

ditioned of any that has taken place. He confessed the city barricades were never intended to be defended, and were only erected to give courage to the Federals...

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The event of the day yesterday was the departure of the Hon. R. C. Kirk, late United States Resident Minister, near this Republic...

Rocheport was tried on Monday week; 6,000 applications to witness his trial were refused. The famous lampooner who first picked that bubble...

Julius Favre.—What a termination of a career! For a quarter of a century leader of the French bar; chief of the Republican party before it became demagogical...

The works of the double tramway line from Almagro to Flores were begun yesterday. Large gangs of navvies now hold the road, and we learn, with no small satisfaction...

The admirers of the late Paul de Kock are starting a sort of penny subscription to raise a statue in his memory. Pity the warmest of his admirers, Gregory XVI., is no more...

The new Municipal Council is working well. Politics never disturb their harmony, and in consequence the city is everywhere displaying a brushed-up aspect...

The Minister of Finance works like a 'nigger' in gathering up all the sous he can, to pay Bismarck and send the Philistines away—a speedy prospect at which the French are delighted like children...

The Assembly has decided by a vast majority not to return to Paris. This is unhappy, and will insure the capital at the same time putting a mark of want of confidence on her brow...

No cholera as yet. It is ominous that all the cemeteries are to be enlarged. Only think of the audacity of the undertakers' men going in for a strike!

A wing of the Louvre is to be devoted to a collection of 'Republican curiosities.' They will have to compete with Royal ones, such as the feeding-spoon of Louis XVI., and the nightcap of the first Napoleon.

circumstance that took place whilst the steamers Goya and Silex were on their way up from Montevideo last week, but we refrained from publishing the particulars till we had them well authenticated...

An appalling occurrence took place yesterday morning on the Southern Railway, which caused the loss of several lives; as the train from Lomas was coming towards town at full speed, a sow with her litter happened to cross the line...

The inauguration of the San Nicolas bridge seems to have been a very attractive affair. The inhabitants of the district were fully impressed with the importance of the occasion, and attended in their gala costume and their best spirits...

A passenger from the South by the Amalia informs us that the vessel is not a schooner, as we erroneously supposed, but a full rigged brig, and that she made the passage from port to port in 55 hours.

The Donro leaves Montevideo tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock. The last mail from the States, in addition to the intelligence of the fearful conflagration at Chicago, brings news of other disastrous fires in various parts of the Union...

Mr. Olguin has applied for a concession to run a tramway from the river bank at Belgrano, to the Racecourse. We hope this enterprising gentleman's petition will be granted. Many families are already on the move to their summer quarters in the suburbs, and bachelors' rooms within a convenient distance from town are rising in value...

Everyone is asking when Pepper's Ghost means to appear to the public. We are unable to state positively, but lieve P. will revisit the glimpses of the moon at the witching hour of some night in the middle of next week.

The Washington county Press tells this yarn:—There are many Germans on the east line of our county, near Marshall, who belong to the 'Amish' Church, if that is the correct spelling. The old stagers tolerate no buttons on their clothes, but fasten them with orthodox hooks and eyes...

There has been another free fight between the Whites and Reds in the Banda Oriental, General Castro with greatly superior forces having managed to disperse a band of the rebels under Pamplon, who was wounded, and fifty of his men killed.

The extension of the Central Uruguay Railway to the Progresso Station was inaugurated on Sunday last. A few days ago we mentioned an occurrence that took place whilst the steamers Goya and Silex were on their way up from Montevideo last week...

We received yesterday some excellent photographs taken in the Sierras of Cordoba by Messrs. Witcomb & Co. They are extremely well done, and the scenery reminding us forcibly of the romantic county of Wicklow...
