The magnitude of the discovery leagues from San Juan, 40 from Mendoza, and 72 from Cordoba; and the reports of the Government engineers Nicour and Godoy, and of Professor Tello of the National College, are of BARON COTEGIPE'S MANIFESTO the most flattering description. The coal-field is estimated to have a super ficial area of 240 square miles, at the rate of 500 million cubic yds. per sq. mile; the cost is put down at $2½ per ton above ground. Prof. Tello shows by analysis that this coal contains 161 per cent, more caloric power than the Chilian, and is of opinion that the quality will even improve going deeper

It is needless to furnish our readers with scientific reports of analysis. They will easier appreciate the testimony of Mr. Graham Stuart, Fellow of the Geological Society, whose letter is as follows:-

"Minas de la Augelita, "San Luis, July 2, 1872. "My Dear Sir,

"From the examination which I had the opportunity of making of the coal deposits at the 'Marayes,' I feel assured of their great value and importance in a commercial point of view. The deposits appear to me to belong to the Permian era, and are situated in strata of yellow sandstone resting upon redstones which again overlie rocks of paleozoic age. Their extension is great, for the same description of rocks may be observed for many miles. I should esti mate the whole of the field at not less than 18 to 20 square leagues, and as to the thickness, it cannot be reckoned at less than 2½ yards from what is at sight at present, but at a greater depth it may be considered as certain that a much greater thickness of strata will be found. The inclination or dip of the strata is very slight apparently not more than 5° to 7°, and thus the coal will be encountered whenever sunk for without having the immense expense and loss of time which is always necessary in sinking deep shafts. "The existence of water in the workings I look upon as great odvantage, for to work the mines upon a proper system calculated to introduce the coal into the market at as low a rate as possible, and thus benefit the community to the greatest extent, steam engines will certainly be required, and they cannot work without water in considerable quantity. Thus the water which at first sight appears a drawback is actually an aid in the development of the work. The coal itself is what is known question about the Alliance: the delay is neither lignite (brown coal) must well know. nor anthracite. In burning it gives of softening with the heat it cakes or treaty of definitive peace, and also of dor, New Granada and the Argentine through the badly made joint of the binds itself together forming a light, friable coke. In an estimation I made of its ash I found that it left 12,67 p 2. (ash); the relative quantities of fixed and volatile matters I have not been able to ascertain from the want of suitable apparatus. In conclusion I beg to express my decided opinion that the deposits exist in abundance, that they are workable with great facility and cheapness, and that coal is of excellent quality for all purposes for which that ever we wanted him. On that occa-

mineral is used, but particularly for gas-making and steam engines. " It gave me great pleasure to find tnat so important an article of commercial economy as coal has in all countries proved itself to be, existed in the province of San Juan, and I trust no delay will take place in its exploitation, capable as it is of advancing the interests and prosperity, in high degree, both of the province and of the nation at large. "I remain, my dear Sir, "Yours faithfully, "GRAHAM STUART, F.G.S., &c.

"F. S. Klappenback, Esq., Buenos Ayres." The report of Don Octavio Nicour Government engineer at San Juan Oct. 28th 1871 concludes with these

"The Marayes coal-fields are or great importance and extent, covering an area of 25 square leagues [240 sq. miles: the coal appears to be of "easy working and the veins probably "go'down to some depth".

The famous note of Dr. Tejedor dated April 27th, has provoked from Baron Cotejipe a reply in somewhat stronger terms than the note which Counsellor Correia, Minister of Foreign Affairs at Rio Janeyro, sent to the Argentine Government a few days pamphlet of 41 pages, of which we give our readers the following precis: To Counsellor Manoel F. Correia.

vernment had seen it, but now I have resolved to take all the responsibility on myself. Your Excellency's note to Dr. Tejedor is equally remarkable for logic and moderation. Permit me to refute some involuntary errors of Dr Tejedor, where he brings in my name. In my interviews with him at B Ayres [Feb. 26 and 28th] Dr. Tejedor attached much importance to revising the protocols, whereas in his note he states that such revision was demanded by me "without reason or object". At the Asuncion conference of Nov. 3rd we proceeded to such revision, neither of my colleagues making any objection, and Dr. Quintana took care to make some amendments. The Oriental Minister was of accord with me to insert the clause of the Triple Alliance protocol against Paraguayans building forts on the river, but Quintana always met us with a stiff "Non possumus". Dr. Tejedor admits that Brazil might then have declared the Alliance broken. We could have thrown the blame on the Argentine envoy. But it was always our purpose to uphold the alliance The second protocol about the Allies maintaining forces in Paraguay was finally admitted, after slight alterations, in our conference of Nov. 6th.

Dr. Tejedor says the revision of the Protocols was a Grecian horse in the business: yet our conferences of the 3rd, 4th and 6th of Nov. were confined to the protocols, and when Quintana asked me what interpretation I gave to the right of Paraguay to modify the clauses of the Alliance I said that we should naturally have to make concessions in the matter of frontiers. The Oriental Minister added that the President of Paraguay declared he would resign if we did not.

An interval of 24 days elapsed till Nov. 30th, when Quintana raised the in England as 'caking coal. It was not caused by me as Dr. Tejedor its mind and would now insist on the limits in the Alliance treaty. On Nov. 3oth Quintana invited me to a conference about previous guarantee of Argentine limits, when I made the following declarations-1st. That Brazil never doubted the Triple Alliance obliged all the stipulations. 2nd. That it was not my intention Argentine limits, except so far Paraguay. as giving whatever support the treaty allowed us to do.

3rd. That Brazil was willing at a proper time to confer with her Allies on the means of overcoming any supposed reluctance of Paraguay, in accord with the letter and spirit of Art. 17.

Dr. Tejedor tells us he approved our conference of the 30th: an imposact of generosity to Quintana.

Tejedor ironically says that I dispos ed of the question of Brazilian limits very quickly; the truth is I was an xious to wind up a business so long delayed, and release Paraguay from It is only right to say that the trial her position of uncertainty. Tejedor was very reserved, but hinted that his Government would perhaps make concessions to Paraguay. When I reached Asuncion I was more conago. NARROW ESCAPE FROM SELKIRK'S

To-morrow we are hoping at day break to touch for a moment at the shore, about eight miles this side of the Straits, then to enter, and be at Sandy Point on Thursday, where I hope to mail this letter. The great event since leaving Montevideo has been our visit to Port Antonio. On Monday morning, March 4th, we enter ed the great Bay of Sandy showers are not altogether wanting, it never took much fancy to the tancer took much fancy to the Darwinian phrace "the struggle for life" as applied to the vegotable kingdom; it seems like an assumption that that kingdom is governed as badly as Great Britain; and showever much the dootrine might harmonize with the condition of the Valley of the Amazon, itseems ludicronsly inappropriate to the natural condition of deserts like these Patagonian plains, where the struggle for life in the plants consists in no part of a resistance to crowding by neighbors. Whenever in the course of human events it becomes necessary for civilized man to use these lands, he will at once introduces some plants, not now found here, yet adapted to the soil and climate; coniferous trees to break the sweep of the pageners, and humbler herbs to hind.

see the only step taken is to propare Lopez's pa-lace for them. Where is the food to support them comfortably for at least a year? Where are the farms, the homesteads, the Chacrus for these people? the houses to shelter them, the agricultural implements, the seeds, the beasts of burden, and all the necessary accessories to a prosperous, con-tented farm life? These people coming out will look for and expect all this; and if they are to take root in the soil, and prove a success and a blessing to Paragnay, they most get them. Are we to witness another humiliation such as the ex-ploted Henley colony? We hope not. Mr. Tor-rere's attention was called to the matter to-day on Change. It is a serious matter, not merely for Paraguay, but for the whole River Plate in general.

The steamer from Montevideo arrived this morning, but as usual, the Telegrafe of yesterday remained behind. Subscribers to that useful pa-per complain greatly of this, and Mr Buela ought to so manage his paper as to always have it in time for the steamer for Buenos Ayros. The Mi-nisterial crisis in the Mount still continues. The portfolio has been offered to Drs Ellauri, Otero, and, M. Perreira, and declined. A petition, signed by 37 bakers, has been sent to the President praying for relief again t the severe rules imposed

On Friday the Port Captain of Montevideo abolished all quarantine on vessels coming from Rio. There is still quarantine on vessels touching at Bahia and Pernambuco. It is rumored in Montevideo that Conceciae & Co. is the house that has concluded the new coal

The Mediterranean steamer Po is looked for in a few days. Sho will bring papers to 3 July.

As the Magellan was leaving Rio for the Plate the American mull steamer was entering. The mulls are expected down by the Rio Grande steamer due at Montevideo. Yesterday a project was laid before the National Government by Messrs. Martinez and Stump asking for a subvention of 25,000 pats, for a direct line of steamers between the River Plate and the United Etates. The present mail service is indeed most unsatisers between the River Plate and the United States. The present mail service is indeed most unsatisfactory, and as our business relations with the States are now happily on the increase, some reform in this American mail service is required. The Tucunan railway contracts threaten to collapse in a vowspaper war. Messrs. Webb and Co.'s proposal has been laid hold of and shown up as the cheaped, and a special enquiry into the matter by a committee of the House will probably settle the whole dispute, meanwhile the intending contractors should be on their guard, as the business looks to be at best but a losing one, owing to the tremendous riss in the iron market. the business looks to be at bost but a losing one, owing to the tremendous ris: in the iron market. An experienced English engineer informs us that the rails for the Tuouman railway placed up there cannot cost less than £26 p r ton, and that no matter what price may be stated the rails cannot be had for two ye rs owing to the large orders at present to be filled at every foundry in Europe. In fact the proper solution of the difficulty is to make the Tucum un railway a wooden railway.

The finest and hardest woods in the world are to be had along the route, where our Argentine statesman seek to lay bar iron from Europe. The cost of the Tucuman Railway, would then be reduced from 13,000 pats per mile to one thousand pats, moreover immense employment would be given to the people of the interior, and this sless should be an object. This is really a subject of importance for the man at the head of affairs.

The Telfiner contract is not yet signed, nor is it probable that the parties to any of the bids for this Railway care much about the contract, which no matter what may be said or urgod to the contrary must result in loss. With the money voted for an iron railway to Tuouman, the Argentine Government could construct wooden argentine Government could construct wooden railways throughout the whole nation to Chile, Bollvia and Patagonia. The decree of the Water Board refusing to extend the water supply until some means for carrying off the refuse water is established is ex-cellent and significant. It puts the matter in it, proper light, and shows that something must be proper light, and shows that something must be done towards drainage. The vasura system of this city, notwithanding all that has been said and preached, and written against it, continues; and one of the finest highways of the city is all but ruined by the shocking nuisance of the vasura depot at the Once de Setiembre. Every appeal has been made to the government, the legislature, and the municipality, by the unfortunate residents of the neighbourhood, but 'tis all in vain. The depot still exists, the nuisance is each day becoming greater, Calle Rivadavia; one of our finest streets, is almost impassable in the morning with the processions of vasura carts. Governor Acosta ought to stir in the matter, for the nuisance has become insufferable.

Mr. J. Ford. Nagel's ferruginous Gin was

This ferruginous Gin has been used extensively and with eminent success as a renovator of the nervous system, and thousands have derived the greatest benefit from its use, for it not only sets right any irregularity of the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, but has also proved highly valuable against cholera.

ANALYSIS Professor Kyle.

The Iron exists in the form of a protosalt, one and perhaps a suspension of water supply for the City:

Finally, in spite of our efforts we can only give 1½ million gallons, while the demand is much greater, and we calculate from 2 to 2½ million gallons for the auminer.

We have hereby resolved to refuse any future application for water supply to public or private houses till the necessary drainage and steampower be supplied.

Let this b communicated to Government and duly published.
