to the difficulty in obtaining labour; others say cash is scarce, the work is not well superintended, and that the

The machinery was erected on an unfavourable site, being situated on the heights of Cordoba, south of the Central Argentine Railway; any hauling of bricks would be along a steep, sandy, long road, before arriving at the outskirts of the town, and the well supply of water was inadequate, necessitating carriage of water in casks by bullock carts from a lake, at a distance from the works. The number of bricks made is small, and not a superior class.

Should the operations be recommenced by another management, it is to be hoped that such palatable requisites as a good quality of earth, a near and ample water supply, and facilities for communication with the city, will not be overlooked.

In a few days time, perhaps before this communication sees the light, the latest failure will have been consummated by the closing of the Hotel de los des Cabritos, so christened by the President in a fit of gastronomic ecstacy produced by roast kid, during his inaugural business on the occasion of his late Cordoba visit. Great interest was displayed by the gentleman who dared to start such an hotel as he did at the Calera, great the want of knowledge of impassible Cordova and exaggerated the calculation as to the influx of visitors to the exhibition. No surprise is felt by the public about the closure of the enterprise has been so ingenious. It now turns out that the late election to the Chambers were only favourable to the Government so far as the Deputies were concerned, among the Senators the opposition is the stronger party; the result of this is, that legislation is at a dead lock.

The Government minority in the Senate puts in no appearance, the consequence is, no quorum is formed, the Deputies alone cannot legislate, there-

A band of 1000 gauchos and brig-

THE WANDERER.

A letter from Azul, dated 10th inst., and which we only received yesterday, informs us that those of the Tanti-assessing themselves to death were to be shot on the following day (Thursday) last. As we have received no confirmation of this agreeable news, or seen the faintest reference to it, officially or semi-officially, in the Free Press of this city, we are afraid it is too good to be true. We have a special watching the case, and shall, no doubt, hear something one way or the other to-day or to-morrow. Our correspondent whose letter is referred to states that the day for the execution "was fixed in a great hurry."

The close and unwholesome weather that has prevailed here for the past week has also been experienced at the Mount, the result being an increase of the yellow fever in that city.

The authorities are accused of supineness as to preventive measures, and this will surprise no one. The gathering of masses of people by the inhabitants, and other public manifestations in honor of peace is not conducive to the disappearance of the dread disease, if it be not a decided aid in spreading it. However, fever is the last thing thought of by the Montevideans just now. Peace for the present and Pleasure in the future is the dream of the hour, and 'soyons gais—jours gais' the motto. By latest telegrams, however, it is apparent that an uncomfortable feeling as to the fever is again taking possession of the people of M.

Video.

In reference to the visit of H.M. the Emperor of Brazil to Europe, a U.S.

paper says—

"All of the Americans who have come into contact with his Majesty have carried away the highest feelings of respect for him as a man and as a ruler.

His Empire stands as a model of enlightened government amidst warring and unsettled republics, and so long as his wise counsel is heard, an era of peace and prosperity will mark the history of Brazil. But it is not only as a statesman and governor that he is found eminent, but is equally so in the private virtues which make the man. His education is perhaps more thorough than that of any monarch living. In his private laboratory and study at the San Christophor Palace, he has found time to become quite a scientist, and Prof.

Agassiz remarked when in Brazil that he found the Emperor the most thoroughly appreciative student in natural history and physics that
