"AMLETO." On Wednesday night 'Amleto' was given at the Colon Theatre to a tole. rably full house. We believe Tomas a situation as Waiter in a gentleman's Salvini can claim the honor of being family. The audience was select, not numerous, more intellectual than fashionable, and, as is usual in such treats, the Teuton element was conspicuously strong on the occasion. We must give the Germans No fa cord di tutti, e del più salde Uman consiglio, la natia virtude their true merit. Who would tardels bear proved for years arid soil for the Eng-lich drama hat soon Italy woke un; the Italian mind called for the deep philosophy of Shakespeare, and a Pappi, a Maffei, and a Carcano, Thus conscience does make cowards of us all; grappled with the task. Of all the And thus the native has of resolution.

Is sickiful o'er with the pale cast of thought; Italian translations that of Carcano (extracts from which we now give) is considered the best. He soared above The fair Oppelia—Symph, in thy orisons the common aim of translators, and interpreted the mind of Shakespeare, adapting it to the language of song. There is no jurisdiction here before which Salvini can be tried as a tragedian, or Shakespeare as a dramatist. The Italian artist has, with the elements at his disposal, done wonders. Hamlet is not our topic, 'Amleto' is our theme, and we cooless that nothing more surprised us on Wednesday night than the close proximity between the two plays which the genius of Salvini has effected.

Hamlet is a tragedy of thought-Amleto' a theatrical representation of s historical event. Hamlet awakes mediation on human destiny- Amleto' excites pity among the audience. Hamlet is of unfathomable depth-'Amleto' is suited to the Italian mind. appeals to the senses, and is comprehensible.

Salvini has much to recommend him -commanding figure, sonorous voice, united with dramatic genius of the very highest order: he is as much of a Dane as either an Italian or a Britisher can be, but there we must stop. Were he less of a tragedian he would be more Shakesperian. This tragedy is considered to be the least theatrical of all Shakespeare's plays. The pretended insanity of 'Amleto' is admicably simulated, perhaps too much so, since in our admiration of the actor we overlook the calculating consideration which seems to exhaust plause. everything, even reveuge itself. Salvini is the true type of royal manners: his deep soliloquies sounded really mellifluous, and with breathless admiration the house hung on his accents. lights.

June 23, 1871.

The last three or four days' examination of Sir Roger Tichborne has not think laus Deo meant the laws of God' is excusable; but that he should have forgotten the commonest terms of cavalry drill is more unaccountable. In the course of his recent examination he took the opportunity of correcting an error of the Solicitor-General in regard to the synonyms 'bandy' and 'hockey,' to which I have already alluded in a former letter, as an evidence of attempted mystification on the part of the counsel. The claimant's recollections of Stouvhurst were remarkably meagre; and for a performer on the French horn, his knowledge of music was, to say the least of it, elementary. On the 16th just., at the commencement of the proceedings, the Solicitor-General called upon Pere Le Febre. M. Groussel, the Abbe Salis, M. The manifestoes of the International don, of which I have in a previous letter given you an extract, have creaclasses in this country. The apology of the Association for the crimes of the latter days of the Paris Communals, and the open admission that from henceforth there can be no truce between the capitalists and the labourers, or between the old and the new regime, between society as at present constituted and as these reformers intend to place it-that is, bottom side up -has opened the eyes of the upper ten, who imagined that the summum bonum of a box at the opera is a permanent and divine institution. The alarm is all the greater that in London the document is signed by such men as Mr. Lucroft and Mr. Odger, who were beginning to be looked upon, in their capacities as members of London school boards and other wise and moderate associations, as respectable individuals. Even the leading organ of a well-to-do optimism, so accustomed to make merry at the expense of the awkward and ignorant struggles and wriggles of the lower stratum, has grown serious and even white-com. plexioned at the spectacle of a vaspolitical association organized and ramified throughout Europe. The proposed review of the Liberating Army of Paris, which was to have taken place yesterday, is indefinitely postponed, ostensibly on account of the untavourable weather. Even that jade, the 'weather,' has turned her back on France, whom, with all her faults, the world will continue to love. There are a great many 'untravelled' Freuchmen now in London. The other day a pair of them goout of an omnibus which had just come from the West-End, at 'the Mansion House. #### CURTIS' AND HARVEY'S GUNPOWDER.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF PARLIAMENT. _; -

The superiority of this Gunpowder, especially for military purposes, has just been established, beyond all dispute, by the Report of the Special Committee of the British Parliament, which thus accredits its unequalted abilities:

"The powder first tried by the Committee in the Boxer-Henry Cartridge, and of which they entirely approve, is known as 'Curtis and Harvey, No. 6.' Several other descriptions manufactured at the Government Factory, Waltham Abbey, have also been tried, but have not afforded the same uniform accuracy of shooting.

"There appear to be difficulties, confined, it is believed, to the question of expense, in producing a powder at Eitham Abbey, in all respects equal to Curtis and Harvey, No. 6; but the Committee, keeping in view the importance of maintaining the great accuracy shooting of the Martini Henry Rifle, recommend that no powder should be used for its ammunition that does not give results at least equal to those obtained in the Committee's experiments, whether such powder be obtained from the Government Factory or from the Trade.
