SUNDAY DECEMBER 24, 1871.

CHRISTMAS. Again it becomes our grateful task to salute our readers and wish them the compliments of this festive season.

Each succeeding Christmas finds the world around us undergoing changes, but this great anniversary is always an occasion for mirth, friendship and good-will.

It needs no electric wire to connect us with friends at home when the Christmas bells are ringing. Warm remembrances and heartfelt wishes meet each other across the wide Atlantic.

The prospects of this country are at present most favorable; peace at home and abroad; works of progress and improvement on all sides; increasing industry and prosperity; perfect harmony between natives and foreigners; and every other circumstance that can indicate a promising future.

THE STANDARD rejoices that, after so many years of varying fortune and eventful changes, the relations which bind it to its readers are happily the same, or rather strengthened by the lapse of time.

READERS! To each and all of you we wish, from the fullness of our heart, A Happy Christmas!

ARGENTINE AFFAIRS IN LONDON. The London correspondent of the Journal de Comercio of Rio Janeiro writes under date Nov. 22nd as follows:—

There is indeed, one consolation, namely that this hostility to England is viewed with disapproval by the most eminent people in Buenos Ayres, who consider it an ill return for the great efforts made in London to advance the Argentine Republic.

These same parties write to their friends here that the Italian immigration is now so enormous as to become an incubus instead of a blessing, that the Tucuman Railway will not be taken in hand before next year.

Paris, Nov. 16. I purchased twenty-five journals yesterday to endeavor to ascertain what do the French desire in the way of government.

THE SPANISH CORTES have been dissolved on the question of religious institutions which caused the resignation of the Government of King Amadeo.

THE TUMULTS IN BELGIUM are of a grave character. At the opening of the Chambers there was no Message from the Throne, the Ministers not wishing to provoke a reply.

THE ILLNESS OF THE PRINCE OF WALES is of so serious a character that his life was in imminent danger, and latest telegrams (27th) say that he passed a bad night.

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS IN SICILY is so bad that life and property have no guarantee. A gang of malefactors called Mafia had sworn to kill the Attorney-General.
