

MAUA BANK, CALLE CANGALLO, Nos 101-103

The Office of this Bank having been removed to the above spacious building, in order to suit the increasing flow of business, the office is reformed in the following manner:—

First—Bills and Obligations with good signatures are discounted on conventional terms. Second—Money is advanced on mortgage and other securities approved of by the Managers.

Third—Accounts of persons who may prefer depositing their money in a safe, and who wish to have their money drawn up to them on demand, are received for such operations.

Fourth—Money is received in account current, and interest from day of deposit, which is accumulated in favor of the party, every three months, the deposit being allowed to retire at any time, by means of cheques, part or the full amount at their wish, save when the quantity exceeds three hundred dollars, in which case forty thousand dollars currency is required to be given in full.

Fifth—Bills of exchange are drawn and taken on Montevideo, Rosario, Sta Fe, Salto, Orizaba, Paysandú, Rio Negro, and other places in the Brazil, England and France, as also on other places, of which notice will be given hereafter.

Finally, the Bank and stocks and executes all legitimate transactions within the orbit of bank operations. The establishment is always open from 9 a.m. till 3 p.m.

THE WAR OF THE ANDES.

A BRUSH WITH THE RIOJA REBELS. From the 'Tribuna' Correspondent. San Juan, Jan. 7th, 1867.

Just as I anticipated, we have no news to report, but plenty of rumors. On the morning of the 4th a 'chasque' arrived, with word that the rebel forces were taking the initiative,

News has also come to hand that Felipe Varela and filibusters have invaded the northern districts of San Juan; he has issued a proclamation to the inhabitants to stand firm by the revolution, as Juan Saá will soon be at their head, and their friends in Entre Rios will join them.

Wishing to answer several of my correspondents, I thought the safest and easiest way would be through the medium of your valuable columns.

bank rate, but cheaper in the streets. People are sorely troubled what to do with their hoarded gold; they all wish to go into some speculation, but are afraid, as the confidence which the "limited" shook to pieces has not yet found its limits.

But the political world is so much the busier. Everyone talks of war, seeing the preparations going on everywhere: breech-loaders are manufactured all over Europe in immense quantities.

Whereas, some evil-intentioned persons have of late circulated reports to the effect that I had left the country and ceased to practice my profession, I now respectfully advise my Friends and the Public that I have never so parted with the country.
