advance which the country is making in industrial prosperity gives every reason to hope that this increase will prove to be permanent and progressive. The dividend for the past year equals 60/0 per annum.

stances of the money market, and one that shews that "cover" is the great pinch felt on settlement days.

The scrip marches on; each day marks a fresh advance, and the demand is increasing. Three hundred certificates were sold 'o-day at 53 and 54 for cash; five hundred were sold for May at 55. At this rate the scrip will be quoted at 60 next month. The great demand into which the scrip has sprung is attracting the notice of all and excites much comment; there is a suspicion current that one holder is endeavouring to sweep the market clean; the scrip, at all events, is going ahead very fast indeed.

There is no change in rates. The money market maintains its easy features and discounts are liberal all round. The tendency of the market is towards cheapness; there was a superabundance of money in the Bolsa this morning, and very much money remained over.
