OUR CREDIT ABROAD.

No greater proof could be given of the improved credit of this country abroad than the fact that the last packet brought a power of attorney to Mr. Armstrong from some of the first bankers of London, authorizing him to offer the Government 25,000,000 patacons to redeem the paper dollar.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

(BY ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH). Monday, March 18th. Transport Isabel arrived from Rio, with dates to the 12th. Cholera continues, and it is thought the official number of deaths reported is below the reality.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The latest despatch from the Governor is that he was seen driving at full speed into the little town of Caueguas. During his stay at San Vicente he visited all the public buildings, partook of a superb lunch provided by the Municipality, walked around the town to see how things looked, and then started for the road.

get rid of the Paraguayan war and suppress internal revolt. But graduating as we are in the bitter school of South American dissensions, we find it inexpedient to point out errors, and few have courage to admit faults.

Yet it is essential that both these evils should be overcome, if we value our reputation abroad. Up to the present not one of our colleagues has thought fit to say for what these "montoneras" are fighting.

Peace with Paraguay is the question at issue; if the country is really tired of the war, and the people laboring under the nightmare of fresh contingents, &c. are induced to leave their homes and join the banner of rebellion, we put it President Mitre what is the simplest and most efficacious way to undecide them, to restore order and suppress anarchy.

we expect to hear from our renowned correspondent Dick of his arrival at Las Flores. In consequence of the very low bid made this year for the collection of the Sereno Tax the Municipality has determined to set to work and collect the tax in themselves.

The Director of the Public School Department seems to be one of the most active officers of the Government. A fine new school-house has been opened at Junin; the splendid school-house at Tandil is all but completed; in Caueguas the new school is finished; whilst the neighbors and residents of Magdalena, Azul, Barradero, and South Barracas are all subscribing liberally.

The process of fumigating the mails on board the Ponton is a very tedious affair. Mr. Saunders, Jun., of the Consulate had to superintend the business on the arrival of the mail. He states that the bags were put into a large tin machine like a "calendador," a soap plate with sulphur and other ingredients set fire in a place beneath, the smoke going up right through the bags as they were put in.

the affairs of the company in their present prosperous condition. The obnoxious patent law has been passed by the Senate. It has undergone some alterations: it has been sent back to the Deputies, and was to have been discussed by them last night.

General Flores arrived down yesterday. About mid-day the General came on shore, visited President Mitre at the Government-house, and then went to Lezama's office, where he stopped a couple of hours chatting with our landlord. At half-past five he set off for the mole, and as he stepped into the "falua" a salute was fired from the fort.

The people of Rosario have been both frightened and amused by a very serious row which occurred in the town on the king of Italy's birth day. Some sailors of the Station Gunboat in the port spent the day in a convivial manner on shore, when returning to their boats at night they caused quite a row in the streets, shouting and singing.

made radical, instead of the temporary cure now under discussion? Exchange has this month reached a point very nearly involving the shipment of specie, and it is probable that this latter operation will soon take place. How dangerous, then, to allow things to move on as they are without taking advantage of the interest now felt in the subject and providing the proper remedy.

It is our pleasing duty to acquaint our readers that we are not the only parties who have obtained a victory over the Municipality. Mr. Laidlaw, whose famed corn-beef is known to every English housewife, was hauled up by order of the Municipality, and a fine decreed against him of $300 for salting beef on his premises.

In view of the present value of the paper currency, your committee trust in future to be able to declare the same dividend on gold as on paper, but would wish to invite your discussion on the subject of the comparatively small amounts of payments made in gold, and the difficulty of employing the same to advantage while kept as a distinct fund, from the paper deposit. They would, however, on the basis of gold being a more fixed value in which to lay by a saving of spare cash recommend, where convenient, more attention to deposits of this class.

Before closing the Report, the committee would again take advantage of this opportunity for bringing the results to be derived from the Association before the many British clerks now resident in this city, and to endeavor to induce some few more of them to join your numbers, reminding them that one or two hundred dollars monthly, compulsory payments, soon increases to a fund of many thousands, becoming a kind of stand-by for the rainy day.

that sounds much better on the instruments alone, especially when the cornet takes the lead. A word of the singers. Margarita sang well; especially in the first garden scene—flowing without an effort; but when an effort was required, as in the last mad scene of the prison, it was forthcoming. Her acting was very easy and natural, and she should be copied in that by the young Siebel, who as yet has not much besides throwing out her little arms; the latter's high notes are thrilling, but the lower rather shrill and teathy. Faust was as clear as a bell in voice, and pleased me best when contenting himself with his natural melody, and not when showing off his power in windings up. Mephistopheles is a much better actor than Faust, and though his voice is not so strong nor clear, he sang to the point, only rather lagging when declaiming; but his thick legging representation of Old Nick, in accordance with German legends, was really excellent.

WEST-COUNTRYMAN. MERCEDES. Estancia Cabrero, March 16, 1867. The excessive drought, along with the swarms of locusts, has scorched and devastated the camps about here; but thank Providence our anxiety has been recently drowned in a copious fall of rain. As yet, there is an abundance of withered grass, but it is seemingly too hard and dry for half reared lambs and toothless sheep to digest.

A COUNTRYMAN AT THE OPERA. I happened to be in town in the nick of time to hear the "last" of Faust. I like to hear the last of things, particularly the scoldings of an irritated woman, or a personal newspaper controversy. But I never expected to see or hear the last of the devil here. But here it was, placarded everywhere, "Fausto por ultima vez;" and I knew Goethe's poem of that name was an incarnation of his S.M.,—and a devilish good poem it is too.

OUR CREDIT ABROAD.

No greater proof could be given of the improved credit of this country abroad than the fact that the last packet brought a power of attorney to Mr. Armstrong from some of the first bankers of London, authorizing him to offer the Government 25,000,000 patacons to redeem the paper dollar.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The latest despatch from the Governor is that he was seen driving at full speed into the little town of Caueguas. During his stay at San Vicente he visited all the public buildings, partook of a superb lunch provided by the Municipality, walked around the town to see how things looked, and then started for the road.

BUENOS AYRES BRITISH CLERKS' PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

Report for the half year, ending Feb. 27, 1867. On the termination of the society's half-year, your committee have again the pleasure of laying before you a statement of their operations and of the position of the association, during their administration of the executive powers entrusted to them.

The Society of the Buenos Ayres British Clerks' Provident Association was first founded in 1861, and a slight retrospect of its history will, perhaps, be beneficial in pointing out the results to which it has attained. The Society was established principally by the exertions of one of our own community, who, until now, been one of the few old hands still on the books, and its object was to endeavor to induce a spirit of saving, especially amongst the younger branches of the British clerks.
