THE MUNICIPAL BALCONY.

Delays are dangerous. Had the Nas tional Guards arrived down here when they were first expected we might have of moralizing on thevery discreditable squabble between the Municipality and the Government. But the Guards are still up the river, and everyone is day & e., the Municipal Balcony. In considering the subject it is necessary side of the Cordillera. We are fully aware that according to the Argentine constitution "Jack is as good as his master," and the Municipality in their city hall are fully as powerful as President Sarmieuto and his Ministers in the Government House. Both claim respect from the public, but both lose the right when by their acts they betray a conduct which can only be understood in school-boys.

The return of the National Guards atter a long and tedious war is a fit and proper occasion for an outburst of natriotism and general enthusiasm. the troops to land at the mole-head without the slightest notice. Two gentlemen I am glad to announce that the difrom San Juan named Marco Antonio rectors of the Cuñapiru Gold Mining Company have at last been brought to a partial sense of their duty. They purchase merchandize, and reached on have this evening, after nearly month's waiting and incessant promises, paid all the bands brought out by Mr. Bankart up to the 30th of last November. They would not allow them anything for the time they have been here, but have taken their pas sages in the Cordillera steamer to Lie verpool. Had it not been for the care fully drawn contract by Mr. B. with the men, they might now have been thrown on their own resources here Every possible inducement was held out to them to remain, and promises of large increase of wages, but they ne and all, declared they would no risk being bitten twice. I have no doubt that the satisfactory conclusion of this unpleasant matter is greatly owing to the good offices of the British Consul here, and it is to be hoped that he may also exert his timely influence in obtaining the settlement of staft. It is almost beyond conception that the Board of Directors, after obtaining an order from the judicial authorities for Mr. Bankart's detention come, it being well known that a lawsuit once commenced absorbs in expenses generally more than the claim itself, and the time required for its settlement is interminable. After all the incessant labor, trouble, and anxiety that Mr. Bankart has had to undergo, the shareholders themselves ought to be aware of what is due to their own characters, and see that be is paid: if not, a lasting stigma will rest upon each member of the Company. Laying saide the supposed advantages which we have in the possession of stress is laid in popular estimates, we apply everywhere, in our fabrication of woolens, the factory system, and make the utmost use of mechanical power, while handicraft processes are still largely used abroad, especially in weaving. For the preparation of The final settlement with the Government card-wool, no machinery at the exposition equalled in efficiency the American burring machinery exhibited, such as is in general use here. In the carding of wool, no improvements were seen at Virviers, one of the chief centres of the card wool industry in Europe, which we do not have in use. About the same number of hands Spinning in large establishments abroad is usually performed by mules; while jack-spinning is more generally adopted in New-England, as better variety of fabrics usually produced in Emigration, on a systematic, progress or mills. The mules TELE STE O equal efficiency with those in the best mills of Europe. With respect to weaving, it was remarked that looms ST. BRENDAN'S COLLEGE-CARMEN DE ARECO were being constructed at Virviers such as we would not put in our mills to-day. It was also remarked that no European looms for weaving fancy goods were shown at the Exposition bich would bear comparison with the Crompton loom; and, even upon tlemen were awarded premiums and that admirable machine, great improvements are known to be in progress. The other processes of manufacture. such as dreing, are the same as in Europe. When we take into consideration the greater energy and intelligence of our better fed and better educated workmen, the necessary use of every labor saving process, on account of the higher cost of labor here, and the admitted superiority in construction of American machinery, it may be safely asserted that a yard of cloth is made in this country with less bours of human labor than one of equal quality and the same degree of fluish abroad. In other words, a week's labor will produce more yards of cloth in an American thau in a European

"Well; if such be the case, what further need of Protection?" triumphantly queries a Free-Trader. The Report proceeds to answer as follows:

"But it is said that a yard of cloth costs less in Europe than in the United States. Even this statement requires qualification; for the American laborer can purchase bere more yards of cloth with the produce of a day's work than the European laborer: the ratio of the price of cloth in this country, to-day, not being in proportion to the ratio of the rate of wages of ordinary labor. It is still true that the money cost of producing cloths is greater in this country than in Europe. From what has been said, it is apparent that the greater money cost of fabricating cloths is not due to any want of natural advantages or any nell. deficiency in skill and effective labor on the part of the American manufacturer. It is not true of this industry, as is often asserted by theorists, that it has a sickly and bot bed growth, sustained only by artificial stimulus, and reundring its production as unuatural, to use Adam Smith's often quoted comparison, as that of wine produced from grapes grown in the greenhouses of Scotland. The higher cost of production in this industry is due, solely, to natural causes inherent in the condition of a new country and a progressive people, to the higher rates of the interest on capital required to initiate and sustain industrial enterprises, and higher rates of wages demanded by the greater social and educational requirements of our industrial population."-New York Tri-

Its use is attended with the most striking results. On a recent occasion eminent London Physicians and Surgeons made affidiavits to the fact that they had extensively prescribed FREE-MAN'S CHLORODYNE, had used it in private practice, had used it in comparison with Chlorodyne of other makers, had carefully noted the effects of each, and preferred FREEMAN'S as being the most certain and reliable preparation, stating in particular that they had not fou d it to produce headache.
