FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1866.

THE NEW GOVERNOR INSTALLED.

TAKING THE OATHS.

GOVERNOR ALSINA'S SPEECH.

The crowd yesterday at the Chambers was extraordinary, and Dr. Adolfo Alsina was duly installed Governor of the Province, his inaugural speech being one of the finest we have heard in Buenos Ayres. The ceremony was very impressive, and attended with frequent and enthusiastic plaudits.

At 1.15 p.m. the ante-chamber was crowded, and we noticed among those present Dr. Valentin Alsina, father of the new Governor. The members of the General Assembly having taken their seats, the President, D. Emilio Castro, named a deputation of Señores Larrosa, Lavalle, Martinez, and others, to receive His Excellency, who had just arrived in the state-coach with white horses.

Dr. Adolfo Alsina walked through the ante-chamber with a firm step and meditative look, and on appearing at the tribune was received with loud and long continued cheering. The President proceeded to administer the oath.

"You swear to discharge faithfully the office of Governor, according to the Constitution, to defend the rights of the Province, to protect the Roman Catholic Religion and the cause of public morality.

"Dr. Alsina—I swear.
 "President—If so you fulfil, God and the country will aid you; if not, they will demand and arraign you."
 The President then addressed the new Governor as follows—

"Dr. Adolfo Alsina—You have been elected by your fellow-citizens Governor of the Province of Buenos Ayres, and in congratulating you upon the high trust so reposed in you, it becomes my duty as President of the Assembly to remind you of the solemn oaths you have just taken to defend the rights and integrity of the Province, and to administer according to the Constitution. I have every confidence that you will conscientiously fulfill the charge, and on the part of the Chambers I now offer you their fullest co-operation to promote the greatness and prosperity of the country (loud cheers)."

The new Governor then rose and said.

"Honorable Senators and Deputies—
 "I am filled with an emotion never before felt in my life, on this solemn occasion, and in taking the oaths of office I feel all the gravity of a new phase in my existence which is accompanied with the responsibilities of directing the destinies of my country. It is not in my mind a matter of form to swear on the Holy Gospels containing the history of Man's redemption, nor merely a tradition of Christian nations on the accession of a new magistrate, but a solemn adjuration to the Most High for his assistance in fulfilment of a sacred pledge.

"And if there were some means whereby we could ask of the Almighty to disclose the inmost sentiments of the heart, I would desire that my breast might be laid bare, confident that you would find my own honor and conscience pledged in the same purpose [cheers].

"In ascending the same chair of office which Gen. Mitre once occupied, I can say with him that the height of my ambition is realized, and that it will be study to prove worthy of such distinction. I now frankly declare that I will govern with my party, with that party which saved the autonomy of the Province in 1862, and whose watchword was "the rights of Buenos Ayres." I will defend these rights in the event of their being again assailed; but if the party who advocated the chimera of federalizing B. Ayres have now abandoned it as an exploded idea, if that cloud has entirely disappeared from our horizon, I will forget the passions or sentiments of all who upheld the beaten flag, and bear in mind that all are equal before the Constitution. I will govern with my party, but for all without distinction.

My first duty is towards the National Government, to which I will lend the most cordial assistance in carrying on the war to which we have been provoked, until the Argentine arms obtain a splendid vindication, for the glories of the Republic are also the glories of Buenos Ayres. In my opinion there is no ground for the fears of a collision between the National and Provincial Executives, each continuing as hitherto to exercise the prerogatives marked out by the Constitution. As in the physical world two planets revolve in their respective orbits without ever coming in contact, so in the moral order we have the Constitution defining the various attributes, and for such as are not clearly expressed the sense of patriotism will be sufficient guide. If the National Government continue as hitherto the Provincial will put no obstacle in its course; and if the Provincial follow the sage policy of our worthy predecessor, D. Mariano Saavedra, the National will nowise interfere in its jurisdiction.

My 2nd duty is towards the Province, to defend its rights and integrity, and promote the prosperity of this great portion of the Republic, which is connected with the rest by the links of brotherhood and the Constitution. In my administrative capacity my first care will be turned to the Campagna, which is in so lamentable a condition, partly owing to the Indian depredations, partly to its imperfect organization, and partly to the caprices of Nature. I will call upon you, hon. gentlemen, to dictate new laws giving stability to the rural population, for our Province is eminently pastoral, and on the Campagna depend all our riches. The first reform must be, to give a home to the poor 'gaucho,' and some stable means of livelihood, instead of dragging him away on every occasion to defend the frontier, I will, therefore, submit a project for the abolition of frontier service with militias.

The next point for study is the Paper-money, about which some laws have already been passed, and which the Chambers must follow up by Bank reforms calculated to make this institution the sheet-anchor of Commerce. Last, not least, we must think of reforming the Provincial Constitution, and as a proof of good-will towards the rest of the Provinces I would propose to alter Art 1st which says—

"Buenos Ayres is a free and independent State."

substituting for the same—
 "Buenos Ayres is one of the Argentine Provinces"—cheers.

In acknowledging the great proof of your confidence in me, by raising me to the post of chief magistrate, I promise to institute a regimen of morality, punishing whatever is wrong, even at the cost of private interests, and for the worthy acquittal of my enorous duties I count on three auxiliaries: 1st. Divine Providence, which has always so highly favored Buenos Ayres; 2nd. Public opinion, which seems favorably disposed towards the new administration; 3rd. The wise counsel and aid of your Hon. Chambers. In making this pledge, I trust that my conduct, as Governor, will never give you reason to say I have defrauded your just hopes or caused you to repent having elected me.—(Loud and continued cheering).

The Assembly then rose, and Dr. Alsina's friends pressed forward, with the eagerness usual to hail a new magistrate, to offer him their obsequious congratulations. His Excellency got into the state-carriage and drove to the Government-house, where a dense crowd filled the entrance and 'patios.'

We believe the new Ministry is not yet named, but D. Ambrosio P. Lezica is now spoken of as Finance-Minister.

THE MACHADO REBELLION.

ITS HISTORY, &c.

COURT-MARTIAL IN AZUL.

There is such a noise about the Machado rebellion, chasques running to and fro, Government orders despatched, &c., that our readers, both in town and country, take a vivid interest in knowing the real state of the affair.

Colonel Benito Machado is a native of Buenos Ayres, and about 49 years of age; he has two brothers, Hermindio and Patricio. The family has long been known in the south as one of the wealthiest in herds and estancias, and old Mr. Jacinto Machado, who was Justice of Peace at Dolores in 1838, was shot by Rosas for complicity in the great revolution of the south. On that occasion Gen. Lavalle had arranged to make an invasion from Montevideo, by landing at Loberia, and all the leading estancieros were leagued with him; but Rosas was before-hand with them, Lavalle was detained by contrary winds. Among Machado's ill-fated comrades was one Vicente Casco, a native of Paraguay, also estanciero, who was shot on the same day as Machado, in the Plaza of Dolores.

Benito, the eldest son, and his two brothers were driven to seek refuge at Montevideo. We have no knowledge of how they passed their youth until the fall of Rosas. When they returned the Government restored to them their estates. Hermindio married an estanciero's daughter, Patricio took to farming, and Benito was named Justice of Peace; he subsequently became Commandante of National Guards, and finally, for his services on the frontier, was rewarded by the National Government with the grade and epaulets of a Colonel of the line. His regiment is called Sol de Mayo, composed of veteran cavalry, which is reinforced by the 17th Regiment of National Guards.

There is much confusion in people's minds about the nature and motives of his revolt, some of the papers making it appear that he has pronounced against the Provincial Government. Colonel Machado's despatches and employment are from the National Government, and his only dealings with the Provincial Executive are as accidental commander of whatever militia forces may be mobilised to strengthen his regiment of veterans in defending the Indian frontier. He has, however, disobeyed both Governments, for we learn that he has sent back three several officers despatched by the War Office to dismiss him, and when Gov. Saavedra ordered him to disband the 17th Regiment of National Guards he treated the mandate with the same contempt.

For the last month or so, this incipient row has been going on in the thriving town of Tandil; the Col. with his officers have been living there, and urgent despatches arriving from town. Everyone who knew what was going on foresaw that there was a storm brewing. Machado is so well known in the South that he preserves a sort of feudal power over the Gauchos. Government finding that it was impossible to get any satisfactory reply from him took the rather summary step of ordering an investigation in the Colonel's conduct, and the evidence and statements sent from the other frontier officers on the centre and south lines were read and digested, and some tremendous charges brought against Machado respecting the Indian invasion last December at Tapalquen.

The Government at once ordered Machado to come up to town, but the Colonel did not come; a second despatch was at once sent, with a like result; a third was sent by Major Noguera, next in command of the regiment, who was ordered to take Machado's command and send the Colonel into town. When Noguera arrived at Tandil all was fuss and feathers, the whole town was in an uproar, and as is usual on such occasions, everyone took sides with the Colonel, who was more furious than ever. Noguera presented his orders, and the Colonel replied that "until the Government thought fit to approve and ratify his conduct he would not obey the order." Noguera after waiting 8 days for orders and finding he could do nothing, at once posted back to town; but before he got half way the murder was out, for Machado cleared out with all his officers from Tandil, and made for the encampment at the Tres Arroyos. He even took the soldiers that were in the town with him. When he got to his headquarters he at once called out all the Guardias Nacionales of the whole surrounding country, proclaimed the district and harangued his men, telling them that the Government wanted to make him prisoner and send him to Buenos Ayres, and that he, counting on his valiant soldiers, refused to obey. The soldiers cheered the Colonel, and, if we are to believe report, an officer was despatched to Azul to tamper with the division under Alvaro Barros. Machado seems to be remarkably wide-awake, for he sent an officer to Tandil telling the Judge that the Indians were coming in at the Sauce and to call out all the National Guard; Captain Gomez, who came from Machado, at once called out the National Guard. Meanwhile Machado has left the Tres Arroyos, and is calling out and gathering men, and, under the great bugbear of an Indian invasion, is getting horses, cattle and men from every estancia. A correspondent from the South, called the 'Centinela del Azul,' takes sides with Machado, and in fact all the judges, alcaldes and tenientes seem to be rather in favor of the recusant Colonel. The Minister of War is going to hold a sort of court-martial at Tandil; meanwhile we believe the best course to pursue is to proclaim Machado and caution the gauchos against obeying him. Los Tres Arroyos where Machado's headquarters are pitched, is distant about 30 leagues from Tandil.

D. PALEMON HUERGO IN LONDON.

On the arrival of the last packet a sensation was caused in the upper circles of our city by an announcement in the 'Times' of March 8th that D. Palemon Huergo and his black servant, Silva, were summoned before the Police-court for an assault on a woman named Mary Goodwin. We purposely abstained from making the slightest reference to so painful a subject, as it did not necessarily come within our jurisdiction. Meantime some officious friends circulated the news, diligently, adding details of an aggravated character, and numerous parties called on us to enquire—whether Sor. Huergo had been really condemned to ten years penal servitude?—whether it was not a 'criminal' assault? and such like. We showed them the report in the 'Times,' and they seemed to think it would be better if we published it. Some parties stated that the 'Standard' had circulated the story but we offered a reward of 500$ to whoever could shew us a single word upon the subject in our files.

We had intended to maintain the same reticence, but now that the 'National' publishes the letter from D. Palemon Huergo to Dr. Avellaneda we hasten to place the whole matter before our readers. We may observe that Sr. Huergo is a married man, brother-in-law to Dr. Avellaneda, and bears a high character both in general and domestic circles. He was Sub-secretary of Foreign Affairs before his appointment to accompany D. Norberto Riestra as Secretary of Legation, and intends remaining some years in Europe, travelling for pleasure. He speaks English well, having formerly resided some years in London.

The following is the police-report referred to:

WESTMINSTER POLICE COURT.
 March 7th, 1866.
 Mary Goodwin, Plaintiff;
 Palemon Huergo, Argentine Republic, and José Henrique Silva, his servant, both of 52, Claverton-st., Pimlico, Defendants.
 Palemon Huergo, Secretary to the Embassy of the Argentine Republic, and José Henrique Silva, his servant, both of 52, Claverton-st., Pimlico, were summoned for an assault on Mary Goodwin, a servant at the same house. Upon the summons being called on, Knowland, the officer, stated that there were no defendants. When the summonses were served they claimed exemption from the British law, as they were attached to the Embassy. Mr. Arnold said he knew nothing of the connexion of the men with the Embassy when the summonses were granted. He could not compel their attendance, but he would return the fees that the complainant had paid. If the complainant wished to make any complaint against them, she must make it at the Foreign-office, and they would probably be dealt with by the laws of their own country. The complainant and her witness then expressed their determination to proceed at once to the Foreign-office, and left the court for that purpose.

In our opinion Sor Huergo acted imprudently in availing himself of a technical plea to escape a charge that involved his own honor and that of the Argentine Legation, and he recognised this when too late, as we see by his letter to the 'Times' offering to appear before any tribunal, but the case had already been dismissed. Being personally acquainted with Sor Huergo, who was a neighbor of ours in Barracas, where he devoted his leisure-hours to gardening and cotton-planting, we cannot entertain a doubt as to the inoffensiveness of his character, and fully believe the following statement from which it appears he merely tried to rescue his black servant from the vigorous onslaught of an enraged Englishwoman who appears to have been a match for both.

London, March 22nd, 1866.

My dear Avellaneda,

In the beginning of this month we had a slight row in the house, a mere trifle, but I fear some kind friends will give wind to the affair, and it is as well that you should be able to contradict any unpleasant rumor that may be published or circulated in your city. The case was as follows—

My woman-cook got drunk and was throting my black man José Henrique de la Silva, when my attention was called by a tremendous smash in the kitchen, and I rushed to the rescue and turned out the cook. A few days afterwards she summoned me and my black man before a Commissary of Police, for having assaulted her. The case got into the newspapers, and as I was unwilling to appear a woman-thrasher I published in the 'Times' of March 13th the following letter, of which I send a translation so that you may yet it published if you think fit, but if it were better to say nothing about it, for such things get so much exaggerated when spoken of, do not publish it or connect my name with it:

52 Chaverton Street, S.W.,
 London, March 12, 1866.

To the Editor of the 'Times.'

I have been much surprised to see my name published in the papers in connection with a police-report, making it appear that I and my man servant assaulted a woman in my own house. As I wish to clear my name of any doubt in the matter I will feel obliged by your publishing the following statement:—

I was sitting in my parlour with my family when I heard a row down stairs, and going down found my black man and the cook fighting, the latter with a knife in her hand. Thinking José was the aggressor I called out to him, 'What the d—! are you doing there?' to which he replied: 'This woman has me by the neck with a knife in her hand.' I then went towards the kitchen door, but the combatants were now parted. Still being anxious to side with the cook (although José had never misconducted himself during 3 years in my service) I ordered José to withdraw, and begged of the cook to tell me what had happened. Hardly had my black man retired when the cook almost jumped over me, crying out, 'I am going to kill that black beast' (although he is not quite a negro), and at the same time she made a rush at him. I then ran after the woman and feeling a repugnance to strike her did my best to separate them, but accidentally touched her face. As I was nervous about a disturbance occurring in my house, for she was awfully enraged and half drunk, I refrained from calling in the police, especially as I was the only witness. I therefore sent her about her business. A few days after I got a summons, and not wishing to have my name mixed up in a quarrel between servants, at the Police-Court, I called at the office, and after explaining the occurrence to the clerk, told him he was perhaps not aware when he issued the summons that I was Secretary to the Argentine Legation, and that I would not appear, lest my name should be bandied about. He told me that he saw how things stood, and "that as my case was a trifle it would not appear in the newspaper police-list." Judge then, Sir, my surprise, after all my efforts to hush the affair up, when I saw it published in your columns. Under these circumstances permit me through your paper, now that the affair is public, to state that I am ready to stand my trial before the same or any other court, since the manner in which you have reported the case would lead people to believe me a vulgar, coarse fellow, when I only tried to save my black man from a furious woman who afterwards hauled me up before a Police-magistrate for the purpose of extorting money.

I am,
 PALEMON HUERGO.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

There is a very general desire to know where the new Governor is going to reside. Some think his Excellency ought to take Olivera, the great cigar man's new house, at the corner of the Plaza, others think that Fusoni's in Calle Cangallo would be more the thing; hitherto his Excellency has been a neighbour of ours living round the corner of our office.

The number of unemployed young men in town passes credence. Yesterday an advertisement for a Custom-house clerk for an English house appeared in our columns: before 9 o'clock in the morning over 200 young men called at our office in answer to it, and the whole day long the applicants for the post kept calling. As we sent them all up to the house in question there must have been a squeeze in the manager's office, or the police put on the door.

It may not be generally known that, according to the extraordinary postal arrangements in England, letters for Lisbon, prepaid, have first to go to England, whilst those unpaid go direct. We call attention to this for the benefit of our subscribers.

A subscriber from Salto called on us yesterday; he tells us that although many years in the country he never recollects so splendid a season as the present—the grass is high, water plenty, and lambing still going on. Our informant has already marked his lambs 25 per cent. of his stock on the estancia. In March there was one sale of sheep, one-fourth of a flock at $40 m/c, but no other sales have been effected. The young stipples are now so high that it is difficult to get through them. There are several new medianeros; many new pasteros have been put up; in a word, Salto is going ahead.

The Felix Colon is at last finished; she has been inspected by order of Government and is an entirely new boat; her name now is the Itapiru. She left Marshall's famed steamboat yard on Wednesday, steamed out of the Boca in splendid style at half-past one o'clock, and made a most satisfactory trip in the river, with Mr. Marshall and Mr. Pollock, the Government Engineer, on board. She will leave the Tigre to-day for Corrientes and Itapiru. Mr. Pollock goes up with her. She will act as a Government despatch boat to convey Pres. Mitre's orders. She consumes very little coal, is a fast sailer, and reflects the greatest credit not only on our friend Marshall, but also on Mr. Pollock, who has been most untiring in his efforts to get the boat ready. We never thought the Felix Colon could be made such a capital boat.

Respecting the Argentine Consul in Sweden, who figures in the papers as writing about the Argentine Republic, we have been favored with a visit from a Swedish gentleman, who shewed us the paper in question. Mr. Smith, the Consul, has been many years in this country; he is now a leading broker in Stockholm, and a member of a literary society called the 'Idna,' the members of which embrace all the aristocracy and wealth of Sweden: at the January meeting Mr. Smith was the lecturer, and his theme the Argentine Republic, which caused so much attention, that the paper in question speaks most favorably of it. We cannot too highly praise the conduct of Mr. Smith in thus imparting to his countrymen correct information respecting this country, and would like to see all the Argentine consuls in Europe imitate Mr. Smith's example.

The very graceful salutation from our esteemed colleague the 'Nacion Argentina,' on the occasion of our fifth birth-day, merits our especial thanks.

The 'Nacion' has had a hard card to play amidst the contending political factions which ever and anon gain ascendancy...

The steamer Uruguay, which Lopez seized in Corrientes, has been retaken by the Brazilians in a small arroyo behind Itapiru.

An Irish sheepfarmer recently rented a league and a half of ground at the enormous price of $100,000 per annum...

Yesterday we had no mails from Montevideo, nor chasques from the south—dull times for editors.

The Pollux arrived yesterday afternoon from Rosario, she brings no news of importance.

The Cricket match comes off to-day. All the clerks in town who have generous patrons expect a holiday.

On Wednesday, at half-past 2 o'clock, a chasque was despatched to President Mitre announcing the election of Dr. Adolfo Alsina as Governor...

THE WELSH COLONISING AND GENERAL TRADING COMPANY (LIMITED)

CAPITAL, £50,000 IN 5,000 SHARES OF £10 EACH.

DIRECTORS—Captain Richard Delahoye, Ship Owner, North Parade, Aberystwyth; Michael Daniel Jones, Esq., Bodriwan, Bala; Messrs. Owen Edwards, 22, William-square, Liverpool; Griffith William Thomas, Accountant, 7, Abbey-street, Chester; Thomas Wood, Estate Agent, 24, St. Werburgh-street, Chester.

BROKER—David William Davies, Esq., Ship Broker, Brunswick-street Liverpool.

BANKERS—The National Provincial Bank of England.

TRAVELLING SECRETARY—Mr. David Lloyd Jones, Festing.

CENTRAL SECRETARY—Mr. Thomas Cadivor Wood, 24, St. Werburgh-street, Chester.

This company is established for the following objects:—

- (a) To charter, purchase or build sailing or steam ships or boats. (b) To convey passengers or goods to and from the Welsh Colony or colonies in Argentine Territory, South America, and to and from all other ports and places wheresoever. (c) To obtain land by purchase or concession, in the said Welsh Colony, or elsewhere, and to purchase all agricultural stock and implements whatsoever, and to re-sell the same. (d) To construct wharves, warehouses, railways, roads and any other works whatsoever, in the said Welsh Colony, or elsewhere. (e) To purchase and re-sell any goods or merchandise at any ports or places whatsoever. (f) To do all such other things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the above objects.

It is computed that the minimum Annual Emigration from Wales averages 10,000 persons, and the rapid increase of population, combined with the strong tendency of all British races to emigrate, as well as numerous other causes, will certainly maintain Welsh emigration for many years to come at the average of past years, whilst the great probability is that the old average will be surpassed.

An agitation has long been sustained to direct a portion of this large stream of foreign emigration to some one country; in order that Welshmen might settle together and conserve their religious and national institutions, whilst reaping the full benefit of the industry and aptitude for business which characterises them at home and abroad.

common with gentlemen of other countries interested in the attempt to ameliorate the mode of Emigration, were consequently induced to make very searching inquiries as to the desirability of the Argentine Territories as the locality in which to establish the projected colony.

The high eulogiums passed by the late Admiral Fitzroy, and by the authors of Tallis's and of Martin's Atlases, upon the TERRITORY OF THE CHUPAT, which is under the Argentine Flag, and is only 800 miles distant from Buenos Ayres, induced the promoters to send commissioners for the special purpose of inspecting that territory, and, if they were thoroughly satisfied as to its desirability, of arranging terms with the Argentine Government.

The result of the commissioners' labours was that a first company of settlers left Great Britain in May, 1865, to found the Welsh Colony. Those people are now established on the banks of the River Chupat, S. A., and are in excellent spirits, being perfectly confident of success.

Upwards of 70 letters have been lately received from the colony by the parents and friends of the first settlers, and many of these letters have been published through various channels. Attention is respectfully called to a pamphlet containing copies of all the letters which have been published, and a large amount of authentic and valuable information about the Argentine Republic generally.

The testimony of the colonists more than confirms all that has been advanced concerning the fertility of the soil, the salubrity of the climate and the advantages of the country, which enjoys highly important facilities for maritime trade, as it lies midway between Great Britain and Australia, and within a short distance of the course of all vessels rounding Cape Horn.

The Welsh Colonists will, without delay, be supplied with a large stock of sheep and cattle to enable them advantageously to enter into the trade for which Buenos Ayres has so long been celebrated, viz.—the export of wool, hides, preserved meat, &c., &c.

Competent judges have declared the produce of several Guano Islands in the possession of the Colony to be very valuable, and the seal fisheries along the coast, which have during many years past been worked by Americans, enjoy a high reputation as a lucrative speculation.

The directors confidently expect that the continual and rapid development of the resources and trade of the Argentine Republic, and the success of companies established on a basis similar to that of the Welsh Colonising and General Trading Company Limited, will furnish a material guarantee that this company will share in the general prosperity.

This Pamphlet is entitled "Letters from the Settlers in the Welsh Colony in the Argentine Republic," and may be had from any bookseller, or from the Central Secretary of the Welsh Colonising and General Trading Company Limited, from whom all publications conveying information about the Argentine Republic may likewise be had.

RAILWAY ACROSS THE ANDES.

The construction of a railway from the River Plate across the Andes to the Pacific is believed (says the 'Bullionist') likely to be realised within the next ten years. Already 240 miles of the route are in course of rapid construction from the port of Rosario, in the River Plate, to the interior city of Cordoba; and there can be little doubt that, with the progress of immigration and settlement, this (the Central Argentine) line will be steadily extended.

Mr. Wheelwright, who may be considered the father of the project, continues devoted to it, and by the last mail writes as follows:—"I am in hopes to find means to carry out and complete the survey of the Cordillera from the point called the Southern Pass, in Chili, down north to Copiapo, in order to determine if a more favourable pass can be found than that which I have already surveyed—the pass of San Francisco. There are seven favourable points to be explored before it can be finally determined which is best." The success of the Mont Cenis experiments will greatly accelerate all enterprises of this character.

SIX SHILLINGS AND EIGHTPENCE per lb. FOR "FRESH BUTTER."

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

Gentlemen, I will trouble you for a little space to place the present price of 'fresh butter' before the public, $40 per lb. I have recently come down the river in charge of an invalid lady, and amongst my list of items that of fresh butter was placed. I was directed to a very respectable 'almacen' in Calle Piedad, where the genuine article is received and vended to strangers only as a favor; however, I placed myself in communication with the assistant (a most intelligent and pains-taking young man), made known to him my case, and immediately had his sympathy, but he told me they received none to-day, owing to the price, which would be $40 per lb., but wanted to use it 'medicinally' he would try and procure me one lb., subject to the price. I went round to Crawwell's, in Rivadavia, and got a bottle of soothing syrup for $20 that relieved the patient and made her forget dreaming about butter. Now I am a constant reader of the 'Standard,' and I see how fruitless your efforts are to encourage an industrious population. We have plenty of Irish estancieros here who have always been celebrated for this branch of industry when in their own country, also Scotchmen, who when in the Highlands were able to make this precious article from the goats that fed on the heather. But all seem to forget their industry when they come here; they get acclimatised immediately. Sheep are cared, because it is an established business, and they live so long as grass grows and get a sufficient run, consequently we export wool and hides, the latter being taken off from necessity; but to establish any new project of industry, that would be attended with a little trouble or labor, seems impossible. Now, farmers give as a reason, the want of grass keeps them from making the attempt, forgetful that dairymen in England feed their cows in the winter season from the proceeds of the brewery, viz., wash and grains. And surely here our breweries are numerous enough, and so far advanced in the art as to brew 'Ind Coope's Ale,' and why not have wash and grains to dispose of for the feed of cattle?

Now, I should like to see in the next packet edition, amongst wants and inducements for domestic servants, that of 'dairymen' coupled, and placed conspicuously in italics, and if you hold out 6s. 8d. per lb. for fresh butter, you will have them coming out here by the dozen, which would prove an actual service to the country, and return to themselves a remunerative profit. Now if the manufacturer of this article be sane in his ideas, the consumer at the present price must be insane.

Yours truly, "One who won't pay 6s. 8d. per lb. for Butter."

ON CHANGE.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Paper price of ounces (418), Do. Sovereigns (127), First price of patacons (26 16), Second (26 10), Last (26 16), Cash sales (12,607).

The specie business could not be duller, although other business is brisk enough. Patacons rule very steady, and no effort of 'bulls' or 'bears' can much alter their price.

Governor Alsina's speech was the topic on 'Change; the 'Tribuna' supplement was read with avidity, as all parties were desirous of knowing his Excellency's sentiments. The speech was so temperate, judicious, and sound, that it produced a very good effect, and even Mr. Alsina's bitterest opponents on the Bols admitted that his programme was unexpectedly good. Great hopes are entertained of the new Governor, and that by his judicious acts he will consolidate peace and order in Buenos Ayres.

Respecting Machado there is still much talk and few on 'Change like the appearance of things. It is even said that some of the other chiefs have joined him, but how true this may be it is difficult to say. It is hoped that Minister Martinez will have a personal interview with Machado, and arrange the disputes which have caused such unlooked for trouble.

Respecting the Gas Shares, there is a general wish that Sr. Estrada would call a meeting to take into consideration the propriety of declaring a semi-annual dividend. There can be no doubt but that the measure will be ultimately carried.

The cash sales were as follows: For Saturday, 16,000 at 26 15; May 31st, 60,000 at 26 45; May 16th, 2,600 at 26 25.

In National Bonds there was a small transaction, cash, at 40, and 10,000 for end of May at 40. The steamer Pollux, from Rosario, arrived to-day, but brought no news from Corrientes. There is much anxiety to hear from Itapiru. Some suppose that the war is already over, but we fear this is too good to be true, neither do we think it probable that there has been any serious engagement. The departure of Sr. Octaviano is talked of, and it is pretty generally believed that this moots a speedy termination of the campaign.

Messrs. C. W. Benn & Co. have placed on the berth to load for Antwerp the British brig Jane Browne, current rates. Mr. O. Rossi has chartered the Oldenburg brig Jason, to load here 5,500 to 6,000qk jerked beef for Matanzas for orders, 5 1/2r and 10p.

In Exchange there has not as yet much been done; the rate is 51 1/2 and 51 1/2 on England, and 5 38 on France. Very little was done to-day; the total amount passed on England is put down at $50,000, and on France 600,000 francs. The private banks are drawing at 51 on England and 5 30 on France.

In saladero produce there is very little to note; the saladeristas are doing very little and the season may be said to be nearly over. The following sales we note: 100 Pipes tallow, 16r; 200 Half-pipes, 15 1/2r; 1,000 Salt cowhides, 48tb, 25 1/2r.

In the plazas the sales have been: 2,000@ mestiza wool, burry, 70; 3,000@ do do do, 73; 1,500@ do do do, 65; 400@ lambs, 48; 120@ tallow pesado, 37; 1,600 dry hides, camp, 105; 200 dozen sheepskins, good, 130; 2,700@ mestiza wool in deposit, 80.

A large amount of Cordova wool has been disposed of during the last few days, and, in fact, a brisk demand for wools continues, although in the North Plaza wools are rather heavy. The firm of Jolly and Mallet is dissolved. Mr. Jolly winds up the affairs. The following gentlemen have applied to be admitted as members of the Bols: Messrs. J. Rochart, J. Dolfinio, J. Wolkmann, Teodoro Boascht, Juan de Soubiron, Julio Gaglioli, Juan Jurat.

New Brokers—Mr. P. Sala and Mr. E. Gorra. COAL. 50 tons Glasgow, 14 pats. BAD BILLS. A number of $500 bad bills are said to be in circulation. The paper is good, having, as is rumored, been stolen from the Bank, but the signatures are said to be forged. A leading broker called our attention to this matter, and requested us to call attention to it.

WOOL CIRCULAR—(per French mail). Liverpool, March 21st, 1866. The chief business in River Plate wool since the mail of the 8th was by auction on the 13th inst., when 1137 bales were brought forward, all fresh arrivals, including 460 bales of the Jackson clip. Prices and sales were as follows: Offered. Sold. 913 Bales Entre Rios, 815; 203 " Banda Oriental, 195; 21 " Montevideo, none.

Washed 1st Mestiza, 1s 4 1/2d a 1s 4 1/2d; 2nd " 1s 3d a 1s 8d; 3rd " 1s 6d; 4th " combing 1s 5 1/2d a 1s 7d; " Lambs 1s 3d a 1s 6d; " Belices 9 1/2d a 1s 0 1/2d.

Unwashed Merino 8 1/2d a 11d; 1st Mestiza 8d a 10 1/2d; 2nd " 9 1/2d a 10 1/2d; 3rd " longcombing 10 1/2d; " Lambs 8d a 1s 0 1/2d; " Belices 5 1/2d a 8d.

These prices, though scarcely equal to the sales of February for unwashed wool, which was then very scarce, must be considered to have participated in the advance which has taken place since November in fine Colonial wools; the parcels were all in good condition, and must be quoted 1/2d to 1d in unwashed, and 1d to 2d in washed, above the then current rates: ill-conditioned wools would not have fared so well.

There have been no sales reported in hand-washed Montevideo from first hands. Very little has transpired in Cordova and Santiago wool, and that at former rates.

To the proprietors of horses. As the winter season has now set in and the camp is improving I beg to advise horse-owners that I am ready to take charge of horses at so much per month for pasturage, at the same time making myself responsible for the value of any horses lost (not including such as may die a natural death), on the following conditions:

1st. Horses not exceeding 600 in value will pay $05 per month.

2nd. Horses worth from 600 to 1,000 will pay 100¢ and horses worth over 1000$ shall be charged 10 per cent., on their value for monthly pasturage.

3rd. Horse-owners will have to send for their horses to the estancia, and when delivering them will get a receipt from the Mayordomo; but when there are more than horses the undersigned will send to take them or return them to town at 60¢ a head.

4th. Horse-owners may leave their animals as long as they like, but cannot take them away until first paying whatever is due for them.

5th. After 4 months of pasturage the owner will be required to pay the cost of same, and if this be not satisfied within a further term of 2 months the horse will be confiscated as property of the estancia and branded with the estancia-mark.

6th. Every horse-owner will receive a ticket bearing my signature, expressing the value of the horse left for pasture, the date and conditions.

7th. Every horse-owner shall deliver to me the 'boletos' of the horses or a copy of same, to prevent the horses being seized as stray animals.

8th. In case of a horse dying, a piece of his hide with the mark will be returned to the owner.
