To the Editors of the "Standard." Gentlemen.

I trust that you will be kind enough to rectify, as follows, the report pub-27th, of a meeting of saladeristas that took place in the Bolsa Committee-

I expressed at that meeting the impropriety of appointing an inspector, with the character of an Omnimodo Judge, without in the least bringing any charge against Mr. Botet; on the contrary, I insisted that no name should be mentioned. I added that the Inspector, in case of having to decide about the application of a fine, should be associated with two Municipal officers of the district, in order to avoid the possibility of any glaring abuses. Neither did I make any comparison between Mexico and other countries, as any such allusion, besides being vexatious and irritating, would have been quite uncalled for.

When the debate grew calmer, I proposed sending a Commission to Government to ventilate these two points:-1st. The Inspectorship. 2d. The punishment. I further added, vernment in favor of our rights and iuterests.

Finally, after overcoming a small

Gentlemen, Your obedient servant, MARIANO BAUDRIX. Casa de Ud, March 2, 1868.

On this occasion I tried the plan which I intended to put into execution at Humaita, with, as Y.E. perceives, a most happy result.

Unexpectedly the river began to ower, and I dreaded that I should be deprived the first element necessary to ensure victory. I wrote to Y.E. declaring the necessity of hurrying on the operation, and designated the 19th, at 2 o'clock in the morning. I then organised the third division

To each of them I ordered a monitor to be lashed on their port side-being to the first the Alagoas, to the second the Rio Grande, and to the third the Para. I gave the command of this force to Capt. Delfin Carlos de Carvalho, with the instructions which I communicated to Y.E., and I followed in the Brazil to perceived by the enemy, I placed my General Rivas, with three thousand ships in a position to attack with ad-Argentine troops, lett Rosario for the vantage and without much risk the teries, reserving for the Lima Barros, with the Commander of the 2nd division, Joaquin Rodriguez de Costa, and for the Silvado, the post of greatest danger, and therefore of greatest honor, in front of the London Battery, and within grape shot from the chains.

The Barroso advanced rapidly, the Bahia having lost its rudder was nearly aground, and was some time? before getting clear again, the Tamandaré progressed slowly. As the Barroso passed within hailing distance I ordered it to wait, and when the Bahia came up Delfin told me that his pilot, Lieut. Luis Repeto, was afraid of undertaking the passage, on account of the bad qualities of the ship; but I ordered him to proceed. The Lima Barros placed itself opportunely, so as to present its towers across its starboard, whilst the Silvado was lashed to the shore; and the fires from these two ships was kept up most vigorously and effectively. Shortly afterwards the enemy appeared disconcerted, and for some time made scarcely any resistance.

All of a sudden great bonfires light up the Chaco, in front of the canal. The firing of the enemy becomes greater, and the atmosphere becomes a canopy of dust and fire, presenting a scene of such grandeur as I have never before witnessed in my long military career.

At ten minutes past four a rocket sent up from the other side of the chains announced to me that our ships? had passed through.

The enthusiasm with which this sign was received by the whole fleet was forces of Brazil in operation against truly wonderful. Another rocket, and then a third, told me that the invincible division were pushing forward in quest of new dangers, having already overcome some reputed insuperables.

On the eve of his departure from America, however, he delivered a huge oration at Boston. To this speech the Boston Pilot devotes several columns, but apologises that Mr. Train "spoke for two hours and a half, and as he talks seven columns an hour it will be seen how meagre must be our report.' Some editorial remarks introduce the speech to the notice of the reader:-The Pilot's aunouncement of the lecture to be given for the benefit of Captain John Warren's family filled Tremont Temple from hall to dome. Stage, floor, and gallery were packed with the Irish people-Hibernians, Columbians, Father Mathew, and Fenian societies were out in all their strength. The stage was filled with the chiefs, centres, presidents, and leaders of the Irish-Americans in Boston. None of the Boston papers noticed the meeting, no advertising. This delightful Tonic will restore the weakened stomach to a healthy condition; it will bring back the truant appetite, and give permanent vigor to the whole system. The feeble and emaciated, suffering from Dyspepsia or Indigestion in any form, are advised, for the sake of their own bodily and mental health and comfort, to try it.

The food thus forced into the stomach does positive harm; instead of strengthening the system it engenders a variety of aliments, which end in confirmed dyspepsis. If you want to prevent all this take Hagley's Hesperidina regularly before meals.
