DE JAYNE,
A : CERTAIN AND EFFECTUAL
REMEDY For Fever and Ague, Intermittent and Remittent Fevers, &c.

This class of diseases, so common in all parts of the world, and specially prevalent in malaious districts and vicinage of water courses are almost invariably accompanied by more or less derangement of the liver, and frequently by a defective action of the digestive organs.

The mere breaking of the Chill is but a stop towards completing a radical cure. The various organs of the body, especially the stomach and liver, must be brought to a healthy and vigorous condition before a permanent cure can be established, and this fact has been specially kept in view by Dr. Jayne in his treatment of these complaints. The use of Jayne's Ague Mixture, in conjunction with the Sanative Pills, as prescribed in the directions which accompany each bottle, will not only bottle, will not only Break up the Chills,

But restore the system more particularly the liver and stomach, to a sound condition, and so prevent a relapse of Fever and Ague, by the roughly

And the best evidence of this is the iuvariable success which has always followed the administration of these remedies, as attested by the certificates published aunually in Dr. Jayne's Almanac, and the wide-spread popularity of the Ague Mixture in those districts of the United States, where the diseases, for which it is adapted, most prevail.

Republic to continue in power, for he be better suited than this for the same is probably the only man in France class of emigrants as Europe sends in that can at present safely rule its destinies. But, whether he falls back on the objectionable income-tax, or devises some other means of augmenting the revenue, it seems the import tariff on raw materials is quite exploded by the Assembly.

Respecting the Bolivian and Entre-

Rios loans, which take us completely by surprise, it is flattering to find that Wanklyn and Co., the well-know banking firm of this city, have launched the first with great success, for £1,700,000 sterling, the latest quotations shewing it had risen to a premium of 17. It is, if we are not mistaken, the first Bolivian loan contracted in England, and its success is no less auspicious for that Republic than for the rising bankers who have now for a second time had their name advantageously brought into prominence on the Lordon stock exchange. What will Bolivia do with the money? is a question easily answered. At least let us liope she has passed through, and forgotten, that infantine period of republicanism as known in South America, consisting of wars, revolutions &c. Bolivia has at present on hand some very serious enterprises such as the railway of Col. Church to the headwaters of the Madeira river, and the navigation of Lake Titicaca, besides the foundation of a State Bank and other minor undertakings. She has also some old debts to pay, for we know of a gentleman in this city who holds 80,000$ ftes. in Bolivian (home stock) 6 per cents, on which no interest has been paid for 30 years. It discharging such obligations and aidng the development of local industries and enterprises this loan of seven La expresada casa quinta se compone de 30 or eight no lion fuer es will prove a varas fresente y de 93 id fondo, 9 piezas en buen estado y espaciosea, corradon palomar, algunos nos arboles y las demas ofic nas necesarias.

aunching the proposed Entre Rios loan, of which they have published the prospectus, amounting in round numbers to a million patacons, we sincerely hope the first care of the Entre Riano Government will be to compensate Messrs. Ogilvy and the other foreign estancieros who have civil war. The Legislature of Entre Rios can afterwards arrange with the National Government how much of the indemnity should be defrayed by the latter, because it can never be entertained for a moment that any respectable Government will attempt to indorse the vagaries of Dr. Tejedor in contradiction to the recognized principle that all Governments are bound to indemnify foreigners against losses in civil war. Whatever surplus there be of the loan will find useful employment in the proposed railway com Concepcion del Uruguay to Paraná, or in the establishment of two new colories as offer settlers? Have we not ten times miller, and Frederick William III. ac-The facility for obtaining money in colonies, to pay assisted passages? It is very evident that money is wuusually abundant in London, and that everything Argentine or South American is at present viewed with much favor. English gold has such a fertilizing effect that we welcome it in any form. It was the dream of Rivadayla, and if the great statesman could now rise from his tomb he wou'd hail the present epoch as far more eventful for the Republic than the declaration of Endependence at Tucuman. In the length and breadth of England there are people of various ranks and conditions now ivesting their money in Argent'ne securities Need we remind Pres. Sarmiento and all his countrymen how much it behoves them to maintain jealously the good name of the Republic, and respond to the confidence that Englishmen are placing in the name of A gentine, while advancing their money for the develop. ment of the nation's resources. Ergland is a rich and generous friend, ready to help us in all our requirements. giving us almost a carte-blanche for any amount of money, on the understanding that we make a good and proper use of it. The condition of River Plate proluce in the European markets is described by the telegram as splendid, and this is fully borne out by the facts: hides have gone up a half-penny to-a farthings, and large sales in Liverpool were made at extreme rates. Wool has had a similar advance, even upon the previous high rates, and it is not an exaggerated estimate to say that the news per Sindh in the two items of hides and wool are equivalent to a gain of £200,000, or 25 millions currency for the country and producers. Such welcome tidings shew what fair prospects are opening on the Argentine Republic, if we only corres pondent to them, by urging on the authorities a proper attention to the interests of peace, progress and indus-

Even Brazil, with a climate less suitable than ours, is outstripping us, Advices from Ric Grande inform us that President Mello has signed a contract at Port Alegre for the introduction of 40,000 European settlers, and the Anglo Brazilian Times says that the San Paulo Association of Colonization and Emigration has contracted with the government of San Paulo to import 15,000 agricultural immigrants within three years. property holders. It is alleged by Argentines that while other countries have to make such artificial efforts to attract settlers the Argentine Republic offers such transcendant advantages as will keep up a constant stream of spontaneous immigration. Meantime it is worthy of remark that Australia, a country Dn. On the 15th June, 1871, Dr. Ugarte cipality of Ensenada, to prohibit the composed of the Argentine and Orienlonging to M. and J. Sosa, and which various nautical embleins-oars, rudthe said Municipality, without the mariner's compass and sea shell in the slightest right or authority, had ordered to be sold, the money to be deposited in the bank. Messrs. Sosa's title to these lands was shown back for on the maker, whose name at present upwards of one hundred years.

The judge at once gave the decree asked for. The Municipality appealed against the judgment, the court threw out the appeal, and condemned the Municipality with costs.

The Municipality then applied to the Provincial Government, and Minister Malayer sent a note to the President of the Superior Tribunal of justice intimating that in the case of Sosa versus the Municipality of Ensenada the government had determined to in terfere and stop all proceedings by or dering the lands in dispute to be handed over to the Office of Public Lands, when the question would be settled.

THE POSTRERA BRIDGE.

I stood on the bridge at sundown, As the men were cooking the roast-And the fires blazed up before me, Behind the way side-post.

I saw the passing figures, In the waters under me; Like a varied album falling. And sinking into the sea.

And for in the hazy distance Of that lovely afternoor.
The blaze of the burning thistles
Gleamed redder than themoon.

Among the long black rafters.

The wavering sliadows lay;
And the current that came from the Pampa,
Seemed to lift and bear them away. And like those waters rushing Among the iron piers,
A flood of thoughts came o'er me,
That filled my eyes with tears.

How often: oh! how often In that value tied hard by!

Have I crossed this river at sundown,
And gazed on the wave and sky. How often; oh! how often, I had watched the horse's tail,

To which the 'valsa' was fastened, Lest it snap across and fail. How often; oh! how often, Had I wished that the swimming brute, Could speak to tell his sorrows, Or cry, Beware!—the root.

For the horse was wet and restless, And his tail was full of hair And the burthen fastened to it Seemed greater than it could bear. But now he is out a grazing, And the valsa is no more Required to ferry passeng rs To the old Posticia shore.

And I think how many thousands Have cross'd at the horse's tail,' I fret at the country's prospects Where Progress is such a snail.

I see the long procession Once passing to and fro, The horse's tail the foremost The crowds behind in tow!

Yet whenever I cross this river On this bridge with iron piers, I'll think of that horse and value As the wreck of other years

In This Hot Weather, people should water. Even in colder climates scrious consequences have been known to attend the draught of a tumbler of pure water taken by persons in a heat. Afflicted as we are by love trials, the heat of the weather, and cares of the world how few of us can lay our hand on our heart, and say they are really cool in body or mind. We would therefore all have to drink het water were it not for Messrs. Otard, Dupny, & Co., a fews drops of whose matchless brandy takes the sting out of the water, and renders it at once harmless and refreshing.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the the great emporiums of the liver Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mana & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally inferested in putting their savines out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other fivolities.

The Bank of Mana & Co. of this ctiy, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo rom Nine a.m. till Three p.m. overy day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount de posited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to with-draw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render in the course of them.

Sarsaparilla Bristol's

Is prepared in the most scientific manner, by thoroughly educated chemists and Druggists, who have had many years' experience. It is not a simple extract from one article, but is compound, ed of extracts from a number of Roots, Herbs Barks, and Leaves, all of which are possessed of some particular virtue or power in curing the diseases that have their sourse in the blood and bumors; and these different vegetable extracts are combined in such a way us to retain, in so tall strength, the special curative virtue possessed by each. The root of the Sarsaparilla plants found in Honduras, is that which we use in this preparation; it is the kind which all inclical man esteem mess. About firty per cent, of Bristol's Sarsagarilla consists of the concentrated extract, the remainder, as above stated being Bristol's Sarsagarilla consists of the concentrated extract, the remainder, as above stated being composed of extracts from other powerful, c'eansing and healing vehetable substances. It does not contain any thing that is dagenus or injurious to health, and in this, as in nearly every other respect, is entirely different from all other preparations sold under the name of Sarsaparilla. By having our own agents at he places where the various roots, drugs, hetbs and plants, com-posing our medicines, are produced, we are en-abled to e ercise that constant care in selection which insures uninformity of excellence, and we spare no money and no effort to procure the best—and only the best—of every article enter-ing into their composition; and it is with the most abiding confidence we say, to be sick of all nations and all countries, that, in Bristol's Sar-saparilla you have a remedy more reliable than any before offered to you, and which will no di-sappoint you in the cure of. proint you in the cure of. As a means of building up the consistation that has been broken down by the excessive use of Mercury, Iron; or other Minerals, our Sarsaparilla will be found most excellent, and can be administered with safety to the weakest patients. As a purifier of the blood and humors, in the Spring and early Summer, it will the found unfalling. It can be taken freely at seasons, rainy or dry. For some of the above diseases, the use of the Sarsaparilly must be continued a considerable time, especially for those that are hereditary or constitution d in their nature—such as Scapfula: but a faithful compliance with the directions will always relieve and mitigate, and in a geeat majority of cases will effect a complete cure. It will also be found, in all of the above diseases, that a cure will be greatly haoted by using our Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills, in moderate does, in connection with the Sarsaparilla; they carry off large quantities of morbific or diseased matter set free in the system by the Sarsaparilla, and in this way facilitate she return of normal functional operations. ormal functional operations.
