THE PACIFIC MAILS. REVOLUTION IN PERU. Manifestos in Columbia and Bolivia.

We have files of the 'Mercurio' and 'Ferro-carril' to the 15th and dates from Peru to the 5th ult.

The steamer Payta from Callao arrived in Valparaiso at half past eight on the morning of the 15th with news that a revolution had broken out all through Peru. The departments of Arica, Arequipa and Tacna were entirely in the hands of the rebels.

Callao, 9.40 a. m. March 5th. All the southern districts of Peru are in open revolt. In several places the troops of the line pronounced against the Government, and the rebels have seized two small vessels of the fleet, the Tumbes and Lerzundi war-steamer.

The brig of war Almirante Guise was despatched from Callao under Lieut. Carreño having on board Marshal Castilla and several other notable men sentenced to banishment: their supposed destination was China.

We have news from New Granada to the end of January. General Mosquera pronounced a manifesto against the Pope's Encyclical on the occasion of his leaving as Plenipotentiary for the courts of G. Britain, Holland, Prussia, and Italy.

The new President of Bolivia, Gen. Melgarejo, has written a flattering letter to President Pezet of Peru, expressing sentiments of fraternal amity.

The news from Chile is unimportant. President Perez returned to Santiago much pleased with his visit to Valparaiso. The small-pox diminishes, the patients in hospital being now only 600. Several robberies and outrages had occurred lately. The news from Valdivia is good, the crops being very abundant. Valuable mines have been discovered at San Felipe, and rich deposits of coal in the desert of Atacama on the Bolivian frontier.

THE CONFEDERATE CRUISER KERMADOCK. The British barque "Far Away" arrived in Valparaiso on the 15th ult with newspapers from Melbourne to January 29th. The Confederate cruiser "Kermadock" entered that port on the 15th and obtained permission from the authorities to remain there nine days.

THE ARGENTINE SEIZURE. The vessels subjects of his deposed emperor, Gen. L., are giving our Chilean neighbors great trouble, and the friends of civilization will yet regret bitterly the treachery of Chile towards the adventurous Frenchman who was beginning to make the docile Araucanians good members of society.

Each successive mail from the Pacific brings more alarming news of the inroads and menacing aspect of the frontier Indians. In the 'Mercurio' March 6th, we have the following reports from Valdivia and Arauco to the 25th Feb.:

The frontier settlers are much alarmed, as the tribes in the vicinity seem to make common cause with those of Araucania now in revolt. The authorities seem waiting for the Indians to take the initiative, although several recent outrages might fully justify a casus belli.

The mails arrived yesterday, 25th, from Araucania with alarming accounts of the Indians, and a piquet of 25 grenadiers was at once despatched for Mulchen to reinforce the 4th batt. which was very much exposed, for want of cavalry, in case of a sudden attack.

Letters from Mulchen report that locality in a state of extreme terror, the people running away in all directions and the farmers trying to drive their cattle pell-mell to this side of the river. It was said that the caciques Huenchuman and Cancon, of Mulchen, had left for the interior, but this turns out untrue, as this morning they were still in their homes.

CHILE AND THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

In the midst of the most friendly relations, and even while a treaty exists to prevent the rupture of same, the press of Buenos Ayres, indulges in puerile and quixotic threats against Chile and gives vent to the base sentiments of unworthy citizens.

The articles we allude to are calculated to foster petty jealousies, and estrange the two republics. If this is the purpose of the editors of the 'Nacional' they would seem to ignore the mutual interests which bind the two countries, and seek to dig an abyss in which certainly Chile would have less to lose than the Argentine provinces.

Without entering into the present question, we believe that neither Chile nor the Argentine Republic has shewn clear title to the sovereignty of Patagonia and the Straits of Magellan. If the latter quotes as its argument the treatise published by Dr. Velez Sarsfield, Chile on the other hand has abundant reasons laid down by Sor Amunátegui.

those rights which we require Argentina to produce, cost what it may, we shall never forfeit an inch of ground to those who have less right than ourselves to the territories spoken of.

Neither the blustering nonsense nor empty threats of an ignorant press shall make us swerve from the claims which are our right. Let the 'Nacional' take this for our answer, and until the question be decided in the proper quarter it is useless to be fomenting rancors which can lead to nothing.

A WOMAN BROUGHT TO LIFE AGAIN.

THE SMALL-POX PLAGUE IN CHILE. In the 'Mercurio' of March 5th we read the following:

Last week in removing the sick from the women's hospital of Laza-retto, they took away to the dead-house a woman marked No. 1 instead of No. 12 who had actually died, the mistake arising from the confusion in removing so many patients to another hospital. Her name was Carmen Chacon, and her husband was greatly afflicted when informed of her death; she however soon came to herself and found to her astonishment nothing but dead bodies all around.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

EXCITEMENT AMONGST 'MANTY'-MAKERS. Thursday, April 6th, 1865.

The approach of Holy Week is creating an immense excitement amongst the worthy individuals who enjoy the name of milliners, mantua-makers, or any other title which they may have the honor of acquiring.

On last Wednesday the new Brazilian Minister was officially received by Governor Flores. The Ministers, chiefs, and a great number of military celebrities attended the ceremony.

It is said the owners of the Colon have made a splendid hit by her sale to the Brazilian Government. The Colon cost Urquiza and Cufini about one hundred and fifty ounces, so that they have made a clear profit of eight hundred and fifty ounces by her sale alone.

terity the simultaneous and almost miraculous recovery of both gentlemen. Let Montevideo then dress in its Sunday clothes, let the bells toll, the cannon boom, and proclaim the joyful intelligence to the world; let the rockets pierce the air and on wings of fire announce to the inhabitants of the moon and stars that Governor Flores' Brazilian gout is defunct, and Mr. J. C.'s illness radically cured; no danger of a relapse (guaranteed)—Viva Flores!—Viva la Patria!

You will probably be surprised to hear a voice from the Oriental shore crying out 'a hole in the mole, a hole in the mole.' It is not one small crevice, but an immense rent from one end of the mole to the other.

The crusade still continues against bread and milkmen. One fellow actually had the audacity to try and 'sell' the members of the Policia themselves. Out of five breads that he took to the Policia, there was over four pounds wanting to complete the standard measure.

On last Wednesday the new Brazilian Minister was officially received by Governor Flores. The Ministers, chiefs, and a great number of military celebrities attended the ceremony.

The Stromboli sailed during the early part of this week for Rio de Janeiro, where she takes in stores, &c. She will probably return to the River Plate in about three weeks, at the furthest.

No intelligence of importance has been received from the country this week. The camps, we hear, are in a most flourishing condition, and sheep-farmers rapidly pulling up for their losses during the revolution.

posed, I believe, by an Oriental. As a musical composition, it is certainly deserving of a great deal of praise, as for the originality! we shall say nothing about that.

A grand masked ball will be held in the Solis Theatre on Easter Sunday night. Preparations are also being made to celebrate the conclusion of Lent: rockets, balloons, &c., are in high demand.

ARRIVAL OF TAMANDARÉ. ACCIDENT TO THE URUGUAY.

THE TEVERE IN LIMBO.

The intelligence of the arrival of Viscount Tamandaré has been received with the greatest enthusiasm. Immediately on his getting to his hotel a party formed itself in the plaza, Oriental and Brazilian flags were quickly procured, two bands of music joined the already dense crowd, which then formed in marching order, and proceeded to the residence of the gallant admiral.

The Tevere is still agitating the public mind, the 'Juez de Comercio' has come to the final decision of not removing the embargo already placed on that ship: this interruption is a source of the greatest inconvenience both to Buenos Ayres and Montevideo.

LA PAZ, ENTRE RIOS.

There is great want of rain in this Department, and although the camps have plenty of grass, yet the cattle stray very much in search of water.

There is a rumor that Brazil will purchase largely horses and cattle from this locality, and that Mr. Myers has sold the small steamer (November) and Chato to the Brazilian Admiral. This will be a serious inconvenience to the cattle trade between Entre Rios and Santa Fé.

As it may be a lesson to many of our countrymen who will endeavor to introduce and carry out English manners, customs and systems amongst the savages, I send you full particulars of the case reported in the 'Standard' some days ago. A Mr. Alfred Arnold having purchased the stock of a sheep-farmer here, almost upon his arrival from England came, accompanied by his wife and child, to reside upon it, fully determined to have all operations on the farm in the house carried on with English system and punctuality.

Colonel Marques, who escaped from the 'carcel' at Buenos Ayres, for the murder of the lamented Camilo Rodriguez, left La Paz on the 30th of March, per Esmeralda steamer, en route for Paraguay.

Mr. William Gibbins, after an absence of 14 months in Entre Rios, has returned, per Pavon, on a flying visit to Ranchos, accompanied by Mr. Henry Beckwith.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Few of our readers will credit it, yet it is a positive fact that a splendid rodeo of horned cattle has been sold in the South at $40 per head 'al corte,' on three month's credit, and even at this very low price there are few buyers.

Yesterday we had a visit from a gentleman from Rosario who gives us the most glowing accounts about Col. Morris's beef-packing business; he will shortly have several hundred barrels ready to export.

Land is said to be so scarce in some of the southern partidos, that sheep-farmers are obliged to pay ten thousand dollars a year for each 'puesto.' This monstrous rent is more than what any 'puesto' in the country is worth, and we cannot understand how our countrymen are so foolish as to pay such rents for used-up camps, when if they move up to the north, or into Santa Fé, they can get
