CONCLUSION OF THE CRISIS.

THE BANK VICTORIOUS.

The sensation-carnival is over, the Bank has passed safely through the ordeal, and people are beginning in the coolness of reflection to wonder how the two Frenchmen succeeded in raising such a tornado. Happily, little or no damage has been done to the commercial public, as the run on the Bank subsided so suddenly; but during the 4 days that it lasted many people looked grave, and even those who believed the Bank could not break, began to fear it might be temporarily obliged to some measure taken on the strength paper, editor, or reviewer. We are opmillions daily called for.

A few speculators for the rise of currency threw out vague hints of an emission, which would no doubt put a speedy stop to the alarm, but the remedy would be worse than the disease; and we are happy to say the crisis has been saved in the manner which of all others reflects most credit on Buenos Ayres, and proves the confidence enjoyed by the Bank, among the merchant-princes of our city.

Second, there is no one in the Bank to attend to customers: the clerks are all busy at their desks, and not a word can be got out of them. that on Tuesday afternoon an English sheepfarmer, who has the most implicit confidence in the Bank, went to deposit 2,600 pats.; after vainly enquiring of some dozen of clerks, none of Englishman at last found himself close to a young clerk, who in the most uncouth and summary manner informed our friend that it was too late to deposit money. He tried to explain to the clerk that he was leaving for the camp next morning and could not wait, but all to no purpose. He accordingly left the office, stepped round the corner to Mauá, found the Bank closed, spoke to the Manager, who at once ordered the porter to open the door of the Bank, where the money was duly deposited. We call attention to this matter in the hope that the Provincial Bank will see the neces sity of appointing a gentlemanly clerk to walk up and down the office, whose business it should be to attend or parties who enter, and see that they are duly attended to. The gains of the Bank surely are sufficient to cover such trifling expenses. .

To the Editors of the 'Standard.' Gentlemen.

As I happen to be one of 'the friends alluded to in a letter which appeared in I know really happened. That Mr. X. gave a flock of sheep on shares to an Irishman-or rather our There is a great war made by some ill-used countryman-is true; that they squeeze at the Bank has terminated : of the Doctors against the sewing-ma- were counted to him, previous to his termination of the run on the Bank was calculathat there is much room for reform in chines, which are pronounced as highly receiving them, is also true; but that ted to restore confidence, but the rumor of a very the management of the Bank, no one dangerous to the health. We question Mr. X. conceived the idea of taking can doubt. First of all, the Bank very much if all the Doctors of Buenos them from him again in December last, neglect to publish its rate of interest Ayres put together can convince the is, I think, a secret known only to himin the newspapers, and when applied ladies of this extraordinary thesis self-no, not even this correspondent to on the subject, the Directors insist Sewing machines are pronounced a of your 'No Contract.' That he did great convenience and a saving of time not take them from him then, no, nor The principal creditor is the Provincial Bank demand him to give them up, is a fact Dr. Rawson is expected down from which cannot be safely contradicted, Corrientes on Friday or Saturday in for on the 23rd of January last, this one of the Argentine war steamers. The ill-used countryman of ours told Mr. table will be published in the regular ministerial crisis will then probably be | X. he would not care the sheep one gold and paper were slightly easier than yester solved: It is surmized that General hour longer; consequently Mr. X. was day. The time sales of specie were as follows: obliged to see they were attended to, and at great inconvenience put a man She is looked for with some anxiety, as in his place; he also at the same time As an instance of this, we may state she will bring definite news respecting demanded his part of the increase, which was consented to on the under standing that Mr. X. should have as workshops at Barracas are now broken much money or value as would pay for up, the materials all sold, and the the caring of the sheep for 23 days, engineers, &c., about to return to which our countryman should have whom even condescended a reply, the England. Quere. What about the done to put up his year. On the following morning I was called upon by in Barracas. our countryman to see if I would accompany him to the house of Mr. X. which I accordingly did, and then, with the assistance of another neigh bor-of our country man's own choiceto arrange for him the difficulties existing between himself and Mr. X Notwithstanding that the friends were of our countryman's own choice, Mr. X. did not object in the least to our also acting for him. Consequently as both in it. One cannot help remarking the parties, in the presence of several improvements that are daily being persons, expressed themselves perfeetly satisfied with our decision, we therefore gave it as our decision that $35 per day was at that time not too and business is lively. Men-of-war of much compensation for a man who had the Uruguay, for orders, 45s. &5PO, salted hides not only to pay and support the shepberd, but also to find him in horses, which, I can assure you, was no easy ey. You have spoken so often of what matter, when you consider the state of is doing here that it would be useless the camps at that time: 23 days was the time which, according to the custo what Montevideo was twelve months tom with sheepfarmers, our countryago, it is hard to believe that all the man was obliged to remain in charge improvements one sees should have of the sheep before he could claim his been made in so short a time. It is to part of the increase, which we also > to believe, did they not see it contradicted.

I sav f that I have said nothing here which I am not prepared to prove to be true, should it be necessary.

I am, Gentlemen, Your obedient servant, A WHITE MAN.
