There is nothing really mysterious in the fact that the Equitable Life Assurance

The reason is that the management Paris, 20th.—The Panama question is becoming more serious. The Deputies have agreed to the trial of their members, Vienna, Franciniere, Roche, Rouvier and Proust, and the Senators to that of Grey, Renault, Borel, Therson and Deves.

The vouchers of the drafts which the bankers there said they had burned have been found in the office of a notary.
Baron Galitz has arrived from Vienna and placed himself at the orders of the investigating commission.
There is great excitement, and many duels have taken place about the Panama question.
The republican papers are alarmed at the dimensions of the affair, as it is feared that the scandals will end by injuring the Republic.
It is generally thought that the dissolution of the Chamber is inevitable, and it is sought to avoid this, as the victory of the enemies of the Republic would be almost certain in a general election.
The explorer Montell has received an award on account of his return, with M. Badier, from his journey across Sahara Desert to Tripoli. The papers praise him greatly.
London, 20th.—A meeting has been held in London on the occasion of the proposed exhibition in 1895. The majority were in favour of the Exhibition.
The offer by a company of 4,000,000 to finish the Manchester Ship Canal has been accepted.
Rome, 20th.—The Italian Ambassador in London, Tornelli, has been summoned here to give his opinion on the Bulgarian question, as he represented Italy in Turkey for many years.
The Italian Chamber is invited to discuss the Triple Alliance is about to change its policy towards Bulgaria.
Paris, 20th.—Leroy Beaulieu, in an article on the Monetary Conference, says that it produced an exactly contrary result to that expected, as, instead of favouring Bi-metalism it has given fresh strength to the gold standard.
He thinks that the advocates of silver have been put out of the field for a long time to come.
Buenos Aires, 20th.—The marriage contract of Prince Ferdinand with Princess Marie of Edinburgh has been signed.
Vienna, 20th.—The Anarchist Friedlander has been sentenced to 13 months imprisonment.
Madrid, 20th.—The Anarchists have made seditious speeches in Seville and exploded bombs, without doing injury.
Government has given orders to treat them with the utmost severity.

(Per Haass Agency.)
Paris, 20th.—Government has asked the Chambers for the necessary permission to prosecute the Deputies ex-ministers Rouvier and Roche, as, instead of the Duke of Franciniere and Proust, for the Panama scandal.
The Government also asked the Senate's permission to prosecute Leon Roderic, Paul Daves, ex-Minister, and Borel, Therson and Albert Grey, brother of the late ex-President, all involved in the Panama scandal.
Both Houses will refer the Government's petition to Special Commissions.
These measures have caused an immense commotion in political and business circles.
Paris, 20th (evening).—The Deputies have consented to the trial of their members implicated in the Panama scandal.
The vote was taken by raised hands, and there was a great commotion.
The Senate has not yet decided, but it is known that its Special Committee will recommend the trial of its accused members.

Paris, 19th.—The application to allow the Chamber of Deputies to be refused; and it is said that the Chamber of Deputies will be asked to sanction the prosecution of several of its members involved in the Panama scandal. He has been summoned by the Government to attend the trial.
The Senate has not yet decided, but

REVIEW FOR EUROPE.
The Cabinet crisis passed over more easily than was expected. The Ancho-rense, Minister of Foreign Affairs, yearly act as Prime Minister 'pro tem' until the physicians of Dr. Bermejo think that gentleman's health sufficiently restored to enable him to assume office. Meantime the financial situation remains unchanged, and the Budget for 1893 has not yet passed through Congress. We are not in a position to say what is the cause of this delay in so vital a matter, but learn that an important Cabinet Council was held on the question of the Foreign Debt, the preliminary settlement of which is desirable, in order to introduce an entirely new system of finance from the commencement of 1893.
On this point Dr. Romero's views are sound, as he is opposed to the continuance of the Moratorio compact, which is plunging the nation deeper in debt every year: the deficit last year was 50 millions, and it will hardly be much less for 1892, while the Budget for 1893 shows an estimated deficit of 40 millions.
In this manner, at the conclusion of the Moratorio in Dec. 1893 the Republic will owe 140 millions (10,000,000 sterling) more than it did when the child-Lidderdale arrangement was made.
This is dishonour to the country, however it may suit the liquidators of the Baring estate.
We regret to say that the Budget now under consideration provides for additional duties for growing beer-roots. This is the more absurd and iniquitous as Mr.
Hansen estimates that the sugar-growers of Tucuman already receive 1,800,000 gold (2,000,000 sterling) yearly from the State to foment the growth of sugar cane. Other new industries are only waiting for an opportunity to demand similar bounties, such as the exportation of fat turkeys to England, which promises to give good results even without a bounty. The same may be said of preserved peaches, which have as yet no bounty, but promise to be an article of export trade. Cattle-raisers also are growing restless and demanding a bounty. If Congress encourages the industry we could readily ship millions to Europe. This terrible system of bounties, of course, imposes new taxes on the nation, and drains the Treasury of the public revenues.

Our statements, however, are generally more or less true, and we have learned nothing by the overthrow of the Mackenzie faction in the U. States.
The preparatory exhibition of articles to be sold at the World's Fair next year at Chicago was opened last night by the Finance Minister at Duran's Rooms in Calle Piedada. The display is exceedingly fine and varied (although not so magnificent as it might have been, if the exhibits had been of the quality that might be expected from a world-famous fair). The exhibits were arranged in the style of a museum, and visitors to Chicago will be specially struck by the collections of timber and minerals.
The Government commissioner, Don F. C. Meyer, is in charge, and the inauguration advertised to the trying times in which this exhibition has been got up and the very small sum expended, in view of which it is surprising how successful the exhibitors have been.
Among the new exhibitors are the Minister Romero passed a well-deserved eulogium on Mr. Victoria, but unfortunately, went out of his way to make an apothecary of Protection, declaring that the various proprietors of petroleum, etc., deserved to have their names inscribed in the Golden Book of the Republic; his speech has caused an unpleasant impression among the public, who are sweating and groaning under a tremendous tax on petroleum.

The big North American squadron, which is going to visit in turn all the principal South American ports, will leave Callao on the 12th inst. Calling at Iquique and Coquimbo on the way down, we may expect to see in this bay on the 23rd or 24th.
Under the command of Admiral Bancroft Gherard and left San Francisco South American round Cape Horn and up the East Coast, calling at Rio de Janeiro, Bahia, Santos, Valparaiso and Santiago, where it will be met by the squadron which was sent to the relief of it and is expected at New York to take part in the international navigation to be held there during the end of 1892. The squadron is commanded by the Baltimore, captain Briddan, the Charleston, captain Peck, the Boston, captain Wilson, the Yorktown, captain Evans.

for under Balmeada. A scheme is on foot by the central government, to offer an estimated cost of $100,000 sterling for the purchase of the Argentine army. The condition of Uruguay shows no symptom of improvement. Montevideo strikes the appearance of a plague-stricken city. Rumours of an impending war between Brazil and Uruguay have been industriously circulated. If there were a war it would offer a good excuse for a plentiful issue of shells, plasters, and in the end Brazil would not be allowed to annex Brazil. The treaty, which would then fall, of its own gravity, into the Argentine Confederation.

MAILS FROM CHILE.

SEVEN DAYS LATER.
Valparaiso, Dec. 10th.
The s.s. Potosi, which left for Europe on Wednesday, took with her the crew for the Chilean man of war, Capitan Prat, the largest vessel of the Chilean fleet, and the s.s. Potosi, which was shown in the various states where party leaders seemed inclined to force their pretensions to the call of Caseros at the point of the sword, and the removal of speculation from the Stock Exchange and the financial jugglery in practice under the present government, were intended to create uneasiness and distrust. In a new country a year passed in a year drawn, and notwithstanding all the drawbacks of the past months, Brazil has been able to recover from its depression, and to resume its former place as a model one, when suddenly, apparently without rhyme or reason, he throws up the sponge, and expunges the usual covetousness of "Excecionaria" from his visiting cards. I am sorry, Mr.
Pizarro, with all his faults, is a gentleman and honest, and really intended to regenerate his native province, and to do this he would have required the aid of the renowned son of Jupiter and Alca-zar. Dr. Pizarro has for years, almost for a life time, led the life of a Senator, Deputy, member of the Su-premo Corte, and society man in his own country. He is a man of much interest in who or what party gained
