A Great Sensation! A Good Sensation! Important Truths for Thinking Men and

Pain cured in an instant ! LET RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

Be used on the first occasion of pain or un-easiness; if threatened with disease or sickness, easines; it threatened with disease of sichless, the cure will be made before the family doctor would ordinarily reach the house.

Hundreds of families, who for 25 years have used the Ready Relief, have had no occasion for used the Ready Relief, have had no occasion for he services of a doctor.

Every kind of Pain, Ache, Cramp, Spasm, the whether from injuries, accidents, poisoning, or from disease that may exist in the inside or outside of man, woman, or child, is instantly stopped, and the cause (if disease) quickly removed by Radway's Ready Relief.

People who for a quarter of a century have used it, and cured themselves of all kinds of pains, aches, and infirmities, know but very little of its truly great power in the more dangerous diseases. In all cases where an external embro-cation or liniment is required, or where there is cution or liniment is required, or where there is cation or liniment is required, or where there is pain, inflammation, congestion—or where there is a disturbance inwardly, such as cramps, spasms, diarrhosa, sickness at stomach, headashe, and other simple aliments, they know very well that the Ready Relief will remove all these difficulties in a few seconds, but that the more fatal diseases, such as Small Pox, Yellow Fever, Asiatic Cholera, Typhoid Fever, and the class of diseases that terminate fatally in a few hours, they know little that in Radway's Ready Relief they have a life-preserver that will cure them and protecthem against attracks of those fatal diseases, and yet this is true, and it is the only remedial agent in existence that will absolutely cure and prevent these diseases.

The solution of this great medical problem is plain and simple, for in the Ready Relief we have a counter-irritant; a disinfectant; a diffusive stimulant; an anticacid; a dispharatic; an have a counter-irritant; a disinfectant; a diffu-sive stimulant; an anti-acid; a dispharetic; an anti-spasmodic; a rubefacient; an anti-set tic; a su orific; an anodyne: a nervine; and tonic Each of the e properties are so harmoniously con-bined and associated, that each perform with singular and marvellous rapidity independent duty, and each, as a part, assists the other; and when the symptoms of disease indicate their united influence, the Ready Relief instantly supplies this important requisite.

influence, the Ready Relief instantly supplies this important requisite.

In Asiatic Cholera—(and the same proporties are called for in Yellow Fever, and other malignant malarias)—an Antdyne is called for to assuage the pain, stop the vomiting and purging; a Disinfectant, to kill, destroy or neutralize the poison or acid of cholers; an Anti-Spasmodic, to allay the spasms and cramps, vomiting and purging; Anti-Septic to prevent mortification and to purify the gases of the stomach; Diffusive stimulant, to impart warmth throughout the chill dihant, to impart warmth throughout the chill d and cold body—and arouse the paralized organs, the functions of which have been stopped, and to start the congested blood in circulation; Counter-Irritant to withdraw inflammation from the en-start the congested blood in circulation; Counter Irritent to withdraw inflammation from the engorged bood vessels and congested nerves, and impart to the nervous system a new supply of electricity, a Diaphroutic, to arouse the sluggish vessels of the skin in the secretion and promotion of perspiration; these indications being accomplished, a cure is effected, and in ninety-nine times out of a hundred, the most violent cases of Asiatic Cholera are cured by the simple use of Hadway's Ready Relief.

This same principle secures the same happy results, in all other diseases and ailments, either applied externally or taken internally.

In Congestion of the Lungs, Inflammation of the Badder and Kidneysin fact, in all forms of disease where there is pain, the Ready Relief will in a "few minutee" stop the most excruciating and agonizing parenaysms. The second reading of the Church bill was to come off Northern Germany. on the 18th, and D'Israeli had threatened all the opposition to its passing that his party could bring into the field. Nevertheless the tone of the English Journals shows that never was a victory more certain than that which awaited the Ministry on this momentous question. Meantime the army and navy estimates were discussed, showing a reduction of 21 millions, and the government solicited a vote of 84 millions to cover the expenditure of the Abyssinian campaign. The House of Lords has taken up the educational question, but the debate shows little promise of any sweeping reformation. It seems the present system gives primary instruction to a million and a quarter children, and some peers opposed any change ou the ground that there was no room for improvement, while one distinguished Lord expressed his objection to a more general method of popular education on the supposition that it would lead to an increase of crime! The system of Irish education was incidentally discussed, and it appeared the Catholic Bishops wished to get entire control in the matter. The Eng-

It is remarkable that in his inaugural address, the President made no allusion to the question of Cuba. Meantime we hear of filibustering expeditions starting from Florida and Georgia, and the arrest of numerous Americans at Habana; but the Cuban insurrection is reported to be entirely suppressed, General Dulce having opportunely received reinforcements of 12,000 men from Spain, which so disheartened the rebels that they gave up the revolt. The Governor had captured all the rebel leaders, and condemned them to death, but yards. orders from Spain countermanded the infliction of capital publishment.

At first the Republican deputies disavowed the acts of the rebels at Seville and Jerez, but the latest advices of the 18th announce that these deputies had retired 'en masse' from the Cortes. A stormy debate took place in the Chambers relative to the merits of Montpensier, when Admiral Topete declared he would much prefer Montpensier to a Republic. General Prim said the Cortes would soon know the name of the candidate that is proposed for the Throne. A popular manifestation was made at Madrid Banquet aboard Spanish flug-ship against Montpensier, and the mob set fire to a barrack, causing serious injuries to some of the soldiers.

Some of the papers advocate the union of Spain and Portugal, but the idea has little favour in Spain, and is scouted in Portugal.

Along the street, up which the procession moved, were placed at intervals long poles, from which floated respectively the flags of every nation. A magnificent triumphal arch was erected at the end of the street. At the corner of the Plaza there was another with the inscription, a heroe,' and another with the word Paz,' in large letters. But the English arch was, in my opinion one of, i not the verybest, of the day; it had the words ' Welcome,' in very large letters, No violence whatever has been on it, and was covered with laurel wreaths. I cannot mention all the arches, there were certainly half-aand his precipitate retreat was scarcely dozen more, all in good taste, and costing, I hear, a very pretty penny indeed, by the time each and all were finished.

on the point itself. Now, the present idea is to construct a mud fort on the cherished land, put fifty Paraguayan prisoners and fifty convicts to garrison it, and it and the Guardia (a distance of 40 leagues) by means of the little steamer Despacho. Once this was done, concessions of the adjoining lands would so as to be available for the market when the tide of settlement would reach so far. The results of a similar policy you hear from every returning passenger from Patagones in the ery "No lands to be had," while there are leagues upon leagues available, only subject to certain private conditions.

The absurdity of such a scheme as this must be patent to all rational people, having the general welfare of the country at heart. Permit me now. therefore, to point out its injurious effects, and thus bring home the interest of the question to the Welsh Colony. Let it not be imagined that these interests are something at vaviance with those of Patagones. A comparison of Sr. Garcia's article in the 'Nacion' and my present remarks will show that they are exactly identical. Seeing that the establishment ot Choelechoel forms no part of a comprehensive efficient scheme, which would add to the general security, WE WISH TO AVOID THE ENMITY OF THE INDIANS. Poor Patagoues has suffered terribly from this. I treat of a matter which my duties and experience contration of the line, but also an attack tinually bring under my notice, and that in a manner which forbids indulging in speculative humane theories. It is for the great men at the helm of State to consider the matter in a general sense. I only adduce for them an "a priori" argument from keep up the communications between the lesser, out of my narrow sphere and experience. I have cited the instance of the Chingaleo tribe at Patagones: we endeavour also to adopt the same policy at the Welsh Colony. be "denounced" by interested parties. The result of this is, that when a straggling Indian steals an animal from us, it is returned if the cacique finds it; if not, then he pays compensation for it: some of our cattle stray into the far camp, and are given up as lost, but the Indians find them, bring them back a long distance without one missing, and are awarded with a gratuity. This cacique has often expressed to me the wish of his tribe to settle down with us, and I have are ranged with him that, when my family come to reside in the Colony, he is to leave his two little girls in my charge for their education. The Indiana have no fear of us, nor have we of them; their brutish propensities some times annoy us. Bringing all this to bear on the pro posed fort at Choelechoel, it followthat such an expedition just now, in my opinion, would be ill-advised in the extreme. Better by far devote the money necessary for such an adventure to the development of the partido as it is. They want a lighthouse and buoys on the bar; they Cornwall. want proper landing places on both sides the river; they want the steamer the camp will testify: but though to run along the estancias for business they beat off the savage hordes, the purposes,—and many others are the wants of Patagones, far more pressing than the stretching out of their now ill-guarded lines.

The first represents the illfated ship as she settled down by the head in the Straits of Magellan, the next shows H. M. S. Nassau, the schooner Sarah Merryll, and the American brig that lent such valuable assistance, and the third is a beautiful group of 'vignettes,' representing the captain and officers of the Nassau, the ship herself with her mainsail and top sails shaken loose forming the centre. The portraits are admirably taken of as good looking a lot of tars as we, or any fair lady either, could wish to see.

We learn by the packet that in Germany and England there is each day increased attention paid to the River Plate, and several English provincial newspapers are now applying to us to exchange. The subject of pauper emigration has been brought up before Parliament and discussed; the United States laws prohibit the shipping of paupers to any part of the Union, but some members propose to ship all the occupants of poor houses to the colo nies, the Government paying the pas sage. It was stated that Australia has applied for them; some papers suggest the River Plate.

A general meeting of the members of the Jockey Club was held on Monday night, to consider if it should be a necessary condition for riders to be members of the Club- It was generally admitted that the introduction of such a measure would be beneficial; a majority of the members thought however that the fact of this change not having been announced beforeband, was a strong argument in favor of allowing things to remain in statu quo for the approaching meeting in Belgrano since most of the persons who had spent money in training horses might with reason feel aggrieved that they had not been notified in time of this alteration. It was however agreed that immediately after, the present meeting the question should be brought up and fully discussed with a view of arriving at a resolution that granted to other Banks to apply should conciliate the conflicting opinions. In the meantime the committee have expressed their determination to spare no effort to prevent jockeyism by heavy fines and severe punishment of the offenders, At the same meeting it was also agreed to postpone the closing of all entries for the races till Monday
