

was one of the best and most successful things of the kind ever heard in Buenos Ayres, not only from the wonderful talent, execution, and variety displayed in the performance, but also from the unexceptionable and most intelligent audience in attendance.

The house, with the exception of the 'cazuela,' was extremely full, and we doubt not that had our Portefeña friends known the tenor and merit of last night's performance, not a vacant seat would have been found in the place.

Meanwhile, we must not close our remarks without mentioning the important part the Bouffes, Madame Pauline D'Hot and Leon acted in this not less interesting than celebrated concert.

In a word, we hope that with such a success before them, Messrs. Werner and Schramm will be considerate enough not to call this their last concert in Buenos Ayres.

asked them, half Spanish half English, 'what about Lopez, and if they would go up to the house for a cup of tea and a biscuit?' They did not require much pressing, so off we went whilst jogging along with the soldiers, I reflected on the rather unpleasant fix I was in. Mr. Parish, the Consul, was in Buenos Ayres, and never got a paper dollar from me for a 'protection,' nor I hope never will. The 'Une tasse de thé' was performed with much spirit, and it was a lucky forethought of Messrs. Schramm and Werner to add to their concert this delightful comedy, as short as it is sweet.
