THE GOROSTIAGA EMISSION. Public opinion having virtually annulled the law authorising the emission of six millions of bonds...

Financiers in Europe always make sure of the success of a loan before they announced it, and to do this consult previously with leading capitalists...

Such has been the course adopted by the French Emperor with the numerous loans contracted during his reign, and we know the results.

It is generally foreseen when a government will require a loan, and previous to, and during its discussion in the Chambers, public opinion, as evinced by stock exchange quotations, adapts itself to the coming event.

make them believe, besides, they have no guarantee that another six millions may not soon be issued—they get alarmed and ask for their money...

But we will proceed to show the difference between the Internal Bonds, proposed to be issued by the Minister, and the American 5.20s and the Argentine loan.

The denomination of 5.20's is applied to bonds bearing 5 per cent. interest, and redeemable in 20 years, issued during the great struggle between the North and South.

The first recourse of Mr. Chase was to the issue of paper currency, but, finding that at the rate expenditure was going on, and the rapid depreciation of the currency...

At this price they crept on the Frankfort Exchange, and were at first considered very hazardous, but with the success of the arms of the Union...

The Argentine loan has the condition of two and a half per cent. accumulative amortization, which will extinguish it in twenty years...

But even supposing foreign markets are willing to take off the new batch at 70, how are holders to avail themselves of the amortization which is accorded to the lowest tender...

THE PLAZA ONCE DE SEPTIEMBRE. That there are thousands of Parisians who have never been outside of Paris, is an admitted and established fact...

FORTY MILLION PATACONS. Or eight millions sterling. This is what the Paraguayan war cost the Argentine Republic in the 54 months...

with a comfortable, independent appearance, which told of rustic wealth, happiness, and prosperity. Splendid barraca, capacious wood yards, grand almacenes, tiendas, and confiterias...

Perhaps we should add also to the above the recently voted emission of 6 millions, which will, doubtless, be required for army-bills, Brazilian debt &c.

When we think of the many grand enterprises that might have been carried out, and the immense benefit that would result to the country, if the money already squandered in Paraguay had been devoted to the welfare and progress of the Argentine Republic...

There is one redeeming spot about the Once, and that is the railway station; here we have the evidence of decided progress, and the sole architect of bullock cart ruin.

At the entrance of the Plaza in Calle Cangallo, there is a horrid municipal lake or quagmire capable of swallowing up Don Roque Perez and all the Municipality.

As we approached the Plaza by Calle Rivadavia, we were struck with the shocking state of the street, and the blighted and unproductive aspect of the shut up houses.

English stores we could see none—The Wilkinson's, Cosarrio's, even the Terence Moore's, where are they; where their marts of tea, sugar, sheep-shears and frieze coats? gone, gone...

Some heavy landslips behind Mr James's house have torn away the side of the mountain, and carried destruction into the cabbage garden.

TRIP TO BRAZIL. VISTA DOS REIS.

One of the most delightful excursions about Tijuca is a ride up the mountain near the peak to the Vista dos Reis, which overlooks the bay of Rio. On Friday the 1st inst. Mr. Bennett at breakfast proposed the excursion...

don market, and stick steadily to the text, that our credit abroad is now such, that funds can never again be wanting for any purpose.

The Commissioners have forwarded to Government their official statement of the result given by the late census in the city of Buenos Ayres.

Notwithstanding the inclement nature of the weather, we had a crowd of visitors to our Museum yesterday to inspect the piece of a whale sent to us from Quilmes.

A competitor, fresh from Oxford University, will make his debut in the River Plate at the forthcoming Athletic Sports.

It is encouraging to find that the camp is not quite so 'done up' as people imagined. A worthy escribano of San Vicente has presented a petition to Government, praying that leave may be granted him to extend the blessings invariably attending the practice of his profession to the neighbouring town of Canelas.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The state of the National finances continues the chief topic of discussion in monetary circles, and in the columns of our colleagues.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

We publish in another column a magnificent critique on Madame Carozzi's impersonation of Norma from the pen of Ali, one of the best and soundest of our musical critics.
