NEWS FROM EUROPE.

FIVE DAYS LATER.

COMMERCIAL CRISIS IN PARIS.

FENIAN MOVEMENTS IN CANADA.

THE NEGRO REVOLT IN JAMAICA.

The "Telegrafo Maritimo" of Thursday evening has the following:

The English steamer Ajax has arrived in port (M. Video), bringing newspapers from Rio to the 14th inst., which contain news from Europe per English steamer "Brazil," with dates from Liverpool to November 12th and Lisbon 13th.

The Paris journals state a decree was issued on the 13th, for the immediate reduction of the French army, to the number of 1,800 officers and 42,000 men. No fewer than 146 commercial houses in Paris have failed.

In England the public mind was again occupied with the Fenians, the latest news from New York, respecting their movements, being more serious, and the society gaining ground in Canada. It was also feared some question might arise between the Cabinets of London and Washington with reference to the arrival of the Shenandoah at Liverpool and the liberation of her capt. and crew. Fuller information had arrived of the negro revolt in Jamaica, an aide-de-camp of the Governor of the island bringing important despatches for Government. The matter was considered so grave that it was said Earl Russell intended to convene an extraordinary meeting of the Council. It seems the first disturbance among the negroes was caused by one of their people having been maltreated by a ship-captain, and much discontent had existed for some time among them because they were not supplied with provisions during the recent period of scarcity on the island. There are grounds for suspicion that some secret societies in New York and Boston have been instrumental in the revolt, under the pretext of vindicating the rights of colored men. The British Government is going to send reinforcements to Jamaica, and for this purpose two steam-frigates are getting ready at Portsmouth.

It is said that a great reduction will be made in the standing-army of Italy.
From Germany we have no reliable news of importance.

It is said that the Government (? probably the Italian) intends to equip a squadron of five of its best iron-clads, under a Vice-admiral, and carrying several superior officers commissioned by Government to visit in the ensuing Spring the ports of Cherbourg, Brest, and Toulon, [where they will have a grand naval fête] and several other ports, including Cronstadt.

A flotilla of French iron-clads, according to rumor, will also visit New York and the Brooklyn Arsenal, where the American navy will receive them with a demonstration.

SIX DAYS LATER.

CAPTURE OF THE COVADONGA CONFIRMED.

INTERESTING PARTICULARS.

We have received exchanges from Valparaiso to December 2nd, and extract as follows from the "Patria" packet-edition.

During the first days of November the dictatorial and traitorous government of President Pezet in Lima was overthrown.

The revolutionary army having got possession of the capital by means of a bold and skilful manoeuvre, defection and discouragement spread among the adherents of the Government, which believed itself unable to continue the struggle. Its decimated army proceeded to Callao, which the insurrection had already placed in possession of the enemy.

There President Pezet, his ministers and some of his most violent and de-tested partisans embarked on an English man-of-war which shortly after conveyed them to Panamá.

The installation of the new government took place in an orderly and regular manner.

All the land and sea forces which had adhered to Pezet to the very last made an unresisting and unconditional surrender.

Congress was convoked in order that it might proceed to change the public authorities in a regular and constitutional form, and the relations of the new government with the diplomatic and consular agents of foreign powers were established under favorable auspices.

On the morning of the 26th of November, the Esmeralda left the port of Papudo to give battle to the Spanish gunboat Covadonga that had sailed from Coquimbo.

After a combat of half an hour the Esmeralda made a prize of the Cova-danga, and took prisoners her officers and crew.

The prisoners taken are as follows:
The commander, six officers, and from one hundred and ten to one hundred and fifteen of her crew.

We have happily not lost one single man.

The enemy, on the contrary, had two killed, fourteen wounded, and amongst the latter an officer.

The Esmeralda is a corvette of 900 tons. When she left Valparaiso her armament consisted of 18 short 32 and 24 pounders, a portion of which have been, it is believed, left in the fortresses to the South.

On the 26th November her crew numbered 123 men.

The Covadonga was armed with 3 swivel guns, one 32 a pounder and the other two, sixty eights.

She was manned by 135 men and owing to the narrowness of her beam, she had many advantages in an engagement.

The prisoners were conveyed to Santiago where they were provided for, with a degree of liberality and kindness which speaks highly in favor of the enlightenment of our people and the moderation of our government.

Congress has voted a well deserved promotion to the intrepid Commander of the Esmeralda, Captain John Williams Rebolledo, and the Executive has made a general promotion of the other officers.

The correspondence from the Spanish cabinet to Admiral Pareja, and of which the Covadonga was the bearer, has also fallen into the hands of Captain Williams Rebolledo; in consequence of which two mails have gone by, without the Admiral receiving any correspondence.

The crew of the Covadonga only kept her afloat by working hard at the pumps: 115 men and 8 officers surrenered to Captain Williams as prisoners of war, and he received the sword of the Spanish commander [Luis Terry] in person, on the quarter-deck. The flag of the captured vessel was carried in procession through the streets of Santiago, and a grand Te-Deum chanted by the Archbishop, in the cathedral. The prisoners arrived by rail at Santiago on the night of Nov. 29th, and have been everywhere treated with the greatest kindness. Lieut. M. Thomson has been named commander of the Covadonga. The vessels blockading Tomé and Talcahuano have been withdrawn, and now there are only 4 ports closed.

Admiral Pareja left Valparaiso, on board the Villa Madrid, on the evening of Dec. 1st., steering southwards, but it was believed he afterwards changed his course, to Peru, as a rupture is imminent between the new Peruvian Government and Spain.

The small-pox plague continues at Valparaiso, and one of the hospital-chaplains has fallen a martyr to the epidemic.

We have also seen private letters, to Dec. 2nd., stating that the Chileans lost 2 killed and 14 wounded in the capture of the Covadonga, and that business is very paralyzed, owing to an uneasy feeling of additional complications with Perú.

IMPORTANT FROM JAMAICA.

THE NEGRO REVOLT SUPPRESSED.

1080 REBELS HANGED.

The "Panamá Star" and "Herald" has dates from Kingston to 4th Nov., and private advices to 5th, from which we gather the following:

The insurrection has been completely crushed and the intense excitement which prevailed at the departure of the previous steamer was quickly subsiding. Confidence had been so far restored it was decided by the authorities that martial law, which had been proclaimed in the county of Surrey, would on the 13th inst. be suspended.
An amnesty proclamation had been issued, and it was generally believed that in the course of another week or two matters would have assumed their wonted quiet. The principal spirit of the insurrection, George W. Gordon, together with the chief leaders, amongst them Paul and Moses Bogle, have been tried by court martial and hanged.
Further arrests, trials and executions of those implicated in the terrible business were occurring daily.

Up to the latest date October 5th, some 1,080 of the insurrectionists had been shot or hanged in the Parish of St. Thomas in the East, and it is estimated that, before the different Courts-Martial close their sittings, over 2,000 will have paid the penalty of their bloody crimes. Gordon, who was a man of large property and a member of the Legislative Assembly, is represented as having been a terrible fanatic, one who under the garb of religion and with a bible constantly in his pocket, went about among the ignorant blacks, inciting them to the wholesale murder of the white and colored people.

General Lamothe, a Haitian refugee, together with a number of his countrymen who had sought an asylum in Jamaica, have, it is discovered, been connected with the plot. Lamothe had been arrested but was afterwards, it is reported, set a liberty. The result is that all the Haitien refugees have been ordered to quit the island at the earliest day possible. Lamothe is charged with having secretly furnished ammunition to the insurrectionists. Some fears existed that an uprising might be attempted at Montego Bay, but there was sufficient force stationed there to quell any disturbance that might arise.

The Legislative Assembly were to meet on 7th inst. It was understood that the first matter that would engage their attention would be the unprotected state of the Island.

Quite a severe shock of earthquake was felt at Kingston on the morning of 31st October, at 20 minutes past seven o'clock.

The United States steamer of war
"De Sota," 9 guns, Commander William M. Walker, had arrived at Port Royal from Cape Haiti, having on board M.
Pagenstecher, Consul of his Majesty of Prussia at Haiti; E. Rodatz Esq., Consul at the same place for Hamburg and twenty Haitien refugees—all of whom are from Cape Haiti, the seat of the present insurrection in that Republic and the scene of the indignities offered to the British flag. The "De Sota" also brought ten men of H.

M. S. "Bull Dog," which was completely destroyed in a brush with the Hayti negroes (full particulars to-morrow).

MAILS FROM THE INTERIOR.

We have papers from Córdoba to the 15th, Santiago 3rd inst., Salta 25th ult. and San Juan 28th.

The trial of Posse's murderers is at last terminated, Major Argüello, Capt.
Vazquez, and Lieut. Albornoz being convicted: the first has been sentenced to death (by garrotting), the second to 10 years frontier-service, and the third to payment of some law-costs. Vazquez, however, was allowed to escape last week. Colonel Pizarro made his triumphal entry into Córdoba, and was met by the Governor: he it was who went to pulverize the Rioja rebels, but did not find them.

Colonel Gorordo writes, 6th inst., of the mutiny of 100 men near Rio Cuarto, who all cleared out. The Government surrendered a sergeant and 17 men, deserters, to Col. Gorordo, for military punishment.

We have received the programme and statutes of the new Kerosene Co. in Jujuy: capital 75,000, in shares of 25$ each: the principal share-holders are Messrs. Alvarado and Puch, each 100 shares. It will be remembered the unfortunate discoverer Sor. Vila is an inmate of the Convalecencia.

Latest advices from San Juan, Nov.
28th, have favorable news respecting Rickard's silver-mines which we shall publish to-morrow.

We have papers from Paraná to the 20th inst.: the Brazilian transport Pre"sidente" arrived and landed her troops on an island in front of the town.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The news from Europe, which we got from Montevideo yesterday, took the town by surprise. We publish it in another column.

The United States' squadron seems at last to be arriving. The Wasp and Shawmut, two war steamers, entered on the 21st, and an American barque from Philadelphia has arrived with coals for the squadron.

An English steamer, the Ajax, has arrived in ballast in the River Plate.
We suppose she is on sale. She brought us up the news from Rio.

The Brazilian mail steamer Dili-gente has arrived from Rio with soldiers, mails, and passengers. We hear she has brought some gold.

It is evident that some British boot and shoemaker heard of the great scarcity of boots at the allied camp, for a very large assortment of soldiers' boots, per Cordova, has arrived and is on sale in Montevideo.

Capt. Hunter is expected out daily now in his new steamer, which left England on or about the 15th of November. Captain Hunter will run her on the Rosario route, and we rather think that he will do a good business, as the people up the river complain greatly of the want of accommodation on board the steamers at present plying.

We hear it positively stated that the Brazilian Government has advanced to the Argentine Government a million of patacons in anticipation of the Riestra loan, which, according to our last London advices will not be launched until the beginning of the new year.

The Provincial Government has entered into contracts with Mr. Carmody for the building of all the public edifices in the town of Arrecifes. Mr.
Carmody has been for some time employed on the Southern Railway as builder, and we believe has given general satisfaction. He has recently erected a very pretty country-house for Mr. Younger in Barracas, and, we doubt not, will give every satisfaction to the Government.

It may not be generally known that there has been in this country, but a short time ago, an agent for one of the wealthiest and most influential Australian sheepfarmers, whose sole business was to study the camps and report thereon. It is very satisfactory for us to be able to say that the gentleman in question has left the country with the most favorable impressions, and will shortly return to purchase one of the largest territories on sale in this Republic: he will, besides bringing an immense capital to the country, introduce some hundreds of strong healthy British labourers. We hail with pleasure the advent of so influential and important a business. Our Australian friend, whose report on Cordova and Entre Rios has gained for him such a notoriety, is still here: he intends purchasing some land in the south, which he prefers to the north.

We understand he will leave in the Cordova for England.

The steamer Pollux leaves to-day for Corrientes: she takes up an assorted cargo. Mr. Davis is in command.
This steamer has recently arrived from England, is on the stern-wheel system, and has the honor of being the first steamer of the kind that ever ascended the Parana.

We received no letter by last mail from our squadron correspondent, and therefore suppose that when the mail was leaving the allied fleet was preparing for a fight.

The Artesian well at Barracas is now getting to be a favorite resort: crowds go daily to bathe in these regenerating waters, which, according to rumor, have a most beneficial effect on the system, and are particularly recommended to delicate ladies.

Down at the Tigre we hear there is the greatest commotion, owing to the river running dry. All the small craft are locked in the mud, and the river still keeps falling.

Our operatic friend, Sr. Pestalardo, has at last returned from Rio, greatly to the joy of all music lovers. It seems that Sr. P. was fairly roasted alive in Rio, and although the Emperor wished him to remain, his response was, "Sire, I am not a beefsteak." We welcome him back to Buenos Ayres, where he is such a favorite, and hope he will soon gladden the old silent walls of Colon with the newest operas, although at present the heat is such that he cannot count on very full houses.

A fair Portefaño has just composed a charming waltz, called "Recuerdos de San Fernando." We hear it is greatly praised, and will shortly be on sale at the music shops.

A small "valise," with the name of Count d'Eu beautifully printed thereon, was espied by some of the passengers on board the Portefaño on Thursday. There was immediately a rush to see the live Prince, but on inquiry it turned out that his Highness was not on board, and the valise was a gift of his to one of his officers.

General Wood, it seems, has made all his arrangements in Rio for the gi-gantic American emigration, about which we have heard so much. We think it right however to remark that we gather from a gentleman recently arrived from Rio that people there attach less importance to the affair than we do, as they do not think any very large number of Americans will be induced to leave their country by the enterprising general.

TITLE-DEEDS TO LANDS.

It is an extraordinary fact that notwithstanding that this country is in every sense of the word modern, and the doctrine of entail is ignored by law, still the titles to landed-property are every day becoming more and more intricate, and, at the rate things are going on, before another twenty years elapse, an Encumbered Estate Court will be required to make out title to half the real estate in the province.
We happened the other day to be in company with a gentleman who, for the last two years has been busily employed in the purchase of land for railway purposes, and we gleaned from his remarks that the present splitting-up system of estancia lands is becoming such a nuisance that it is high time for the legislature to introduce some reform. This gentleman informed us that he found widows possessed of pieces of land five yards or fifteen feet front by twelve thousand yards or two leagues deep. Such a monstrous subdivision of real estate, the intrinsic value of which depends more on its extent than on the nature of the soil, is so patent an evil that it requires little comment, and we think it right to remark that the great difficulty of making out a clean title to property is a great drawback on the value of real estate in these countries. If we are to believe rumor, half the titles to land in Barracas are defective, owing to the impossibility of discovering any deed or conveyance executed by Gamboa, who was the original grantee from the crown. That Gamboa did convey the property seems to be an admitted fact, but the lazy, scandalous, negligent system of keeping the registers of deeds in the Escribano's offices has caused all the trouble, for the deeds in question seem to have been lost.

Under our own personal observation have come many cases of fictitious sales, titles, etc., which reflect little credit on the tribunals of the country, which, by their tedious and reversible decisions, tend to foster such attempts at swindling. As Dr. Velez Sarsfield is now engaged night and day compling his new Civil Code, we think it a favorable opportunity to call attention to the necessity of simplifying titles to real estate, which can never be rightly accomplished until a Registry Office, on a proper basis, be established. On the other hand, as the subdivision of estancia land is a manifest injury to the property, besides being an impediment to the transfer of real estate, we think Dr. Velez Sarsfield ought to put a limit on the distribution of children's shares of land; say, for instance, no land should be cut up into less than 1,000 varas front by half a league; every farmer and estanciaero in the country would regard this as a boon, as it would extirpate all those pauper settlers on narrow strips of land, whose stock, no matter how small, is too large for the pasturages to which they apertain, and invariably feed on neighbours' land, causing thereby continued litigation and bad feeling.

As a class, the widows are the largest holders of real estate in this province. Our English friend informs us that at times his hotel in Chascomus was besieged by forty to fifty widows, each and all of whom held and occupied lands, which they had no more power to sell than their infant children, and yet they were the plausible owners of the lands they occupied, and there was positively no making title to one inch of ground without first obtaining their consent and approbation of the sale.

As a general rule, we understand, all titles had to spring from what lawyers call the "matriz" signature, although, if we are correctly informed, the statute of limitations shuts out all claims after forty years adverse possession.

No greater proof can exist of the working of the institutions and laws of a country than the facility of obtaining a clear and perspicuous title to real estate. In Buenos Ayres it is the most difficult of all things to get at, ergo, there is something wrong in our legal machinery.

Proverbial as Chancery suits at home are, for their duration and expense, they are nothing when compared with an ejectment suit in our courts; the papers, or what we call briefs, become so voluminous that the lawyers' clerks require a wheel-barrow to get the papers to the courts, and when at last, after years of litigation, the Judges give their decision, the plaintiffs' and defendants' interests have so merged, owing to deaths, etc., that the great case of Jarudyc v. Jarudyc affords a worthy precedent.

The establishment of a Registry Office, open to the public, where every title in the country should be registered, including mortgages also, would be a move in the right direction, and we hope to see Dr. Avellaneda, who has treated with such talent and ability the public land question, add us in demanding of the legislature the establishment of a Registry Office, and also the simplification of titles to real estate.
The book which this distinguished lawyer has published, treating on the land question is worthy of Blackstone or Kent, and is sufficient guarantee to us of the interest he takes in all questions connected with landed estate.

THE NEW HOTEL ORIENTAL IN MONTEVIDEO.

The Hotel Oriental in Montevideo is such a favourite resort for all Englishmen who visit that city that we think a description of the new building adjoining the old hotel will interest our
