Wednesday, April 16th. Uriburu for ever! The reaction in the old market to day was greater than yeserday, and before our friend Mr. Uriburg has had time to take his seat and enter his office, gold has fallen 50-60-even close on 70 points. The whole thing is too beautiful to last, and the fact stares us all in the face that now the market is in the hands of the most gigantic speculators In fact, Jay Gould and his friends will be outdone in Buenos Aires. Had gold drop ped gently and permanently, we would all have had more confidence, but with to day's panic and excitement confidence more disturbed than ever. Doubtless go was greatly overbought, and people with out gold or paper were buying what now they cannot carry and must sell at a severe loss. But such fearful oscillations in price are greater than this market can pear, and we may look forward to another most disastrous monthly settlement. The great and sudden fall in gold brought crowds of outsiders to the Bolsa; all bus ness people who wanted gold bought cash for their requirements, and this for a moment steadied prices. Telegrams came from London this morning giving: "Railway loan done; stocks rising," and this no doubt tended greatly to help the drop in gold. But speculators of no ordinary alibre have taken hold of the gold market, nd in all probability we shall shortly see just as strong a reaction for a rise as we ow witness for a fall. The business gives illions to those who know how to work the oracle.

Catalinas National Bank Muelles de la Plata even Banco Constructors, all up; all rising; all buyers; people wondering even why olders se'l, when but last week there was hardly to be found a lame duck at the Bolsa door to bid for them. Verily the are not advancing, but we are going back to last year, and the glamour of last July's prices hung over the Bolsa hall to-day But three days ago we were all on the broad of our backs. To-day we are all up in the skies. Buenos Aires! Buenos Aires for The R.M.S. Elbe took no gold, but ook over two hundred thousand pounds terling of Cedulas to England. Verily the supply keeps equal to the demand, and edulas go forward as briskly as ever. The hall and ring presented a phantasnagorical aspect to-day. The sudden change in the course of the gold premium wrought a magical effect on stocks, which, from being avoided as a thing unclean were as buoyant in certain respects as during the Augustan era of last year; holders were so jubilant with delight that the very mosaic of the floor seemed to reflect relief and hilarity; everything, in fact, seemed to have undergone a species of metamor-phosis, which resulted in a degree of improvement so accentuated as to be almost incredible. That much of this is due to a eturn of public confidence in affairs there can be no doubt, and coinciding with the onfirmatory news of the sale of the Proincial Railway, the immediate prospects were even too much for the pessimists, who felt constrained to believe in a return to happier auspices and brighter times. Activity in the brokers' circle was almost superhuman. Gold was banged away fast and furious on one hand, whilst on the other stocks were shouted for and snapped up as fast as sellers could be found. Of the precious metal over a million dollars changed hands, mostly for cash, the quotation opening at 270-which represented a difference of 15 points on the closing rate of yesterday—fluctuating between 256 and 265, and leaving off at the latter rate. For dates much the same state of things pre-vailed, though the uncertainty of the situation as yet seemed to militate against all such transactions. Cedulas boomed all round, the much-reviled P spurting up like a rocket to 56, and leaving off firm at 54.80. On the other board, lately remarkable for its dreary and monotonous tale of blank columns, the change was equally startling; quotations bristled up like mushrooms after rain, and the board was scarcely large enough to give room to all the stocks quoted, some of which have been lost to sight and almost to memory during the past few months. And what a recovery in prices ! National Bank Sharos stiff at 126, La Plata Moles unbending at 48, Flores Constructors unobtainable at 54, Catalinas ditto at 35. Such was the magic tale told by the blackboard at the ring this morning-a tale that left the whole market thunderstruck with pleased astonishment The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring: - Gold-$706,000 at 270 - 258 - 260-258 - 265 - 260-256 - 262 - 265 -
