MR. CRAWFORD'S NEW RAILWAY
LUXURY AND LAW
London, Nov. 29
Mr. Robert Crawford, whose name is so favorably known in Buenos Ayres as the original constructor of the Great Southern Railway, sails from England to-day in the R. M. S. Tama with a staff of engineers to undertake the proposed extension of the Central Uruguay Railway from Paso Puro on the Rio Negro, a Salto. The length will be 180 miles, and the cost over a million sterling. As it will be the main trunk line of the Republic passing through the most productive and settled departments, it cannot fail to be of the highest importance, and the Company is to be congratulated on enlisting the services of Mr. Crawford for its construction.

to Buenos Ayres. For want of any other means of communication, he was obliged to ride, on the first occasion the time occupied being 23 days, and on the second 16 days.

The trip by the Chassey occupied 3 days and 6 hours going down, and 3 days 10 hours returning. To enable this service to be continued, it is necessary to obtain assistance from the Government; which, we feel sure, will be readily granted.

Port Madrid is the terminus of the railway, and lies in the southwest corner of New Bay, one of the finest natural harbors in the world. During the few days Mr. Bell was there, the Gulf of Trinidad, 2800 tons, on its way to the West Coast, called with cargo direct from England; the Gulf of Papua, another Pacific steamer belonging to the same Company, called for coals and grain to take to England; the Kanamarah arrived with 700 tons of coal to take grain back; the Gulf of Papua, another Pacific steamer, arrived with 320,000 worth of cargo down and to take a cargo of grain to Buenos Ayres. There is also a large ship, called the Mary Stenhouse, about 1800 tons capacity, which brought out a cargo of grain, and since been converted into a floating dock, and is now engaged to take a cargo of grain to Buenos Ayres.

There is no Custom-house nearer than the town of Rawson on the River Chubut, a distance of some 1000 kilometers. This is a source of great inconvenience, but the Company have provided a small boat, which is used to take goods to the station, and there is little doubt that this must be supplied with a tug.

The Sub-Prefect, Don Juan Finopietto, has established a very complete Agency, which is administered very ably by the Sub-Prefect, Don Juan Finopietto. The Chubut Company have presented to the Hon. Vialdi, Chaplain to the Governor of Chubut, a square of land in Port Madrid for the purpose of erecting a church, and have also undertaken to supply the stone for the same from their quarries.

Canon Vialdi is at present busily engaged in collecting the necessary funds to carry out the work, and we have no doubt that he will have succeeded in his noble enterprise. The railway, which has recently been constructed, is in excellent condition, and the permission was not been affected by the heavy rains which have fallen during the month of January. The rolling stock is in good working order, and sufficient for present requirements.
