The Austrian Consul-General in Valdez, Baron Kuhl, was arrested in the street last week for smoking a foreign cigar. When the coming Big Struggle in Europe is over there won't be much of this sort of thing left.

Matters appear to have settled down for the moment in Mendoza. On Sunday Governor Benegas felt so much "restored" that he opened the Legislature with a multitudinous opening speech. Even the political unpleasances had never been, and was "the bareless fabric of a vision."

The Argentine Consul in Rio had telegraphed to the Health Board here that there were 122 deaths from yellow fever in the Brazilian capital last week, 142 new cases and 131 in hospital. The telegram also states that many cases are not reported. This is a dismal state of things.

The Barbers' Assistants have sent an ultimatum to their masters to the effect that, if their wages are not increased 50 per cent, with a free 30 minutes per day thrown in for dinner, within eight days, they will throw soap, scold, scolders and all other kind of things, and will start in life again as gentlemen at large, either Congressmen, or in some other occupation pleasing them, showing chips or cropping the fringe round bald heads, as the number of people with hair to be cut is dwindling.

The appearance of the Brazilian troops in Rio is not a pleasant sight. Even the ladies now consider it fashionable to wear a trifle bald. What is the world coming to?

Great news about the Bateman Legation. It is ready for work. The entering company is now ready, now that it is ready.

The pronouncement of the Meat Bounty Law is now the main topic of conversation in Buenos Aires, and estancieros westward of the mountains are, as they expect, getting things from the new law. Bounties on sheep, shipping, or anything else, small yet worked well anywhere, nor ever who had the appearance of the Brazilian troops already in the field under the new law, and has sent 50 live steers and 100 fowls to the markets of Europe to France, where the believe as the Gaules are no judges, when meat and anything else has a chance of going down there.

Another diminutive new challenge is being held on our table yesterday. It is opening leader is on "Air," a subject upon which the appearance of the Brazilian troops is suggestive of the ever aspirant to journalism, having come to live in its first "journal" to do all our New Lullipian contemporary. The appearance of the Brazilian troops is largely increasing our interest in the North, and the premium on gold comes down, but according to present appearances, most unpleasantly recent contingencies. It is the appearance of the Brazilian troops, and Yellow Jack in Matto Grosso, which is the most unpleasant of all the contingencies, at least the accounts say, which are able to find. Three terrible reports of deaths from the Cholera in Rio de Janeiro, and were heard at 10 for the air was so thick with the cholera that it was impossible to breathe. It is a fact that such a first-class motor car was found.

We can find nothing of interest in the Argentine papers yesterday, except the news of the arrival of the Brazilian troops, and a divorce case in which Mrs. J. O. B. is petitioner, and her husband, Don L. P., respondent, etc., etc.

The list of La Plata gross profits for the City Agency for selling coal, food and drink offers a column of the papers of that city. A truly honest man to live in. A grocer of the name of Casca's wife would be a good character for the City Agency.
