THE PARAGUAYAN WAR.

LOPEZ'S FURNITURE AUCTION.

Yesterday, the long talked of Paraguayan furniture auction came off at Mr Billinghurst's mart in Calle Potosi. At 11 o'clock a.m. the place was literally thronged. Men of every walk in life were there,—the Church, the Bar, the warehouse, and the shop,-all were represented: even the Corps Diplomatique had a member. Not for years has there been so interesting a sale in this city, and when Mr. Billinghurst arose, hammer in hand, and opened the sale, in his usual flowing style, aptly remarking that the articles to be sold had not only their intrinsic but also historic value, there was a slight attempt at a cheer through the warerooms.

If Paraguay was put up at auction to morrow, doubtless there would be Why, the highest court in the landbuyers found to purchase it. THE PARAGUAYAN WAR.

The following notices from the seat of war are official and highly interesting. From what is said by many prisoners, some deserters, and a Brazilian who managed to escape from Paraguay, and from what some of our parties, directed by good guides, have liscovered, it is known that Lonez. after his defeat at Lomas Valentina, was in Cerro Leon; but shortly after went to the settlement of Pira-bebui, where he has established the sent of his government, and it is undoubted that he was staying in the small cordillera that extends between the coast of the river Paraguay and Villa Rica. In this cordillera the rivers Salado and the settlements of Jaguaron and Paraguary, and between these is the camp of Cerro Leon.

On the western side of this cordilleanother pause, $3000 first price-4000 ra Lopez is fortifying himself, between Cerro Leon and Paraguary, in a pass called Ascurra, surrounded by bush, and which forms a defile.

It seems that he has there some 16 or 20 pieces of small calibre, and from 3000 to 5000 infantry and cavalry.

The scenery was good, but the grand catastrophe might have been better prepared by the artist The eruption of Vesnvius was to mild at the beginning, and too stupendons at the finish. With more artistic arrangement this should be one of the most effective tableaux on the lyric stage. The composer well sustains the horror of the situation but he seems to feel that his labors are subordinate to those of the machinist and scene painter who generally succeed in making the whole thing ridiculous. Madame Pasi sang and acted better than we thought her capable of doing. Her performance of Iona has raised her wonderfully in our estimation. The opera was greatly curtailed, and and Madame Uberti had little opportunity of displaying her powers.

CHLORODYNE, (Collis Browne's, Freeman's, Mur

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the Royal College of Physicians of London, that he had received a desparch from Her Ma-jesty's Consul at Manilla, to the effect that Chlo rodyne was the only remedy of any a rvice in Chol-ra - See 'Lancot,' Dec. 31, 1864. The 'Times,' of November 14, 1865, asya the Rev Mr. Forbes, the Chaplain to the English Church in Paris, has gratuitously adminis-tured Chlorodyne in between fifty and sixty cases of incipient Cholers, in some cases where the discuss had made considerable progress, and succeeded in arresting it in every instance Dr. Hutchinson, Her Britannic Majesty's Cou-sul in Rosario, who took charge last season of the Cholera Mospital in that city, employed Chlorodyne in every case, and the result was he saved sixty per cent. This is a fact which does not require any pulling.

We would also add that the same physician, in a letter to Mr. Orone, Governor of Santa Fasaid, of the several Medicines used in Cholera there is only one of any real value, and that is Chlorodyne.

Chlorodyne is allowed to be one of the precious discoveries of the present age. It is largely em ployed by the most eminent medical men in all parts of the globe, and is justly considered to be a remedy of intrinsic value, and of varied adap a remedy of intrinsic value, and of varies susp-tability, possessing most valuable properties.

No other remedy can be exhibited with so much confidence as a Sedative, an Antispasmodic, an Astringent, or a Diaphoretic.

As a Sedative. It relieves pain, quiets the nervous system, and produces sleep, without ex-citing the action of the heart, or producing subequent headache.

As an Antispasmodic. It speedily relieves pasmodic pain or cholic, whether in the stomach

As an Astringent in Cholera, Diarrhosa, and Dy-entery. It rapidly rolleves pain, spasm, and tenesmus, and supports the system, keeping up the warmth of the surface and extremities of th body, and at the same time moderating the action of the bowels.

As a Diaphoretic. It produces a gentle glow
