The Company insures on equitable terms, and at a fixed premium, every description of property. The Company is solely and exclusively responsible for losses OCCASIONED BY FIRE which may be suffered by insured parties.

The Insurance may be effected for periods ranging from one month to ten years. The total premium is payable in advance, in cases where the Insurance is effected for a term of one year or less; and annually where the term exceeds one year. In terms of from 5 to 10 years, payment in advance of 5 years premium, entitles the Insured to the reimbursement of one year's premium: or in other words the Company will only charge the premium corresponding to four years.

Payment in advance of ten year's premium entitles the Insured to the reimbursement of two year's premium; with a further abatement of 10 p: cent: on the premium corresponding to the term of eight years: that is he will only be charged with the amount of eight year's premiums—less 10 p. cent.

The Company furnishes guarantees of the highest character, from the fact of there being no other Fire Insurance Company, at a fixed premium, having its head residence in the Argentine Republic; and also from the circumstance of its large capital.

The steamers from Abyssinia are hurriedly returning to Bombay to bring up the remainder of the troops destined for the Expedition.

From accounts that have been received from Abyssinia, it is believed that it will be absolutely necessary to employ force to effect the liberation of the captives.

THE SALADERO INQUIRY.

It is some two months since we gave our readers a resumé of what had up to that period been done respecting this vital question, affecting all the great interests of the country. The working of the saladeros was shortly after suspended, to the great detriment of our commercial interests, but during the late panic public attention was scarcely excited by the fact. Now that the wild unreasoning alarm of that fearful period has somewhat subsided, we see with pleasure that the Provincial Government has again taken up the question, and we hope that the result may be a practical and final settlement of it.

It is not wonderful that the removal of the saladeros from Barracas was vehemently called for as the panacea for all our woes, during the reign of terror, when the denunciation of any cause, real or imaginary, of the spread of disease was sufficient to occasion violent measures of repression, and not wholly unreasonably so, but now in calmer moments it behoves us to consider whether such an arbitrary proceeding, affecting the whole course of our industry, damaging property to an enormous amount, and involving considerations, mercantile as well as political, of the greatest magnitude, may not be avoided by scientific modes of action, well known and practically tested with success in other countries.

It does not enter into our present purpose to discuss the evils incidental to a summary removal from Barracas of the saladeros. They have been frequently pointed out. Enormous destruction of property, to be paid for by somebody,—the depopulation of our most active and industrious community,—the isolation from their commercial centre of our only manufactories and the poisoning of what one day must be our harbour, the port of Ensenada, and all this simply because our legislators and our governments, as a rule, allow themselves to be led away by the declamations of writers utterly ignorant of the practical bearings of the question, and do not take the trouble to inform themselves by personal study and inquiry of what has been done with success in similar cases; of what it is proposed to do, and of the probabilities or guarantees of a successful result.

When we last gave the history of this inquiry we informed our readers that the Government had through a commission of saladeristas, called for the proposal of measures which would enable the saladeristas to work without prejudice to the public salubrity, the end proposed being mainly to utilise or to get rid of the waste liquids (blood, salmuera, and agua de cola) now allowed to run into the Riachuelo, so as to prevent absolutely any introduction of them into that stream. Several proposals were made. Mr. Coghlan submitted plans and tenders for collecting these matters into a reservoir, from which they would be immediately forced by steam power through an iron sewer into the River Plate, at a considerable distance from the town, utilising on the way portions, or the whole, as liquid manure. Don José Herrera suggested a system of cleansing the Riachuelo by gigantic sluices, whilst Señor Puiggari and other distinguished chemists proposed by various processes to disinfect and to turn to profitable account the various residues of the saladeros.

The question came by degrees to be narrowed into one of the relative advantages of the mechanical and the chemical process; but all practical men were satisfied that by either the one or the other means could be devised for freeing the Riachuelo from all corruption proceeding from the saladeros, thus getting rid of the only inconvenience, which could give grounds for the removal from the most suitable locality of the manufactories out of which we all live; for who in this country, estanciero, merchant, lawyer, or doctor, native or foreigner, can say that his prosperity does not depend on the production at the lowest cost, and the sale at the highest price of the produce of the country.

We stated that the proposals above described were submitted, first to a commission of saladeristas, and then to Dn. A. Cambaceres, acknowledged to be the most competent authority in the matter, and that both reports were in favour of Mr. Coghlan's project, which it was thought would be immediately carried out. However, as so frequently happens amongst us, a few long-winded letters in the Tribuna had the effect of causing fresh delay of a new commission, composed of doctors and University professors, all eminent men in their branches, but with the practical element represented solely by Señor Olivera, the distinguished agriculturist.

In the hands of these gentlemen the matter slumbered up to the present week: but the cry of the estancieros and the significant symptoms afforded by the rate of exchange aroused the press and the Government into a recognition of the necessity for action, which has resulted in the meetings at the Government House, reported in our impressions of Thursday and Sunday.

On the first day Dr. Montes de Oca attended on the part of the commission; but, instead of a comprehensive report on the various proposals and on the whole question, such as might be expected from the eminently scientific body he represented, he contented himself with pointing out some objections to Mr. Coghlan's project without any reference to the others.

These objections we have already in previous articles reviewed and disposed of; and for the present we will leave the discussion of them for Mr. Coghlan (who was not present at the meeting), when they appear in a tangible shape. The Government, after conferring with the saladeristas, named a commission of four of that body to aid them in the inquiry, and a meeting between them and the various projectors reported in our columns of Sunday was the result.

We have expressed and explained before now our judgment on this matter in favour of Mr. Coghlan's scheme, which is, practically, either to employ any refuse matters which the saladeristas cannot use directly as manure without manipulation, as to get rid of them at once in the least offensive manner. Our conclusion, we find, is backed by the whole body of saladeristas. They have practically tried and know the results of the frequently renewed attempts to utilise these matters, and what Cambaceres, Giebert, and other distinguished practical chemists know by actual trials cannot be carried on, except at a loss, they will not trust to the hands of practitioners, however clever, of the laboratory. Perhaps the best proof of the practical view of the chemical theories is that Lenos Lopez, a working saladerista, put in a proposal offering to dispose of all the offensive liquids for the modest remuneration of four paper dollars per animal. We have no hesitation in accepting his figures as nearer the truth than those of the professors, and have no doubt that that mild tax, of three or four millions a year on our already impoverished estancieros, would be necessary to enable the chemists to carry on their fancy operations.

At the last meeting at the Government House reference was made to a proposal for removing the obnoxious compounds by lighters to be discharged in the outer roads, the original conception of which was eagerly claimed by the chemical projector, Sr. Catelin. We cannot really waste space in discussing the idea of carrying this delectable cargo through the difficulties and dangers of a Riachuelo navigation, but only note it as one of the many absurdities which spring up and delay the settlement of every serious question in this country.

The whole matter seems to us now, at length, to be in the best possible hands. The Provincial Government has shown tact, and, above all, resolution (that quality most deficient in our public men), in dealing with large questions, and aided, as they are, by the men most competent to form an opinion, we have no fear but that they will arrive at a conclusion satisfactory to, and worthy of, the great interests at stake.

THE WAR IN THE NORTH.

Itapiru, Feb. 13.

Gentlemen,

Upon the return here, after a month's absence, we found affairs at the village in statu quo: the only difference observable, was more bestiality than formerly. The river is at its highest point, causing quite a revolution amongst the proveedores and vivanderos, who have been ousted by the creciente, and have migrated with the caimans, snakes, rats, and hop-toads (some of which weigh two pounds), to the firm land. In most cases the emigrants located themselves at spots that the water subsequently covered, when another move to higher places became necessary. Many of the abandoned provedurias and suttlers' establishments are wholly submerged, of others the topmost ridges of the structures only are visible, whilst a goodly number have been floated away bodily by the inundation. At the anchorage there is a full complement of steamers and sailing vessels, sixteen of which have deck-loads of forage; three of the steamers are loaded with like cargoes.

The English steamer Stag came in on the 8th, with two tows after a passage of forty days from Zarate bringing 360 horses, which have proved to be a most ruinous speculation to those engaged in the undertaking. The Argentine man-of-war brig Rio Bamba, so long a nuisance to the port of Itapiru, has finally come to grief. When the water was low she took the ground while lying at anchor, where she remained till the river rose and filled the hull—the tops are now upon a level with the stream. Like many other of the Argentine men-of-war, the Rio Bamba was wholly unfit for the intended purpose.

At the Argentine Hospital there are but a few upon the sick list; among the invalids are the Drs. Almiera, Rutherford, Morquer, and two Capellanes. The Brazilian hospitals are densely peopled. A very large percentage of the Brazilian contingents that came up twenty days ago are for ever placed hors de combat; forty of their number perished on the way from Corrientes to Itapiru; more died soon after landing; hence to Tuyuty, and afterwards not a few succumbed.

Yesterday the Brazilian transports, San José and Leopoldino came in with contingents; both are reported to have had many cases of the plague: the troops are still on board, it having rained pretty much since their arrival. A candidato has become a byeword to designate a new-come Brazilian—its meaning is intended to convey an idea that he is a proper subject for the burying-ground.

We observe in a late "Standard" an item purporting that Itapiru is to be evacuated. It may be so; however in the meantime the earthworks are being enlarged and made more formidable than ever they were. New depots are in course of construction, while those already in use are filled to overflowing with every class of war materiel and commissariat stores.

The unwearied editor of the "Esperanza" has put up his press and frames in a rancho situated upon the leeside of some ombus, at some distance from the village; he is waiting for the packet to arrive when the paper will be published. He is not sure if the powers that be will permit its circulation in Corrientes.

As for war news there is none worth telling.

You observe that in Buenos Ayres there is not a dozen persons who know anything of the war.

Since the night before last and yesterday from sunrise till after nightfall a tremendous cannonade has been kept up at Curupayty. The explosive shots are seen to burst. The concussions of the artillery are perceptible; still here no one knows the result or seems to take any interest at all in the matter.

The monitors have cut the chains and passed the fortress in triumph, a breach is made in Humaita—the citadel is about to be stormed—Caxias is positively to march in the morning.

Such are the rumours of the hour, all of which are affairs of mere guesswork.

A Paraguayan deserter has just come over.

Gelly y Obes has got most important information from the fellow, which we decline to publish, deeming it to be of little use to dilate upon tales that you or any one else out of a madhouse would not believe; nevertheless it will be published in full at Buenos Ayres and Rio.

Owing to misinformation, I told you the spy was sent to the encampment. Such was not the case. He is still in Corrientes a close prisoner.

The cholera still prevails, but it does not spread to any alarming extent, although the newly arrived troops from Brazil perish by scores of the plague.

With respect,

SINBAD.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

On Sunday the city was visited with another terrible dust storm which lasted for several hours, at one period it was so dense that it was difficult to see across the street. The storm came from the South, whence all the great dust storms come, and at an early hour passed over the city, subsequently the wind veered to the West and then the dust came low, and became unsupportable, latter on the wind changed to the North-east and thus brought back to us the very storm which crossed over the city in the morning: then it was that the storm was at its height, and people had to seek shelter from the suffocating dust, several trees in the southern suburbs were torn up by the roots, and some thatched roofs blown away. The frequency of these dust storms this season, has attracted the attention of the few scientific men amongst us, some have analysed the dust and found particles of a sort of bituminous matter, generally speaking insects of a peculiar color fall in clouds in the camp districts, and even in town we have green and black clocks. During the dust storm on Friday afternoon last an English lady was so frightened that she sought refuge in a neighbouring shop where until the storm cleared away, she was so ill as to cause the proprietor of the establishment serious apprehensions. The great damage caused by dust storms in the camp is but slightly known to people in the town, the flocks run before the wind, and last month we had a melancholy instance of some 25 to 30 flocks blown clean across the Railway, and a most helpless mixture of "señales." We greatly fear the dust storm on Sunday must have caused damage in the country districts owing to its suddeness and lengthened duration, but as yet we have received no advice, save from one of the South districts where the loss has been chiefly limited to cattle and mares, which have wandered leagues and leagues from their "querencias."

The Provincial Government has at last had the courage to abolish the water throwing at Carnaval; seven-eighths of the population of this city approve of this measure, which may well be termed as a relict of the barbarous ages. The diversion this year will be limited to flour throwing, as the polite custom of playing with confectionary is rather expensive. People who walk the streets during Carnaval must be prepared to suffer powders of every description pitched at them, also flour and starch, &c., but unpleasant though this be it is preferable to the ablutions carried on in former years, which too often induced colds, coughs, &c., sometimes terminated in a premature grave. We have to thank Governor Alsina for the good sense he has displayed in issuing his fiat against this water throwing and goes to show how anxious H. E. is to reform abuses, and study the welfare and good of the people.

The new Municipality is at last definitely formed, and the triumph of the people over the old rotten board, which was annihilated last December, could not be more complete, since we find the President of the new board, one of the committee named by the people in the public plaza, Dr. Argerich. It is to be hoped that the new board will do something for this unfortunate city, and not leave it in the power of the friends of Peña and Co. to say that the indignation meeting was after all destitute of benefits.

The Justice of the Peace of Arenales has applied to the Government for a Doctor owing to the terrible prevalence of disease in that district. Why does not the Government send Dr. O'Connor out there; he has had many years experience in the cholera hospitals of London, and has first class diplomas.

We publish to-day a most interesting paper sent us from Bolivia, respecting the stupendous petroleum discoveries recently made in that country; this is good news for Argentines, as the consumption of Kerosene in this republic is at present immense and daily on the increase. The same paper contains some valuable information respecting the intercoursse between Bolivia and Paraguay.

There is a project now before the Government for the formation of a city fire-brigade. We wonder what has become of the old brigade which some years ago figured every Sunday in the Plaza. Fire brigades in Buenos Ayres are not indigenous, and do not thrive so well as in the United States.

We call attention to the immense growth of chacras about town; each day the ploughshare is driving the estancieros further back. We notice that the report of Municipal land sales sent into the Government by the Judge of San Justo, district of Matanzas, is no less than $119,936 m|c. There can be little doubt that soon we shall be able to export cereals.

The noble conduct of the Station master at the Altamirando Station on the Southern Railway in attending to some passengers who arrived there sick, deserves especial mention.

Mr. Chas returns his warmest thanks to the Station master for his attentions to some of the members of his family. The name of the Station master is Sr. Levi.

The official return of the recruits despatched by the Brazilian Minister of War to Paraguay seems incredible; it appears since the 27th Oct., 1867, until the present, the number of recruits despatched is 19,000 men, and the cry is still they come.

The next mail from the upper Provinces is looked for with anxiety; it appears that cholera has made its appearance in Santiago and even Salta and Jujuy. There are letters at hand announcing the rising of another band of montoneras in and about Tinogasta. Varela, the leader last year of the rebels, is now an aid-de-camp of the President of Bolivia. This shows how the wind blows up in that distant district. The Bolivians seem to have little friendship for the Argentine Government.

Strange to say not a single one of our colleagues has thought proper to notice the fact, that M. Glebert of Fray Bentos, is at present feeding the British army in Abyssinia, and yet it is an event of transcendant importance, and should take precedence of such insipid subjects as the Presidential election, Gutierrez and Varela should leave Sarmiento, Elizalde and Alsina alone for one day at least, and devote a leader to one of the finest openings for the River Plate we have had to record for some time; luckily the Fray Bentos Company has all its magnificent machinery put up, and we doubt not will be able to keep the supply equal to the demand. Hurrah for Giebert and his Beef Company—a slight push, and all the armies in Europe when the fighting commences will send to Fray Bentos for beef.

The grape season has at last set in, and as the horrid epidemic which for the last two months and 17 days afflicted this town has happily subsided, people feel less hesitation in trying fruit. The grapes this year are very succulent; the best are decidedly those grown on the Calle Larga, Barracas although even there at some of the quintas they are what is termed 'apestadas.' The peaches also are ripe. It is to be hoped that the free use of ripe fruit will do no harm; the Doctors all agree that freshly culled ripe fruit is rather good than otherwise, but stale fruit hawked about by the Italians should be avoided.

The La Place left Montevideo without taking a supplementary mail for the French packet, to the great disappointment of the commercial community of that city. As the French Consulate in Buenos Ayres undertook to make up a supplementary mail for the French packet to be delivered in Rio de Janeiro, there certainly could not have been any great difficult in making a similar arrangement in Montevideo. The omission is attributed partly to the French Consulate and partly to the Post-office authorities of Montevideo.

The masked balls on Saturday night boasted of a pretty numerous attendance. But while at the Franco-Argentino the revelry was characterized by uproarious hilarity, a disgraceful fracas threatened to turn a scene of mirth at the Colon into one of violence and bloodshed. The police who mustered in great strength, and exerted themselves to quell the row, lacked discretion and tact. Mr. O'Gorman should select for this delicate duty experienced and trusty men, and enjoin them to prevent the recurrence of these shameful disturbances by at once and without consideration eliminating any person who shows signs of intoxication, or whose behaviour shows any sinister purpose of creating a row.

The Vale of Doon arrived in port on Saturday night at 10 30. p.m. from the Uruguay with 80 passengers, after a very satisfactory trip in which she has fully corroborated her superior sailing qualities, From Paysandu to Fray Bentos a passage of generally six hours, she occupied barely four having the wind and tide against her. She leaves again for Paysandu and intermediate ports to-morrow at 9 a.m. As she let off her steam through the whistle on Saturday night everybody in town thought a steamer had arrived from Paraguay with the news of the fall of Humaita, and a rush took place to the beach. As we were swept along by the eager crowd we heard a stentorian voice in Hibernian accent shout "Beware of the hole in the mole."

The U. S. gunboat Quinaboag arrived on Sunday from Montevideo. Mr. Hollister went yesterday to pay an official visit to her commander. The U. S. S. Shamokin is at Rosario. She got aground 40 leagues this side of Rosario, but was got off without having suffered any serious damage.

We remind our subscribers that Mme. Farnesi's concert takes place this evening in the Coliseum. Programmes are to be had at Mackern's, where a few tickets are still on sale. All lovers of music, more particularly among the British community, should not fail to attend and give a hearty welcome to our charming and talented countrywoman, on her first appearance in public.

Professor Murray has received by last packet the diploma of corresponding member of the Madrid College of Pharmacy.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERIES OF PETROLEUM IN TARIJA.

COMMUNICATION BETWEEN BOLIVIA AND PARAGUAY.

In the beginning of October, 1866, an Indian of the Chiriguano tribe brought me a small quantity of petroleum for examination On subjecting it to a superficial analysis, I obtained 90 per cent. of volatile oils, all very valuable in commerce, and which I shall enumerate further on. As the said Indian professed to know of several springs of this substance, I resolved to undertake a journey to these oil regions, and inspect them for myself.

About the end of October, in that year, I set out from Salta with my partner, Mr. Edward Hansen, and after six days' journey we crossed the Bermejo River, and a ride of four days more, through the country of the Chiriguanos, brought us to the place of our destination, the Mission of Aguairenda. Here we were received very hospitably by the Franciscan friars, and, after a few days' rest, we proceeded to explore the surrounding country.

The petroleum beds are situated on the eastern slopes of the ranges that branch from the Cordillera, which form a large ridge, with a direction from N.N.E. to S.S.W., and terminate near Oran.

The three principal sources are those of Cuaruzutti, Plata, and Piguirainda, which all three together make a small stream of petroleum six inches deep and two yards wide. It runs thus for about a mile, when it gradually begins to diminish by oxydation and filtration into the sandy soil. The remainder is taken up still further on by a small rivulet, which carries it on its waters to the Pilcomayo. The quantity of these three springs united is so considerable that boring, to my belief, will never be necessary.

The above-named ridge, from Oran to the Pilcomayo, belongs to the lesser oval formation: the beds are sandstone, marly-earth, clay, limestone, conglomerate gypsum, and stone-salt, containing also a considerable amount of good coal beds.

I am inclined to believe that these petroleum deposits have an extent of some fifty leagues square, forming the lower stratum of the hills and plains in this part of the Chaco. Various parts of these hills are, in fact, an excrescence of petroleum thrown up in the lapse of ages from the subterranean deposits; and in the circumference of about fourteen leagues from the above-mentioned three principal springs, we found eight more also, as rich as the first discoveries of Cuarurati.

We proceeded to a prolix analysis of (100) hundred lbs. of petroleum of these samples, in a perfect apparatus, properly constructed for the purpose, which has resulted in the production of the following useful substances:—

First product, black lustre, distilled with damps and water, at the high temperature of 300 deg. or centigrammes. This product containing paraffin and bituminous mastixs, gave 11lbs. 5oz. Second product, distilled without damps, at a temperature of 85-90 deg, or centigrammes, giving Benzina 7lb. 4oz. This product is a new article of much commercial value; it can be used instead of the essence of turpentine. Third product yellowish, giving the carburet of hydrogen, or the kerosene or pure petroleum, distilled without damps, at a temperature of 200-250 deg. centigrammes, gave 81lbs. 7oz. Total, 100lbs.

Afterwards we presented the result of our analysis to the Bolivian Government, and we demanded the privilege for ten years, which we have obtained for all the Republic of Bolivia. As soon as we had obtained it we returned to Salta, and we began the construction of a distilling apparatus, which was finished by the end of June. My partner departed then for the springs of Cuarurutí, to begin the manufacture of pure petroleum.

This journey offered some difficulty, because he had to open through these dense forests a carriage road. In October he had begun with distillation, and produced daily 120 gallons pure petroleum, which will sell at the markets of Bolivia for 8 rls the gallon.

We have in construction a second apparatus, which will be finished in March or April, and with which the establishment will produce 300 gallons daily, and we expect to be able to introduce our products to the Northern Provinces of the Confederation; I hope also that we can send our petroleum to all the Litoral, on the conclusion of the Paraguayan war. The Government of the Republic of Bolivia will open a carriage road through this part of the Chaco to the Paraguay River.

Our establishment is situated 21 deg. 54m., latitude south, and 64 deg. 6m. longitude west, forty-six leagues east from Tarija; one hundred leagues S.S.E. from Potosi; two hundred leagues S.E. from La Paz and Cochabamba; one hundred and fifty leagues S. from Santa Cruz; one hundred and fifty leagues N.E. from Salta; seventy-five leagues N.E. from Oran, and one hundred and twenty leagues west from the River Paraguay.

The amount of freight per ar. (25lbs.) to Salta, Potosi, Chuquisaca, Santa Cruz 8 rls. to Oran and Tarija, 4 rls., to La Paz and Cochabamba, 2 dollars, to the River Paraguay 12 rls.

The next Christian villages are Carapary and Cayza. To the first the distance is 9 leagues, and to the second, 6 leagues; also to the Aguarrienda Mission of the Franciscan Friars, 8 leagues. The inhabitants of these two villages are estancieros: they cultivate sugar, rice, maize, and tobacco. The gramiña in these beau-beautiful estancias is very nutritious, and the cattle are fat all the year round; in fact, the necessaries of life are in abundance; there are also many good shops. The Christian Indians of the Missiones are tradesmen, and devote some themselves to agriculture and cattle-breeding. The Indians who do not belong to the Missiones are good workmen, and are satisfied with the small salary of 1 rl., and some maize or tobacco daily.

The Chiriguano tribes have arrived at a certain degree of civilisation; they cultivate wheat, mantioca, maize, vegetables, and fruit trees; and they also attend to cattle-breeding. They are very hospitable in these villages, and the Cacique is charged to preserve order, and also dispenses hospitality to strangers in a large cottage constructed for this purpose. These cottages are well constructed, and arranged in the form of a square place, of one hundred yards on every side. The dwellings are very clean, and are also furnished with hammocks, which serve as beds.

The Indians use raw petroleum in lamps of clay, with a wick of cotton, to light their dwellings. Petroleum is also used by Indians and Christians instead of fat, to oil their machinery for the manufacture of sugar and for preparing skins.

The climate in these districts in general is that of the 'torrid zone,' but tempered by great humidity, owing to the inundations during the heavy rains from October to March. The dry season lasts six months with a continued south-west wind, which brings sometimes slight frosts.

There are abundant petroleum springs and rich vegetable and mineral creations in the plains and hills of this part of the Chaco, and also valuable copper and quicksilver mines (I have seen in these mines native copper) worked by an Irish gentleman, the Bolivian Consul-General, Mr. O'Connell. The fertility of these plains, irrigated by the Pilcomayo river, and the beauty and salubrity of the climate, producing innumerable useful articles for the entire commerce of the world, impressed upon the Government of Bolivia the necessity of building roads to facilitate exportation.

The Government of Bolivia convinced of the impossibility of navigating the capacious Pilcomayo river, which presented insuperable difficulties as confirmed by the exploration in 1843 by Dn. Manuel Rodriguez Margarinus; in 1844 by the Lieutenant of Marine, Mr. D. Nivel; and in 1856 by the Bolivian engineers, Ondarve and Mugrat, had recourse to considerable sacrifices to establish a communication with the river Paraguay.

Last year the Commander of the frontiers of Tarija, Colonel Don Cornelio Rios, was ordered to open a road through this part of the Chaco, towards the lakes of the Upper Paraguay river. This intelligent officer, accompanied by some fifty soldiers, and guided by a Tobas Indian, left Cayza the 1st of June last year, and arrived safe at Asuncion on the 20th of July: he completed the journey in 54 days. After him a German merchant, married in Tarija, undertook in company with various other merchants, this journey, and conveyed goods for the Paraguayans. The party arrived and returned safe from Asuncion without having been molested by the Indian tribes, which live on the shores of the Pilcomayo river.

A Joint-Stock Company, with a capital of fifty thousand dollars, protected by the Government, had commenced on the 5th of September to open this road under the direction of Sr. Cainzu, the Prefect of the Province of Tarija. The distance between the River Paraguay, to the village of Cayza, is more than 120 leagues. According to the opinion of those who have travelled through this part of the Chaco, the work does not present much difficulty.

Some of the merchants who accompanied the expedition returned to Tarija with yerba from Paraguay, part of which is expected in Salta.

It is very desirable that the war in Paraguay should be finished soon, and that the Governments of Bolivia, Paraguay, and the Argentine Republic should go hand in hand, and secure through peace the civilisation of these rich districts: the free navigation of the Paraguay river, which is the high way to these countries, will develop the production of numberless new products of exportation, and will attract the commerce of the world to these favored regions.

Mining Engineer.

MR. LAFONE'S LETTER.

Miguelete, February 13th 1868.

To the Editors of the Standard.

Gentlemen,

When a boy I got a good thrashing in the attempt to defend one of my school-fellows from the tyranny of an overgrown bully. Although smarting under the castigation, I endured it patiently because conscious that right was on my side, and as a man, I cannot do less, when mightier matters are at stake. You, gentlemen, in the powerful exercise of your editorial pen, have sought to administer to me a severe rebuke, for having ventured to address you, and through your paper, the inhabitants of these countries, upon subjects, the bearing and importance of which, I am convinced, from your method of meeting my communication, you must be totally ignorant.

I cannot but thank you for your smartness in denouncing and holding up to ridicule, my carelessness and ignorance in the mechanical art of writing correctly but as "it is never too late to mend" I hope by diligent study to improve. Nevertheless, in spite of all the imputed faults of my last letter, I must stand my ground, and assert my conviction of the vital importance of the subjects referred to in it.

Permit me to make some short replies to your pithy remarks. The secret which John Bunyan possessed gave him in the Majesty of Light, the strength of language, which secret, as corresponding with the Present Tense 'the I am before Abraham was' jars on the ears of the uncircumcised, and of the civilized world at large, where the Sham of language, by mechanical art devized, in self-ignorance, supplants the vital rights of mankind.

John Bunyan's language serves, in the woold for the past and for the future as the echo of a drama on life's stage; but the sham as a Time-server, covers all present defects, whether expressed or understood, including insolence and nonsense, when these last depraved tastes, are, by any, improperly cultivated and excited.

Further, the expressions "hamstringing" and "slaughtering" were not used by me as the technicalities of a "saladerista", but simply in illustration of the fact, that the division or dismembering of the Unity of Science, and the non-acknowledgment of its true Head, are similar in their effects to those produced upon the brute creation, by the above mentioned processes: for science, when thus dismembered remains for ever without the knowledge of the cause, like the brute beast when deprived of its existence.

But my ignorance has yet to learn that the word "dovetail" is a technicality of the saladeristas.

In conclusion, as to the pass-word connected with irreligion, allow me to submit to your common sense whether sin and the cholera, are not in themselves fatal. The latter producing death to the body, the former eternal death to the soul of man. In each case promptitude in the use of remedies is the only sure means of escape, from the fatal issue, and delay involves almost certain death.

Remarking that my carelessness and ignorance have, long ago, been duly notified to my friends.

I remain, gentlemen,
Truly and respectfully yours,
SAM W. LAFONE.

[We offer no comment on the foregoing; it is to the point: the analogy between sin and cholera, to a mind highly tempered with religion, is obvious; the subject is possibly too abstruse for the columns of a newspaper. We beg Mr Lafone to bear in mind that there was nothing gratuitous in our remarks on his first letter; he censured the press of the 19th century: we entered the lists as its champion.—Editors Standard.]

IMPORTANT FROM MONTEVIDEO.

OPENING OF A NEW MARKET.

Rumours of revolution at all points of the Oriental compass.

Extreme depression in business, and pressure on gold steadily advancing.

Sr. Penalva has resigned his post, and the Government has accepted his resignation.

The letters passed between the two Rufinos in Buenos Ayres have caused much pleasantry, and people are anxiously looking out for another batch of letters.

Mr. Measures has at last finished the market. It will be opened in about a month; it will be the finest building of the kind on this Continent. The Government has decreed the shutting up of all the butcher's stalls within a certain radius. The market will cost more than was originally thought.

The Government has decreed the payment of $50,000 in home loan bonds to the framers of the Civil Code. The widow and children of Dr. Castellanos will get their share.

News from the estancias good. Wool and gold and hides going up. Exchange falling, done at 43½.

THE SISTERS OF MERCY.

As several subscribers in the camp suppose that the Sisters of Mercy apply to their own private support the charitable donations which they are in the habit of receiving, I beg to inform all such persons that every dollar received by the Sisters is applied exclusively to the Sick Poor and the Orphans under their care.

A. D. FAHY.

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 17, 1868.

ON 'CHANGE.

	Feb. 17, 1868.
Ounces,	$400
Sovereigns,	125
Patacons,	25

In National Bonds only one sale, 7,200, at 49⅜. These securities rule extremely flat, but it is incorrect to attribute this to the presence of Sr. Elizalde in the Government. Bonds would be now selling at last year's prices, that is to say, 45, but that they are completely off the market, and held by speculators, who are compelled to retain, as a permanent investment, what they bought as a mere speculation. Money is too valuable to be locked up in such securities, and hence the great weakness in the market, which is enhanced by the unpleasant feeling, respecting the issue of the struggle between Crudos and Cocidos.

The news from Europe, per Flamsteed, was not known on 'Change to-day, and the quotation of gold given erroneous; still there were private telegrams which spoke favorably of the markets for River Plate produce. Hides, wool, and tallow firm.

The arrival of Sr. Costa in town is regarded as a satisfactory solution of the Santa Fe difficulty, and it is hoped that these Provincial troubles have now subsided.

Respecting the great Fray Bentos contract with the British Government, as yet the terms are not known. It is regarded, however, as a matter of the most supreme importance for those countries.

The transfer of one of the finest estancia properties in the Banda Oriental to an English Joint Stock Company, capital, £120,000, is announced. We have received by the mail full particulars. It is a business of importance for the River Plate.

Wools ruled a shade flatter to-day, owing, we believe, to heavy arrivals, but as the Exchange market rules at present wool and gold must go up. Bills on England are in demand, and there are few drawers. Something done to-day at 48⅝ and 48.

The downward course of Montevidean paper money is attracting much notice, and it is generally believed that paper money depreciation will soon touch 20 per cent. Confidence in Montevidean affairs is rapidly oozing out: it is hoped that the new legislature will do something to help the financial affairs.

Respecting the working of the saladeros, it seems now to be ascertained that Mr. Coughlan's scheme will be adopted by the Government, and the saladeristas authorised to recommence killing without delay.

The Flamsteed did not touch at Rio Janeiro, and, consequently, we have no advices respecting Exchange. There is much anxiety to hear how things are there. The Flamsteed will sail direct for Antwerp about the 29th; she will bring answers to letters per Seine.

Messrs. John P. Boyd and Co. have placed the Norwegian barque Bona-fide on the berth for Antwerp, at current rates.

Gas Shares have improved since the declaring of the dividend, which is regarded as satisfactory. Buyers offering; no sellers.

DEATHS.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

101--Cangallo--103.

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P.P. MAUA & Co.,
M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p.%) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishe can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book, it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

CHOLERA.
PRESERVATION IS BETTER THAN CURE.

During the Cholera in Rosario, Dr. Hutchinson, found it to be the best of all Medicines, and he said in his report to Government that although there is no real specific for Cholera, Chlorodyne is almost one. This decision coincides with the opinion of most doctors who have treated Cholera patients, more especially in India, and who have all agreed that the Chlorodyne is the remedy.

At Cranwell & Murray's can be had—
Collis Browne's Chlorodyne,
Freeman's Chlorodyne,
Murray's Chlorodyne.

This last has been recognised by Dr. Hutchinson and others as equal to Collis Browne's and Freeman's, and some doctors who are now using it in the Argentine army consider it better than the others, as it is a perfect homogeneous mixture, and does not require shaking up before using.

Every Person should go to Cranwell & Murray's and Buy a Bottle of CHLORODYNE, as a few drops given in time may save many valuable lifes.

M'DOUGALL'S PATENT DISINFECTING POWDER.—It removes the Smell from Drains, Cesspools, Water Closets, &c. It is intended for Domestic as well as Public Use. The Powder may be sprinkled over the source of impurity, or it may be mixed previously with water, in the proportion of half an ounce to a quart of water. For preventing Foul Smells and Noxious Emanations.

M'DOUGALL'S PATENT DISINFECTING SOAP.—Agreeable to use, and very efficacious in removing Foul Smells and Noxious Emanations. This Soap is used in England in the Hospitals.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE
ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

This invaluable Remedy produces quiet refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and Young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively, using it in great quantities in the following diseases:—Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Newralgia, Diarrhœa, Rheumatism, Spasms, &c. Important testimonials from numerous medical men accompany each bottle.

CAUTION.—Always ask for "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne," and see that his name is on the Government stamp. Sold in Bottles at 1/1½, 2/9, and 4/6, by all Chemists.
Sole Manufacturer—
J. T. DAVENPORT,

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See 'Lancet,' Dec. 31, 1864.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE—Extract from 'Medical Times,' Jan. 12, 1866—"Is prescribed by scores of orthodox medical practitioners. Of course it would not be thus singularly popular did it not 'supply a want and fill a place.'"
