It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public, so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband their small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.

It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as in any part of the world.

THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA receives Deposits of from Five Patacones per Annum up to any amount in Weekly, Monthly, or Yearly Instalments.

A GREAT SENSATION! A GOOD SENSATION!

PAIN CURED IN AN INSTANT.

In 1847, the great grand principle of stopping the most excruciating pain in an instant, without employing such dangerous agents as Chloroform, Opium, Morphine, Aconite, Ether, &c., was first made known in

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.

This remedy accomplished this wonderful desiratum in all cases of external and internal pain In an instant it afforded relief; the moment it was applied to the parts of the body where inflammation or pain existed, it at once relieved the patient of the most violent and excruciating pangs and throbs of pain, and imparted the delightful sensation of ease and comfort.

Every kind of pain, whether Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Influenza, Sore Throat, Nervous Headache, Toothache, Pains in the Chest, Side, Lungs, Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys, Spine, Legs, Arms, Feet, one application was sufficient to cure and exterminate the pain.

Taken internally, 20 drops to a teasponful would cure, and will cure. Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Bilious Colic, Inflamation of the Bowels, Cramps, Spasms, Diarrhea, Dysentery, and every pain that may exist in the inside a man, woman, or child. This was Radway's Ready Relief of 1867, and it is Radway's Ready Relief, greatly improved, in 1868.

We then started it in its mission of relieving the infirm, pain-stricken, sick, distressed, and crippled of all nations throughout the world, and now to-day it is used, patronized, and reserved as a household necessity in the palaces of Sultans, Emperors, Kaimos, Kings, High Priests, Nobles, as well as in the cottages of the laboring classes of very nation on the face of the earth.

MONTEVIDEAN BANK CRISIS

The following important letters of H. E. the Baron Mauá, to H. E. the Minister of Hacienda, will enlighten our readers as to the real cause of the present banking crisis in Montevideo, which has taken us all by surprize here, and given rise to apprehension as to its effect on this market. It is very generally believed that the finale will be the creation of a National Bank, based upon the paper issue at present in circulation, and guaranteed by Government:—

Montevideo, Feb. 12th 1869.

Sir,

The refusal of the Government to allow the Bank of Mauá and Co. to increase its capital by one million of dollars although this sum really formed part of its assets on the 21st Jany. the date of the decree on which the refusal is based, renders it impossible for the bank to continue its operations.

It is thus, that with more than three millions and a half dollars due to it on account current, and with nearly three millions of marketable securities, 500,000 of which are of the Government here, in Salto, Paysandu, and Mercedes, and more than eight millions in public funds and shares guaranteed by special laws, and representing land taken at a moderate valuation, the Mauá Bank sees itself obliged to enter into liquidation, not being able during the crisis to turn the very best securities into cash.

The Government has left unpaid the bills which the bank accepted in liquidation of their account current, and in the same way all the customers of the bank had to renew their bills.

It was found impossible to get the Custom House bills discounted or buyers for any of the securities on hands, amongst which were to be found 1 889,000, dollars of the 12 per cent. funded debt of the 2nd series, with an amortization of from 30 to 40 per cent. per annum, based on estimates well known and appreciated for the last 10 years, for by this means the funded debt of the 1st series contracted with me by the Government was paid off and the property and producing powers of the country relieved of a recognized consolidated debt of 100,000,000, dollars.

Under these circumstances but one recource remained for the bank, which was to offer securities for one or two millions of dollars, holding as it did more than a million of surplus under the care of the Fiscal Commission of Banks.

However, the Government by its decree of the 21st January, having deprived the bank of this privilege, enjoyed by other banks since the publication of the decree of July, which under any circumstances must be regarded as a contract between the Government and the Banks, and the public becoming alarmed by the unusual announcement in the 'Tribuna,' a paper which if not an official organ is the property of one of the Ministers, that the bank was about to liquidate, no other course remained for it but to do so, at the same time protesting in due form and manner, against the Government of the Republic, or others whom it may concern, for the incalculable losses entailed on those whom the bank represents, by the state of affairs which they have brought about.

(Signed) BARON DE MAUA.

To His Excellency the Minister of Finance of the Republic, Don Duncan Stewart.

Montevideo, Feb. 12, 1869.

To His Excellency Don Lorenzo Batlle.

Y.E. will bear witness to my efforts to escape from a difficult situation. By a simple act of justice, (justice, excluding all idea of favor,) Y.E. might save, not only the Maua Bank, but the country over whose destinies you preside, from a serious disaster. The concession which I solicited was based on a right derived from the agreement between the Maua Bank and the Government, embodied in the decree of July, which established the modifications and conditions to which the banks would have to submit. This is an agreement that cannot be modified without the mutual consent of the parties concerned.

The privileges granted by virtue of this decree, to the Oriental, Montevidean, and Navia Banks, give the Maua Bank a right, in case of necessity, to claim the same concessions, a right too, which cannot be denied without doing most flagrant injustice.

Nevertheless, under yesterday's date it was denied in a communication I received from H. E. the Minister of Finance.

Under such circumstances, although I have already pointed out to the Finance Minister, in my notes of the 10th and 11th inst., the enormity of the course taken by the Government, in respect to Maua & Co, I deem myself justified, considering the gravity of the case, to address and impress on Y.E. that the entire responsibility for the calamities about to occur rests with the Government, of which Y.E. is the chief, for having trampled under foot the law and justly acquired rights The Maua Bank, in closing its doors, under these circumstances, is the victim of a disgraceful compulsion, unknown in the annals of the civilised world.

And what appeared in the 'Tribuna' of yesterday proves that this compulsion was premeditated: this paper, bearing an official character, and being the property of one of the Ministers, would naturally not publish anything compromising the Government. When such a paper informs the Montevidean public that within a few days the Maua Bank, (which up to the present has faithfully fulfilled its engagements,) will close its doors, the Government being amongst the first of its debtors to omit meeting their engagements: it is patent and clear to everyone that it is done with the premeditated intention of compelling the bank to close; and that object has been achieved, for, from to-day, the bank of Maua & Co. discontinues its operations, in consequence of a persecution, the most unjustifiable that any credit institution in the world has ever been subjected to.

I reiterate then, in the most formal manner, to Y.E. as Chief of the State the protest which I have already made to the Finance Minister, against all the injury and loss suffered by the Maua Bank, and those whose interests it represents, I remain, with due respect,

Y.E.'s humble servant,
BARON DE MAUA

THE WATERWORKS.

IT must be a matter of satisfaction for us all, that, notwithstanding the abuses which exist, the drawbacks which surround us, and the political turmoil which usurps public attention. Buenos Ayres is, in spite of everything, advancing. In no part of the world is the truth of the proverb, "Out of evil comes good," better proved than in Buenos Ayres. Every blessing that we enjoy we have dearly purchased, and scarce a good that we boast of, that has not emanated from some pre-existing evil. If we have Waterworks in Buenos Ayres, we owe it to the Cholera. There is no dissembling the fact; that awful epidemic swept the land—and, although it spread for awhile a pall over the nation, it emancipated us from the thraldom of opinions which have too long held sway in the River Plate.

On Saturday evening we proceeded to the works at the foot of Mr. Hale's Quinta to witness the trial of the engines which have been just put up, and to take a general look over the premises.

We met there the following gentlemen:—H.E. Governor Castro, H.E. Sr. Agote, Provincial Minister, Dr. Rawson, Daniel Gowland, J. Coghlan, C Galvan, J. J. Mendez, J Buschental, F. Madero, Esqrs., and some few others whose names we forget.

On arriving at the works we followed the water. The new engine house is nearly finished, the chimney, which is square built, reflects the highest credit on the builder. It raises its head high over the surrounding edifices, and so close to the Recoleta that it will serve as the most lasting monument to the memory of our excellent Governor Don Emilio Castro, when gathered to his fathers. We tried the water in the third basin, just as it came pumped up from the river: it proved sweet, but of a rather yellowish color, as Mr. J. J. Mendez naively remarked, it looked like algibe water mixed with coñac. We then proceeded to the filtering basin, where the water is filtered by means of layers of Banda Oriental sand and granite, and from the receiving cistern, into which the water falls from the filtering basins, we again tried the water, and, to our surprise, found that it was now as clear as the best algibe water—much clearer and of a better color than many of the algibes, and of that sweet palatable taste which is the great quality of the Parana water. After a minute inspection of all the works and witnessing the engines pumping in from the river and pumping up to town, we proceeded to the Plaza Parque to witness the fountains playing; here the square was bisected with hose, and in a few minutes the whole Plaza was drenched from side to side. The evening loungers of this city promenade were agreeably surprised at the torrents of water which flowed on all sides: the grassplots were saturated, and even the trees wept. At about eight o'clock the company separated.

The following is a detailed description of the works:—

The water is taken from the river through two twelve-inch cast iron pipes, which at present extend about 400 yards into the river, but advantage is taken of every low tide to extend them further.

These two pipes are connected to two of Appold's Patent Centrifugal Pumps, each capable of lifting 1,400 gallons of water per minute into the "depositos" or settling reservoirs, One of the great advantages of these pumps is, that they contain no valves to get out of order, and that they adapt themselves to the lift, giving of course a much larger quantity of water when the tide is up, and from experiments made by the great French mechanic, General A. Morin, and published in his "Mecanique Pratique," are found to do an effective duty of between sixty-five and seventy per cent of the power expended.

The depositos or settling reservoirs are three in number, and are each capable of containing 2,000,000 galls. of water, They are so arranged that the pumps can be made to deliver into either of them at pleasure, and the water is here allowed to remain some few days in order to part from any matters it may hold in suspension.

These depositos are also each separately connected with the filters, which are also three in number, and being situated at a lower level than the depositos, the water is allowed to flow upon them and filter by gravity through a filtering medium four feet thick.

Each of these filters is capable of filtering about 600,000 gallons of water in twelve hours.

Immediately the water is filtered, it is taken by the double acting pumps and forced into the town through the various pipes and mains already laid, and will eventually be carried to the tower and tank now being erected in the Plaza Lorea.

The engines are two in number, each of thirty-five nominal horse power, but capable of exerting fifty horse power effective each. They are high pressure, expansive, and condensing, upon Woolf's principle, and are the most economical form of engine yet discovered, consuming only about four pounds of coal per horse power per hour, while the ordinary pressure engines consume from twenty-eight to thirty pounds and upwards. This is a very great advantage in a country where fuel is so expensive.

Each engine has two cylinders, the high pressure one being fifteen inches in diameter, and three feet two and a half inches stroke, the low pressure twenty-five inches in diameter and four feet six inches stroke, with air pumps, seventeen inches in diameter and two feet five inches stroke. The beams, cranks, crank shafts, gudgeons, parallel motions, and all working parts are of wrought iron, and the motions and rods are got up bright and polished.

There is also an ornamental open work stair case and beam floor round the upper parts of the engine which gives ready access for the engineer in case of oiling or repairs.

The fly wheels are geared and work into small pinions which drive a counter shaft from which the motion is communicated to the centrifugal or river water pumps.

The double acting or filtered water pumps are two in number, one under the beam of each engine. They are each twenty one inches in diameter and two feet stroke and capable of lifting at thirty strokes 1,800 gallons of water per minute 150 feet high.

The buckets and valves of these pumps are upon an entirely new system, called the ring valve principle, and are entirely composed of gun metal the weight of each valve, being about 500 pounds.

Over the engine house is placed a travelling crane capable of lifting five tons, and by endless chains from below, it can instantly be moved and placed over any part of the machinery, so that any part of the engines can be lifted, examined and replaced in a very short space of time. This is a most useful machine and particularly light and compact in its arrangements.

The boilers are four in number on the Cornish Multitubular principle, each seventeen feet long and five feet nine inches in diameter, with internal furnace flues, three feet six inches in diameter, strengthened by a Patent Weldless Expansion Ring and terminating with seventy-seven tubes, each three inches in diameter. Each boiler having been tested under an hydraulic proof strain of 100 pounds to the square inch.

The boilers are each set in a fire brick seat, which is so arranged that they are enveloped in a hot air chamber and so the greatest possible amount of effective heat is obtained from the fuel.

The chimney shaft is eighty feet high and five feet square at the top, and eleven feet square at the base. The style of the building is the Tuscan order of architecture.

The whole of the engines, boilers, pumps and machinery were constructed by Messrs. Eastons, Amos & Anderson, of London, and were erected by Messrs Griffin & Williamson, under the superintendence of Mr. Charles Dawney, from whose designs also the engine, boiler house, and chimney shaft were erected by the contractor, Mons. J. Roques.

LATEST FROM ASUNCION.

Asuncion, 9th February, 1869.

The Paraná brought General Vedia, who has been appointed Chief of the Staff, and the pleasing news that the Argentines are to begin at once operations in the Interior, independently of the Brazilians. This announcement has been received by all the Argentine officers with considerable glee for more reasons than one; at the same time we are informed that General Osorio has been definitely appointed Commander in Chief of the Allied Armies.

Some Brazilians I have spoken with seem to doubt the news, because Osorio's wound will prevent his taking any active part personally in the war movements, at least for two or three months to come, but a friend of mine was told last night by Osorio's son that he had received a letter from his father confirming this news, and announcing that he will soon be back here.

A better appointment could not have been made, since Osorio has throughout the campaign shown military qualifications of the highest order, but it is the more opportune just now because Osorio is very popular among the Argentine officers and men, who consider him as one of themselves, to the extent that some officers have told me they would as soon be under his orders as under those of one of their own countrymen.

This will tend in no small degree to heal up the estrangement that has for some time past existed between the Argentines and Brazilians, and which if not checked, may eventually lead to serious complications.

Of Lopez nothing further is known, but Mademoiselle Lynch is reported to be wounded. The report has some semblance of probability from the fact that it originates from a woman who was known to have been in attendance on Mademoiselle Lynch, and who has lately arrived. The wounds are slight, the neck was grazed by a musket ball, and the fleshy part of her left arm was pierced by another.

I have made acquaintance with Mr. Quintanilla, the only Argentine who fell into the hands of Lopez who had the good luck to escape with a whole skin. He, together with all his countrymen resident here at the beginning of the war, was taken prisoner and kept in confinement in Humaita for two years. He was liberated about the middle of 1867, but was again taken up in the month of July last on the charge of being implicated in the supposed revolution, and escaped miraculously the fate reserved for most of his companions in misfortune, although he shared with them the unheard-of tortures Lopez loved to inflict upon his prisoners.

I regret to say that from all I can gather Mme. Lynch has to bear a great deal of the odium inevitably attached to the atrocities committed by Lopez, of which fresh authentic evidence is daily coming in.

Taylor and Trunfelt are just recovering from the state of physical and moral prostration to which they had been reduced. The former intends shortly going down to Buenos Ayres in the 'Susan Beirne.' A small house he owned, not far from Lopez's new palace by the water side, has been given up to him by the Brazilians, he has rented it to Mr. F. Mac Nevin who formerly commanded the Tarafuy, and who has started here a steamboat and general agency, in which he is likely to do a large business, both because there is a good deal to do in that line, and because his uncommon abilities and amiable disposition will ever secure to him great popularity.

Much is said of the exorbitant prices that all articles fetch here, but this is only true in some particular instances. Chickens and eggs keep up at a high figure. One sovereign for a couple of fowl is the lowest at which they can be got. Eggs can only be got with great difficulty at four reals each. A bad breakfast or dinner at the Hotel de la Minute costs two Bolivian dollars. At the Hotel de la Paix, which is decidedly better, although no tso pretentious, one patacon is charged for a meal. The owner was formerly proprietor of the Hotel de la Paix in Rosario, and is evidently well up in the business, and is sure o do well. However, there is no lack of restaurants and hotels, and all seem to do a good business.

There is a rumour very prevalent here as to the arrival of special commissioners for each of the allied governments; and it is also confidently asserted that Paranhos will be sent by Brazil and General B. Mitre by the Argentine Government. A house is even kept ready for them, that which was Lopez's former residence; but I doubt whether anything positive has been resolved yet. There is no doubt that it is high time that something should be done to begin to reorganise the country and establish civil authorities. Although I think I have already born testimony to the admirable administration of the Brazilian military authorities, and to the order that prevails, there is no doubt that questions are arising every day that military men cannot, with the best intentions, settle satisfactorily.

A petition had been drawn up by some Paraguayans here, addressed to the allied Governments, begging that no time should be lost in forming a provisional government. The petition had already some forty or fifty signatures; it was shown to a Paraguayan captain, Femion by name, and he was asked to sign it. He refused to do so, because he said he did not agree to the terms in which it was drawn up. On being pressed to give his motives, he said he regretted he could not, and that he disapproved of it so much that there and then he tore it up and walked away. He was followed by a shout that he was a spy of Lopez, and had not gone far in the street before he was arrested by a party of Brazilians. As no evidence came forward to substantiate the charge of his being a spy, he was released next day.

The sanitary state of the troops continues very good, and all alarm as to cholera is perfectly unfounded. The heat has not been so great the last three days, although yesterday the thermometer marked 97 in the shade. Last week it ranged from 102 to 105.

A new expedition towards the Cordillera is talked of to take place in a day or two, with orders to go as far as Pauguara.

It appears that Vice-President Sanchez was not shot, and that he is discharging his duties at Peisbchey the capital at present, whilst Lopez moves about organizing his forces further out in the Cordillera.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday morning the first news in town was a row in Montevideo: at first it was supposed to be a small affair, but soon the messages came along the wires giving full details. There were four killed, an American marine run through the body, two Italians and one Oriental officer shot dead, and some seven wounded. The fight lasted for a few minutes, and some sixteen or eighteen fellows kept up a raking fire at the Matriz with revolvers. The dead and wounded were taken to the Cabildo. All the riot took its origin in the election for alcalde; and from what we can gather, the authorities are greatly to blame, as two policemen might have preserved order.

The fate of the poor cricketers must interest our readers. They left here in a steamer specially chartered for the occasion, and on arriving at Montevideo tried to break through the quarantine, pushing ashore in a small boat near the Buceo. The coast guard caught them, and placed them all in quarantine, where our friends still remain. Meanwhile, business in Montevideo is at a complete stand-still Some attribute the stagnation to the Bank crisis, others to the fact that half the British clerks are in quarantine.

The steamer from Paraguay on Sunday has brought us fresh advices from Asuncion. Mr. Craufurd's letter, which we publish in another column, contains all the news.

Sir John Coghlan has reason to be proud of his waterworks. The trial on Saturday evening was most satisfactory, and the water was thrown in immense volumes into the Plaza Parque. The supply for private houses will be at once commenced.

A subscriber from Vecino has brought the startling news that good sheep are selling down there at six paper dollars each, and even at this low price few buyers. But that our informant is a respectable English farmer, we would not believe this statement. He states, however, that the value of sheep depends on the camp. Good sheep on bad camp, or without any camp, can hardly fetch even six dollars per head, whilst poor sheep sold with good camp command a fair price. We hear of a contract in the south just concluded of half a league of land, with houses, puestos, and corrales, and 6000 sheep, rented at the rate of $30,000 m|c. per annum for five years, at the expiration of which land, houses, corrales, and stock to be returned.

The oldest paved street in Buenos Ayres is Calle Florida. It was paved in 1815, and the pavement has lasted ill the present. No wonder that the pavement in that street should be in a dilapidated condition.

In consequence of the riot at the Matriz church in Montevideo, the masked ball advertised for Sunday night in that city was suspended, but there was a grand ball at Bustamante's quinta at the Miguelita, at which the elite of Montevideo attended. The Annis left at her appointed hour taking a lengthened telegram from Buenos Ayres, with all the latest news, and which we publish in another column.

Sr. Estrada, the Argentine Secretary of Legation for Chile, returns to Buenos Ayres, and will arrive here this morning; owing to the quarantine regulations he could not proceed per Panama.

The Parish Inspection Committees are now most punctual in their visits and the vasura man, Sr. Herrera, having been fined $10,000 for not removing the vasura boxes at a proper hour, is now most active. Most people are whitewashing their houses, and the health of the town is good, but green fruits should be avoided.

The Donati, Captain Alexander, left yesterday with about half a cargo and eight passengers for Liverpool. She only pauses off Montevideo [the ridiculous quarantine preventing communication,] for passengers and correspondence, and thence proceeds to Santos, where she is under engagement to fill up. The next Astronomer to be amongst us is the Flamsteed, Captain Kidd, the mail packet, bringing dates up to the 20th January. She may be expected here on the 18th inst., and will return at once to Liverpool to take her station as the packet of 20th April. The Humboldt, Capt. Perry, is due about 17th inst. She loads for Antwerp. Both cargo and passengers are being engaged for these steamers by the agents, Messrs. John P. Boyd & Co.

It was rumored yesterday that the quarantine in Montevideo had been reduced to two days.

The procession of the different 'comparsas' on Sunday from the Government House in Calle Moreno to the Plaza Parque was a most imposing affair. The streets were crowded, and the balconies along the route were filled with fair spectators. The crowds in the Plaza Parque were immense, and as the various bodies wheeled into their places, banners in front, and bands playing, the scene was gay and most imposing. The ceremony of interring the Carnival was then gone through, and the funeral oration having been duly delivered, the vast crowd separated as evening commenced to fall. Several of the 'comparsas' went down afterwards by special trains to Mercedes, Moron, Belgrano, and other places where they had been invited to balls, tertulias, &c. At an early hour on yesterday morning they all returned to town. The masked balls at Colon, the Alcazar, and French Theatre were well attended, and many of last week's characters again appeared on the scene. We have now finally bidden farewell to the most successful Carnival ever held in Buenos Ayres.

The new pleasure park in course of construction at Palermo promises to surpass in the beauty of its decorations and extent of gardens anything hitherto attempted in this country. There, at a convenient distance from town, may be found 'every accommodation for man and beast,' whilst amid the shady bowers and winding paths the sentimental merchant, careworn broker, or done up editor may forget the present with its stern realities, and unloose the imagination in meditating on the glorious future when there shall be no lack of news, money easy, Bonds going up, banks in a flourishing condition, and no more 'oficina de cambios.' At one end is the Restaurant, where we recuperate, yonder is the 'casa amueblada,' for the convenience of those who like to stop and see the performance at the theatre adjoining. A little way off is a tiger cage, containing two fierce looking brutes, intended to amuse the rising generation, though their hideous yells and filthy movements are calculated to excite rather fear and disgust in the minds of less innocent people. There will also be a special corner for the cricketers to pitch themselves after they have been 'bowled' or run out of their present field, which adjoins. A small wicker gate opens on the railway station, and passengers by rail have free admission to the grounds. The works are being actively pushed forward by the enterprising proprietor, who had hoped to have thrown them open to the public during Carnival. In a few weeks we may hope to have this splendid park to recreate ourselves in.

The Health Committee of the South Cathedral parish are taking vigorous precautions against the outbreak of any epidemic within their jurisdiction. Every day the Health Inspector goes his rounds, and is inexorable in imposing fines on those not complying with the sanitary rules established for the preservation of the public health. At No. 80 Calle Peru a supply of the best known disinfectants is kept, and the people will only have themselves to blame should any epidemic break out. for the authorities seem to be doing all in their power to prevent such a calamity.

We have heard that on Sunday night at one of the Theatres, arrangements were made for a meeting next morning, between two gallant masqueraders, the favours of some fair dame being of course the cause of the quarrel. We should be sorry that any such incident marred the pleasures of the Carnival.

The Poitou's Mails.

The Poitou arrived on Saturday, with mails and a large number of passengers. Her dates are to the 15th of January.

The following is a summary of the news:

ENGLAND.

Alarming news has been received from New Zealand. The Maoris have massacred 50 colonists and all their families. They live on plunder and rapine; the colonists have themselves to protect their property, but regular troops are required for avenging the unheard of cruelty of the savages, who have roasted alive and eaten many of their unfortunate prisoners.

The 'New Zealand Examiner' calls on the mother country not to abandon 200,000 English subjects to the fury of cannibals.

The 'Times' Paris correspondent remarks. 'The few words uttered by the Emperor to the members of the Diplomatic Body and the great dignitaries of State at the reception of New Year's Day, have made on the public an impression rather favourable than otherwise, as indicating a peace policy founded on the accord between the great Powers, and a disposition towards a more liberal policy at home. The Government press, as a matter of course, speaks of them with unqualified praise. Among the journals that are least satisfied with these short speeches is the Liberté—that is, M. Emile de Girardin. He, not unreasonably, thinks that if it were true that the spirit of conciliation animated all the Powers, they would not keep their armaments on a footing which they never previously reached."

FRANCE.

Paris, Jan. 13.

The Conference met yesterday, and heard read the report of their previous 'séance.'

The members adjourned till the 15th, in expectation of M. Rangabés getting an answer from Athens. The delay of the Greek Government in sending instructions to its representative causes much surprise.

The Greek question is assuming a grave aspect.

Fears are entertained as to a peaceable solution.

The 'Presse' of Vienna says that a ministerial crisis is imminent in Athens, and anticipates the recall of M. Rangabé.

The 'Morgen Post' says that Count Bismarck insists on the dismissal of Baron de Beust, as a necessity for Prussia, and should he remain in power, Austria may count on hostilities on the part of that Power.

The official press of both countries continues the publication of mutual invective and recrimination, thereby adding to the gravity of the situation.

M. Rangabé and all the 'personnel' of the Greek Legation went to pay an official visit of congratulation to M. de Stackelberg, the Russian Ambassador, on New Year's Day.

The 'Etendard' says that some details have leaked out respecting the first sitting of the conference, going to prove that Russia espouses the cause of Greece.

'La France' says that unless Greece be represented at the Conference, it must be adjourned 'sine die,' and in such a case the chances of war are greatly increased.

It is said that should the Conference break up war is inevitable. It is believed however that Greece may at the last moment yield.

The 'Patrie' says that it is very probable that M. Rangabé will receive no further instructions from his Government, and consequently will not again be present at the Conference.—At the last meeting of the Conference, M. de Metternich proposed inserting in the protocol a resolution blaming Greece for waiting until the opening of the Conference to manifest her opposition. M. de Stackelberg, the Russian Ambassador, refused to sign the protocol if such were inserted.

PRUSSIA.

'La Correspondence Provinciale' says that a satisfactory solution of the question being discussed at the Conference in Paris may be looked for.

M. de Goltz' state of health is worse.

AUSTRIA.

Vienna, Jan. 13.

The news published by the 'Morgen Post' has been contradicted. It was based on a pretended confidential despatch from M. de Wimpffen.

The 'Presse' says that Russia has advised the Greek Cabinet to yield.

ITALY.

M. Ferrari has given notice of his intention to question the Government respecting recent events, and the application of the tax on grinding corn.

The Minister of the Interior said that he would be ready to reply when the necessary documents were laid before him. He added that the country was now perfectly quiet, with the exception of some slight agitation in those places where the demonstrations took place.

The Minister of Finance said that throughout seven-tenths of the Kingdom the tax had been duly recognised, and he hoped it would soon be the same everywhere.

TURKEY.

Constantinople.

It is said that General Ignatieff, while communicating to the Porte the resolutions of the Conference, demanded that Admiral Hobart should be recalled, as blockading unjustly the port of Syra. Ali Pacha replied, that Admiral Hobart was blockading the Enosis, and not the port of Syra, and that if Russia guaranteed that the Enosis did not escape, the Turkish fleet would be withdrawn.

"Le Journal de St. Petersbourg," says that it is the state of his health alone, that brings Mons. Valonieff, to Rome, at the present moment.

NEW YORK.

Havannah.

Governor Dulce, has offered a free pardon to all insurgents laying down their arms within 40 days.

LATEST RIVER PLATE INTELLIGENCE.

Buenos Ayres. Feb. 15th 1869.

The following important telegram containing all the latest news was transmitted to Europe per 'Aunis,' by the River Plate Telegraph Company:—

Since the sailing of the French mail, events of much importance have occurred, Minister Paranhos the Brazilian Special Envoy, has had two private interviews with the Argentine Government, respecting the winding up of the Triple Alliance treaty, he meets from the Argentine Government professions of the greatest good faith and friendship, after some preliminary arrangements he started for Asuncion, and is now on his way up the river, it is very generally believed that Snr. Paranhos, will on arriving at Asuncion adopt three measures. First despatch a powerful force to the mountains, to liberate the unfortunate families still in the power of Lopez.

Second, establish a Provisional Paraguayan Government, to administer affairs.

Third, enquire into the matter of the American Legation, with a view to discover the parties who broke open the safes and threw the archives into the street, and if Brazilians punish them. Both Argentine, and Oriental Governments, will name this week special envoys to proceed to Asuncion, and hold conferences there with Snr. Paranhos. Dr. Varela, the Argentine Minister of Foreign Affairs, is spoken of as the most likely man to represent the Argentine Republic, and it is the general opinion no better man could be named to the post.

The steamer Villeta from Paraguay has just come in, she brings advices of much importance, affairs in Asuncion are improving, over one thousand Paraguayan families have already returned to Asuncion, when they arrived near the city, they had to halt in the woods being almost perfectly naked, and soldiers clothes having been distributed to the women previous to their entering the city. Several Englishmen have opened stores and offices of business in Asuncion, and a Frenchman has started a new hotel, which is supplied with everything from Buenos Ayres. Three cargoes of dry cowhides have arrived at this port, from Asuncion, the National Government had them at once embargoed, as it was rumored they had been taken by parties who aided in the sacking of Asuncion.

Owing to the heavy shipments made to Asuncion, from Buenos Ayres and Montevideo, the place is completely overstocked with everything including coal, and most of the stock on hand is now disposed of by auction at no inconsiderable loss.

The Brazilians are closing their hospitals, and sending all those severely wounded or maimed back to Rio. Several ironclads have also been sent back, and the war may be regarded as virtually over. General MacMahon's last despatches to Mr. Worthington, U.S. Minister at Buenos Ayres, have been intercepted, it is not known where and by whom, but the Wasp has been despatched to enquire into the matter.

The money market here continues easy. The Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres had last night in specie eleven millions of patacons. The River Plate Bank also holds large specie deposits.

Great financial crisis in Montevideo, caused by the scarcity of paper money, and the difficulties which the banks encounter to collect in their outstandings, and the monthly amortization of the paper money, has been found so severe that the Italian and Montevidean Banks were compelled, some time since, to close their doors and go into liquidation; since then the scarcity of paper money has increased to such an extent that the premium on gold fell from 16 to 6 per cent. On the 12th inst., the day the French packet left this port, the Maua and Navia Banks closed their doors, refusing to go on unless the Government took some steps to alleviate the crisis and help the market. The Government named a special committee to consider the matter. Baron Maua proposed to deposit one million of patacons gold against a million of dollars paper to be issued. This proposition was rejected by the committee and the Government, although highly approved of by most of the almaceneros and native dealers. The Navia Bank reopened the following day, but Baron Maua refused to reopen until the question was once and definitely settled. A general meeting of merchants has been convened in Montevideo to consider the matter, but it will not take place until after the sailing of the packet. The effect of this unlooked for crisis in this market has been to slightly drive down National Bonds, and cause an increased demand for money. The Maua Bank in this market has suffered in nothing, and furthermore, the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres has, with its customary liberality, offered to the Maua Bank of this market whatever funds it required, which had at once a most salutary effect; and before the sailing of the City of Limerick or Donati it is believed that this bank question of Montevideo will be finally settled, the general impression in commercial circles being that the wind up of the business will be the formation of a National Bank in the Republic of the Uruguay, with full Government or fiscal privileges, and based on the issue of the Maua and other banks, within the bank law of July 1868.

Since the sailing of the Aunis there have been large exchange transactions, chiefly bills which have come from Rio, to be sold in this market; they have been all passed at 49⅜.

National Bonds closed weak on Saturday night at 55⅜ cash, and 55⅝ for end of month.

Rufino Elizalde, the former Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic, has taken the post of editor of the native opposition paper called "Nacion Argentina." Sr. Gutierrez, the former editor, being in infirm health and about to leave for Europe.

The trial of the steam pumps at the water-works for this city, erected by Mr. Coghlan, came off last night; Gov. Castro and some of the principal men of Buenos Ayres present; the trial proved most satisfactory, and the water was thrown in large columns into the Plaza Parque.

Large wool sales within the last few days, and shippers preparing bales for Donati and Poitou arrived yesterday.

Health of city good, no cases of cholera in this city for last few days, but owing to the filthy state of Asuncion, Paraguay, great precaution necessary.

Result of elections for Congress known. Don Norberto Riestra and Don Rufino Varela, both Liberal candidates, elected. Grand masked balls this night in this city, and masked processions, the wind up of the Carnival.

THE ABBOTS READING.

Fox and another V. Heasley and another.

—Mr. Henry James, Q.C. and Mr. Cohen wereas counsel for the plantiffs; and Mr. Gibson (with whom was Mr. Nilward, Q.C.) appeared for the defendants.

This was an action for not loading a complete cargo, for freight and demurrage.

The plaintiffs are the owners of the ship Abbots Reading, which had been chartered on April 11, 1866, to the defendants, who are merchants. At the time the charter was made the ship was on an outward voyage to Buenos Ayres, and a letter was despatched by mail to the captain of her, requesting him to proceed to Valparaiso, and put himself under the orders of the defendant's agents there. The vessel arrived at Valparaiso on September 27th and the captain asked the defendant's agents for instructions as to loading a cargo, and found there was no cargo ready. They said they could get a cargo, of nitrate of soda on condition that the captain would take the vessel free down the coast. The captain objected on the ground that there was no provision in the charter party which would enable him to do so. A subcharter was entered into on October 1st between the defendant's agents and Messrs. Gunston and Co. to load a part of cargo in Valparaiso Bay to Iquique and Pisagua. The captain shipped under it nearly 350 tons of barley, and proceeded on his voyage on October 12. The captain denied that he was a party to the charter in any way, and upon his objecting to it they gave him a letter to free him from all responsibility. From September 27 till Oct. 12 the captain said that his vessel was at the defendants' disposal to ship a full cargo homewards. On October 23 the vessel arrived at Iquique, where a portion o the cargo was discharged. The capt. was ordered to leave on October 27 by the defendants' consignees there for Pisagua, where he arrived on the following day and discharged the remainder of the barely. Afterwards he loaded as quickly as possible a cargo of nitrate of soda, and sailed on Nov. 17 for London, where the ship arrived on April 2, and finally discharged on the 20th of that month. The captain said he had nothing to do with making the charter party at Valparaiso An agreement was drawn up by the defendants' agents between Gunston and Co. and the captain, acting for the owners of the vessel Abbots Reading. The captain would not sail without the letter before mentioned, and after it had been brought to him when he complained that it was not in accordance with the terms of their promise to him; they had promised him a guarantee from all responsibility arising from taking the cargo, whereas the agreement merely stated that they agreed to his taking the barley as a cargo.

The plaintiff said that the freight earned by the ship for the barley was £1,810 11s. 2d.; captain's gratuity, £10 10s; expenses incurred at Valparaiso, £76 18s. 3d.; and claimed demurrage for 39 days, at £8 per day, £312.

The defendants said that they had paid in London £1,400; that the capt. had received on behalf of the defendants £195 19s. 8d., and had in cash at Valparaiso £170 8s.; and they paid into court a further sum of £40.

The captain, when cross-examined by Mr. Gibson, said he might have stated that he preferred a cargo of nitrate of soda to copper ore; that the vessel was an old one, and had some fittings, for a copper cargo, and he could have procured the remainder of the fittings, if necessary, at the ship's expense; that the agent told him he had no power to send him down the coast with the barley cargo, and never refused to give him cargo. The defence was, that the intermediate voyage had been understken by the capt. on the ship's account solely, and not on behalf of the defendants' agents for their employers; and that, having entered into an agreement, he was not in a position to take a cargo on board.

The learned Lord Baron said it was quite clear there had been a breach by the defendants of the contract, and the only question between the parties was one of demurrage.

Mr. Gibson read the evidence of the defendants' agent, Mr. Lewis, taken under a commission at Valparaiso, from which it appeared that the capt had undertaken the voyage on the ship's behalf, and that there had never been a refusal to supply a cargo to the vessel.

The jury found for the plaintiffs, saying that when the vessel reached Valparaiso she was at the disposal of Heatley and Co., and that the plaintiffs had nothing to do with any arrangement which might have been made between the captain and the defendants' agents.

The question of damage arising upon the demurrage is to be settled out of court.

STEAMERS FROM THE TIGRE.

In compliance with the following requisition, Mr. Matti has again determined to start his steamers from the Tigre:

COPY.

The undersigned passengers by the steamer Lujan from Rosario and Buenos Ayres, have begged of the captain of said steamer to land them at the Tigre instead of at Buenos Ayres, as marked in the bills, as in consequence of having their families on board they wish to avoid the passage from the roads and other inconveniences.

They are perfectly aware that Mr. Matti has done all in his power to make the passage by his steamers less expensive, but since this cannot be done, they prefer running the risk of the trip on the Northern Railway, in order to secure the safer landing the Tigre affords.

On behalf of a great number of people who are constantly passing from Rosario here and back, they would beg of Mr. Matti that on all future occasions he would arrange that his vessels should start from the Tigre.

ON 'CHANGE.

Feb. 15, 1869.

|---|---|
| Ounces, | 400 |
| Sovereigns, | 122½ |
| Patacons, | 25 |
| National Bonds, | 55¼ |

The bond market ruled weak this morning, the bears selling heavily and offering to deliver bonds to close up transactions not yet matured, but bonds were not found so abundant as was represented, and at after hours the market stiffened: one or two of the principal brokers bought largely and kept the market up, although it had a decidedly downward tendency.

The crisis in Montevideo is the chief matter which affects the bond market. At first it was supposed that the liquidation of the Mauá Bank in Montevideo would lead to the liquidation of the bank here, but when it was discovered that such would not be the case, that on the contrary the bank here was perfectly independent of the Montevidean house, and would continue to go on here the same as usual, there was a better feeling. The Provincial Bank offered its assistance to the Mauá Bank here, which on Saturday it was rumoured was declined, but to-day it was very generally said that the Mauá Bank had drawn from the Provincial Bank 400,000 patacons. The position of the Maua Bank in this market is perfectly secure, and there is no reason to suppose that the Baron will order it to go into liquidation, since it is at present doing a very safe and remunerative business.

The cash sales of Bonds to-day amounted to 124,000. opening at 55⅜ and closing at 55¼.

For February 28, 81,000 at 55¼.
March 31, 10,000 at 55⅜.

Total sales 215,000

On Saturday there were some large exchange operations negotiated at 49⅜ principally Rio bills sent for sale to this market.

In the wool markets buyers are complaining of the very poor lots that are now coming in. One English barraquero went through the South Plaza and the Railway Station, saw every lot in the market and reports that there is not a single fair lot in, and that the wools arriving now are so full of carretilla and dirt that they are not worth within twenty per cent of the prices already paid this season.

In fact, with the exception of a few lots, there is now scarcely any good wool left, and as, according to Mr Unzue, the broker, the clip this year will be one and a-half millions of arrobas less than last [Mr. Duggan estimates about one million], nearly all the good wools have already come to market. There can be no doubt that the wool clip, both in quality and quantity, will prove inferior to last year.

The Poitou [Bonnemason's line] has brought a large cargo and a heavy passenger list. She will sail on the 20th.

The wool sales in the North Plaza to-day were as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 800 ar | T Kenny | 64 |
| 1500 ar | L Balleto | 51 |
| 300 ar | do | 45 |
| 500 ar | do | 62 |

A small lot from an English estancia in Entre Rios sold to-day at 18rls.

It was said on 'Change to-day that the supplemental mail bag made up at the British Consulate on the 28th January has come back, by some mistake, having missed the steamer.

At the South Plaza very few transactions to day, as usual on Monday.

A broker of this plaza bought 7,000 arrobas at $56, from one establishment at Matanza. The wool must be delivered at his barraca in town.

Five lots sold at $45, 48, 51, 54, 55.
1300 arr lamb's wool at $42
Three lots of dry hides:—
650 good matadero, $132
400 do 134
250 camps, 128
One lot sheepskins, matadero, 'al barrer,' $105.
Pelados, $27.
Seven lot at $76, 82, 90, 105,

NEW VESSEL FOR SALE

The Swedish Schooner Rio, of 110 English tons burden, copp ered and copper-fastened, built at Gefle, in Sweden, in the month of July, 1868, classified Veritas, for seven years, 3/3 A 11 drawing with full cargo eigh feet of water, is for sale.

Rarely does an occasion offer for buying a small vessel combining so many qualities, for she was built under the direction of the Swedish captain who has made several voyages to the River Plate, and many trips up the Parana and Paraguay, and nothing was omitted in the construction for making her a first-rate sea and river craft.

She is strongly built and very swift, for notwithstanding bad weather and contrary winds, she made her first voyage from Cadiz to Montevideo, with a full cargo, in 56 days.

Everything on board the vessel is in the best order, in fact, she is in every way reay for sea. For the greater convenience of intending purchasers, she has been anchored near the Mole, and those who desire to see her can easily get on board.

Kemp's Vegetable Worm Pastiles.

I Certify that I have for many years been physician in the Hospitals of this city, and have had occasion to test the effects of "Kemp's Worm Pastiles." SUMMER

"With all thy faults I love thee still."

Yes! 'tis true, we are in the midst of Summer charms, we have our merry Pic-nics under the umbrageous foliage of the weeping willow, or gliding pleasantly o'er the rippling waveiet, see happy children gambolling on the green sward replete with health and enjoyment, while the feathered songsters give forth the most beautiful music, and all is happiness on earth; but, no! Summer is not faultless, Heat, stifling, suffocating, Heat-sickening is Summer's bane, and we require something to counteract its evil influence
