and sloth. In fact Vice suggests no idea of speed, except that which is necessary to the completion of its work.

This line now unites Buenos Ayres with Quilmes, and by August, we have reason to hope it will be complete to Ensenada.

Dr. Lucas Gonzalez then rose - This line now unites Buenos Ayres with Quilmes, and by August, we have reason to hope it will be complete to Ensenada.

The symbol of civilization, which now comes among you to-day for the first time is a glad harbinger of better times, after years of sacrifice.

The horizon is clearing, and the air of brotherly love rises to the zenith, heralding the march of progress.

The world is marching onward, thanks to railways, which make men fraternize with each other and become more cosmopolitan in their feelings.

Quilmes was an unknown place, owing to bad roads, but now in a comparatively few years it has become a city.

Prof. Lewis proposed in suitable terms the health of Messrs. Simpson & Co., the indefatigable contractors, who so speedily carried out the earthworks from Barracas to Quilmes and are already half-way between this place and Ensenada.

The Governor, Bishop & Co. then retired, and the second table of guests having also partaken of the banquet, we sallied out in groups through the little town.

NEW SCOTCH KIRK NEAR CHASCOMUS. In company with the Revd. Mr. Smith, Scotch pastor of a small party of gentlemen let me be present at the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the new kirk near Chascomus.

village of the lake, looked positively gay. The Rev. M. P. Ferguson, pastor of the district, met us at the Station and took us in carriages to the spot, distant a short league from the town.

The little church will stand on a piece of public ground adjoining the new cemetery. The site could not be better chosen.

Nowhere south of the equator is there a more prosperous settlement than that composed of the Newtons, Bells, Browns, Wildes, Johnstons, Dodds, Grahams, Buchanans, Burtons, Robsons, and others whose names are familiar to the surrounding plains in all directions.

At 2 o'clock the Rev. Mr. Ferguson in full canonicals and head uncovered, advanced to where Mrs. Henry Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Burnett and family, Mr. William Dodds, Mr. and Mrs. Auld, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Grant, Geo. Bruce, Mr. Reid of Esparthair, Mr. Ophiant, Mr. Johnston, Mrs. James Allan, Mr. Hunt, Mr. Robert Muir, Mr. McKechnie, Mr. John Brown, Mr. J. Dodds and family, Mr. Frank Mullahall of the STANDARD, Mr. James Buchanan, and a host of others had assembled, and in a loud clear voice invoked the Divine blessing on the sacred work.

The Old Hundred was well rendered by an improvised choir, the ladies joining with good effect. Mr. Ferguson next read the 122 Psalm. An eloquent prayer followed. Mr. Auld on the part of the building committee next presented the silver trowel to the lady patroness, with this inscription—

A tin box containing the list of subscribers, a few silver and copper coins, a newspaper and some paper dollars, was now closed, and Mrs. Bell, trowel in hand, having pronounced the short form of dedication, the stone was lowered to its bed. The Rev. Mr. Smith then pronounced a short but impressive discourse.

After expressing the pleasure he felt at being present on an occasion so interesting to Mr. Ferguson and his congregation, he went on to say that judging from the readings of Divine Providence, the mission of the Scotch community was to supply religious instruction to the Protestants scattered far and wide over the plains of B. Ayres.

It is by patient industry we have got this far, in spite of countless obstacles, the year, want of funds &c., but now we have surmounted the worst, and in a little time this railway will penetrate to the heart of the Republic.

The meeting at Chascomus also gradually expanded into a church, and the Rev. Mr. Ferguson was brought from home, under whose eloquent and faithful ministrations the congregation has greatly increased and prospered.

ST. BRIDGET'S CHAPEL, LA CHOSA LUJAN. Solemn inauguration. As an eye-witness to the solemn inauguration of this truly beautiful little chapel, which took place on Sunday last, 14th inst., I cannot refrain from saying a few words on the subject.

Without an account of the same has already appeared in your columns, and from a far abler pen than mine, yet withal I would not wish the following to be suppressed.

Mass, which commenced about 11 o'clock a.m., was celebrated by the Rev. pastor of the district, the Rev. S. O'Kelly, after which a most impressive sermon was preached by the Very Rev. Canon Dillon, who left town at great inconvenience to himself expressly to favour his countrymen.

As it is not my intention to dwell upon the reverend gentleman's words, I will merely state that after he had quoted many instances of how the Irish in every land where they had formed a home, laboured for the propagation and interest of their faith.

The sermon lasted about an hour, after which the congregation quietly retired to their different homes.

On the same day as the opening of the chapel, Mr. John Browne most sumptuously entertained five clergymen and several of his friends at his estancia, and if time would permit, and were I not bound to you, I would have written you a long letter.

RAILWAY TO CANELONES. The Central Uruguay Railway is steadily pushing ahead under the auspices of Messrs. Waring's engineer, and a few days ago the important section to Canelones was opened to public traffic.

The ship Maria Hay, owing to strong gales last week when she sprung a leak, goes down in 42 1/2 S. Lat. and 67 1/2 W. Long, her pumps being unable to keep her afloat.

It is by patient industry we have got this far, in spite of countless obstacles, the year, want of funds &c., but now we have surmounted the worst, and in a little time this railway will penetrate to the heart of the Republic.

The section to Canelones is now declared open to traffic, and may the Rainbow of Peace overshadow the labors of this Railway.

Similar speeches were delivered by Dr. Magariños Cervantes, Dr. Ramirez, editor of the 'Signal,' Dr. Jacinto Albitar, D. Juan Aguilar and others, whose space will not admit to reproduce here.

Byrones being Canary Islanders and Europeans. The department has an area of 1,150,000 acres, with 50,000 inhabitants, and comprises six towns, viz. Canelones, Santa Lucia, Pando, Piedras, Tala and Sauce.

This line being a trunk one there will be branches in various directions when circumstances permit terminus Palmyra or Higueritas seems likely to be soon undertaken, which will unite the Uruguay with the capital.

Friday 29th. At 4 a.m. light breezes from the north, still steering N. S. wind at noon, still steering N. S. wind at night. May the Lord protect us!

Friday 30th. Same weather: course still N. S. crew complaining of hunger and thirst; no relief. Nothing in sight.

Friday 31st. Fresh breeze from E., steering N., weather warmer. At 6 p.m. wind and sea rising. Constantly wet with salt water.

Friday 1st. Wind and weather same. Hunger, thirst and suffering our arms and legs are covered with sores.

Friday 2nd. Wind and sea high. Most of us too stiff and sore to be able to move, our sores are worse, and we suffer intensely from thirst.

Friday 3rd. Weather fine, wind E., course N., hoping every hour to sight some ship. We are suffering worse and cannot move a limb.

Friday 4th. Wind and weather gloomy; very much so. We all keep our eyes on Heaven and pray for rain, our last drop of water being gone.

Friday 5th. Weather fine; our course is still towards land, but the cry is "water! water!" and there is none. Only a little biscuit to keep us alive.

Friday 6th. Strong breeze, lightning and strong wind, and to our great torment a heavy rain fell upon the boat which we could not catch.

Friday 7th. At mid-night sea and wind so high that we had again recourse to our anchor.

Monday 8th. Strong E. breezes, weather cloudy; rather again of half-gale force.

Tuesday 9th. Strong E. breezes, weather between Montevideo and Rio Janeiro, heavy rain, and water showed on the land.

Tuesday 10th. Fine weather, wind light. Poor Laughra died at midnight, and soon afterwards William Brown went mad, quite suddenly.

Tuesday 11th. Strong E. breezes, weather between Montevideo and Rio Janeiro, heavy rain, and water showed on the land.

Wednesday 12th. N.W. wind, sea calm, steering N. to west vessels or land naps or binnacle, both having been left in the hurry on the ship's deck.

Wednesday 14th. Wind variable, snowing at intervals; ration reduced to half a glass of water and 2 biscuits each.

Thursday 15th. Wind increasing, and at noon reduced the rations to a quarter glass of water and a little biscuit. We had made up the biscuits into balls about the size of a hen's egg.

FLORES IMPROVEMENTS. The passion for neatness, cleanliness, and decent living, has at last set in. Our rising suburbs speak the fact.

Wednesday 16th. Wind and weather same. Hunger, thirst and suffering our arms and legs are covered with sores.

Thursday 17th. Wind and sea high. Most of us too stiff and sore to be able to move, our sores are worse, and we suffer intensely from thirst.

Friday 18th. Weather fine, wind E., course N., hoping every hour to sight some ship. We are suffering worse and cannot move a limb.

Friday 19th. Wind and weather gloomy; very much so. We all keep our eyes on Heaven and pray for rain, our last drop of water being gone.

There was but little done on Monday 3, but that little indicated a turn in the market, prices opened weak and closed down.

The market for flour has been quiet and steady. The value of money determines to-day the price of Bonds, no matter what political events may mark the horizon.

The telegram from Montevideo on 3rd follows: At 6 a.m. there was something done at 7 1/2 for end of June, at which price market closed.

These prices are not a single day when the state of the cargo is taken into account.

The proposed public garden for the Plaza de Flores has been sketched in obedience to the very proper English taste.

The long list of dreadful narratives of the sea scarcely contains any more appalling than the wreck of the British ship Maria Hay which occurred on the 25th of March in that part of the South Atlantic between the mouth of the La Plata and the Falkland Islands.

The ship Maria Hay, owing to strong gales last week when she sprung a leak, goes down in 42 1/2 S. Lat. and 67 1/2 W. Long, her pumps being unable to keep her afloat.
