EDITOR'S TABLE.

The rain on yesterday morning was much required. For the last few days the close state of the atmosphere was peculiarly unhealthy, and we have letters from various points of the camp which state that although the grass is abundant the sheep require water. The winter season has decidedly set in late this year; generally speaking at the May festivals not a leaf is to be seen on the trees in the Plaza, but the Paradise trees are still green, and the quintas about town verdant. The physicians pronounce the weather as most unhealthy, but although there is much sickness the houses were busy preparing for the mortality returns are under the iverage.
