

Our French contemporary, in a lucid article yesterday morning, calls attention to the new competitor this country will soon have to confront in the wool markets of the world.

When we are to have an end to the complaints made about the nuisance in front of the Cathedral and Archbishop's Palace?—A number of boys and men congregating there, and annoying every passer by with their importunities.

We gladly publish a letter from our friend, Mr. Carmody, respecting the injury done to the Gas-works at Rosario by the late floods.

One of the most serious railway accidents that has ever occurred in South America happened on Wednesday afternoon to the down train that left Constitución terminus at 3 p.m.

On Monday there will be a meeting of the Progreso Club, to determine as to the propriety of building a new Club House.

The increasing business has rendered it necessary to run another wire from the Parque terminus of the Western Railway to the Central office of the Telegraph Company in Calle Cangallo.

In the Plaza Mayo, opposite to the Government House, at the corner of Calles Rivadavia and Mayo, where formerly a low sailors' drinking house flourished, the grandest hotel and most stately pile of building in this capital now stands.

The vocal and instrumental concert that was to have been given to-night by La Señora de Tagle has been postponed until Tuesday evening next.

In his journey round the table the gallant little Frenchman received many and deserved compliments from the delighted guests, whose ears had been enraptured by the most choice operatic gems, beautifully rendered by the band outside.

Mr. Luis Varela and Dr. Prado followed in similar strains of harmony and good feeling, after which, Don Hector who seemed to consider as personal the parting allusion of Don Aristobulo, mounted on a chair, and said:—'Gentlemen, the words of peace, harmony and friendship just pronounced have, I am happy to observe, found a warm response in you all.'

CONSTITUTION IN RUINS.—The idea that the constitution is ruined is in most cases a vulgar error. The electricity of the vital forces is marvellous.
