

THE FLAMSTEED'S MAILO.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

The Flamsteed, Captain Kidd, arrived in port early on Tuesday morning, after a very favourable passage, bringing a number of passengers and an assorted cargo.

Clermont-sur-Oise has been occupied by a German military force. The mountain is forty miles north of Paris, and the same distance from Amiens.

On the 18th three Death's Head Hussars presented themselves at one of the town gates, and demanded a parley with the authorities.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

discontinue the night guard at Bettemburg, the frontier station, by representing that the broken condition of the railway made the precaution superfluous.

At the beginning of the week it was announced from Tours that a pious Vendean, M. Cathelineau, was raising a corps of volunteers at his own expense, to carry on the holy war against the Protestant invader.

On the 18th three Death's Head Hussars presented themselves at one of the town gates, and demanded a parley with the authorities.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

The Prussians occupy Chateau and Villejuif. 8,000 Prussians are quartered at St. Germain. A report from the front of the 24th says that the Prussians reign along all the positions.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE

WEEKLY STANDARD

BUENOS-AIRES, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1870

THE EASTERN QUESTION AGAIN.

WAR PREPARATIONS IN RUSSIA

We find the following ominous news telegraphed from Berlin by the Times correspondent.—Orders have been given to prepare ammunition waggon in Western and Southern Russia for immediate use. Six field telegraph corps have been formed at St. Petersburg, each capable of laying down 35 miles of line.

“Soon your invincible sword will have thrown open the paths of honor to those noble exiles so long in banishment, and rescued the destinies of the country from the infamous men who have held the Government for the past five years.”

General Aparicio replied in the following terms.—“Ladies. It is with unfeigned emotion that I receive to me with the expression of your sympathy and support. You are the noblest of the nation, and you do justice to the magnanimity of our programme. Give me then, I pray, all the enthusiastic support of your hearts, which are ever open to the sweetest and noblest aspirations. My arm, perchance, would have lost nerve in the struggle but for the consciousness of the greatness of my task.”

INCIDENTS OF THE FRENCH REVOLUTION.

The Rue Dix Decembre has been re-christened; it is now called the Rue Quatre Septembre. The Avenue de l'Empereur is to be known as the Rue Victor Noir. On the declaration of the revolution at the Marché aux Herbes, all the flags of the Empire were struck off. All the plays in the theatres were cancelled. A special advertisement headed all the theatres, and the name of the Emperor was everywhere.

COUNCILLOR PARANHOS; VISCOUNT OF RIO BRANCO.

This distinguished diplomatist, who has just arrived again in the River Plate, is now raised to the peerage of Brazil under the noble title, in reward for his numerous services both before and since the Paraguayan war. Few men have played a more important role in South American politics or in every-day life than Paranhos. He was a journalist, connected with one of the most influential and liberal organs of Rio Janeiro. He was always a consistent supporter of immigration and industrial advancement: the great Union highway, a marvel of its kind, is associated with his name, as also the Pedro Segundo railway and other grand enterprises.

GREAT NEWS FOR BUENOS AYRES.

FIRST CARGO OF ARGENTINE GUANO

YESTERDAY we received the very gratifying intelligence of the arrival in port of a cargo of real 'bono fide' Argentine guano. The news was, as is peculiarly acceptable, since, owing to the various samples of gold, silver, coal, petroleum, cotton, indigo, &c., which for the last ten years we have been exhibiting, the public have, to a great extent, lost faith in all new industries, and flung themselves back into hides, tallow, sheepskins and wool. To redeem, regenerate, or disenthral the industries of the Plate, has been the STANDARD programme from the cradle. How truly we have followed it rests with our subscribers to us. We cling to cotton, with an enthusiasm bordering on gossypium-inthusiasm, and in a ceaseless struggle for a cause which may call for greater talent, but certainly could not demand more steadfast apostles, we have stumbled upon stranger evidences of hidden wealth, vast and profound as the slough in which it has so long been sealed up.

THE FRONTIER LAND BILL.

There is a bill in the Provincial Parliament regulating the sale of public land outside the frontiers of the province. This bill has been sanctioned by the Upper House, and although believed by some to be already one of the many laws enacted on this subject, it yet, in my opinion, requires the sanction of the Lower House and the signature of the Executive.

