sheds, either sleeping or card playing. But why go to the camp for an illness? I am happy to find that this act of mine, so important for the welfare of the country, meets the approval of all my comrades in arms...

Let me here observe that we owe a debt of gratitude to the Argentine Republic for this happy consummation. The moment will soon arrive for the execution of this treaty and the deposition of our arms; meantime, while relying on the guarantee of the Argentine Government as mediator, for the fulfilment of this treaty, we must remain steadily at our post and do our duty as soldiers.

CAMP PRISONS. "Required at once, 100 reams of good, strong packing paper, and 10 arabras of really adhesive waters, to repair the camp prisons in the province of Buenos Ayres."

APARICIO'S PROCLAMATION. Peace is not yet concluded between the Blancos and Colorados, although General Aparicio has issued a proclamation announcing that he has signed the treaty and that the war is over.

THE INTERIOR. The interior Provinces at this moment offer a much more pleasant thing for the Editor's pen, than they did some half dozen years ago. Not that we intend to make any invidious comparison between the administrations of General Mitre and that of Mr. Sarmiento.

THE INTERIOR. In a review of what we are accustomed to call the provinces, that is, all the Argentine territory outside the province of Buenos Ayres, the first and most significant item to take note of is, that public tranquillity is not disturbed, with the sole exception of Corrientes, where a local revolution is going through the usual ridiculous phases.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

A country without a government—a people without a head—a government without a country—a head without a people—laws without an executive—and an executive without laws. Such will be the position of the Banda Oriental tomorrow.

The Transandine Telegraph is now so far advanced that a message can be sent from Valparaiso to Buenos Ayres in two days. It is finished on the Chilean side to Puente de Inca, and will be opened through on the 5th of April next.

This country is afflicted with quite enough crime, without having murder 'caravans' manufactured for the public. The Mercaderes was the victim of a horrible accident of a murdered man at Almagro.

The Paysandu papers announce the resumption of hostilities in the Banda Oriental. A scuffle took place on Monday between the insurgents under Olivera and some government troops.

here her up to Liberty Island, where, it is thought, with the aid of the Port Captain, she will be ultimately got aloft.

The diligence this morning brought the news that Castro is making his horses, as the camps are getting bad where they are. As regards the marriage of Mr. Lasala with Miss Zamarran, there is nothing in it.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday morning at daybreak, H.E. Baron de Cotepeque, the Brazilian Plenipotentiary, left in his steamer, the Viscontino Rio Branco.

Some parties not particular as to how much money they lose propose to make a railway up Calle Cordoba to Calle Uruguay, manumising the Calle. As the street is subject to trifling inundations, being the chief Tercero in town, the carriages will be made on the lie-boat principle, and cork-jackets will be provided, free of charge, for all passengers.

The Provincial Government requests any person whose 'heptomania' tendencies may have induced them to steal books from the Public Library to return same, or they will be prosecuted according to law—if they can be caught.

The beautiful iron gates which enclose the Western Railway track across Calle Libertad are doomed. The Municipal Council has decided to remove them, and to erect a new gate.

CAMP PRISONS.

There is a humorous side, we believe, to everything; if we look for it there is something of the grotesque in every event to be found in the dictionary of life, but we live in an awful serious country, where the public appreciates nothing that is ludicrous—rarely even a joke pass current owing to the sneaking equivocation that twists it into an insult.

It is impossible to make anything like a close estimate of the destruction and injury caused by the war, but even a rough calculation will astonish anyone.

Ten thousand gaucho troops will consume twice as many sheep or horned cattle as a European army of the same number. Between Blancos and Colorados the aggregate number of men in the field could not be much under the above figure, and we may estimate their consumption at two thousand sheep and two hundred cows daily, which in two years amounts to 1,400,000 sheep and 144,000 cows.

Next must be computed the destruction of horses and other property. Last, but not least, the number of Blancos and Colorados killed in the war.

The account will stand thus:— 11,000 sheep.....$f. 720,000 114,000 cows....." 1,440,000 100,000 horses....." 1,000,000 other property....." 2,000,000 labor of 10,000 men at $1 daily....." 7,200,000 $f. 12,800,000

To this must be added an estimate of the loss of life, viz:— in battle.....4,000 in sickness.....1,000 in other ways.....1,000 6,000

If we estimate moreover the injury done to the country by the check to industry and emigration, the demoralization of the gaucho peons, the effects of the general hubbub, the figure will be stupendous.

No one could have been more sensible than Aparicio himself of the evils caused by the war, reducing his country to ruin and degradation. He, therefore, availed himself of the good offices of the Argentine Government to conclude a peace which he says, does not secure all the advantages he could desire, but places the Blanco party on a better footing.

sheds, either sleeping or card playing. But why go to the camp for an illustration of a Buenos Ayrean prison—can any sensible man pass the Cabildo in this city without a laugh? Such a prison, such sentinels, such turnkeys, and if one seeks to know what is going on within, from the windows of Mr. Cabral's office he can gratify his curiosity at the expense of his hilarity.

But it must be borne in mind that laughing is prohibited. Well do we recollect some years ago when people laughed as they passed Gibson and Murray's tailoring establishment in Calle Victoria. At first it was thought that some strange patterns in the window provoked the public risibility, but the late Mr. Gibson knew well to the contrary.

People passed the shop on purpose to see how things were going on, and whether the prisoners in the Cabildo behind had made any new holes in his wall wherewith to escape. Well, either the wall has been repaired, or the prison cells next to the tailor's vacated, but we hear nothing more of the hole in the wall business.

Even to pass the Policia one must laugh. Take up the papers and read that last week a prisoner had to go home from that prison in a suit of newspapers, all the poor man's clothes, even to his boots, having been stolen during the night by the other prisoners. Yes, we must laugh, and laugh downright at the prison system of this country. The camp prisons are sadly out of repair; money has to be spent to put them in order. Why does not the Governor publish the following notice:—

CAMP PRISONS. "Required at once, 100 reams of good, strong packing paper, and 10 arrobas of really adhesive wafers, to repair the camp prisons in the province of Buenos Ayres."

APARICIO'S PROCLAMATION.

Peace is not yet concluded between the Blancos and Colorados, although General Aparicio has issued a proclamation announcing that he has signed the treaty and that the war is over. It will be remembered that the dismissal of Lamas and Herrera came after the arrangement of the terms, and therefore Aparicio is still ignorant that the peace is a sham.

This is the more to be regretted as it seems the Blancos accepted the peace in the best spirit, and Muniz is even said to have disbanded some of his men.

The war that now seems coming to a close has lasted over two years, and the injury done to the country in that period is greater than anyone would be led to imagine from the desultory character of the campaign.—Robbery, murder and arson have been of almost daily occurrence, each side laying the blame on the other, but we think it only fair to remark that neither Blancos nor Colorados are directly responsible for the numerous murders recorded in that interval, which were in nearly all cases committed by loose bands of malefactors nominally subject to either the Government or the Blanco leader.

Whether the generals in command did their utmost to repress such atrocities is more than we can positively assert, but let us give the them benefit of the doubt.

Of one thing there is no doubt, that both parties, especially the Government troops, made free with the sheep and cattle of foreign estancieros, and when the bill comes to be paid by the Oriental Republic, sooner or later, the amount will be very large.

It is impossible to make anything like a close estimate of the destruction and injury caused by the war, but even a rough calculation will astonish anyone.

Ten thousand gaucho troops will consume twice as many sheep or horned cattle as a European army of the same number. Between Blancos and Colorados the aggregate number of men in the field could not be much under the above figure, and we may estimate their consumption at two thousand sheep and two hundred cows daily, which in two years amounts to 1,400,000 sheep and 144,000 cows.

the struggle and sacrifices of two years' duration. I am happy to find that this act of mine, so important for the welfare of the country, meets the approval of all my comrades in arms, not only those under my immediate orders, but also those at the command of the patriotic General Angel Muniz.

We have in this manner shown that we were fighting without other interest than true patriotism, to restore the country to its proper system and institutions.

Let me here observe that we owe a debt of gratitude to the Argentine Republic for this happy consummation. The moment will soon arrive for the execution of this treaty and the deposition of our arms; meantime, while relying on the guarantee of the Argentine Government as mediator, for the fulfillment of this treaty, we must remain steadily at our post and do our duty as soldiers.

I feel proud, my friends and comrades, to give the present proof to the country of the lofty sentiments which animated us in raising the banner of revolt. The treaty of peace stipulates nothing for myself or the minor officers or leaders.

General Aparicio will be to-morrow simple Colonel Aparicio, living in a mud hut and earning his daily bread by his own manual labor in his old days. Many of my most meritorious officers are in a similar position, but our example will be advantageous to the country and a title of honor to each of us and to the party we represent.

Hurray for Peace! Hurray for our institutions! Hurray for popular Sovereignty! Timothy Aparicio. Headquarters, Feb. 22nd.

THE INTERIOR.

The interior Provinces at this moment offer a much more pleasant theme for the Editor's pen, than they did some half dozen years ago. Not that we intend to make any invidious comparison between the administrations of General Mitre and that of Mr. Sarmiento. The former like King David, received a legacy of internal and external troubles of all descriptions; the latter, like Solomon, succeeded to the chief magistracy when angry passions had subsided, and a universal desire for peace and tranquillity pervaded the land; and as all we require in this country for its advancement and prosperity, is peace, an administration under these circumstances must be very bad and very unbecomingly leaves no signs of progress in its path.

We are very far, however, from being altogether satisfied with the progress the interior provinces have made during an exceptional period of peace. Our satisfaction can only be relative, for with the great facilities offered by increased means of communication, and the introduction of foreign capital, we ought to be able at this present time to register a far higher pace of improvement than we actually witness.

In a review of what we are accustomed to call the provinces, that is, all the Argentine territory outside of the province of Buenos Ayres, the first and most significant item to take note of, is that public tranquillity is not disturbed, with the sole exception of Corrientes, where a local revolution is going through the usual ridiculous phases. Entre Rios, the most bellicose of all the provinces, has been completely subjected to obedience to the constitutional organization of the country, and is only suffering from its own vicious customs, offspring of many years of a state of half-savage independence coupled with subjection to one powerful will.

Neither Entre Rios nor Corrientes can be legitimately included in a review of the provinces, for as yet both provinces are in a state of embryo, and as yet not fully convinced of the fact that they belong to the Argentine Confederation.

Of all the provinces, that which should inspire us with most hopeful aspirations is Santa Fe, and here we are obliged to express our greatest disappointment. Intimately connected as the province of Santa Fe is with the Metropolitan province of Buenos Ayres, we naturally feel more interest in her, than in the distant regions of the Republic; and more so from the fact that a powerful section of the public mind of the country desires the National Capital to be located in Rosario.

Santa Fe has now a population of eighty thousand souls, of which at least twenty-five thousand are foreigners. She possesses upwards of twenty agricultural colonies in a prosperous condition. Her principal towns are connected by steamers and sailing vessels. Her commercial metropolis, which may be called a sea-port town, is the starting point of the longest railway in South America. Her income is relatively larger than that of Buenos Ayres; and yet with all these advantages the reaction caused by the cessation of the war with Paraguay has retrograded, in reference to commerce and public spirit, a half dozen years. We speak relatively of wars. The Rosario of to-day is a finer town than was the Rosario of 1866. A superior style of house architecture, gas, well paved streets, indicate an inevitable physical improvement; but we seek in vain for a corresponding improvement in commerce, activity and civilization. We should be sorry to neutralize the authorities of the Province exclusively for the unquestionable backward state of Santa Fe; but we cannot help observing that with a comparatively large income, the press, with the exception of Government organs, is unanimous in denouncing the apathy and incapacity of the Government; the complete neglect of all its duties; the want of schools, and in consequence the deplorable ignorance of the lower orders; the wretched administration of justice and the most complete absence of the security for life and property in the country. As there does not exist at the present time an opposition paper in the province, the statements of the respectable independent journals of Rosario must be taken as facts reluctantly enumerated.

It is to be hoped that ere long an iron way will unite more closely to us two provinces that are now more Chilean than Argentine, and that their mines, honey, wax, flour, and metals will eventually find a better market in the littoral than in the sister republic.

THE CORDILLERA MAILS. LATEST FROM CHILE.

Valparaiso, Feb. 16th. 1872. The works of the Transandine telegraph are now completed to the Huasaviaca Bridge on the Chilean, and to Mendoza on the Argentine, side; messages can be transmitted from this point to Buenos Ayres in two days and it is expected that the line will be completed and opened to traffic by the 5th of April.

Quilapan junior, son of the famous cacique, who was at a Government school and had been baptized some time since, has gone back to his people, married a squaw, and embraced savage life. It seems his father was preparing the Malleco forts, but his allies have now made a peace-treaty with Government. Mr. Alexander Bunker is erecting the schools and barracks for Indians at Angol.

The caisson which has been constructed for the purpose of doing the repairs to the "Lautania" has been successfully floated and fixed in its place. The preparations for shipping the boss and effecting the repairs are being actively pushed forward, and it is confidently expected that everything will be concluded and the "Lautania" ready for sea in about ten days more.

The political state of Cordoba is by no means superior to that of Santa Fe, although different means. The Government there is fully as inactive as that of Santa Fe; but on the other hand it is popular, as is proved by the late elections. Mr. Alvarez, the Governor, is one of the oldest merchants of Cordoba, a good commercial man we have no doubt, and certainly enjoys as such the estimation of his fellow citizens; but as chief magistrate of an important Province he is completely incompetent, more particularly so in a province like Cordoba where party political feeling has always been of an extremely rancorous character. The Minister of Hacienda Dr. Garzon is an unpopular man; on the other hand the newly nominated Ministro de Gobierno, Dr. Garcia, enjoys the confidence of all parties.

Cordoba, in reference to education, is very little in advance of Santa Fe; but her revenue is very limited, owing to her careless administration. With 216 thousand inhabitants, her revenue is only 175,000 dollars, while Santa Fe, with only eighty thousand inhabitants, receives from taxation four hundred thousand dollars. As neither of the Governments do anything for the progress of the provinces under their jurisdiction; it is difficult to say which means through its own carelessness, or the other with abundant means which it squanders blindly away. Both provinces only require intelligent, active and liberal administrations to give an impulse to progress of every kind. No, we are wrong; Cordoba requires something more; she requires a population that shall understand what liberal ideas and progress mean.

Santiago, Salta and Tucuman all possess respectable Governments. In the first, Mr. Frias certainly belongs to an old and vicious school, but his Minister, Mr. Ibarra, whom we have known in B. Ayres as Senator for his Province, is an enlightened man, and thoroughly alive to the importance of railroads and other public improvements. The Government is actively employed in increasing the public schools of the Province, and is commencing the grand work of diverting the waters of the Rio Dulce into their ancient channel, which at sometime in the present century they chose to abandon, ruining a vast number of valuable agricultural establishments which were irrigated from this river.

In Tucuman the Minister of Government is, we understand, a brother of the present Minister of Justice, Dr. Avellaneda; and the official language is openly at the disposal of the election of this gentleman for the next presidency. Tucuman is a hopeful section of the Nation, and will show herself worthy of the great railway that is to place her in contact with the seaboard. She has, however, just refused a subvention to the company for the navigation of the Vermejo, which does not look well. Mr. Hellera, the Governor, is a man unknown to fame.

We have great hopes when a railway unites us with Tucuman and Salta. Both are exceedingly rich in agricultural and manufactured productions, and both have plenty of go-ahead men who are only waiting for a chance to be given them to put their energies to the task of opening up the national riches of their respective provinces.

Of Catamarca there is little of interest to be said. The Government is a nonentity; and the opposition, which is the old Federal party, headed by General Navarro, has elected some very second rate men to Congress. Catamarca has been retrograding for the last ten years; there is scarcely a symptom of improvement in that province or Rioja, and the less said of them the better.

In the south, it is a more pleasant task to note the progress of Mendoza and San Juan. These provinces have the advantage of an easy communication with Chile, with which republic they carry on a lucrative trade. They are, probably, the most civilized provinces of the Argentine Republic, and even extending to Buenos Ayres, outside of the capital. The irrigation system of these provinces is perfect, and is a source of great wealth. They have the finest mills in the country, and manufacture the best wines. The industry of their people is proverbial; and San Juan and Mendoza alone spend more in education than all the rest of the republic together, except Buenos Ayres. They have banks whose capital is indigenous. The streets of the capitals are paved and well lighted; and they send their best men to represent them in Congress.

In San Juan, it seems, they are not so squeamish as we are about the precious lives of bandits and murderers. The authorities had sent a party in pursuit of a famous bandit, by name Gonzalez, a companion of the still more famous Guayana. Gonzalez was so closely tracked that he had to take refuge in a dry swamp; the pursuing party, not being able to get at him, set fire to the dry grass, and made an "auto da fe" of the unfortunate wretch.

Our correspondent in Rosario, in one of his letters, gave us a very interesting character of the newly elected deputy for Congress from San Juan, Mr. Igarzabal, who is neither a lawyer nor a merchant, but has already distinguished himself as a scientific man and a politician.

It is to be hoped that ere long an iron way will unite more closely to us two provinces that are now more Chilean than Argentine, and that their mines, honey, wax, flour, and metals will eventually find a better market in the littoral than in the sister republic.

The new wheat crop is arriving to market slowly. The yield is larger than usual, and the quality excellent. The crops generally are reported good, but the difficulty of obtaining laborers, the high rate of wages which rules in consequence, and the comparative failure of some of the southern crops, maintain the expectation of high prices.

William Lawrence, Esq., of Concepcion, in an interesting communication to the President of the Agricultural Society, says that a disease has made its appearance among the vines in that district, and from the investigations he has been able to make he is of opinion that it is identical with the "soidium Juckeri," which has committed such great ravages in the vineyards in Madeira, France, and the U. S. States.

During the last three months, more than six hundred thousand tobacco plants have been destroyed, in consequence of their having been planted in contravention of the law.

On the 21st of Nov. last the "Vandrabon" left Hamburg with about fifty German emigrants for the Provinces of Llanquihue and Valdivia. Others are expected to follow.

Two propositions to canalize the river Mapocho have been reported on by a municipal commission.

The discussion in Congress on the subject of national education, which ended by the nomination of a committee appointed to examine and report has resulted in a decree of the Minister of Instruction, dated the 27th ult., according to which the study of Latin during the first four years of the pupils education, both in the Lyceums in the provinces and in the National Institute in the capital, will be abolished; the object of which is, not to oblige students for commercial pursuits to learn a language not of specific use to them.

On the 29th ult. a commission left for England for the purpose of superintending the construction of a tug steamer for the southern rivers. The commission is composed of Commander Senoret, C. N., and his two sons, who go under orders to the Chilean Minister in London.

Don R. J. Claussen has entered a protest against an action of the Intendente in withholding from him permission to build on his own property, situated on one side of the Plaza de la Municipalidad, unless he will consent to sell about half of it at a price set on it by the Intendente himself, "pro bono publico."

Several shocks of earthquake occurred at Arequipa on the night of the 10th. ult. No damage was done, but very general alarm was occasioned by them, many persons taking up their quarters outside for the night, in consequence. It has been observed that the appearance of the moon in the new quarter, and they coincided with one of the highest tides in the year.

In consequence of the extensive prevalence of small-pox at Los Andes, no less than 175 persons having already succumbed to it in this department, a committee, composed of Doctors Don E. Joaquin Aguirre, Ramon Meneses, David Salazar and Tristan Aguirre, have published an article explaining of the cause of its prevalence and spread, which they attribute to the want of ventilation and cleanliness, the occupancy by the sick, in many instances, of the same rooms as the healthy, the freedom with which those recovering, but still capable of communicating the contagion, mingle with the healthy, the indisposition evinced by many to being removed to a hospital where they would be better attended to than they could at home; the evil consequences of mismanagement by unskilled persons; and, above all, the general prejudice against vaccination, the practice of which has long been totally neglected in the department, none or few of those so far affected by the disease having been vaccinated. To remedy these defects, and prevent the necessity of having recourse to vigorous measures, they call earnestly on all enlightened persons to use their influence to overcome the prejudice in the lower classes, referred to; and, further, recommend re-vaccination, which they state it is advisable should be practised every ten years.

At Caracoles an attempt to commit the murder of the order of the day. In the port there is no police.

A meeting of the inhabitants of the latter place was held on the 22nd of January, and resolutions passed to appoint a jury for the trial of a man of the name of Francisco Lopez who had been apprehended for the murder of a man in the public streets at 11 o'clock in the day, and for the execution of the sentence which might be passed upon him. Passengers from this locality report the discovery of a gold mine in a mountain between Mejillones and Antofagasta.

Under a Peruvian decree dated 9th ult., Mr. Henry Meiggs is authorized to construct a telegraphic line parallel with the entire length of the Orroya Railway. The work is to be completed within six months from the date of the aforesaid resolution, and the amount of remuneration is to be 65,000 soles. The Government, in clause No. 3, concedes to the National Telegraphic Company the right of placing upon the galvanized iron posts of the line a copper wire for that Company's special use, but subject to certain stipulations, which are not of importance to the general public.

The U. S. S. Resaca, Commander Green will leave Valparaiso shortly for Talcahuano, and from thence Valparaiso to meet the United States Flag-ship California, flying the flag of Rear-Admiral Winslow. She will also meet the U. S. S. Narragansett, Commander Meade.

THE AMERICAN MAILS.

LATEST FROM NEW YORK. The steamer Ryder Hall has brought from Rio the American mails; we have received New York and Washington papers to 23rd Jan. The news is highly important; we extract the following:— "It was said recently at the Executive Mansion that the President does not again intend to urge the purchase of Santo Domingo, Congress having all the arguments and facts in the case, and therefore fully understanding it.

The Administration Senators have prepared a substitute for Garrett Davis's resolution arraigning Gen. Grant, which will be offered and passed whenever he succeeds in getting that up. In tone and substance it is very much like the call for the Republican National Convention.

Secretary Fish has personally given to the members of the House Appropriations Committee information of the proposed visit to this city of a party of about 40 distinguished Japanese officials, who will be accompanied by Minister De Long and wife and six Japanese ladies. Mr. Fish proposes that the Committee shall appropriate $40,000 for their entertainment by the Government.

The House Committee on Territories heard Representative Wells of Missouri and Col. Boundin of the rokeo nation in favor of providing a territorial government for the Indian Territory, in accordance with the Oklahoma Constitution. Col. Boundin gave the Committee some interesting information about the intelligence of the Indians in the Territory, one-third of whom, he said, could read and write English, and two-thirds their own language.

The President was visited on Thursday by a delegation from the New York Society of Friends, consisting of Messrs. Samuel Willis, William H. Macy, Thomas Park, Edingham Cook, and G. C. Mney, who presented a memorial adopted by the yearly meeting of Friends, to the President and Congress, expressing joy at the settlement of our differences with Great Britain by treaty negotiations, instead of resorting to war, and entreating for a settlement of national difficulties by arbitration rather than by resorting to the sword. The delegation also thanked the President for the continuation of a policy which secured peace with Indian tribes, and for the policy of the Administration as a peaceful solution generally of important questions.

The bill to protect Home Industries, introduced by Mr. Merriam of New York, was occasioned by an editorial article in the Tribune, calling attention to the fact that the Postmaster-General, in his recent advertisement for bids to furnish stationary to his Department, specifies that out-letry made by a certain manufacturing firm in England only would be received. The bill provides that no proposals shall be invited or accepted for any article or articles, to be used in any Department of Government, by any officer, for the supply exclusively of articles manufactured in foreign countries, when similar articles are manufactured in our own country, and in the purchase of all such articles, preference shall be given to those manufactured in the United States, if of equal quality and price.

Senator Carpenter on Thursday argued the case of Myra Bradwell against the State of Illinois in the supreme Court. The case involved the question of woman's rights under the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments. It was contended that by virtue of these amendments all citizens, without distinction of color or sex, and when a woman, without reference to marriage, are entitled to practice any trade, profession, or pursuit which they may choose as an avocation. It was contended that a married woman, sought to be admitted to the Bar in Illinois, and the application was refused on the ground that, as she was a married woman, she could not be liable on contracts with her clients. The matter was heard here in the morning, and Senator Carpenter took occasion to declare his views in favor of woman suffrage. Mr. Bradwell is the editor of The Chicago Legal News.

U. S. District-Attorney Bates of Utah has arrived in town to consult with the President and Attorney-General with regard to further legal proceedings against the Mormons. Mr. Bates' solution of the polygamy problem is as follows: He recommends that the Attorney-General shall direct that all the indictments now pending under the territorial statute for "lewd and lascivious cohabitation" be abandoned and no further prosecutions instituted for past offenses, but that the Mormons be given to understand that any person who in future contracts a polygamous marriage shall be punished. The matter, he thinks, should be presented. He also favors the immediate passage by Congress of a law authorizing the appeal of criminal cases from the Supreme Court of Utah to the Supreme Court of the United States. If this were done, he says, Brigham Young would at once plead guilty to the charge of violating the statute in question, and a case could be made up and a decision had from the Supreme Court during the present term; Mr. Bates does not think the leading Mormons are disposed to accept Delegate Hooper's plan for settling the difficulty, namely, that on condition of being admitted as a State they voluntarily renounce polygamy as far as future marriages are concerned. They still talk of polygamy as a Divine ordinance, which they are not free to give up without sinning against their religion. Even if they should accept Mr. Hooper's compromise, it is doubtful if Congress would carry out its part of the bargain. Apart from the disinclination to give to the Mormons the powers of a State Government, there is very strong objection made to admitting any more States that have not population sufficient for one member of Congress. The views of U. S. Attorney Bates will doubtless have little effect upon the Administration for reasons which now appear insurmountable. No law exists for payment on the part of the United States of expenses attending criminal prosecution in the Territories. The expenses in the Utah trials, thus far, have reached the sum of $20,000 and can't be paid.

The foreign trade of San Francisco has increased over $9,000,000 during the last year, over $7,000,000 being with China.

European Mail. Reduction of Price for 1872. IN accordance with the wish of a large number of our subscribers in South America, the proprietors of the 'European Mail' have decided to prepare but two issues per month of this Journal instead of three. This determination has no bearing on the quality of the paper, or on the support. On the contrary, we constantly have evidence of our increasing influence by large additions to our subscription list, and it is to meet the convenience of the bulk of our supporters that the changes are made.

As many of our readers are aware, the third issue of the month was so frequently delayed, owing to postal irregularities, that it often arrived after the date of the first issue of the following month. To obviate this delay, and to ensure punctual delivery, in future the issues of the 9th and 23rd of the month will be sent by the steamer, and forward, by the two leading mail routes, viz—the English mail from Southampton and the French mail from Bordeaux. We hope thus to ensure punctuality of delivery, and to add yet further to our usefulness. The respective issues will still contain all the special, mercantile and shipping news, which has procured for us such a large and increasing circulation. The general news of the day will be made up in a few hours of the steamer's departure. The subscription for 1872 will be for the Argentine Mail at $350 mpc. instead of as heretofore, $500 mpc.
