MAUÁ BANK,

CALLE CANGALLO, Nos 101—103

The Offices of this Bank having been removed to the above specified building, in order to suit the increasing flow of business, the public is informed that the following transactions are carried on in currency and specie in this Bank:—
First—Bills and obligations with good signatures are discounted on conventional terms.
Second—Money is advanced on mercantile and other securities approved of by the Manager.
Third—Accounts current are opened with Merchants or other parties who may prefer depositing endorsed and transferable securities, against which they may draw up to an amount previously convened under conditions established for such class of operations.
Fourth—Money is received in account current, bearing interest from day of deposit, which is accumulated in favor of the parties every three months, the depositors being allowed to retire at any time, by means of cheques, part or the full amount at their wish, save when the quantity exceeds three hundred doubloons or one hundred thousand dollars currency, in which case forty-eight hours previous notice is required to be given at the Treasury of the Bank.
Fifth—Bills or letters of credit are drawn and taken on Montevideo, Rosario, Sta Fc, Suito Oriental, Paysandú, Rio Janeiro, and other places in the Brazil, England and France, as also on other places, of which notice will be given hereafter.
Finally, the Bank undertakes and executes all legitimate transactions within the orbit of banking operations.
The establishment is always open from 9 a.m. till 3 p.m.

TUESDAY, JUNE 26, 1866.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

TERRIBLE BANK CRISIS.

ADMIRAL RAMSAY EXPECTED.

FREE BANKING A SHAM.

To be out of the fashion is the same as to be out of the world. London, Paris, Hamburg, and Rio are all undergoing the effects of a financial crisis—next American mails will probably bring us similar news from New York—and why should not Montevideo follow suit? This place is in such a fearful state that I cannot attempt to describe it to you. The streets were full of people running from bank to bank, and all the changadores in town have been actively employed in carrying specie in small bags; indeed, to such an extent has this crisis fashion reached, that every one of tone has a peon behind him with a small cauvass bag, apparently full of specie. I keep a nigger constantly at my elbow with a bag more suitable for carrying coal than gold; people stare as they see us pass by. I had a great notion of putting a placard on the sack—"El crisis"—but I was afraid the Chief of Police might arrest my young man Phillips. Joking apart, this place is in a fearful state, and I cannot see where it will end. All the banks in town, with the exception of Mauá, say they will redeem their notes in gold, but this amounts to nothing; if they would say that they would pay their depositors in specie, then the fear and trembling would be less general, but nothing of the kind. All the houses who kept their funds in account current with the banks, and who paid to the bank in gold, now get paper of an uncertain value in payment; and as the merchants held back from withdrawing their money during the panic last week, they are now the principal losers.

Free banking laws are now completely played out. Had we less banks, there would have been fewer losses. I tell you, gentlemen, that there is not the remotest possibility of a resumption of specie payments until the war is finished, and even then, "quien sabe?" People blame Mauá, and blame the Minister; but the real cause of the suspension is the war. Look at the state of affairs in Rio Janeiro! In B. Ayres you are all in the dark; you know not how things stood here until the smash came; and if your newspapers can be regarded as the proper exponent of the public mind, you are all steeped in the greatest ignorance as to the Rio market. We have been crying out for peace here. In Rio the whole community clamors for the same, but in Buenos Ayres you are all for war. The great bulk of your politicians insist, I am told, on the war being carried on, and they say here that so intense is the war feeling in Buenos Ayres, that any man who talks about peace is regarded as a Paraguayan spy. Can this be possible? Are then all the chief bankers of Rio Janeiro Paraguayan spies? Is every man, woman, and child in Montevideo a Paraguayan spy? Tell your politicians to look out for the next news from Rio, for here it is quite current that the Ministry have been turned out of office by the unanimous vote of the people, and a peace Ministry, i.e. Paraguayan spies, installed. I could tell you much more about this peace business, but that I believe it is better to let events take their course.

When Minister Octaviano came down here, you people in Buenos Ayres thought it was to send his family to Rio and inspect the hospitals. Nothing of the kind; and if you want to know more, I refer you to Villalba, the Bank Inspector.

The Montevidean Government is very unjustly blamed for the suspension decree; if the truth be told, they had no other alternative, for if the Mauá Bank went smash, what would have become of Montevideo? I name the Mauá Bank, because it does more business here than all the other banks put together. But have you looked at Villalba's statement? The soundest banks on the list were Navia's and the Rver Plate; they had gold to pay their notes, yes; but what had they to pay their depositors? Securities. Of what avail would even the best securities be in such a crisis? Read the "Times" on what is called finance paper, and then tell the value you can put on the best paper in this market. The Government has been forced to this decree to save the whole country from bankruptcy and ruin, and this suspension act is probably the first fruit we reap in the River Plate of the Triple Alliance Treaty. It may be indiscreet on my part to tell you, but I assure you, that it is the conviction of all here, that ere long, if things go on as they are going, similar measures will have to be resorted to in that paper dollar Athens which you extol so much.

The enormous losses caused by this specie suspension decree can only be estimated by those who know well our market. Millions and millions represent them. Politicians are hard at work, and political capital has to be made out of the matter. The Merchants' Committee waited on the Government with the resolutions adopted at their meeting, but the Minister could do nothing. The Government has become in one day most unpopular, and that amongst the very class which hitherto was its warmest supporter. There is apparently a storm brewing. But enough on this subject.

Our new Admiral, I hear, is expected out by the next English packet, meanwhile your friend the Captain of the Gleaner is Port-Admiral, and has the station under his charge; the Linnet has been sent up the Uruguay on a cruise; the Triton down to the Chuput with Captain Watson from the British Legation.

The residents of Rosario have petitioned Government to subdivide their partido and create the Section of Rosario into a distinct partido—it contains about 8000 inhabitants and some 200 square leagues. I believe the matter finds favor in the Government House, and that it will eventually be carried out.

The Buffoes are still drawing crowded houses. Pauline is the great attraction, dresses with Parisian taste and magnificence, and gives splendid supper-parties to her friends.

On Tuesday the Philharmonic gives its concert: it promises to be well attended. As Sprunck, your agent, sells pianos and music I suppose he is the best party to look to for a critique on the concert.

Why don't you get Mr. Pfeill, the Secretary of the Emigration Society, to send you some details as to what they are doing? people say here that in the way of immigration it does nothing; as the secretary is an Englishman he might condescend to send you some details now and then.

Bustamante's mission to Brazil is now well known: he received a private letter from Bismark stating that war in Europe was inevitable, and in order to secure the first news he went to Rio to arrange about supplements.

The cold weather still continues. "So much for Buckingham," is the motto. Coal is going up, but not up the river. Gold at a premium of 2 per cent. The Oriental leaves in the morning. Nothing else new.

I have tried to find out the rats of exchange for you, but everyone tells me there is no rate, no exchange.

DIARY AT HEAD-QUARTERS

CRITICAL POSITION AT ESTERO BELLACO

PARAGUAYANS SHELLING THE ALLIES

FULL AND TRUE ACCOUNT BY COL. TALLEJA.

June 11th. At midnight a sharp musketry between the enemy and the 3rd Brazilian volunteers, which lasted 2 hours, but no one hurt. Brought up three rifled guns—12 pounders—to cover our men relieving the picquets, but the enemy did not fire this time; our men are careful now not to expose themselves outside the lines. The Paraguayan deserter of yesterday informs us, that Lopez has made 3 roads through the woods on our left which cover his right flank at Curupaity: also that Resquin was sent (either wounded or a prisoner) on the night of the 24th to Asuncion; this man confirms the story of Lopez's mother coming to supplicate him to submit to the allies, when he swore to die first with his whole army. We are all falling sick of fever and dysentery: what will it be when the rainy season sets in? There is no talk of offensive operations yet: to-day General Mitre visited General Flores. It is the anniversary of the battle of Riachuelo, which is claimed as a victory both by Paraguay and Brazil; for Lopez and Don Pedro both struck medals in its honor. We have found on the corpse of a Paraguayan gunner one of them "11th of June medals."

June 12th. Enemy's sharpshooters firing as usual all night, but the morning was quiet; our men were busy all day getting rations of beef and fariña. President Mitre, accompanied by a French officer specially sent out by Napoleon III, came to see General Flores. There was a council of war to-day in President Mitre's tent, probably about Baron Port Alegre and his men; for, General Flores, on his return, at once despatched one of Castro's officers to act as guide in Misiones. The afternoon was quiet, our men going through musketry-practise, and the enemy only sending a shot now and then. At night the Paraguayan bands of music played up spirited airs, but we heard none of the diabolical din and shouting which they usually raise.

June 13th. Night and morning passed off quietly; the enemy drilling infantry in the afternoon. Last night the enemy made great bustle with artillery and baggage, which is probably meant to mount a heavy battery on his right and bombard our camp. We also noted movements of troops on our right. The sickness of our troops increases every day: not one of us escapes the Chuché, which completely prostrates a man, but is cured in a few days with quinine. There is hardly a sound man in the army. Pres. Mitre at last discovers that we are in a fix. It is said that every effort is made to procure at once horses and mules to make a move forward, and that Baron Port Alegre will not come at all now; his infantry will cross at Itapebá and intrench itself, while his cavalry will make raids through Misiones to stop the enemy's supplies of horses and cows. I cannot guarantee this, but the days and months are passing and the spirits of our troops ebbing away. I hear the Admiral is now ready to destroy Curupaity and shell Humaitá, but he prefers waiting for two more ironclads. Lopez is fortifying the land side of Humaitá, and bringing the guns of Curupaity to strengthen his right. We cannot move till we get horses; say 700 horses and 100 mules from Montevideo, and 1400 cart and saddle horses from Buenos Ayres. The Brazilians are getting horses, but they have to drag their guns with mules or oxen. This evening we were joined by the remains of the Garibaldi and 16th Volunteer batts., who quarrelled with their commander, Gen. Victorino, and he has been removed by Osorio; they did not pull well with the Brazilians. Great bustle of waggons, &c., again last night in the enemy's camp.

June 14th. Great movement of guns and carts by the enemy last night. I relieved the picquets at daybreak, and got near the enemy's rifle pits, but not a man was to be seen. At 10.30 the enemy showed great activity; two heavy columns of infantry and cavalry moved down on our right and extreme left. At 11 a.m. a body of horse and foot came down on us with awful yelling, and a musketry fight ensued. At 11.30 the enemy fired 3 shots, and then his entire line belched forth shot and shell upon us for 5 hours, till dusk: Lopez gave us a peppering. This explains the enemy taking his heavy guns from Curupaity, which the Brazilian fleet ought to have destroyed instead of waiting for more iron-clads. The enemy fired 15 lb. shells with such precision that some burst in General Flores's tent, others in Malet's battery (Brazilian), others among the Florida and Abril batt.: they kept up the fire incessantly, throwing bombs into all parts of our camp, and even hitting the watch-tower erected by President Mitre. They threw at least 2,000 shots, from 30 pieces, some of them rifled, and their horse and foot harassed our lines: our loss was hardly 100 men. Alas! that our artillery played so poor a part, hardly replying to the enemy's shower of shot and shell, although we had some small rifled-guns of long range. Nevertheless they did not come within bayonet-length of our lines. It is said Pres. Mitre intends active operations as soon as we get horses. "Our advanced posts suffer every day: 2 Oriental officers and 29 men hors-de-combat was our tribute of blood yesterday. We are accustomed to such sacrifices. My duty as a soldier shuts my mouth; but the public may comment upon the facts above stated. Gen. Flores and Col. Garcia expose themselves too much to the enemy's fire."

June 15th. Last night it rained as it always does after a cannonade, and the enemy came down on us again firing and shouting as usual, but got a warm reception. We had eaten nothing all day, nor even had 'mate,' and at night lay down under the rain: after midnight the enemy kept up great bustle with guns and waggons; at daybreak they were killing cattle along their line, and did not fire a shot, but kept mounted picquets in the woods. They have sent for new supplies of ammunition, and are making rifle pits in front of their lines. Our batteries should have shelter also, and I hear the Brazilians are going to make parapets with sand-bags. Pres. Mitre visited Gen. Flores to-day: they had a long conference together. An idler affirms he has counted 3,000 shot and shell thrown by the enemy yesterday into our camp: many of the bombs did not burst but stuck in the mud. The weather is still rainy: the night set in so dark that we could not see our fingers, and at 8 p.m. the enemy again came down to the edge of the morass: they kept firing at intervals nearly all night, but our men let then blaze away till they got tired strewing the ground with bullets. The S.S. General Flores starts to-day with the wounded of yesterday, and will call at Corrientes for Lieuts. Latorre and Soto who were wounded in the action of May 2nd.

Our position remains the same: still waiting.

THE FINANCIAL PANIC.

STATE OF LONDON.

The panic has at length culminated in the most important and serious stoppage ever announced in the city of London. Overend, Gurney, and Co. [limited] were this afternoon compelled to close their doors. Their liabilities amount to about £10,000,000, of which £6,000,000 is to depositors who hold bills as security, and £3,500,000 is to uncovered depositors.

The excitement in the city this forenoon much exceeds that of last evening, and continues apparently to increase. General apprehensions and distrust prevail, and in the fever of the panic men grow suspicious even of the most firmly-established and eminent houses.

At the Stock Exchange there has been all the morning the greatest confusion and excitement. The brokers have been discussing the crisis and exchanging rumours, and no business has been done. The prices of almost all securities are merely nominal, and it is at present impossible to obtain any quotation. The jobbers and brokers are making up their books, and two failures are announced.

In the Produce Markets business is almost at a standstill, and prices are very unsettled.

Never before did the city, and more particularly that part of it which contains the leading banks wear such an aspect as it has done to-day, from the hour when the banks were opened for business, up to the hour of our going to press. It soon became manifest that the failure of Overend and Gurney's bank had produced a wide-spread feeling of distrust, and it was distressing to witness the eager expression in the faces of persons who had left home for the purpose of drawing out their deposits, and as many of them probably supposed savings families from ruin. The London customers who were bent on this errand were no doubt supplemented by numerous arrivals from the country by early trains, and some in the throng had manifestly a provincial appearance. A few of the banks, as if to invite those who felt distrustful, opened their doors at nine instead of ten o'clock, but it was not till after ten that the excitement began to be unmistakably manifest. From that time Lombard-street, Birchin-lane, and Throgmorton-street, commenced filling, and these and some other neighboring streets soon became almost blocked up with passengers and vehicles. A large crowd was assembled opposite particular banks; and, perhaps, in some degree these gatherings helped to increase the intensity of the run. Policemen were stationed at the doors of the banks which were subject to this pressure, to enable those who had business there to pass in and out, and they had considerable difficulty in keeping the way clear. Between one and two o'clock it began to be stated in well-informed quarters the Government had come to the relief of the banks, and the natural inference from this was that a panic which was far severer than those of 1847 and 1857 was not unlikely to be arrested. It was with a sense of relief, as if some tremendous impending calamity affecting the whole community had been suddenly removed, that this news was received. The continuous procession of depositors was not, indeed, arrested. Men had come for their money, and meant to have it. Probably an official guarantee from the Chancellor of the Exchequer would not have altered their determination. It was curious to observe the change of countenance produced by two or three minutes spent opposite a bank counter, and many, on coming out, audibly expressed their satisfaction.

LIVERPOOL.

The excitement caused by the panic in Liverpool was something extraordinary. There was literally no business done, and Change was the scene not of business but of almost frantic anxiety. In the fore part of the day, when there was nothing to relieve the general gloom, the excitement was without parallel; but the announcement that a deputation had waited upon the Chancellor of the Exchequer for the purpose of urging the suspension of the bank act, afforded appreciable relief. At two o'clock it was further announced that the bank act was suspended, and that the Bank of England had been authorised to issue five million pounds of notes. There was no qualification to this statement, but it was published as a broad and undoubted fact, and of course had the most salutary effect upon the mercantile community. The anxiety was much relieved, and it was felt that although this issue might not in itself be adequate to the emergency, yet that it would give such confidence as to tide over immediate difficulties. No doubt was thrown upon the story, and later in the evening—mercantile men of course remained in the room much later than usual—a further telegram was promulgated, to the effect that a report was circulated on the best authority that the Bank would be empowered to issue a second five million of notes if necessary. This telegram, as did also the others, brought a complete rush of people to the rooms, and when it was read provoked hearty applause.

At midnight, by the action of the Government, the Bank act was suspended, and this step cannot fail to have a reassuring influence on the course of business to-day. Even until midnight the principals in a number of the Liverpool firms were at their offices waiting the decision of Parliament and it is understood that if the necessary relaxation had not been made there was nothing for these firms but immediate suspension. It is hoped, however, that the relief now afforded will confine the crisis to much narrower limits than would otherwise have been inevitable.

The fact that with one comparatively unimportant exception, all the London banks have been able to bear the severe run of yesterday, gave an assurance of confidence to the public that the mischief in its graver consequences had reached its climax. On Change yesterday almost every firm was the subject of serious doubt, and inimical rumours were circulated on all hands. Several failures undoubtedly occurred yesterday, but these were of no great moment, and the reports regarding more extensive concerns are at least premature.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The royal mail steamer Arno leaves to-day for Montevideo with the English mails, she takes also a large number of passengers.

As the Oriental was leaving Montevideo on Sunday morning a large steamer, name and flag unknown, was seen entering port—she was supposed to be a Brazilian transport.

We publish to-day the circular sent round by some English houses to ship captains respecting the great freight question which is at present causing so much noise. Shippers at home, in consequence of the extraordinary decision of the Supreme Court, should be careful in seeing that in the bill of lading it is distinctly stated that the freight is to be collected and paid at the current rate of exchange, this will leave no room for any question or litigation.

The new American steamer Oriental, which left Montevideo at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning, arrived at the Guard Ship at 5.10 p.m. Amongst the passengers we noticed Dr. Bourse, Mr. Folmar, Mr. and Mrs. King, Sr. Belaustegui, and others. The steamer is not to say in a condition to try her speed, as some of the copper is off her bottom; her motion in the river, however, has been sufficiently tried; she has no noise and none of the Portefaia shake; she is beyond all question the finest passenger boat that ever entered the River Plate.

A Montevidean gentleman assures us that gold only rules 2 per cent. premium. The Mauá Bank paid on Friday to Mr. Lafone 5000 ozs. at par.

The River Plate Bank in Montevideo is taking up all its notes, and the 'on dit' is that the bank will emit new notes with a special stamp on them.

Capt. Pedro Flores arrived in Montevideo on Saturday night in the new steamer Charrua from Glasgow. We understand that the Brazilians have chartered this steamer, as also the Guayenuru.

The Villa del Salto (new steamer) left Montevideo last night, and is due here this morning: she now commences her regular trips.

The Morning Light, with all the machinery utensils, &c., for the marine railway, arrived yesterday. It is not yet certain whether the railway will be located in San Fernando or Ensenada; we certainly think San Fernando is the most apropos.

In the Partido of Mercedes there have been several sales of capones at $45 and $48 mpc.: an estancia from that quarter informed us of these sales yesterday.

There was a great Masonic meeting in Montevideo last week at the British Lodge. Mr. Towers acted as chairman. Deputations from the Grand Uruguay Lodge were there. The 'funcion' took place at the Hotel de la Paz, and very eloquent speeches were made on the occasion.

An estancia from Junin gives us a most gloomy picture of the state of the sheep farms up there; he says that although last year he burnt down the 'paja,' and a fine soft grass sprung up, the sheep are now dying for want of food, as the frost has destroyed the camps. The Government price of land in that neighborhood is altogether exorbitant, $150,000 for lands in that partido, where a league is not able to support 5,000 sheep, is absurd.

In Barracas, near the Tres Esquinas, we understand a Company connected with the Liebig Extraction of Beef Co. in the Banda Oriental is about to be started. As yet we have not seen the prospectus.

The Esmeralda, Capt. Price, is due in port to-day. She will bring us five days later news from the seat of war, and, according to the statement of our colleague, the 'Nacion,' she will bring us news of the fall of Curupaiti and defeat of Lopez.

Capt. Douglas Playtor, formerly of the Espigador, has taken command of the Cisne, which will shortly be put on the Corrientes route.

On Saturday Mr. Llavallol's splendid English sire-horse was taken to the Government House: Governor Alsina and Ministers inspected this newly arrived horse. The largest horses in the city look 'petizos' alongside of him. He cost £300.

The coldest day in Buenos Ayres last week was on the 20th, when the thermometer registered 45° Fahrenheit; and the coldest night was that of the 22nd, when the thermometer went down to 30° Fahrenheit. On the night of the 23rd December last the temperature was 81°, and on the 25th it was, in the day, 104°, thus showing in six months' time a difference of temperature amounting to 51° for the night and 59° for the day.

In order to put a limit to military exaggerations which are so current at the present war, we may state that at 4 past 4 o'clock on the morning of the 4th of April 1861 the Southerners at their leisure opened fire upon Fort Sumpter, and in a bombardment of thirty six hours duration they threw into the Fort 2361 solid shot and 980 shells—they had 14 batteries, all well mounted, say 100 guns in all, and whilst the bombardment lasted the firing never flagged. With these facts before us we should like to know how people can reconcile the statements of the army correspondents as regards the shot and shell thrown into the allied encampment by the Paraguayans, during the bombardment on the 14th inst. which lasted about 4 hours. Nearly all the correspondents state that over 3000 shot and shell during that short time were thrown into the allied encampment; this, if true, would make Lopez, according to the Fort Sumpter calculation, have at least seven hundred guns bombarding the allies, a thing too ridiculous to need discussion. We therefore caution our readers against believing such outrageous exaggerations. Lopez had only 7 heavy guns mounted: allowing 5 minutes for each shot, and for four hours duration it would seem impossible to keep up such firing as the guns would heat; but even allowing say five minutes for each shot, the total number fired could only amount to 256 shots, which seems to us almost the right figure. If Lopez really threw three thousand shot and shell in four hours into the allied encampment, then allowing say 5 minutes for each shot, he must have had 621 guns mounted.

There has been a petition sent to Government by the neighbours resident in the Merced parish against Mr. Becar, the Juez de Paz—the Minister sent the charge to the judge demanding his reply, which the judge sent in. The Governor decided that as appeal lay against any decision of the judge there was no sufficient cause for his removal. We are not in possession of the merits of the case, but from the very respectable names attached to the petition we think his worship the Juez ought to try and make himself more agreeable to the neighbors.

A very serious charge has been made against some rather well-dressed parties for entering a house in Calle Reconquista, between Corrientes and Parque, insulting the old lady of the house and making a criminal assault on a young lady who was in bed at the time they entered. One of the parties was caught by the Serenos, the other two escaped.

The owner of the Anglo-Argentine beer manufactory in Calle Bolivar is about to lay down pipes connecting his establishment with the river, which will be a great improvement. This brewer has made a splendid fortune manufacturing his renowned Anglo-Argentine beer.

The auction of the 4 iron flat-boats in the Boca proved a decided failure: there were no bidders.

Our colleague the 'Nacion Argentina' published on Sunday a very excellent plan of the allied encampment, Curupaiti, Estero Bellaco, &c.; it is really one of the best we have seen, but would have looked infinitely more to advantage if it had been published on the first page of the newspaper.

Montegriffo, mine host of the Tres Esquinas, Barracas, is about to open a refreshment saloon at the Lomas de Zamorra Railway Station; he has several other kindred establishments along the Southern Railway, and at all and every the 'Standard' is to be found on the counter.

The Tres Esquinas, Barracas, has of late sprung into such importance that the Barraqueros and others are about to start a club. We believe the funds necessary have been already subscribed and soon the doors will be thrown open to the public.

D. Santiago Estrada has just published a most interesting book, descriptive of camp life, the manners and customs of his 'paisanos.' Mr. S. Estrada is now the N. P. Willis of Buenos Ayres, he is a young man of acknowledged talent, and devotes himself with a 'gout' to literature. His description of the 'pulpero' merits a translation to English.

Harper's and Godey's magazines to March 1866 are now given round; the reading is useful and instructive; Mr. Brill is the agent. These magazines have now a great circulation in the River Plate.

We publish in another column the general programme of Mr. Reinken's three subscription concerts, which we do not doubt will be to the full satisfaction of all true lovers of good music. The first concert will take place on Saturday, the 7th of July; the second on Monday, July 30; the third on Thursday, August 16. The next rehearsal will not take place on Wednesday, but on Saturday, 30th inst, at 7.30 p.m., as we announced in last paper.

MAILS FROM THE URUGUAY.

The 'Eco' of Salto, 21st inst., states everything goes on well: the Compania Urbana is not well-equipped, but the rumors of a Blanco invasion were false.

From Paysandú we have files of the 'Comercio' to last Saturday. Colonel Mundell, the indefatigable and popular Gefé, left for Salto on Friday. The town has now a body of serenos, several robberies by night having taken place. The new company of mail-coaches to Tacuarembó held its first meeting, and Messrs. Miguel Horta, Ernesto Carreras, and Vaqueiros were elected directors, the capital being also increased to $5000. The Rio de la Plata has changed her flag from the English to the Oriental.

The 'Uruguay' of the 16th pays us the compliment to translate 'en extenso' our description of General Urquiza's palace in our tourist notes of the Uruguay.

The 'Porvenir' has no news from Gualeguaychú, but attacks the Brazilian fleet for its inactivity.

The passengers per Solis request us to speak highly in favor of the advantages gained by travelling in her—a saving both in time and money. On her arrival yesterday at the Tigre one of the stewards fell overboard with a gentleman's trunk, which caused great amusement: the man was picked up unhurt.

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

DEFEAT OF THE GOVERNMENT.

In Rio de Janeiro the Ministry having been defeated by a small majority in a vote, they have demanded a fasion of both houses, and this is expected to occur towards the end of next week. However, notwithstanding this slight Ministerial crisis, there exists no probability of any change taking place among the chief officers of State.

The news from the provinces has no importance.

THE FREIGHT QUESTION.

We publish the following Circular, which has been sent round by most of the foreign houses to the ship captains. The late decision of the Supreme Court disturbing the commercial custom here, it is desirable that shippers at home should be most cautious to put in the books of lading 'Freight to be paid at the current rate of Exchange.'

'Buenos Ayres, 22 June, 1866.'

'The Captain of the ———'

'Sir,— Enclosed we beg to hand you ——— memorandum in regard to collection of freights.'

'Your vessel having arrived in this port on the ———, the rate was fixed according to the list published by the Exchange Committee on the ——— of that month at ——— per patacon. We have still to receive for your account the sum of £——, and we request your distinct instructions as to how we are to collect the same.'

'We are, Sir, Yours truly.'

ON CHANGE.

Table with exchange rates for various currencies and goods as of June 25th, 1866.

Specie has a decided upward tendency although in the liquidation room sales were made at 26 10. Some special news per chasque from Obligado was current on Change, but whether authentic or not it is impossible to say. The on dit was that the allies had attacked the Paraguayans on the 21st, but with what success it was not known.

We notice, however, an increased disposition to buy gold on long dates. Paper money could not be secured; the very best names in the market are now offering for discount, and in large amounts it is almost impossible to get paper even at any rate.

The meeting on the Bolsa was the absorbing topic of the day. We hold over our report until we receive the minutes from the Secretary. Mr. Cerro made a lengthened address on the vicious system of banking, etc.

As regards the Montevideo market, parties who arrived per Oriental represent things as much improved and a far better feeling. Gold rules at only 1/2 1/2 premium, and some of the banks are paying in gold, since the run has altogether ceased. On Friday the Maui Bank paid to Mr. Lafone eighty thousand patacons in gold at par. Dr. Bojars states that there is much more noise here than in Montevideo. There is a very strong feeling here about the Government decree; every one on the Bolsa approves of the resolutions adopted at the meeting of merchants in Montevideo, and there is a general wish expressed that the Montevideo Government should modify its decree and make the banks deposit securities to represent their emission.

In Exchange there was very little done; some bills were passed at 1/2. We hear that the present rate in Montevideo is equal to about 48 1/2 here, but for this packet the exchange transactions are almost nil.

Table showing time sales of specie: For Tuesday 22,700 @ 26 10; Thursday 7,000 @ 26 15; Saturday 158,500 @ 26 35; July 31 15,000 @ 26 40; Do. 4 2,000 @ 26 15.

Gas shares are in demand, buyers at 20 1/2 premium, but holders ask 23 1/2. People are anxious to know what about the semi-annual dividend, and whether Señor Estrada, the President, intends to call a meeting of shareholders or not. In National Bonds nothing done; last sales 39 1/2. Discounts—paper money, 24 1/2; do gold, 1 to 1 1/4 1/2.

In the Plaza no sales of importance to note; some few dry hides at $100 per pesada and a little lamb's wool at 55.

Capones, several sales at 48. The sales of Saladero Ox and Cow Hides during the last fortnight are: 7,200 Ox at 35 1/2 and 37r. guaranteed 61 & 68 1/2. 2,800 Cow at 27r. do 50 1/2.

Last price for Ox hides, 34 1/2 for 64lb. average. Sales since 1st Oct. inst to date, 369,500 hides. Slaughter, do, do, 368,000. Do. for last fifteen days, 12,500.

Hides to make, 6,500. Stock, 5,000. In Saladero Tallow the sales are 350 pipes at 15 1/2 in pipes and 15 and 15 1/2 in half-pipes.

In Saladero Horse Hides the sales are 6,000 hides at 15r; stock 2,000 hides. Marc's Grease $10 p/c without cask. Jerked Beef, no transactions, stock 110,000qq. Salted Matadero Ox and Cow Hides, the sales are, 1,000 cow Hides at 25r, stock 1,000 ox hides.

The total sales of Dry Ox and Cow Hides during the last fortnight are 34,500 hides. The total stock of all classes remaining unsold, 66,000.

In American Hides the sales are 12,000. Entre Rios at 35 to 37r. Correntino nominal at 31r. Classified hides of this province, 35r. for 22lb average. Stock 10,000 hides.

In German Hides, the sales are 2,500 Matadero Ox at 43r. for 31 to 32lb average, for other classes nominal as follows: Camp Ox at 42r. for 28 to 29lb average. Camp Cow at 36r. far 22 to 23lb average. Matadero Cow at 36 1/2 for 24lb average. Stock 2,000 hides.

In French, Spanish and Italian Hides, sales 20,000; stock 51,000. 31 1/2 to 36 1/2 for Godova hides with recambio.

26r. American desechos of 20lb av. 25r. Correntino desechos. 42r. Heavy Ox. 40r. Calfskins of 10lb average. 40r. Ox of 27 to 28lb average.

BIRTHS.

At Chascomus, on the 22d inst., the wife of Robert Crawford, Esq., Civil Engineer, of a daughter.

On the 23d inst., the wife of Francis Mackenzie Ogilvy, Esq., of a son.

On the 24th inst., the wife of Mr. Frederick Crowther, of a daughter.

DEATH.

On the 24th inst., in this city, Mrs. Caroline Trellia, aged 69. Deceased was a native of London and had resided for many years in Buenos Ayres, where she was much esteemed for her many virtues.

REMATES. POR MARIANO BILLINGHURST. En su casa calle Potosi núm. 70. De 60 carneros padres de la raza y sangre pura Negretti nacidos y criados en la cabana que tienen establecida los Sres. Narciso Martinez de Hoz 6 hijo en la estancia del Arazá.

El miercoles 1º de Agosto, a las 11 en punto de la mañana, se han de rematar sin falta alguna a la mas alta postura y dinero de centado, 60 animales de la Raza Negretti, iguales en todo a los mejores que pueden introducirse de Europa y con la conocida ventaja sobre aquellos, de ser acimantados en el pais, de robusta salud, tipo marcado y cuidados con el mayor esmero que se tiene en Alemania para la propagacion de esta raza y conservación de la pureza de sangre.

Antes de ahora hemos publicado su serie de articulos demostrando las ventajas de estos animales nacidos en el pais sobre los que se importan del extranjero, recomendando la asidua contraccion y los grandes costos que varios otros hacendados han hecho para obtener la produccion de padres Negretti bajo iguales e idénticas condiciones que en Alemania.

El establecimiento de Arazá tiene ya su reputacion hecha y los animales que estarán visibles aqui en casa del Rematador desde el 25 Julio, serán la prueba mas evidente de la veracidad de esta asercion. 145-xp j24
