may say, red-headed. Let justice be done.

The census returns for the entire Argentine Republic have now been handed in. The total population reaches 1,772,185 souls.

The late elections of 'municipales' in Rosario have been declared null by the Santa Fe Government.

We see by a notice in the 'Tribuna' that Mous. Dorion, late manager of the Universal Exhibition of Buenos Ayres, has resigned that post.

A Mormon was lately killed by lightning near Salt Lake; by this melancholy event a fine assortment of widows of all ages and conditions was thrown on the market.

The new mole at Concepcion is progressing most favourably, and will soon be finished; when completed it must prove of vast benefit to the trade of this place.

The Hon. W. Stuart has obtained leave of absence from the Foreign Office to go home, and intends proceeding to England by the next Pacific steamer.

But let us follow the Report. After twenty-four years of trial Mr. Gordon's first experiment had succeeded so well that he was encouraged to try a second one.

The weather is extremely unfavorable for business and also crops, it is feared that if the wet weather continues the wheat and maize crops will suffer severely.

The meeting of creditors in the case of Uriarte took place to-day at the Tribunal de Comercio, there being about seventy or eighty creditors present.

be paid to an ordinary labourer. A committee of four are charged with the management of the farm, two of them retire each year.

The practical direction of the farm, however, is in the hands of the farm bailiff, who is himself a co-operator, but he receives wages from the company, in the same way as any other labourer would do.

Before going any further, it may not be out of place to reflect on the possibility of such a society on the Argentine territory. One thing is certain, there need be no lack of land to begin with.

The advantages of societies like these at Assington in inducing provident habits amongst agricultural labourers, in decreasing pauperism, and in what we need far more in the Argentine Republic.

Do you think, my friends of the 'Standard,' that the National Government, or the Sociedad Rural Argentina would step in as Mr. Gordon did to advance a loan of whose repayment there could be no doubt under proper organization?
